

REPUBLICAN TICKET.

STATE. U. S. Senator - Boies Penrose. Governor - Martin G. Brumbaugh. Lieut. Governor - Frank B. McClain. Sec'y Internal Affairs - Henry Honck. Congress-at-Large - T. S. Crago, M. H. Garland, D. F. Lafaw, J. R. K. Scott. DISTRICT. Congress - Samuel H. Miller. State Senator - Josiah Howard. COUNTY. Assembly - A. R. Meckling. NON-PARTISAN. Supreme Court - Robert S. Frazer, George Kunkel. Superior Court - Frank M. Trexler, James E. Clark.

ONE of the most popular post card photographs in London, is of President Wilson. The stationers can hardly supply the demand. - Democratic Indicator. Sure he is popular with the English, and why shouldn't he be? Didn't he turn over our $100,000,000 loan to them?

A PROGRESSIVE who votes for McCormick for Governor is voting for a Democratic national administration - President, Congress and all. For a Democrat that is all right, but a Progressive or a Republican is bound to defeat the Democratic ticket if he can.

THE call of the Elephant to the men who have been following the Bull Moose, but now have no candidate of their own for Governor, is being heard and heeded. Many Progressive Republicans would have preferred Lewis to Brumbaugh, because Lewis was their candidate, but as for deserting both wings of the Republican movement and going over to the machine Democrats like McCormick - that is "something else already." - Franklin News.

THE Public Ledger of Philadelphia, one of the staunchest of the Republican papers, foresees what evil effects the attempt to re-elect Penrose would bring to the party in this state. In a clarion call to the Republicans of Pennsylvania it declared that Penrose was a menace to the National Republicanism and if the party was to live and regain popular confidence, Penrose must be defeated. - Democratic Indicator.

THE Public Ledger is not now and never was a Republican paper, and the most conservative and best posted people positively declare that its attitude in the campaign will add not one less than 25,000 to Penrose's majority in Philadelphia alone.

THE determination of the administration at Washington to impose burdensome war taxes in times of peace, as a ruse solely to cover the failure of the Democratic tariff legislation, has brought the voters of Pennsylvania to a full sense of their duty at this particular time and the Republicans have abundant reasons for their belief that the people will not only rebuke the administration, but will vote with all possible emphasis against Mr. Palmer who has had much to do with framing the disastrous Democratic policies at Washington. Under all the conditions an old time Republican majority in Pennsylvania seems assured, and the Republicans are now in the thick of a fight with absolute confidence of success for their entire ticket.

The Eagerly Helpful Congressman.

Extracts from a letter written by a Congressman to one of his constituents: "If you have in mind any particular government document * * * please write me and I will try to secure it for you. "If there is a baby in your family I can send you a very valuable government document entitled 'The Care of the Baby.' "If any of your friends are lost or stranded in Europe please let me know and I will try to locate them for you and assist in getting them back to America. I have already * * * located many relatives and friends of my constituents and it will afford me pleasure to aid you in this way. "Please remember my preliminary competitive examination * * * to be held in New York on October 21st next, to select a cadet for Annapolis. Kindly mention the matter to any eligible young men among your acquaintances." "To which the constituent replied: "Your letter of September fifteenth for votes has been received and noted."

No Time To Swap Horses.

As sure as you are living, if Forest county sends a new man to the legislature this fall, one who is not thoroughly posted on the way they have of doing things in Harrisburg, the iniquitous and hideous water snake, against which our county made such a brave fight two years ago, will pass the legislature, and our county be turned over to the tender mercies of the water grabbers, and the hideous dam, the mere thought of which have given us nightmares and put us all on the verge of nervous prostration, will become a reality and Forest county will be practically wiped off the map. This is not a theory but a condition that stares the residents of the Tionesta creek and the Allegheny river valleys in the teeth. Do you want to jeopardize your life, your family, your home by such a condition? Then don't trust your business in the legislature to a green hand at this critical stage. Had it not been for the excellent and intelligent watchfulness of Mr. Meckling and three or four other wide awake and experienced members of the legislature at the last session these bills would have slipped through, and our county and a few others in this end of the State would today be in the grip of the water power grabbers. No green hand could have watched and averted this calamity. Well do we remember the excellent work, also, of ex-Judge Kreitzer, the late T. D. Collins, N. P. Wheeler, Attorney A. C. Brown, representing the County Commissioners, and others, in killing off this obnoxious legislation, and the numerous trips they made to Harrisburg to fight these snakes. Consider these facts thoroughly, thoughtfully. Lay aside any prejudices you may have formed. Forget your likes or dislikes and make up your mind to vote for and work for your own interests. This is no time to swap horses.

