FORD'S GRAND OPERA HOUSE.

April 21st, Easter week, Oliver Morasco presents the successful and impelling Hawaiian romance Richard Tully's "THE BIRD OF PARADISE" the play that made the Ukulele famous. Brilliant cast, picturesque production. Florence Rockwell and the famous Hawaiian singers.

Richard Walton Tully has given the stage one of the most delightfully interesting stories of the Hawaiian Islands combining in its absorbing attractiveness a wonderful characterization, romantic and dramatic situations and picturesque surroundings unequalled in modern production. The company is superior, including Florence Rockwell as Luana, ably supported by John Waller as Dean the beachcomber, George Leffingwell as Wilson, Spring Byington as Diana, Rose Watson as the foster mother, Hal Chase as Hohono, Albert Address as Captain Hatch, and the ever popular native singers whose weird melodies are as haunting as ever.

The story tells of the tragic love of Luana, a beautiful Hawaiian, for a young American whom she meets and marries while he is under the spell of the tropics, and when she realizes her failure to retain his love she turns to her people and gives her life as a human sacrifice to save them from the wrath of the Goddess Pele.

The play is filled with dramatic episodes the reformation of the beach-comber, the advent of the American girl, etc., are all of important interest, an artistic and powerful production of a remarkable play.

Delightful Operetta.

Big Crowds Hear Indian Maidens in "Feast of the Red Corn."

The people of this vicinity had an opportunity last week to hear the Girls Glee Club of the Thurmont High School in the delightful Indian Operetta, entitled the Feast of the Red Corn.

The story woven in the opera is that Queen Weeda Wanta and her maidens meet once a year in a secluded glen to celebrate the Feast of the Red Corn. The one who finds the first red ear of corn tells the old squaw, Sorceress, her dearest wish. The Queen is very eager to find the red ear because she wishes to get news of the King, absent at the wars in the North from whom no word has been received for a year. The old squaw has called on the Gods of the Four Winds and she declares that no wish will be granted because someone has committed a grievous offense. Irpee Light, the Queen's younger sister, is suspected. She has been guilty of the terrible offense of tying war feathers on the sacred stuffed bear. As Impee Light tells of her queer fancies, the ghosts of dead trees rush in, dance, and then disappear. The Queen kills her children to sleep. The squaw weaves a spell and puts the whole company to sleep.

Impee Light has merely pretended to be asleep. At dawn she rouses the maidens and tells them the story of the Three Little Bears. At the Queen's suggestion they go for a canoe ride. Left alone, the Squaw sings her song of Sorrow. The shades around her take form and dance the Flaming Arrow Dance. This is interrupted by the return of the Queen and the maidens, who are hysterical over the drowning of the Queen's children, Fudgee, Pudgee and Wudgee and of Impee Light. The children's bodies are recovered and brought in on stretchers. The Indian maidens lament covering their eyes in grief. Meanwhile the children who have been playing dead jump up and laugh at the maidens—explaining how they upset their canoe in shallow water and kept their heads above water under the canoe. Impee Light rushes in to enjoy the joke. But the Queen insists that Impee Light saved the children's lives and that, therefore, the Four Winds will surely be appeased and hearken to the maidens. This time the Squaw invokes the winds with success. The Queen finds the Red Ear, and in answer to her wish, sees a vision of her King, alive, well, and on the way home. The Feast is progressing gaily as the curtain falls.

The cast is as follows:
Weeda Wanta, Queen of the Wanta tribe, Ethel Annan; Impee Light, her younger sister, Gullis Barnes; Fudgee, Thelma Wisotzkey; Pudgee, Caroline Rouzer; Wudgee, Gertrude Creager; Old Squaw, Sorceress of the tribe, Helen Root; Solo Dancer, Kathryn Firor. First Chorus, Kathryn Firor, Virginia Eyster, Katherine O'Toole, Agnes Joy, Mabel Willide, Elizabeth Sefton, Elizabeth Daugherty, Aveta O'Toole, Dorothy Beachley, Kathryn Flory.

Second Chorus, Mae Rowe, Dorothy Zentz, Ruth Emenheiser, Audrey Wolfe, Margaret Brown, Naomi Ridenour, Margaret Zimmermar, Adeline Roddy, Margaret Dorsey, Rae Hauver. Dancers, Margaret Zimmerman, Agnes Joy, Elizabeth Daugherty, Elizabeth Sefton, Virginia Eyster, Katherine Flory. Miss Ethel Annan, as a soloist, was particularly attractive, and her singing much admired by the large audiences.

No better a person could have been chosen for the character, Impee Light, than Miss Gullis Barnes, and Miss Helen Root, as Sorceress of the Tribe made you feel as though witches had you sure. Miss Kathryn Firor as solo dancer, received an abundance of applause. The three little "Injuns" told in a very pleasing song of all the bad things Impee Light did.

The decorations on the stage and costumes were true to Indian style—a great amount of hard work having been done to make such an elaborate showing.

