

WEST SCRANTON

Paper on "Revolution" Read by John J. Davies—Three Funerals—Mock Congress—Officers Elected.

The members of Lackawanna council, No. 1135, Royal Arcanum, held a regular meeting in Ivorite hall last evening, after which they were entertained and instructed by Druggist John J. Davies, who read a carefully prepared paper on the subject of "Revolution." The paper was listened to with much interest and was afterwards discussed by a number of those present.

The past few years have brought to the front several great questions, which in their relation to our traditions and the spirit of our constitution, are suggestive to some of our people of revolution. Whether they are or not, they cause us to ponder for a moment upon these great upheavals of organization society in the past, which have become landmarks in modern history, namely, the English revolution of 1688, the American of 1776, and the French of 1789.

In addition to containing many positive features in common, they also contained one negative feature, in common, namely, that none of them was inspired by a desire to establish any privilege which it had not already possessed, but were in reality protests against the denial of rights which had been conceded centuries before.

The latter two were the logical results, too, of the English revolution, inasmuch as the strongest arguments of the American revolutionist was that their grievances were contrary to the spirit of English liberty and the powerful spirit of independence engendered by the Americans inspired the French to work out their own salvation. Touching on the point of capital and labor, Mr. Davies said:

"A wise employer, like a wise monarch, will consider the reasonable and just demands of his people, and by the peaceful process of evolution lead them up to that middle ground where the prerogatives of the one ends and the rights of the other begins."

The paper was discussed by John R. Farr, Charles E. Oliver, Walter S. Bevan, Charles R. Acker, Victor H. Lauer, W. J. Long, E. W. Thayer and D. D. Evans, and a vote of thanks was given Mr. Davies for his effort. A smoker was also a feature of the evening's enjoyment.

At the next meeting, two weeks from last night, Attorney George Howell will address the council on the newly-elected officers will be installed.

Three Funerals Yesterday.

The funeral of Mamie Grady, the child who died as the result of blood poisoning, caused by an injury to her foot, occurred yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock from the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Grady, 1032 West Linden street. A short service was held in St. Patrick's church and interment was made in the Catholic cemetery. Rev. P. F. Lavelle officiated, and six little girl companions of deceased acted as pallbearers.

The funeral services over the remains of the late Mrs. Thomas W. Noyle were held at noon yesterday at the house, 1022 Eynon street. Rev. D. D. Hopkins, pastor of the First Welsh Baptist church, officiated, and the remains were taken to Pittston for interment in the Odd Fellows cemetery. The pallbearers were Charles Shaw, Robert J. Shaw, J. Thomas, Absalom Jones and William Davis.

Impressive services were held at the Embury Methodist Episcopal church yesterday afternoon over the remains of the late Mrs. Jennie Warren, who had been an active worker in the church. The pastor, Rev. James Benjamin, conducted the service, and the choir, of which deceased was a member, sang effectively. There was a wealth of floral offerings. The pallbearers were G. T. Rondle, William Chadogan, B. T. Stone and David Lloyd. Interment was made in the Washburn street cemetery.

Service of Song.

A Christmas service of song, entitled "Star of Promise," will be rendered on Sunday evening by the juvenile choir of the First Welsh Congregational church under the leadership of William J. Davies, chorister, and Miss Norma Williams, organist, assisted by Misses Annie Davies, Anna T. Humphreys, Mary A. Thomas, Annie Rees and Isaac Davies. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone. The following is the programme:

Opening chorus, processional, "Her-alds of the Morning." Choir. Responsive Scripture Reading. Invocation. Chorus, "Rejoice." Choir. Recitation, "Christmas." Margaret Jenkins; "Winter." Viola Evans; "The Christmas Tree." Margaret Griffiths; "The New-Born Babe." Mary Davies. Solo and chorus, "Christmas Bells." Elizabeth Bowser and Choir. Address of Welcome. Pastor. Solo and chorus, "The Star and the Angels." Ruth Thomas and Choir. Recitation, "The Misused Blessing." Blodwen Lewis; "The Little Fir Tree." Cromwell Davies. Chorus, "Hark! the Angels' Song." Choir. Recitation, "Tap, Tap, Tap." Primary Class. Chorus, "Child of Bethlehem." Choir. Primary Department. Duet and two-part chorus, "Lo! He Comes Salvation Bringing." Sarah J. Davies, Alice Phillips and Choir. Address, Sunday School Superintendent. Chorus, "List to the Christmas Carol." Choir. Recitations, "Over Wastes of Sand." Beatrice Carson; "The Prophetic Star," Gwladys Lillian Jones.

NOT DUE TO CLIMATE.

Catarrah Is Found Everywhere.

