

The fall is the best time of the year to paint—especially this fall. Painters can tell you why it is best time of year to get best results from the paint. We can tell you why this fall is the time to get best value for your money. During the spring and summer we bought a large quantity of prepared paints. Within the past ten days all paint manufacturers have notified their customers that the price of paints had been increased 10 to 15c, per gallon owing to the failure of the flaxseed, crop and other causes. This means an increase of 15 to 25c per gallon to the consumer. As long as they last we will sell paints at the old price. If you intend to paint within a year it will pay you well to buy before the advanced prices rule.

JOHN F. BIGLER, Prin. The Derrick's oil report for November shows 672 new wells completed and 1,201 new drilling wells and rigs. The decrease in completed work is 91 wells over October and an increase in production of 240 barrels. A district convention of the Woman's Relief Corps is being held here to-day and to-morrow. Stow Corps is entertaining the delegates, and has invited the Post to participate in a camp fire and banquet at the hall this evening. The highest flag pole in the world is to be erected in Golden Gate Park, San Francisco, by Col. Frank Hastings, a retired merchant. It will be 350 feet high, will cost $4,000, and will carry an American flag with stars three feet across. Travelers from Buffalo have a neat way of advertising their exposition. When registering they simply put 1901 after their names. This provokes question and the hotel clerk is obliged to tell of the Pan-American show next year. Amisler will have his usual big stock of candies for the holidays. He handles nothing but the best and purest, but the prices range from 15 to 75 cents per pound. When casting about for Christmas candies and nuts call on Amisler. The Parker bridge case is now ended and the bridge is open to travel. The jury at Franklin recently, rendered a verdict in favor of the bridge company of $32,000. This sum will now be paid to the company by Armstrong and Clarion counties. Counting all expenses, and the cost of this jury trial, the bridge will cost the two counties nearly forty thousand dollars. Slowly, but surely the antiquated toll bridge is seeing its finish along the Allegheny.

The late Marcus Daily, the Montana copper king, is the subject of a brief character sketch in the December Review of Reviews by Samuel E. Moffitt. The picturesque side of this Western "empire-builder's" strenuous career is aptly set forth.

There's a chance for some one to get a bargain in a set of the new "National Dictionary Encyclopedia and Atlas" by calling at this office. The set is fresh from the publishers, and contains 18 volumes. Drop in and see what a bargain you can secure.

A new word has been invented which is used as a contraction of United States of North America. It takes the initial letter of each word in rotation, "Usona." If you happen to hear it, you may conclude that the one using it is in possession of the latest fat-addition to the English vocabulary.

The Derrick of Dec. 1st says: "Captain J. M. Gayetty left yesterday to resume his deer hunt in Forest county." Since the deer killing season expired on the 30th of November, perhaps it would be well for the Derrick to have the fur, skin and feather club whistle the Captain back and start him after wildcats.

If a smooth-tongued fellow comes around and promises to get your pension increased for a payment of $5, don't have anything to do with him. He is a fraud. Two of these fellows, representing that they were special pension agents, got $5 each from four widows in Brushvalley township, Indiana county, week before last.

The jury in the case of the Commonwealth vs. Samuel Fry of Oil City, charged with the murder of Peter Moon, and which was tried in Franklin last week, returned a verdict of not guilty. The case grew out of a quarrel between these two men some time last summer, shortly after which Moon died, the prosecution contending that death resulted from a blow struck by Fry.

By a new process just discovered it has been possible to make an exact copy of Aste's famous painting, "A Persian Beauty." You couldn't buy the original for $1000, but the copies are so perfect that if they were placed alongside of the original it would be impossible to tell them apart. This wonderful picture will be given free to every reader of the great Philadelphia Sunday Press next Sunday, Dec. 9.

The Supreme Court will not hand down an opinion in the Frank Major case, in which he by his attorneys made application for a new trial, until the 10th of December next month. The court has adjourned until that time. The prevailing opinion is that the decision will be adverse to Major and that he will stretch hemp as the convicted murderer of Chief of Police Daniel McGrath.—Titonesta Courier.

The Farm Journal can be furnished during the rest of this year in club with the REPUBLICAN, four years of the Farm Journal and the REPUBLICAN one year for $1.00 only, but remember this great offer expires with the dying year. No orders at these rates taken after Dec. 31, 1900. Old subscribers paying up arrears and a year in advance come in under this arrangement. Don't delay if you want a good thing.