Candidate Pinchot Passed Through.

Gifford Pinchot, who claims a "youthful residence" in Pike county, and who wants to be Senator from Pennsylvania, made his much heralded trip through this section last week. Saturday he reached Tionesta, where he gave a short street talk to the small Saturday afternoon crowd that is usual to our town at the corner of Elm and Bridge streets, the burden of which was his anxiety to link Senator Penrose. His car started about three o'clock from Tionesta and one of the members of the party was our old friend Geo. Mann of Warren, a very strong advocate of pure politics. Mr. Pinchot was met at Tionesta and escorted to our city by a number of our townsmen, among whom were E. W. Bowman, A. M. Douth, J. C. Geist, F. R. Lawson, W. J. Campbell, Harry Watson and William Wolcott. In a somewhat extended speech Judge Irwin introduced candidate Pinchot, and among other things he made the rather startling statement that Senator Penrose had said "he owed the voters of this state." The Judge afterward admitted that he had only heard some one else say this.

Candidate Pinchot's speech was almost wholly devoted to abuse of Senator Penrose, whose job he freely admitted he would like to beat him out of. With him it was "anything to beat Penrose," the awfully bad boss. He charged the Senator with favoring every bad law and opposing every good one. When he came to specialize his most serious charges was that Senator Penrose had voted for the Canadian reciprocity law, but he forgot to say that one of the strongest advocates of that bill, while it was under consideration in Congress, was Col. Roosevelt, who made speeches in its favor and recommended it as a splendid measure for the people of the United States, especially the working man. He furthermore forgot to state that his Democratic opponent, A. Mitchell Palmer, who also wants Penrose's job so bad that he can taste it, was one of the main leaders in the passage of the free trade law now in force and that allows Canada to export her goods into this country duty free, but gives the United States no chance to export the same privilege from the Canadians. But it isn't Palmer's scap that Gifford is after. He rather hopes to draw enough Republicans to himself to let the big Democratic boss, Palmer.

Another of Mr. Pinchot's complaints was of the manner in which the state highways were handled under Commissioner Bigelow, knowing full well that Auditor General Powell held up the road fund for a year so that no work could be done on the roads during that period, and knowing that this course would bring odium upon the highway department. Could Senator Penrose or Mr. Bigelow have had their way of it the state highways would today be in the very finest condition, and that without one penny's cost to the taxpayers of the country. Mr. Pinchot, it should be remembered, is a very wealthy man, perhaps no wealthier man ever aspired to the Senatorship from Pennsylvania. After being stripped of his job as chief forester at Washington in 1910, he established a "youthful residence," to use his own words, in this state, and if he has been the good "house-cleaning" citizen that he pretends to be, and has not been absent at his "real residence" on election day, he has voted at just four general elections in Pennsylvania. This should entitle him to be elected as our representative in the U. S. Senate, by all means! It would be an easy job for him, and he wouldn't be bothered but once a year, when of course he would have to hunt up his "youthful residence" and cast his ballot.

The Late Sebastian Cook.

Sebastian Cook, son of John and Kathryn Ritter Cook, was born at Cooksburg, Barnet Township, July 4, 1857. He was a member of a family of eighteen, three of which survive him, who are Jerry and Squire Cook and Mrs. Martha Snyder of this place. Those who have been before are Dan, John, Mrs. Piper, Mrs. Young, Phillip, Andrew, Mrs. Berlio, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Lindsey, Mrs. Slocum, Mrs. Henry and Elijah. Mr. Cook spent nearly all his life in this place and to him do we owe the debt of helping to clear the land and building permanent homes in Cooksburg. In the year of 1881, when Lincoln called for 500,000 men, Mr. Cook was one of the first to respond, enlisting on the first day of July, 1861. He enlisted in the Tenth Regiment of the Pennsylvania Reserves, Company E, and was under Capt. Phillips, and later, Capt. Knox. He fought in some great battles, among which were the battle of the Wilderness, and battle of Bull Run. He fought in the Seven Days' Battle until the fifth day, when he was wounded in the ankle by a bullet shot by a rebel soldier. After suffering for almost a week from this wound he was taken to Baltimore to the hospital, where he remained for six months, when he insisted on going back into the battle field. Physicians, understanding his physical condition, refused his request and he was granted an honorable discharge January 1, 1863. Yet no man ever loved his country better; he never boasted of his service but many an old soldier will today tell of his great bravery.

