RICHES SPRING FROM ECONOMY

The career of the late Robert Bonner furnishes a striking argument in favor of the advantages and opportunities to rise which our country affords young men.

Before he died Robert Bonner owned a great many things. About the first thing of value he became possessed of was a savings bank account.

Our savings institution will take care of small deposits and will pay you interest on the same.

SON AGAINST FATHER.

Fred Locke arrested on Complaint of His Own Offspring.

Fred Locke, of Lake street, was arrested late yesterday afternoon by the police on a warrant issued by Magistrate Miller, at the instance of his son, Fred Locke, Jr., charging him with assault and battery and threats to kill.

Young Locke claims that his father became fighting drunk yesterday morning and drove his little children out of the house. He says he tried to remonstrate with his father, whereupon the latter picked up a butcher knife and made for him threatening to take his life. The young man ran out of the house and down to the police station.

Locke was taken in charge by Mounted Officers Perry and Burke and was taken to the central police station in a patrol wagon. He will be given a hearing today.

THANKSGIVING IN CHURCHES

UNION SERVICES IN THE CENTRAL CITY.

They were conducted in the new Grace Lutheran Church at Prescott Avenue and Mulberry Streets. Sermon Was Preached by Rev. Dr. C. M. Giffin, of Elm Park Church. Services Held by Other Congregations That Did Not Participate in the Union Exercises.

In all the churches throughout the city yesterday there were special services of praise and thanksgiving and the attendance was exceptionally large in nearly every instance, because of the delightful balminess of the air.

The union service for the central city was conducted in the new Grace Lutheran church, at Prescott avenue and Mulberry street. The bright and cheerful auditorium was filled with worshippers representing the congregations of the Elm Park Methodist Episcopal, Grace Reformed Episcopal, Penn avenue Baptist and Grace Lutheran churches. Special music of an elaborate character was rendered by the choir.

Rev. Dr. Robert F. Y. Pierce, of the Penn avenue church, led in prayer and the invocation was pronounced by Rev. Luther Hess Waring, of the Grace Lutheran church.

The sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. C. M. Giffin, pastor of the Elm Park church, whose theme was "The Abolition of the Thanksgiving," the text chosen being Luke 17:17; "Where Are the Nine?"

He described the healed man who ran off forgetful or neglectful of their benefactor, who one day stranger lingered about Jesus to glorify Him with his glorified voice, doubtless very musical, as it was filled with the emotion of a glad heart.

"The healer," he said, "liked the appreciation of the one, yet expressed surprise that his praise was sung as a solo rather than as a chorus. He healed ten; He heard one. We observe that the leprosy went from their hands to their hearts, once a stomach in the nostrils of men, they became an offense to God."

Call of the Executive.

He referred to the call of the executive for all the people to gather to voice their united thanks to heaven and then to the small attendance at the church services. The dearth of the choir, he said, would argue a defect in giving. In referring to what he termed the substitution of gourmandizing for gratitude, he said:

"What was once the holy day of New England has become the holiday of our republic. The bill of fare is fixed and certain articles must be found on the menu or the celebration is not orthodox. The chief is now the clergyman; the sacrifices offered are turkey and other viands; the worshippers are stuffer and the end of their devotion is a sickness in the stomach. The turkey and the almost prevent the proper celebration of Thanksgiving."

The doctor gave large liberty for a generous table and suggested that sometimes the cold victuals offered children in some families on Sundays gave them a life-long dislike for that day. He discussed at some length the excuses made for silence when the nation at large is called for by the executives of state and nation. He affirmed that the loudest notes are not from the most blessed. The angels bear up glad music from broken harps, and the faces with the most heart in it on Thanksgiving night are the one which the shadows have been heavy. Continuing, he said:

"Some stay away because they feel they have won the prizes they possess. Those who stay because they are given to improvement from a power beyond their own. Some are not present among the music makers of this occasion because they have only a share in common blessing, and that is no reason for rapture. Others refuse to attend as they have not had as much as some of the gifts of their neighbors. They measure existence in the rim and not at the heart. If they have not had great chances to gain stuff they have had much privilege to grow soul."

