 fine lunch the meeting adjourned.

 lettville sends us a very pretty postal card picture of the snow fall on the night of Oct. 28, 1910. The scene is on the main street of the Brooklyn side of the creek, Kellettville, and the snow-laden trees on the hill back of the village make a rare picture of an October morning. John is a success in his line and many of his landscape photos will make valuable mementoes in future years.
 —Pheasant continue to be reported scarce, and "scientists" are assigning all sorts of reasons for the scarcity, even going so far as to say that this native bird has taken on migratory habits and flown to other parts. What! The explanation is very simple. Not one chick in fifty that were hatched during the wet, cold weather of May and June, lived or came to maturity. This is amply proven by the fact that, of the few birds that have been taken by local hunters, not one has been taken of last spring's hatching.

—Mrs. Caroline Kelly, wife of Sharon Kelly, died at ten o'clock Sunday evening, Nov. 6, 1910, at her home in East Hickory, Pa., aged 47 years. She had been an invalid for the past six years, suffering from rheumatism, which was the cause of her death. Mrs. Kelly was the daughter of the late Squire and Mrs.
 J. P. Houser and was born in Limestone township, Warren county, near Tidouche.
 The family had resided at East Hickory for the past year. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons and one daughter, namely: Harry, Charles and Laura, all at home. Two brothers and one sister also survive. The funeral services were held at the home this morning at 10 o'clock and the remains were taken to the McKean cemetery, near Tidouche, for interment.

—John H. Wickizer, a veteran of the Civil War, and known to a number of our readers, died at his home in Warren, on the 31st inst., of nerve exhaustion and other troubles, having been ill about 10 weeks. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Sadie Sebirk, well remembered by many of our townpeople as a former resident of Tionesta. Two daughters and one son also survive. Mr.
 Wickizer was aged 68 years and bore a very honorable war record, having twice enlisted in the army, and after suffering for several months in rebel prison pens, was finally discharged from service in September, 1865. Mrs. Wickizer, the surviving widow, is a cousin of our townsman, R. M. Herman. Mrs. Herman and daughter, Miss June, attended the funeral, which was held from the late home of the deceased on Saturday last.

—Word comes from Salamanca that at the election held by the Seneca Indians on the reservation at Versailles last week, a fierce fight followed the fraternal bitterness in the tribe which the balloting has caused. Guns, axes and nearly every conceivable weapon was employed in the free-for-all fight which took place near the Council House at the four corners.
 As a result of the fight Quay Huff was shot twice, once in the shoulder and once in the head; Peter Dostander was seriously out in the head with an axe; Chas.
 Wilson was pounded almost beyond recognition with a club; William Tal-chief had his nose broken; Gaylord Parker had one ear nearly severed and William Jones was beaten into insensibility. Many others were injured in the melee. No arrests have been made as yet. It is said that fire water was distributed to the Indians. The fight was a fierce one while it lasted.

—A death of local news often leads to murmurs on the part of those who prize local gossip above all else, and it is not all the fault of the publisher, says an exchange. Any live publisher will not fail to give all the local news worthy of note therefore when the local department is short you should not rail at the editor, but remember you might have committed suicide, got married, quarrelled with your neighbors, stole chickens, let your team run away, or done a hundred other things to make a local item. If a newspaper should publish current street gossip, or the hints and allusions of the best society in the community, it would be ostracized and the poor editor horse-whipped or burned at the stake. Think a minute of the mean and low things you say about your townsmen and your neighbor and imagine how it would look in print. Don't criticize the newspapers for what they print, but give them great credit for what they don't print. A newspaper that contains one-half the nonsense current about the best citizens would be unfit to read.

—Weather sharps are again busy predicting a hard winter. As a proof of their prophecies they point to the fact that wild bees have stored much honey, and this is an infallible sign of a severe winter. This is a reflection on the bee's habits of industry. Just as though the average bee, being able to forecast the weather conditions a year ahead, would loaf and lounge around because of the approach of a mild winter! "Another sign is the abundance of rabbits. When a long and severe winter is approaching it is said nature provides many of these little animals as food for the large flesh eating denizens of the forests," says the same authority. Now there's some sense to this. Take, for instance the hawk, the owl and the weasel; the rabbit devouring denizens; of course they've got to live, and nature provides them with good food. And then the foxes, bears, bobcats, and other big animals come out of the dense forests in great hordes and roam the meadows, pasture fields and red-brush country, where bunny is wont to gambol and frisk, and gobble up great stacks of them for their winter provender.
 Sure enough, when there's an abundance of rabbits look out for a severe winter, you blasted nature faker.

Robert Huddleson's Barn Burned.

The farm barn of Robert W. Huddleson, situated near the mouth of Little Hickory creek, in Hickory township, was completely destroyed by a fire which broke out rather mysteriously between eight and nine o'clock last Saturday night.
 A two-year-old and a yearling heifer were burned to death in the barn, and Mr.
 Huddleson also lost all of his corn, hay, straw, feed and a cutting box. A cow escaped from the burning barn through her own efforts. Mr. Huddleson places his loss at $300, on which there was no insurance, and the loss is a heavy one to him. He cannot account for the fire and thinks it may have been set by tramps, as was his usual custom he had done his chores before dark and there had been no light or fire of any kind about the building. When discovered about nine o'clock the fire had gained such headway that nothing could be saved.

The Teachers' Institute.

The forty-fourth annual session of the Forest county teachers' institute held at Marienville last week was a success educationally, socially and financially.
 We understand Supt. Morrison is about $75.00 to the good on the financial statement. Of the 93 teachers in the county, only one was absent. The instructors were N. C. Schaeffer, State Superintendent of Pennsylvania, M. P. Shawkey, State Superintendent of West Virginia, J. W. Sweeney, Superintendent of Elk county, Dr. J. George Becht, Principal of the Clarion Normal, with Prof. F. W.
 Gill, of Tionesta in charge of the music.
 We had hoped to have some report of the proceedings, but none is at hand, so we must content ourselves with this brief statement.
 At the school directors' convention held Tuesday and Wednesday, fourteen directors were present. The following officers were elected: President, R. M.
 Herman, Tionesta; 1st vice president, Z.
 S. Himes, Marienville; 2d vice president, Henry Wolfe, Tionesta township; secretary, George L. King, Harmony township, and treasurer, W. F. Jones, Kingsley township.

Whig Hill.

Where we lack in one, we average on another; for if game is scarce here, hunters are plentiful, if you are here.
 With election so close at hand every one is no doubt anxious to know the result.
 Green Ward, Jr., and nephew, Claude Watkins, spent a week with the former's parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Green Ward, returning to their home in New Castle on Saturday.

Mrs. W. S. Gillespie, of West Virginia, called on friends on the hill on Tuesday last.
 School opened Monday after a week's vacation for the youngsters, while Prof.
 Terrill attended institute at Marienville, returning Monday morning.

Hallowe'en was observed to some extent, from reports we hear coming from some more remote corners. Ed Rudolph was rather uncertain as to what was doing around outside and so relieved his mind, also his 32 caliber, in sending several reports high in the air, seeing how near he might come to the stars. Buggies and wagons were out of place and all else remained unharmed.

Mabel Galbreath visited at East Hickory over the Sabbath.

Rev. G. A. Barnard preached for his congregation here on Sunday last.

A Falsehood Refuted.

On my western trip I found every one well and doing well. In regard to the story that was circulated about H. H. Watson running over a man, it is not true, and if the persons who started the story can be found will make it very interesting for them.
 G. F. WATSON.