That Ledger Fiasco.

It has become known that John Gribbel, in addition to having declared for Senator Penrose, also enrolled himself as a member of the Penn. Y. as a Protective Union, has a recognized position as vice president of the Ledger Company and director of the Curll Publishing Company. This is perhaps the hottest shot that has been fired into the anti-Penrose coalition to date. Mr. Gribbel has long been a prominent figure in the Curll companies, and the fact that he has renounced that his name be taken down from the editorial columns of the Ledger will make it very difficult for that newspaper to continue to discredit all those who follow the standard of the Republican party as regards its candidates for the upper and lower branches of congress.

The Scott's Consolation.

He was a frugal Scot, and when the collection plate came round he dropped in a florin in mistake for the humble copper. Speedily discovering his mistake, however, he stepped softly down the aisle and requested the collector to give him back the coin, which request was politely but firmly refused. A shade of disappointment flitted over the northerner's face as he walked slowly back to his pew. "Aweel," he said, "it's a loss, but there's some sma' consolation in reflectin' it's a bad one. It might have got me into trouble anywhere else." - Pall Mall Gazette.

Mirabeau as an Orator.

No one, not even Talleyrand, could approach Mirabeau as a speaker, and, curiously enough, this "violent, emotional man" was, as an orator, perfectly self-possessed.

"During the debate on the disturbances at Marseilles the Right interrupted his speech with cries of 'stand up, stand up, stand up.' He stopped for a moment and looked at the excited members who were spattering him with their vile words: 'I am suffering, gentlemen,' he said, 'for these amenities to die down.' Then he went on with his speech at the point where he had broken off."

His face, pitted with smallpox, was ugly, says the author of "Mirabeau," but his very ugliness, transformed by the play of his countenance, was marvellously turned into a source of power. When he shook his "terrible lion's head" he was terrifying and no man dared to interrupt him.

Meerschaum and the Turks.

Meerschaum used to be considered a mere curiosity by the Turks, who had no other use for it than as a substitute for fuller's soap. The story runs that the Turkish ambassador at the Austrian court, in the eighteenth century, was a native of Eski Schehr. Wanting to help his city at a time of great poverty, he took a sample of this queer stuff to Vienna, thinking that the "Franks" might have some use for it. The Germans were quick to see its utility for pipe bowls, but declared that it was good for nothing else. More than a century has confirmed this judgment, for who has yet discovered any other use for meerschaum? For pipe making it is an ideal raw material. Here is a stone which is easily moulded when wet, and when dry becomes hard and resists fire.

Always Out.

Miss Gush - And were you ever out after big game, colonel? Colonel Highflor - Yes, indeed. I have been "out" after every big game I was ever in - Town Topics.

Acute Indigestion.

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallacher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for the complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." For sale by all dealers. adv

See "The Count of Monte Cristo."

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I advised the 'boys' when they enlisted for the Spanish war to take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with them, and have received many thanks for the advice given." - J. H. Houghland, Eldon, Iowa. "No person whether traveling or at home should be without this great remedy. For sale by all dealers. adv

See "The Count of Monte Cristo."

tonight. adv

PENNSYLVANIA STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT, HARRISBURG, PA. Sealed proposals will be received at said office until 10 a. m. October 6, 1914, when bids will be publicly opened and scheduled, and contract awarded as soon thereafter as possible, for the reconstruction of 1050 lineal feet of Brick Block pavement 16 feet wide, situated in Tionesta Borough, Forest County. Plans and specifications may be seen at office of State Highway Department, Harrisburg; 1001 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia; 217 Farmers' Bank Building, Pittsburgh, and Warren Savings Bank Building, Warren, Pa. Full particulars and information on application to Edward M. Bigelow, State Highway Commissioner.

Repelling a Slander.

Democratic newspapers and orators, who are now busy trying to fool the people, insist that Republican away has been a blight to Pennsylvania; but the glorious old commonwealth repels this slander from every mill and mine and factory and railroad within its borders, and from every savings bank in which the surplus earnings of its frugal and happy people are deposited.

Not only is Pennsylvania great in its industries which have been fostered and made possible under the protective system of the Republican party, but its educational system is unexcelled in any other state. Its public schools, in which hundreds of thousands of children receive the benefits of a good education, have been brought to their present efficiency under Republican rule. The free text books, which make it possible for the children of the poor to enjoy equal advantages with the children of the well-to-do, are a result of Republican foresight and legislation for the welfare of the people.