Gladiolus is not to take the place of gratitude. The mine were happy in health. Dancing is a clear way to show you have recovered from rheumatism but it is not a fair way to pay the doctor. The words he needed no cure started instead of singing. They needed no healing and health is better than healing. The myriads today are not musical because not recovered. To be kept from falling in the river is as great a good as to be rescued from drowning.

Growing at God.

Dr. Giffin showed how some are led to growing at God by keeping a list of what they want and do not get. He turned to look at what we feared and did not come to us.

The sin of silence is not to be excused by the plea that we do not know how much we owe since the bureau of statistics informs us of the increase in our immense wealth. All exhibits of riches are showings of our debt to God. Our great peril is in the excess of our advance. We forget God in our fullness. One of the worst results of great prosperity is that it often puts us out of sympathy with men. The words which upon us when we are selfishly saying "See what we have," rather than "See what we have." Gratitude goes up and goes out. We are beginning to appreciate being rather than belonging.

The mine commission is studying the extra hazard of the workers below the ground. It means much when the state of each is of interest to all. The Russian general said to the Englishman as he touched a scabby coat: "We will beat you always for we can lose 100,000 of these without feeling it in any way."

We know of the battle between brothers. We are too close to the conflict to shut our eyes to it. If there is no smell of powder just now there is some bad blood circulating. But we have coal and we have bread and the day must come when America that has had the law of the Lord with so much lower good will not be unmindful of the duty of loving one another. The world moves toward unity. I do not mean one measure, one system of weights, one standard of value or one language as much as one sweet race, not by proxy as now, but each and all will cry their glad acclaim.

Scranton has suffered from strikes, we hear. We have new bank buildings to show we have riches that need investment. Our city is not killed. We are a place of larger resources and vigor unexhausted. The place to put the pessimist is in one of the safes of our new financial institutions where he will be surrounded by evidences of his foolishness and prevented from circulating his unreasonable ideas.

It has had an election and it was a strike. It is not a joymaker for some. We have lived through surprises before. The left outs and the put outs.

MAGYARS WILL HAVE A CHURCH OF THEIR OWN

Corner Stone of the New Building Was Laid at Throop Yesterday Afternoon.

Special services incident to the laying of the corner stone of their new church were held yesterday afternoon by the Associated Magyar church of Throop.

The organization of this church dates back about five years ago, when a body of Magyars waited on Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan and informed him that they were members of the reformed church of Hungary and requested him to assist them in arranging for the holding of services by themselves.

In pursuance of their request the executive committee of presbytery secured Rev. Julius Hamborsky to minister to their spiritual needs. On Easter Sunday of last year sixty-two Magyars united with the Dunmore Presbyterian church and were immediately dismissed to form the Associated Magyar church of Throop. Last May the members, under the leadership of Rev. Hamborsky, began to prepare for the erection of a new place of worship.

The executive committee of presbytery secured Rev. J. D. Williams & Co., being taken from the First church recently purchased by them. The iron fence surrounding the First church is to be taken to Throop by trolley through the kindness of Manager Sillman.

The services yesterday were in charge of Rev. W. F. Gibbon, of the Dunmore Presbyterian church. The choir of the Dunmore church sang sweetly. "The Church of the Holy Spirit," by S. H. Moon, D. D., of Peckville, offered prayer and addresses were delivered in the Magyar tongue by Rev. Hamborsky, Rev. Bela Basso, of Lorain, Ohio, and Rev. L. Zobary, of West Pittston, talked in English.

A. W. Dickson, treasurer of the executive committee of the presbytery, delivered a stirring, patriotic address on the civic duties of his hearers.

