The Ministerial Journals announce, with perfect confidence, the satisfactory termination of the dispute as to the North American fisheries, which is likely—indeed certain—to be adjusted on terms of absolute reciprocity, so far as the right of fishing is concerned.

The Americans to be at liberty to fish in all British waters, and the British in all American waters—subject to the restriction, on both sides, of three miles from the shore of the country to which they do not belong—the three miles to be measured to the nearest land, without distinction of bay or open sea.

Harvest is proceeding favorably both in England and Scotland.

FRANCE.

Louis Napoleon did not attend the grand ball, given by the Dames de la Halle, at the Marche des Innocents, on Tuesday night.—There were several rumors afloat to account for his absence among others, that a conspiracy was detected to assassinate him had been present.

The French war steamer Ariel has seized, and taken into Chamboard, three English boats, for fishing within the French lines.

AUSTRIA.

RUSSIA.

Cholera is raging malignantly in Russia.

POLAND.

All the schools in Warsaw, Seradz and Kalisz, are closed in consequence of the prevalence of the cholera. A panic had taken of the people, who were crowding to the churches and places of pilgrimage.

Four hundred and twenty-seven persons were attacked at Warsaw on the 9th, and 103 died.

AUSTRALIA.

The ship Prince of Wales has arrived off Plymouth with 35,000 ounces of gold dust, and dates from Sydney to the 9th of May.

She reports 12,700 ounces more on the way.

From tables published by the Sydney Morning Herald, the total produce of the Australia colonies in the twelve months since the discovery, amounts to 1,124,415 ounces, worth over $20,000,000.

TERRIBLE AFFAIR AT SYDNEY.

Letters from Smyrna, of the 26th ult., give an account of a terrible disaster which occurred at Adalia some days before. A furious wolf suddenly appeared in the midst of the market place and bit several persons most severely, but, taking flight at the cries which arose on all sides, jumped over a wall, and got into a large garden where several hundred persons, who had come to the town on account of the sick crop, were sleeping in the open air. Here he wounded one hundred and twenty-eight persons, but being again frightened away by the cries of the people, he got into a sheepfold, where he killed eighty-five sheep and wounded seventy-five. Unfortunately, the Governor had caused the whole population to be disarmed a few days before, so that the unfortunate people were without means of defence; but on the following day arms were distributed and the wolf killed. According to the report of the physician of the place, the wounds inflicted by the animal are hideous, but the most horrible circumstance in this disaster, is that several of the wounded have already died of hydrophobia, so that the whole population is in the uttermost consternation.

FIRE IN MINERSVILLE.

On Tuesday, fire was communicated to a two-story frame dwelling house, belonging to Michael Weaver, situated in Minersville, Schuylkill county, which was consumed, together with a dwelling house adjoining.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 2.—The Maryland Mining Company property, near Cumberland was sold yesterday, for $501,000. David Leavett, Esq., President of the Exchange Bank of New York, was the purchaser.—It is supposed that he bought the property for the Cumberland Coal and Iron Company.

CASE FEAT CHAIRS, &c.—We invite the attention of our readers to the advertisement of N. F. Wood, No. 151 North 6th st., Philadelphia, an extensive manufacturer of all kinds of cane seat chairs, &c.

GLEASON'S DRAWING ROOM COMPANION still maintains its character as the finest pictorial publication in the country. It is a valuable publication.

OYSTER CASES.—Wm. H. Thompson advertises a lot of empty Oyster Cans for sale.

PRINTING INK.—For sale for cash, at this office, kegs of 25, 20 and 12 pounds each. Price 25 cents per pound.

LAND WARRANTS.—Persons having Land Warrants for sale, can dispose of them for cash, by applying at this office.

LOST.—On the night of the 1st of September a pair of silver double glass spectacles and case. The finder will be rewarded by leaving them at this office.

OUR STREETS.—The supervisors have been actively engaged during the past week in grading, cutting down, and filling up Market street. The work is not only necessary, but will be a great improvement.

The election is near at hand and yet there is but little excitement on the subject. There probably never was a Presidential canvass conducted with so much calm and quiet.

We are requested to say that the "Chippewa Glee Club" of Philadelphia will visit Sunbury on Monday afternoon, Sept. 13th. This Club is, no doubt, well posted in whig songs, and is capable of entertaining our citizens with a fair specimen of whig music.

THE JUNCTION CANAL.—The stock for the canal, connecting the North Branch Canal at the State line, with the Chemung Canal at Elmira, has all been subscribed, and will be finished at the same time with the North Branch Canal. Some of our Wilkesbarre friends have subscribed very liberally. Judge Hollenback is put down for $100,000.