Republican policy has been and is, sound and progressive in the highest sense, and the fact is so plain that it cannot be obscured by the most diligent Democratic slanderer of Republican candidates and policies.

Just now the foremost enemies in the Democratic camp are concentrating their torments of abuse on Senator Penrose in an effort to defeat him in re-election. They are insinuating their assertions, but they cannot justly deny that for nearly a third of a century they have been directing their vicious attacks as directed has been a potent factor in shaping and supporting legislation for the welfare of Pennsylvania.

Penrose and the State.

This mighty commonwealth, with its flourishing industries, its prosperous people and its happy homes, has had no more able or devoted advocate of all that makes for its progress and perpetuity than Boies Penrose.

Senator Penrose is the man that has done and can do things for Pennsylvania that no other man could do. His satisfaction of every fair-minded man in the state and nation while he was the leader of the United States senate. He won his present nomination squarely at the primaries by a direct vote of the people, in the face of malicious opposition at the hands of jaundiced and envious opponents; and those who now clamor about a "ma chine" are simply trafficking in stale legends.

The re-election of Senator Penrose is the surest guarantee Pennsylvania can have for the continuance of the proud position the Keystone State has occupied during the half century of its advancement under Republican rule. He stands for Pennsylvania first and for those policies which make for the happiness and prosperity of its people, and Pennsylvania will stand by him with its ballots in November.

That Ledger Fiasco.

It has become known that John Gribbel, in addition to having declared for Senator Penrose, also enrolled himself as a member of the Penn. Y. as a Protective Union, has a recognized position as vice president of the Ledger Company and director of the Curll Publishing Company. This is perhaps the hottest shot that has been fired into the anti-Penrose coalition to date. Mr. Gribbel has long been a prominent figure in the Curll companies, and the fact that he has renounced that his name be taken down from the editorial columns of the Ledger will make it very difficult for that newspaper to continue to discredit all those who follow the standard of the Republican party as regards its candidates for the upper and lower branches of congress.

Mirabeau as an Orator.

No one, not even Talleyrand, could approach Mirabeau as a speaker, and, curiously enough, this "violent, emotional man" was, as an orator, perfectly self-possessed.

"During the debate on the disturbances at Marseilles the Right interrupted his speech with cries of 'stand up, stand up, stand up.' He stopped for a moment and looked at the excited members who were spattering him with their vile words: 'I am suffering, gentlemen,' he said, 'for these amenities to die down.' Then he went on with his speech at the point where he had broken off."

His face, pitted with smallpox, was ugly, says the author of "Mirabeau," but his very ugliness, transformed by the play of his countenance, was marvellously turned into a source of power. When he shook his "terrible lion's head" he was terrifying and no man dared to interrupt him.

Meerschaum and the Turks.

Meerschaum used to be considered a mere curiosity by the Turks, who had no other use for it than as a substitute for fuller's soap. The story runs that the Turkish ambassador at the Austrian court, in the eighteenth century, was a native of Eski Schehr. Wanting to help his city at a time of great poverty, he took a sample of this queer stuff to Vienna, thinking that the "Franks" might have some use for it. The Germans were quick to see its utility for pipe bowls, but declared that it was good for nothing else. More than a century has confirmed this judgment, for who has yet discovered any other use for meerschaum? For pipe making it is an ideal raw material. Here is a stone which is easily moulded when wet, and when dry becomes hard and resists fire.

Always Out.

Miss Gush - And were you ever out after big game, colonel? Colonel Highflor - Yes, indeed. I have been "out" after every big game I was ever in - Town Topics.

Acute Indigestion.

"I was annoyed for over a year by attacks of acute indigestion, followed by constipation," writes Mrs. M. J. Gallacher, Geneva, N. Y. "I tried everything that was recommended to me for the complaint but nothing did me much good until about four months ago I saw Chamberlain's Tablets advertised and procured a bottle of them from our druggist. I soon realized that I had gotten the right thing for they helped me at once. Since taking two bottles of them I can eat heartily without any bad effects." For sale by all dealers. adv

See "The Count of Monte Cristo."