At the regular meeting of Capt. Geo. Stow Post, No. 274, G. A. R., held last Monday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Commander, C. A. Hill; S. V. C., S. D. Irwin; J. V. C., Solomon Fitzgerald; Post Surgeon, R. B. Crawford; Chaplain, S. J. Setley; Q. M., S. S. Knox; O. D., J. B. Eden; O. G., S. C. Johnston; Trustees, 1 year, S. C. Johnston, 3 years, S. J. Setley; Representative, G. W. Robinson alternate, S. D. Irwin.

An exchange observes that a woman will yank up the guy ropes of her corset until she almost squeezes her immortal soul out of place, and put a dead bird on her hat and go strutting over town selling tickets to raise money to help the missionaries to China for the sake of teaching civilization to the poor heathen, who have never known what it is to wear a corset, and who have been struggling in an ignorant belief that birds were created to sing instead of to be worn on a hat.

Ex-Commissioner W. A. Connelly of Hickory, was a Tionesta visitor Monday. He just returned from Howe township, where he spent the summer looking after a large gang of men employed on the grade of the new railroad running from Mayburg to Sheffield, where it will intersect the P. & E. road. The grading is completed, and when Mr. Connelly left there was about three miles of the track yet to lay to complete the road. Trains will likely be running regularly by the first of the year if the present spell of weather continues a couple of weeks longer.

Liveryman Canfield lays claim to the finest team of draft horses the town has seen in many a day. The pair weighs 3,000 pounds, and "Shelt" declares "they will pull anything that's got two ends to it." The team is too large for his business, and is for sale at a bargain. He also has a fine span of matched cream roadsters, which will go to some fortunate horseman at a bargain. They are a lively pair and will cover a big bunch of miles in a day, regardless of wind or weather. Check up and see where you are at. Do you want to wear ready-made clothes when you can get fine tailoring at our prices? There's no "sweat shop" work in our garments. How about the ready-made? The clothes we make for you are made to fit. How about the ready-made? And our prices are about the same too. Just get in some big bargains. Come and see "7363" and "7364" and check up and compare with anything you ever heard of in tailoring. F. E. Diek. Another attempt to affect the release of Frank Major, the murderer of Chief of Police Daniel McGrath, of Titonesta, is reported. On Monday morning a two-pound can of nitro-glycerine, with cap and fuse attached, was found in the window of the store-room of the jail at Meadville. The window had been pried up, and the supposition is that the friends of Major placed it there to be smuggled in to him by some of the jail birds, who had access to the room to carry out the garbage.

Hog cholera, a disease most dreaded by stock raisers, has broken out among a herd of hogs owned by Jacob Hondel, of Pinook, at the southern limits of Oil City. The first symptoms of the disease were discovered on Thanksgiving day by Mr. Hondel, when he found one of his biggest and best sows lying as if asleep. When he attempted to make her move he found that she was dead. This was shortly before noon and before dark 21 of the herd were dead. Thirty-nine others of the same herd are sick with the disease and he fears that he will lose every one of them.

G. W. Osgood, of Whig Hill, who was again at Clearfield to meet the other return judges of this congressional district came home Saturday. Their second meeting was made necessary that the soldier vote might be counted, the law setting the third Friday after the election for this purpose. The returns from the Philippines, if there were any votes cast, had not arrived, so the result was not changed from that given three weeks ago, which made Hall's plurality 621. Biro, the prohibition candidate, received 836 votes in the district, and Critchley, the Socialist Labor candidate, had 115 votes. There were 38,582 votes polled in the district.

Schweden & Clark are at work on a couple of truck wagons that will lead anything for size that has ever been built in this section. The order comes from a branch of the Standard Oil Co., and the wagons are to go to the West Virginia oil fields, where the heaviest of heavy hauling is done. The running gears alone will weigh over eighteen hundred pounds each, the tiers being seven-eighths of an inch wide. This firm's goods are getting a great reputation in the lower oil country, where they have shipped a large quantity of wagons during the past two years. Orders for wagons usually read, "same quality as before."

Foster, the weather prophet, makes the following predictions for December weather: Most rain and snow will occur during first half of month and dry weather will generally prevail during last half. Warmer weather will occur near 8 and 31 and the most severe storms about 9, 14 and 21. Cold waves will occur near 10 and 15. Good lee will be made in Northern States near 19. One of the old folk lore signs was that a white Christmas makes a fat, and a white Christmas a lean graveyard. Indications now are that we will have a white Christmas in the Northern States, where the above old saying would apply. December weather will be unfavorable to wheat and other fall sown grain. Too variable and extremes too far apart. Too much freeze and thaw.