Catarrah is a home anywhere and everywhere. While more common in cold, changeable climates, it is by no means confined to them, but is prevalent in every state and territory in the Union.

A common definition of catarrah is a chronic cold in the head, which if long neglected often destroys the sense of smell and hearing; but there are many other forms of the disease, even more obstinate and dangerous.

Catarrah of the throat and bronchial tubes, as well as catarrah of the stomach and liver are almost as common as nasal catarrah and generally more difficult to cure.

Catarrah is undoubtedly a blood disease and can only be successfully eradicated by an internal treatment. Sprays, washes and powders are useless so far as reaching the real seat of the disease is concerned.

Dr. McVerney advises catarrah sufferers to use a new preparation, sold by druggists, called Stuart's Catarrah Tablets, because actual analysis has shown these tablets to contain certain anti-septic qualities of the highest value and being an internal remedy, pleasant to the taste, convenient and harmless, can be used as freely as required, as well for children as for adults.

An attorney and public speaker, who had been a catarrah sufferer for years, says: "Every fall I would catch a cold which would settle in my head and throat and hang on all winter long and every winter it seemed to get a little worse. I was continually clearing my throat and my voice became affected to such an extent as to interfere with my public speaking."

"I tried troches and cheap cough cures and sometimes got relief, but only for a short time, until this winter when I learned of the new catarrah cure, Stuart's Catarrah Tablets, through a newspaper advertisement. Two fifty-cent boxes which I bought at my druggist, cleared my head and throat in fine shape and to guard against a return of my old trouble I keep a box of the tablets on hand and whenever I catch a little cold I take a tablet or two and ward off any serious developments."

Stuart's Catarrah Tablets deserves to head the list as a household remedy, to check and break up coughs and colds, because unlike many other catarrah remedies, it does not contain any opiate, cocaine or any injurious drug.

DUNMORE DOINGS.

Democrats Laying Wires for Nominations—Retirement of Burgess Burschell.

The Democratic politicians are beginning to lay wires for the spring election and the candidates for the various offices are being named.

The Democratic treasurer, August Wahlers, the councilmen, Thomas V. McLaughlin and John J. Brogan, and Tax Collector Peter F. Reilly have already announced their names for the various offices.

The retirement of Burgess Victor Burschell to become county commissioner on the first Monday of January, will leave a vacancy in that office, which will be filled by the judges of the court of quarter sessions. The appointee to serve until the next succeeding election, that means that Mr. Burschell's successor will be elected in February.

GREEN RIDGE.

Miss Clara Miller, daughter of J. S. Miller, of Penn avenue, is home from Dickinson Law school for the holidays. Henry Thomas, of Capouse avenue, is suffering from a sprained ankle.

Harold Kennedy and John Price, of Washington avenue, are home from Blairtown academy.

Because of the dangerous condition of many of the sidewalks in this part of the city and the numerous accidents resulting therefrom, it has become evident that something should be done to have the ordinance regarding the cleaning of the sidewalks of snow and ice enforced.

To this end a number of prominent citizens have called a meeting to be held at Alderman Bayley's office this evening to consider the matter. All interested are requested to attend.

Mrs. A. House, of Albany, is visiting her parents, Mrs. E. D. Hughes, of Dickinson avenue.

OBITUARY.

CHARLES PARRY, aged 38 years, died yesterday at his home 2943 Jackson street after a protracted illness from pleurisy, contracted while on a fishing trip several months ago. Deceased was a native of Wales, but had resided in West Scranton since he was a boy. He is survived by his wife and four children, Charles, Virginia, Fred and Mrs. David Davis. He was a member of the Red Men and Briggs' Shaft Fund. The funeral will take place on Monday and interment will be made in the Catholic cemetery.

VILLARD M. LEVY, aged 1 year and 28 days, child of Dr. and Mrs. E. L. Lent, of Green Ridge street and Sanderson avenue, died yesterday. The funeral services will be held at the house at 11 o'clock this morning and the remains will be taken to Wellsboro on the 1:55 p. m. train.

W. R. C. BUTLER, aged 73 years, died on Wednesday last at the Hillside Home, where he had been an inmate for several months. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Williams, of 427 Adams avenue. The remains will be taken to Reading at 7:30 o'clock this morning for interment.

FUNERALS.

Richard Nape, who was killed at Jackson, Ill., a few days ago and who will be buried from his late residence, 114 Maple street, was a member of Company K, One Hundred and Thirty-second Pennsylvania volunteers. Members of the regiment are requested to attend the funeral from the house, 114 Maple street, Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The funeral of Mrs. C. B. Smith will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at 45 Birch street. Services will be conducted at the house and interment will be made in the Dunmore cemetery.