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera, and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"I advised the 'boys' when they enlisted for the Spanish war to take Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with them, and have received many thanks for the advice given." - J. H. Houghland, Eldon, Iowa. "No person whether traveling or at home should be without this great remedy. For sale by all dealers. adv

See "The Count of Monte Cristo."

tonight. adv

PENNSYLVANIA STATE HIGHWAY DEPARTMENT, HARRISBURG, PA. Sealed proposals will be received at said office until 10 a. m. October 6, 1914, when bids will be publicly opened and scheduled, and contract awarded as soon thereafter as possible, for the reconstruction of 1050 lineal feet of Brick Block pavement 16 feet wide, situated in Tionesta Borough, Forest County. Plans and specifications may be seen at office of State Highway Department, Harrisburg; 1001 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia; 217 Farmers' Bank Building, Pittsburgh, and Warren Savings Bank Building, Warren, Pa. Full particulars and information on application to Edward M. Bigelow, State Highway Commissioner.

Repelling a Slander.

Democratic newspapers and orators, who are now busy trying to fool the people, insist that Republican away has been a blight to Pennsylvania; but the glorious old commonwealth repels this slander from every mill and mine and factory and railroad within its borders, and from every savings bank in which the surplus earnings of its frugal and happy people are deposited.

Not only is Pennsylvania great in its industries which have been fostered and made possible under the protective system of the Republican party, but its educational system is unexcelled in any other state. Its public schools, in which hundreds of thousands of children receive the benefits of a good education, have been brought to their present efficiency under Republican rule. The free text books, which make it possible for the children of the poor to enjoy equal advantages with the children of the well-to-do, are a result of Republican foresight and legislation for the welfare of the people.

Republican policy has been and is, sound and progressive in the highest sense, and the fact is so plain that it cannot be obscured by the most diligent Democratic slanderer of Republican candidates and policies.

Just now the foremost enemies in the Democratic camp are concentrating their torments of abuse on Senator Penrose in an effort to defeat him in re-election. They are insinuating their assertions, but they cannot justly deny that for nearly a third of a century they have been directing their vicious attacks as directed has been a potent factor in shaping and supporting legislation for the welfare of Pennsylvania.

Penrose and the State.

This mighty commonwealth, with its flourishing industries, its prosperous people and its happy homes, has had no more able or devoted advocate of all that makes for its progress and perpetuity than Boies Penrose.

Senator Penrose is the man that has done and can do things for Pennsylvania that no other man could do. His satisfaction of every fair-minded man in the state and nation while he was the leader of the United States senate. He won his present nomination squarely at the primaries by a direct vote of the people, in the face of malicious opposition at the hands of jaundiced and envious opponents; and those who now clamor about a "ma chine" are simply trafficking in stale legends.

The re-election of Senator Penrose is the surest guarantee Pennsylvania can have for the continuance of the proud position the Keystone State has occupied during the half century of its advancement under Republican rule. He stands for Pennsylvania first and for those policies which make for the happiness and prosperity of its people, and Pennsylvania will stand by him with its ballots in November.

That Ledger Fiasco.

It has become known that John Gribbel, in addition to having declared for Senator Penrose, also enrolled himself as a member of the Penn. Y. as a Protective Union, has a recognized position as vice president of the Ledger Company and director of the Curll Publishing Company. This is perhaps the hottest shot that has been fired into the anti-Penrose coalition to date. Mr. Gribbel has long been a prominent figure in the Curll companies, and the fact that he has renounced that his name be taken down from the editorial columns of the Ledger will make it very difficult for that newspaper to continue to discredit all those who follow the standard of the Republican party as regards its candidates for the upper and lower branches of congress.

Walk-Over Shoes.

Fall Styles are here. $3.50, $4, $4.50

G. W. ROBINSON & SON

[Watch This Space Every Week.]

Pastime Theatre

ATTRACTIONS.

TO-NIGHT.

The Great Masterpiece, "The Count of Monte Cristo." 5-Reels-5. Featuring James O'Neill. Don't fail to see this wonderful picture, by the Famous Players Film Co.

Every Tuesday.

"Mutual Weekly." Keep up to date.

Every Wednesday.

"Mutual Girl." Come to every one.

COMING,

MONDAY, OCTOBER 5.

Pauline, No. 9. Pauline Pleases People.

COMING,

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 7.

"An Hour Before Dawn." Famous Players Film.

Featuring Laura Sawyer and House Peters.

Administratrix's Notice.

Letters of Administration on the estate of James Haslet, late of Tionesta Borough, Forest County, Pa., deceased, having been granted to the undersigned, all persons indebted to said estate are hereby notified to make payment without delay, and those having claims or demands will present them, duly authenticated, for settlement. CLARA E. HASLET, Adm'x, Tionesta, Pa. M. A. CARRINGER, Attorney.