On Tuesday of last week Albert Wasson, aged fifty-two an oil well driller and resident of this city and vicinity for a long time, started in a fat boat for the West Virginia oil field. He was accompanied by his son aged thirteen years. He reached Foxburg after dark, Wednesday, and here his boat came in collision with a pier of the bridge, upsetting it and throwing Wasson and the boy into the swollen stream. The father's cries for help were responded to by a raftman who hurried to the scene in a small boat and who succeeded in saving the boy, who had been prevented from sinking by the heavy blanket in which he was wrapped when the boat was upset, but up to Friday night nothing had been found of Wasson's body, which is thought to have been carried down the river, or lodged in a big pile of drift near the pier. The foregoing facts are gleaned from the Bazaar's report of the affair.

Milk consumers in Erie are badly worked up over the discovery that the noted Reedhurst herd, belonging to the Reed estate, is badly infected with tuberculosis. The Reedhurst dairy supplied their customers with what was supposed to be a high grade of milk, free from disease germs, at 7 cents per quart. The herd at present numbers 162 head of highly-bred Jerseys, the largest proportion of which are registered. Fifty-two of these, on being tested by Veterinary Surgeon Ivans of Erie, were condemned as being tuberculous. A little over three years ago the herd, which then numbered 29, was inspected and tested by an agent of the state live stock sanitary board and pronounced free from tuberculosis. Since then several untested cattle have been added to the herd. One lot of over 20 having been purchased over one year ago a large percentage of which at the last made a week ago proved to be tuberculous. The fifty-two condemned cattle were appraised at $1,338, which is the amount the state will pay for them.

Bert Roberts of Titonesta, was over to visit his grandpa over last Sunday. Miss Blanche Pease, teacher at West Hickory, spent Thanksgiving at home. Attorney P. M. Clark was a visitor to Emlenton friends a part of last week. Constable J. B. Eden of the township was in Oil City on business Monday. Miss Colyn Clark spent a part of last week with her sister, Miss May, at Oil City. Miss Myrtle Reed of New Lebanon, Pa., is a guest of her sister, Mrs. Archie Urey. Miss Grace Davis, of Warren, is a guest at the home of her cousin, James D. Davis. Miss Bess Laverty of Oil City was the guest of Mrs. J. H. Robertson over last Sabbath. Hiram Irwin, of Franklin, was a guest of his uncle, S. D. Irwin, Esq., over Sunday. Mrs. Edgar Thorpe of Oil City, was a guest of her aunt, Mrs. A. Carson, over last Sunday. Dr. L. D. Bowman of Jamestown, N. Y., was shaking hands with Tionesta friends Monday. Harry Klinefister was down from Tidonesta to spend Thanksgiving with Tionesta friends. Miss Artie Robinson returned Monday evening from a week's visit with friends in Franklin. J. W. Kahle and family of Oil City, were Thanksgiving visitors at Conny Treasurer Henry's home. Howard Kelly came home from the Kiskiminetus school, Saltsburg, to spend Thanksgiving with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Wils Pettigrew of Oil City, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Morgan here over Thanksgiving.

J. W. Stroup, who is now located at Titonesta, was circulating among Tionesta friends a part of the past week. Jim Morrow, Jerry Black, Joe Morgan and Wm. Lawrence came down from Grunderville to spend Sunday at home. Mr. and Mrs. P. K. George of Franklin spent the Sabbath in this place, the guests of their daughter, Mrs. J. B. Muse. Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hosack, of Paradise, Mercer county, are visiting at the home of their daughter, Mrs. T. E. Armstrong. Dr. and Mrs. W. G. Morrow were down from West Hickory to eat Thanksgiving turkey with the parents of the former.

Miss Kathleen Joyce, teacher of No. 2 room, was the guest of Miss Lucy McGurn of Oil City during the Thanksgiving vacation. Mrs. Jennie E. Partridge, who has been a guest of her mother, Mrs. J. G. Dale for the past month, returned to her home in Pittsburg Monday. Miss Bessie Baker of Franklin who has been a guest of her friend, Miss Mildred Horner, at the Central House, for the past week returned home yesterday. Miss Belle Burns leaves to-day for Starr, Forest county, where she will finish a term of school. We congratulate Miss Burns and wish her deserved success with her school.—Clarion Jacksonian.

Isaac W. Young, of Walnut Bend, and Hester A. Booher, of Hunter station, were married at the latter place on Wednesday of last week. Rev. W. P. Murray of this place officiating. Wilbur W. Jamieson, of Salem, W. Va., was a visitor to Tionesta friends a few hours yesterday, and made a pleasant call at the REPUBLICAN office. He was in his usual excellent health, and we should judge that his adopted home agreed with him in both a physical and financial way.