The ceremony of the laying of the corner stone was conducted by Rev. Dr. S. C. Logan and the stone was placed in position by some of the members of the congregation. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Coleman, of the Throop Methodist Episcopal church, after which all present united in singing the national air, "My Country, 'Tis of Thee."

Two North Scranton Girls Left for Danville on Monday, but Were Arrested There by Police.

The soldier boys of the Twelfth regiment left many aching hearts behind them a few weeks ago they left the scene of action for the quieter scenes at home and there were many cases of "the girl I left behind me."

Two of these romantic maidens, Winifred Flanagan, aged 17 years, of Theodore street, and Maude Henegan, aged 16 years, of Hudson street, pined and bewailed their fate because of the gulf which separated them from their soldier sweethearts and last Monday they packed up a few of their belongings and took a train for Danville, where the idols of their lives reside.

Their parents managed to secure several letters which the pair had received. From these they arrived at the conclusion that the money to pay their railroad fare had been sent on by some of the soldiers. They also learned that they had gone to Danville and informed Superintendent of Police Day.

The latter put himself into communication with the Danville police authorities, who succeeded in arresting the two girls on Wednesday night. They had been running about the streets since Monday night in the company of several of the soldier boys.

Their fathers left yesterday morning for Danville and will return this morning, bringing the twain with them. It is understood that an effort will also be made to prosecute the soldiers who lured the girls from home.

LEAVE TODAY FOR BROOKLYN

SCRANTON SINGERS OFF FOR THE BIG FESTIVAL.

Final Rehearsals Held Yesterday in the Armory in the Presence of Several Hundred Persons, Who Were Enthusiastic in Their Praise of the Work of Mr. Watkins' Choirs—List of Local Singers Who Will Enter the Contests for the Solo and Male Quartette Prizes.

At the Armory, yesterday afternoon, the Scranton Choral society had its final rehearsal before leaving for the Metropolitan to contest in the big musical festival to be conducted by the well-known Arion society of Brooklyn.

The rehearsal took on the form of a concert, and was attended by several hundred persons. "The three competitive pieces were rendered and in addition thereto the entire choir sang Handel's "The Heavens Are Telling" and Buck's "Daybreak."

The singing of the competitive piece, "Spring Has Come" (Buck), by the male chorus was enthusiastically endorsed, as was also the rendition of the ladies' chorus competitive piece, "The Spanish Gypsy" (Darnoch). The rehearsal concluded with the singing of the chief competitive piece, "Harold Harfager" (Parker), by the whole choir. Mr. Watkins had his singers go through the piece once "to warm up," as he put it, and then bade them sing it as if they were before the adjudicators.

Warmly Congratulated.

At the conclusion of the rehearsal, Mr. Watkins was warmly congratulated by the critics among the listeners for the excellent showing of all the quartettes made. No one hesitated saying it is the best choral society the city ever produced.

Mr. Watkins would only say that he looks for a rare treat from any choir that excels the Scrantonians.

The local singers are not going to content themselves with a try for the chief prizes. All the principal solo competitions will have entries from this city and no less than three parties will try for the male quartette prize. The list of local entries in the solo and quartette contests is as follows:

Soprano solo, "My Redeemer and My Lord," Buck, Mrs. Frank Bundage, Mrs. W. A. Harvey, Miss Mary Niland.

Alto solo, "Return, O Lord of Hosts," Handel, Mrs. M. J. B. Williams, Mrs. Via Jones Hitchcock, Miss Anna Scanlon, Miss Edith Fowler.

Tenor solo, "O Promise of Joy Divine," Massenet, Tom Abrams, Will L. Jones, Dan Jones, Alfred Wooler, Edward Walsh.

Bass solo, aria, "Tan's Helling," Marchese, Will Watkins, William Evans.

Glass solo, "Now Heaven in Fulllest Glory Shone," Haydn, John W. Jones, Philip Warren, Albert Pilling, Morris Thomas.