Wm. Follmer, Esq., our candidate for the legislature, has been charged with opposition to the recharter of the Bank of Northumberland. The Milton Democrat denies the charge; nor can we believe that Mr. Follmer would be guilty of such folly. Mr. Follmer has also been charged with having voted for the act authorizing the Commissioners to subscribe to rail road corporations. Mr. Follmer was not in the House when the bill passed, having been called home by sickness in his family.

The State Agricultural Fair will be held at Lancaster on the 20, 21 and 22d of October next.

GEN. PIERCE'S QUALIFICATIONS.

As some of our whig friends profess ignorant of Gen Pierce's services in Congress, we shall refer to some of them.

During his career in Congress, he was rather a working member than a noisy debater.

It was in 1833 that Gen. Pierce went into Congress. It was at this time that the United States Bank was agitating the country, and endeavoring to perpetuate its monopoly. He stood beside Old Hickory against the Bank, and proved himself an able defender of the administration.

Gen. Pierce served in the United States Senate, from 1837 to 1842, and was a zealous supporter of all the Democratic measures. When the independent treasury bill came up his voice was raised in favor of the bill.

In 1840, he made an able speech on the subject of revolutionary claims, which was pronounced "a masterly analysis." On the Florida war, he also made a speech which was an able; modest, and dignified vindication of the administration.

He made a speech on the subject of removals from office and on the abolition question. In 1849 he was nominated for Governor of New Hampshire but declined the honor in an eloquent speech.

In 1850 he was President of the convention to revise the Constitution of New Hampshire.

It will hardly do after reading these facts, to say that Gen. Pierce is no greater Statesman than Gen. Scott.

GREAT MEETING AT NEW YORK.

An immense mass meeting was held at New York on the 2d of Sept. inst. Gen. Cass was present and led off in an able speech in favor of Pierce and King. The weather was warm and the General was obliged to take off his coat and cravat.—Gen. Cass was followed by Judge Douglas, Hon. John L. Dawson, Hon. Robert McLane and Gen. Cameron. We find the speeches reported in full in the New York Evening Post. The speech of Gen. Cameron was well received as will be seen by the letter of "Observer" the correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger, in another column.

RAIL ROAD MEETING.

Daniel L. Miller Esq., President of the Sunbury and Erie Rail Road having arrived at this place on Friday evening last, a meeting was hastily called together at the Court house, which was addressed by Mr. Miller. He stated that the prospects of the road were brighter than ever,—that he had been along the whole line from Erie to this place. That so far from despairing, there was an absolute certainty of the road being completed in less than four years.—The City of Erie had agreed to raise their subscription from $300,000 to $500,000. Warren county had agreed to increase its subscription $100,000, and Elk county $100,000, making in all Two millions six hundred thousand dollars. These increased subscriptions were made on condition that the city of Philadelphia would subscribe one million, of which Mr. Miller says there can be no doubt. Mr. Miller stated that the whole line between this place and Williamsport would be put under contract before next spring.

A meeting was also held at the Town Hall in Northumberland, in the afternoon of the same day. The meeting was addressed by Mr. Miller, at the conclusion of which, a resolution was proposed, recommending a subscription of $25000 by the Borough.

The Erie Gazette and the Chronicle speak encouragingly of the prospects of the Sunbury and Erie Rail Road. The city and the county of Erie have now subscribed eight hundred thousand dollars to this great work. If Philadelphia was to subscribe as much in proportion to her wealth and population, her subscription would amount to more than forty millions of dollars. And yet Philadelphia is more deeply interested in the completion of this road than Erie or any other place.

Hon. James Gamble will be the democratic candidate of the Locomotive, Clinton, &c., district, and will be elected, we presume, without opposition. Northumberland county is no longer in his district, but it is proper to say in parting with Mr. Gamble that he stands well with the democracy of this county, and that they part with him with regret.

We observe in the Erie papers that the County Agricultural Annual Fair is to be held at Erie on the 29th and 30th inst. The judges on household manufactures are composed wholly of ladies. This should be the case here, as ladies have not only more taste, but are decidedly better judges of articles of that character. In the Franklin Institute in Philadelphia, ladies are always appointed judges on such articles.

The cholera has again appeared in Chambersburg. Last week there were 13 deaths from this disease, and on Monday last 3 deaths and several new cases were reported.

It was also stated that the cholera had broken out at Elmira.

Cuba.—Troubles of a revolutionary character are again brewing in this ill governed and devoted island.

Madame Sontag the great songstress has arrived in New York and creates great sensation, but not so much as Jenny Lind.

ANOTHER STEAMBOAT DISASTER.