Mrs. J. W. Halliday of East Hickory, was operated upon last Thursday for appendicitis. Although her condition is quite serious Dr. Bowman her physician, believes she will recover without further difficulty, the operation being a successful one. The Doctor was assisted by Drs. J. B. Higgins of Oil City and J. W. Morrow of Tionesta.

The Presbyterian church is taking a new departure in the line of missions. Heretofore the women have had a monopoly of the work in the local churches which the men never disputed. The church leaders evidently doubt the wisdom of such a state of things and are now trying to interest the men also in this work. To this end a conference will be held to-day and to-morrow in the First church, Oil City, for men, which will be addressed by some of the most prominent speakers in the country on the subject of missions. Among these are such men as Mr. Robert Spear, Dr. Dixon, New York; Dr. Patterson, Orange, N. J., and Dr. Dunlap, Siam. Those attending the conference from this section are A. B. Kelly, G. W. Robinson and Rev. J. V. McAninch of Tionesta, and G. W. Warden of Endeavor.

Hon. James Mosgrove, one of the best-known business men in Western Pennsylvania, died at his residence in Kittanning on the 27th ult. The deceased was born at that place April 14, 1822, and resided there all his life. In 1845 he was married to Rebecca Jane Brown. Mrs. Mosgrove died last summer. Mr. Mosgrove had been engaged in the iron business ever since he was a young man, and at the time of his death he was president of the Kittanning Iron company, which operates a furnace and rolling mill at that place. Mr. Mosgrove was the largest real estate owner in the county, his wealth being estimated at $600,000. In 1880 he was elected to Congress from this district, having defeated Judge Harry White, of Indiana, in a spirited contest. For several years past he had been an invalid, although he always took a deep interest in all business affairs connected with the iron company.

Close Call From Nitro-Glycerine.

Frank Hall, the well-known torpedo man, had both of his hands badly lacerated, and also had a close call from a fatal injury through the premature discharge of a 10-quart shot of nitro-glycerine about 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. The scene of the accident was on the Ball property, 13 miles from here and 2 miles from Eagle Rock. Mr. Course, the contractor, of this city, had drilled the well into the Speechley sand but the well was too tight to pay as a gasser, and he determined to pull the casing. In attempting to do this early in the week the casing stuck, and in trying to loosen it the contractor had a set of jars, a casing spear and some other tools fast. He drilled around the tools and on Friday fired four dry shots to loosen the tools and casing, and on Saturday followed this up with two other shots of the explosive. It was the second of these that caused the damage. Hall had lowered it into the well at the required depth and was taking off the wire when a stone inside of the well dropped and struck the torpedo, and it was exploded. Fortunately for Mr. Hall something at the rear of him had attracted his attention and he had turned his head sideways and back to look, and this saved him from having his head blown off. As it was his cheek and neck were lacerated with small gravel, sand and fragments of tin and wire. He had hold of the torpedo wire at the time, and both of his hands were lacerated to the bone with wire and tin. His shirt front was ripped off, as were also the buttons on his vest and coat, and his cap was blown so far that he could not find it. Mr. Course was on the floor of the derrick and brought the young man to Oil City where he was treated on Saturday afternoon, and on Sunday the probe located another bent piece of wire in his hand. It is not thought that his hand will be crippled.—Derrick.

Touched the Right Spot.

We are now more earnestly opposed to giving up the Philippine Islands than heretofore. Captain John D. Crossman sent to Walter Brown a box of one hundred cigars made in Manila, a sample of which convinced us that they are greatly superior in flavor to our own cigars. When the American army plants the flag of the United States upon new territory—under circumstances which justify us in laying claims to such territory—there let it remain. The cigars are excellent, and it is our plain duty to bring the Philippines within the fold of American civilization. Splendid flavor. Why, it would be a base backward to permit Aguinaldo to deprive the Filipinos of the fostering care of this country, and us of such fine cigars, says Editor Smith of the Punxy Spirit, between puffs.

E. W. Grove Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets

This signature is on every box of the genuine Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets the remedy that cures a cold in one day. During the civil war as well as our late war with Spain, diarrhoea was one of the most troublesome diseases the army had to contend with. In many instances it became chronic and the old soldiers still suffer from it. Mr. David Taylor of Wind Ridge, Greene Co., Pa., is one of these. He uses Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and says he never found anything that would give him such quick relief. It is for sale by all druggists.