Male quartette, "Now Splendor Falls," John T. Watkins, Tom Beynon, Willard M. Bunnell, John W. Jones.

Alfred Wooler, T. Leonard, Philip Warren, Albert Pilling.

Moses Morgan, Tom Abrams, Will Evans, David Humphreys.

Leave This Morning.

The singers will leave on a special train over the Lackawanna road at 7:30 o'clock this morning, arriving in Hoboken at 11:45. They will have quarters at the Meyer hotel, Hoboken. This afternoon and evening they will have rehearsals in Carnegie hall, Brooklyn. Tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock they will be taken on a specially chartered ferryboat from Hoboken across the Battery and up the East river to the Brooklyn side of the Twenty-third street ferry, which will land them near the Arion's hall, where they will be tendered a dinner by the Arion society.

Final rehearsals will be held at the Arion's hall in the afternoon and in the evening they will proceed to the Forty-seventh regiment armory, where the festival is to be held. The return trip will probably be made Sunday afternoon.

NEITHER SIDE SCORED.

The Scranton High School and St. Thomas College Elevens Are Very Evenly Matched.

For the second time this season the Scranton High School and St. Thomas College football elevens lined up yesterday afternoon at Athletic park, and again both sides failed to score, as in the previous game. It was the largest attended football game at Athletic park for many a year, and the apparent evenness of both teams increased the interest of the spectators, the partisans of both elevens being in force to cheer at the first play.

Several times during the play the excitement ran high, only to be subdued by some play which carried the ball out of reach from the goal posts.

Both sides played a splendid game under varying circumstances, as the field was almost a sea of mud, and a majority of the scrimmages seemed to be in the muddiest places.

High School did the best work during the first half, pushing the ball into St. Thomas territory with persistent regularity, and at one time narrowly escaped scoring, when Bower tried for a drop kick from the 40-yard line, which only fell short by a few feet. In the second half, Thomas led with a seventy-yard run and towards the end, by a succession of rushes, advanced the ball on two occasions for big gains, once making a total of over fifty yards.

Several times the goal line, such touchbacks being of no consequence except to bring the ball back into the field again.

The game was well played, and was free from any accidents. The line-up was as follows:

St. Thomas: S. H. S. O'Toole, full back; Stone McCann, quarter back; Bower Grever, right half; Edwards Purcell, left half; Allen, full back; Murphy, right end; Thayer Casey, right tackle; Quinn Douglar, right guard; Jones McHugh, center; Zelman Stewart, left guard; Wellard McAndrew, left tackle; Evans Hawley, left end; Thayer, Levi Dr. Stein was referee; Prof. Schimpf umpired, and Joseph Weir and E. W. Thayer were liners, with Cooney and Schultz as linemen.

These Are What the Journeymen Horseshoers Want.

A committee from the Journeymen Horseshoers' Local, No. 78, met a number of the master horseshoers, Wednesday evening. The meeting was called to discuss the journeymen's claim for improved conditions of employment. There will be another meeting held in the course of a week. Concerning the meeting, R. A. Maloney, chairman of the journeymen's conference, said yesterday:

"The condition under which the journeymen horseshoers are working for the past ten or fifteen years are no longer tolerable that they propose to counteract it no longer. They have taken a determined stand that their claims for shorter hours, increase in their wages, etc., shall receive recognition."

"A letter was forwarded some time ago to the president of the Masters' association, to which he made no reply. The journeymen then invited some masters to meet with them, which they readily consented to do. As these men were able to speak only for themselves individually, we deemed it advisable to adjourn the conference to a time when we expect a better attendance from the masters."

Scranton Is Quite a Horse Market.

Waldron has returned to the city with fifty head of horses. Less than three weeks ago this dealer disposed of seven carloads in a week. By his advertising he has brought buyers here from all parts of the state. As he carries so many to select from, it begins to look as if Scranton has become a regular horse market. His sale this week takes place today at 1 o'clock.