The Reindeer one of the most splendid steamers on the Hudson river, on the 6th inst., burst her steam pipe on her trip from New York and Albany. The escape of steam dreadfully scalded a number of passengers and others, in the lower cabin, at dinner. The number of deaths from the explosion thus far amounts to thirty-two. Some six or eight more are badly scalded. These accidents are becoming as common on the North river as on the Mississippi, and are already driving many on to the rail roads. The passengers on the Hudson river road have been nearly doubled since the late accidents.

THE LAKE SHORE RAIL ROAD.

The Philadelphia Bulletin says the Lake Shore road is now vigorously prosecuted by the New Yorkers. The charter was obtained by a trick of legislation, and is worth a million of dollars. An injunction was asked for at the late session of the Supreme Court in this place, but was not sustained as the proper party did not apply. The commonwealth should apply for the injunction. But Judge Campbell, the Attorney General, by whom all legal actions for the State are brought, is retained as Counsel, by the opposite parties. Governor Bigler's Attorney General, is certainly destined to distinguish himself. To secure privileges worth a million of dollars, they can afford to pay large fees.

KIMBER CLEAVER, ESQ.

Has been appointed principal Engineer on the Philadelphia and Sunbury Rail Road, under the new organization of the company. This is not only an excellent appointment, but a well merited compliment to Mr. Cleaver. In 1834 Mr. Cleaver, then quite a young man, made his first appearance in an Engineer corps, as an axeman, on this identical road, then known as the Danville and Pottsville rail road.—Since then, aided only by his own energies, industry and good character, he has risen step by step until he now ranks as one of our best engineers, and what is a singular coincidence, is destined, as chief engineer, to complete the work he first tried his "prudent hand" upon, as axeman, eighteen years ago. Mr. Cleaver has been engaged on the Susquehanna Rail Road since its organization, but will take charge of his new appointment in a few days.

BLACKBERRIES.—Our friend Major Fress, of the Germantown Telegraph, who is excellent authority on all matters appertaining to agriculture and gardening, says he has not been able to cultivate the blackberry with success. In this place blackberries of a large size and excellent flavor, have been, for a number of years, cultivated in our gardens with little or no effort, a few stalks yielding an abundance for an ordinary family.

RESIGNED.—Robert M. Magraw the President of the Baltimore and Susquehanna Rail Road Company. Mr. Magraw was an able and influential officer, and will not long remain idle.

Walnut trees should not be suffered to grow near fruit trees. They greatly injure, and often entirely destroy fruit bearing trees.

MOST FEARFUL POSITION.

On Saturday says the Rochester American, one of our citizen was on a visit to Canada, and about the time the storm of that evening was coming on, started in a carriage to return to the American side. When about midway of the "suspension bridge" over Niagara Falls, the storm struck them with appalling fury. The wind blew a perfect tornado, while the air was densely filled with driven hail and rain; and so potent was the wind, that the bridge swayed literally to and fro ten or a dozen feet, making one giddy with its vibrations. So appalling was the commotion, that the horses stopped, and finally fell upon their sides on the bridge, while the driver, in the extremity of his terror, seemed incapable of making the least effort to move from the perilous spot. The inmates of the carriage could with difficulty keep their seats, and for a short time expected nothing else than to be precipitated into the surging water below. A situation like this is too appalling for description, and we must leave it to the imagination to picture what the sensations of those in the carriage were during this frightful commotion of the warring elements.

A HUSBAND MURDERED BY HIS WIFE.

Baltimore, Sept. 2.—A man named James Male, was murdered in Allegheny county, in this State, last week by his wife, under the following circumstances. He was pursuing his children with a gun, when his wife interfered, and he turned on her breast intending to shoot her. She quickly seized an axe, knocked him down, and cut his throat. She was arrested, and taken before a magistrate, when it was clearly established that she acted entirely in self-defence. She was, therefore, released from custody.

Reminiscences of the Great Tammany Hall Meeting—Reception of Gen. Cass in New York—Speeches of Cass, Douglas, Dawson of Pennsylvania, McLane and Simon Cameron—The Nomination of Horatio Seymour—Triumph of Gov. Marcy.

New York, Sept. 3, 1852.