TO NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS AND PRINTERS

We manufacture the very highest grade of

- Type Brass Rule in Strips Brass Labor-Saving Rule Brass Column Rules Brass Circles Brass Leaders Brass Round Corners Brass Leads and Slugs Brass Galleys Metal Borders L. S. Metal Furniture Leads and Slugs Metal Leaders Spaces and Quads 6 to 48 point Metal Quoins Etc.

Old Column Rules made and good as new at a small cost.

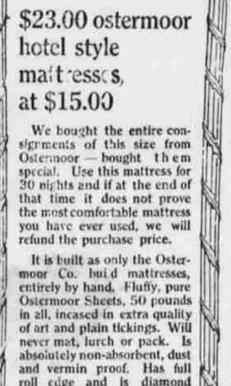

Please remember that we are not in any Trade or Combination and are sure that we can make it greatly to your advantage to deal with us.

A copy of our Catalog will be cheerfully furnished on application.

We frequently have good bargains in second-hand Job Presses, Paper Cutters and other printing machinery and material.

Philadelphia Printers' Supply Company, Manufacturers of Type and High Grade Printing Material, 14 S. 6th St., Philadelphia, Pa. Proprietors Penn Type Foundry.

Scene From "An Hour Before Dawn."

$23.00 ostermoor hotel style mattress, at $15.00

We bought the entire consignment of this size of Ostermoor - bought them special. Use this mattress for 30 nights and if at the end of that time it does not prove the most comfortable mattress you have ever used, we will refund the purchase price.

It is built up only the Ostermoor Co. but mattresses, entirely by hand. Fluffy, pure Ostermoor Sheets, 50 pounds in all, incased in extra quality of art and plain tickings. Will never mat, lurch or pack. Is absolutely non-absorbent, dust and vermin proof. Has full roll edge and is diamond shaped, closely tufted. Hotel style Ostermoor mattress sells for $23.00, our price $15.00.

$18 cedar chest, $12 50. Built of solid red cedar, all finish d. 49 inches long, 22 inches wide, and 19 inches high. Dust, moth, mice and damp proof.

Beggs & Euhl, PITTSBURGH, PA.

THIS MAN HID HIS MONEY IN A HOLE IN THE GROUND - IT IS GONE - THE "PRUDENT MAN" PUTS HIS IN THE BANK

No man can hide money and keep others from knowing it. There is always something in his actions that "gives him away." Our strong vaults will keep your money safe. Besides this, men of known financial responsibility are behind our bank.

CAPITAL STOCK, $50,000. SURPLUS, $100,000

Do your banking with us. We pay liberal interest consistent with safety, 4 per cent.

Forest County National Bank, TIONESTA, PA.

Scene From "The Count of Monte Cristo."

The Great Masterpiece, "The Count of Monte Cristo." 5-Reels-5. Featuring James O'Neill. Don't fail to see this wonderful picture, by the Famous Players Film Co.

Featuring James O'Neill. At The Pastime Theatre, Tionesta, TO-NIGHT.

5-Big Reels-5

7:15 to 11 p. m. Admission, 10c

BIG SALE ON DYNAMITE

For Ten Days Only.

We Deliver to You Free of Charge

40 per cent. dynamite in 50 pound boxes.....14 cents a pound No. 6 blasting caps, 100 in box80 cents a box Best grade Crescent fuse, per 100 feet.....70 cents

This dynamite is five per cent. stronger than any other on the market. If not the best you ever used bring it back and get your money back.

Special prices on 500 pound lots.

Our magazines are on the Maze farm. Call us here.

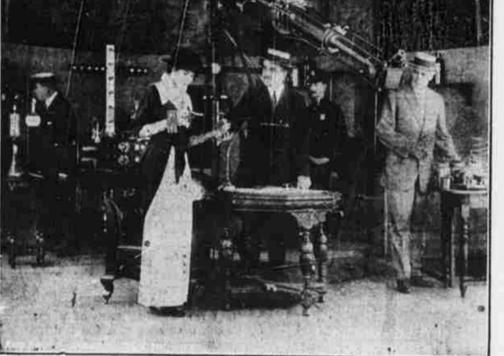

Meadville Blasting & Supply Co.

B. V. Parshall, Manager.

Hottelville, Forest County, Pa.

Red Bank Telephone.

Scene From "An Hour Before Dawn."

Featuring Laura Sawyer and House Peters.

At Pastime Theatre, Tionesta, Wednesday, October 7th

7:15 to 11 p. m. Admission, 10c

Subscribe for the Republican This Year. $1. All the News.