The Democrats have had a grand reception, at Tamany Hall, of General Cass, and the distinguished gentlemen who accompanied him to New York. The Democratic Union Club met him at Amboy, and escorted him to the city, where magnificent quarters had been provided for him, and his friends, by the officers and members of the Club, whose guest he was while sojourning in Gotham. In the evening Gen. Cass addressed an immense concourse of men at Tamany Hall; the heat being most intense—indeed that of an oven or a steamboat boiler. Dante, if he had ever experienced such a temperature, could have added a new canto to his Inferno; but General Cass contented himself with taking off his coat and cravat feeling that among his friends he had no occasion for ceremony. There are vulgar men whom no external propriety can elevate into gentlemen; and men of substance and character, whose transient qualities as gentlemen cannot suffer by an unintentional departure from a mere form. Gen. Cass spoke in eloquent terms of the duties of American citizens; of the meaning and spirit of Democracy in modern times, and drew a striking picture of the condition of the people here and in Europe. He abstained entirely from the abuse of Gen. Scott and the friends of Gen. Scott, and contented himself by urging the civic qualities and high character of Gen. Pierce. The applause with which his remarks were received was tremendous, the cheering lasting for many minutes at a time. At the close of his speech, Gen. Cass drove home, entirely drenched with perspiration, but recovered sufficiently afterwards to continue his journey to Buffalo early this morning. After Gen. Cass, Judge Douglas, the Hon. John L. Dawson, of Pennsylvania, Hon. Robert McLane, of Baltimore, and Gen. Simon Cameron, of Pennsylvania, addressed the meeting, each in very appropriate language, all abstaining from censure of Gen. Scott and his Whig friends; yet all of them urging, in the strongest terms, the election of Pierce and King. Judge Douglas and Mr. Dawson were very happy in their remarks, and Mr. McLane and Gen. Cameron were both argumentative and forcible. The comparison between the wealth of New York and that of Pennsylvania, introduced into the remarks of the latter gentleman, struck me as quite to the point, and did as much credit to his practical good sense as the reflective and historical views of Mr. Dawson evinced the talent of a statesman. There was no ad captivum argument in any of the speeches delivered on this occasion; no abuse of the opposite candidate; and a tone and style of oratory altogether above the mark usually reached by public orators during a Presidential canvass. This shows not only a higher degree of elevation on the part of the speakers, but also a decent regard for the good sense and respectability of their audience. Many examples be imitated in other quarters, and prove the harbinger of better days, when politicians will cease to be considered as scavengers, and every candidate for public office as an object to be covered with filth. I feel proud as a Pennsylvanian, to see that gentlemen from the Keystone State were among those who led off in this new and creditable enterprise.

The nomination of Seymour, for Governor seems to be quite as popular in the States, and as an assurance that the union between the Barbers and Hunkers is likely to last. The nomination is construed into a triumph of W. L. Marcy, and will add to the already extended influence of that veteran statesman. Gov. Marcy was, no doubt, the ablest statesman in Mr. Polk's Cabinet, and conducted the war with Mexico in as able a manner as Carnot conducted the seven armies in France, in 1793, from his garret, in Paris.

COMMUNICATIONS.

MR. MASSER: Dear Sir:—Aware that Editors are fond of news, and especially of local intelligence which will interest many of their subscribers, I take pleasure in enclosing for publication the following resolutions which were adopted with a great degree of unanimity at a meeting of the Northern Temperance Convention, held in Milton 25th of August.

From this it will be perceived that the friends of Temperance design hereafter to take a decided stand in favor of those candidates, and those only who will advocate and vote for the immediate passage of a prohibitory liquor law.

1 Resolved, That it is the duty of society to protect itself; and that every profession, trade, occupation or pursuit injurious to the general welfare, should be suppressed by law.

2 Resolved, That of all the occupations carried on by men injurious to the public welfare, we deem the liquor traffic to be the greatest.

3 Resolved, That in our opinion the Providence of God clearly indicates that the time for direct action to suppress this traffic has arrived.

4 Resolved, That we throw our influence and our votes in favor of such candidates for the Legislature of Pennsylvania only as will advocate and vote for a law similar in its object or design to the Maine Liquor Law—and that a committee of five be appointed in every county embraced in this Convention, to address the candidates nominated for the next Legislature of our State, by the several political parties, to ascertain what course they will take, if elected, in regard to the passage of such a law, and publish such correspondence; and in case all of the said candidates should declare their determination to advocate and vote for the passage of such a law, then and in that case we will support the candidates we may deem the most desirable;—and if in any county none of the candidates brought forward by the political parties will pledge themselves to support the passage of such a law as we demand, then and in that case the Convention advises the friends of temperance in our respective counties to bring forward distinct candidates of their own.

FOR THE AMERICAN.

MR. EDITOR:—It affords us much pleasure to learn that David Martz, Esq., of Shamokin township, has yielded to the urgent solicitations of his many friends, and consented to be an Independent Candidate for the office of Register and Recorder, at the approaching election.

Mr. Martz is well and favorably known to all the voters of Northumberland county as an honest, intelligent, honorable and upright man, and most eminently qualified for the proper discharge of all the duties pertaining to that office. That he is the choice of a large majority of the people of this County, there can scarcely be a doubt, and of his triumph success, this fall at the ballot box, where every man can have fair play, and where the will of the people must prevail, there cannot, in our opinion, be any question.