The attendance the first evening was very good, rain interfering with the patronage to a great degree the second evening.

Ask $20 For Sweet Corn.
At a large meeting of farmers held recently in this city when a Sweet Corn Growers Association was organized, a resolution was adopted making the minimum price the members would grow sweet corn $20.

The canners claim with the decline in the price of canned goods the large surplus from last year's pack, the inability to sell futures, the uncertain and unsettled business conditions, with Western canners contracting for corn at $11 and $12 it is not possible for them to pay $20.

If I Were A Farmer.

If I were a farmer I would keep at hand a few reliable medicines for minor ailments that are not so serious as to require the attention of a physician, such as Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy for bowel complaints.
Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds, coughs and croup.
Chamberlain's Liniment for sprains, bruises and rheumatic pains.
Chamberlain's Tablets for stomach troubles, biliousness and constipation.
By having these articles at hand it would often save the trouble of a trip to town in the busiest season or in the night, and would enable me to treat slight ailments as soon as they appear, and thereby avoid the more serious diseases that so often follow.

County's Quota For French Aid $2,500.

Allotment For Districts Also Announced by Committee.

W. W. Doub, chairman of the Frederick County Committee for the relief of Devastated France, announced Tuesday that Frederick county's quota had been officially set by Gen. N. Williams, State Chairman, at $2,500. The campaign will commence here next Tuesday morning. It was thought that the quota would be much larger, having been tentatively fixed at $4,500; but Chairman Doub felt that by putting the goal at a lower figure and then to go "over the top" with a good margin, would show up much better for Frederick county, than if a higher figure was asked and barely reached.

Mr. Doub was enthusiastic Tuesday morning over the prospects of putting another feather in the cap of Frederick county in its already well deserved splendid war record. The war is over, he stated, but we must not forget the French.

In mapping out carefully next week's campaign, Chairman Doub, working in co-operation with Reno S. Harp, chairman of the campaign committee for the rural districts, announces the quotas for each district, under the revised quota. The quotas and the chairmen in each district follows:

Public Meeting.

On Thursday afternoon, today, at 3 o'clock, a public meeting will be held in the Club Room, this place, in the interest of the drive to raise money to help the war ridden French people. At this meeting Miss Helen Albaugh will tell of her many experiences as a Red Cross nurse in France. People from the entire district are invited—expected—to attend this meeting. At this time an effort will be made to raise $100.00, the amount assessed Mechanicstown District in this campaign. Every person should contribute their mite to this cause. Don't forget the date—you want to hear Miss Albaugh.

Rev. W. C. Waltemyer will also tell of his experiences in France.

Officers Liable To Fine.

Several weeks ago when Traffic Officer Robey was arrested for not having proper lights on his motorcycle, Justice of the Peace Cadow was not exactly familiar with the law governing the case, and persons on the outside intimated that the arrest would amount to nothing. Justice Cadow wrote Commissioner Baughman regarding the matter, and following is the reply received:

Baltimore, Md., Apr. 10, 1919.

Mr. Robt. E. Cadow
Justice of the Peace
Thurmont, Md.
Dear Sir:—
"In reply to your favor of the 4th concerning arrest and trial of Adlai N. Robey an officer of this Department, regret exceedingly to learn that Officer Robey had the misfortune of being arrested on a charge involving the violation of the Motor Vehicle Laws.
"Every officer of this Department has been particularly grilled and cautioned with respect to a strict enforcement of the law as well as a strict compliance therewith.
"Officer Robey intimated to me that there might have been some feeling on the part of certain citizens in Thurmont with regard to his recent visit and that he was not uncertain but that someone had deliberately short-circuited his light.
"I am enclosing herewith, Officer Robey's personal check for $6.45 to cover fine imposed by you.
"In all cases where officers of this Department violate the law in the opinion of the court they must in every instance stand the consequence of fine themselves.
"Yours very truly,
"E. Austin Baughman
Commissioner.

Left For Washington.

On Monday of this week, Rev. E. O. Pritchett, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, moved to his new home at 5315 Eighth Street, N. W., Brightwood Park, Washington, D. C. As has been the case with many others, Rev. Pritchett did not particularly care to leave Thurmont.

Returned Home.

Miss Helen Albaugh, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Albaugh, of this place, who has spent the past year or more as a Red Cross Nurse in France, returned to her home here last week.

New Phone Rates.

People Required To Pay Heavy For Privilege of Talking.

The C. & P. Telephone Company announce that the rates heretofore charged subscribers do not pay for the upkeep of their property, and hence rates must go up.

The raise in rates take effect May 1st, and almost every person having a phone or wishing to talk over a phone will be touched up for the privilege, the increase being from 5 to 20 cents and 5 cents additional for war tax.

After May 1st, to talk to Frederick will pay 15c plus 5c tax, total 20 cents. A charge of 10 cents will be made to Emmitsburg and Walkersville from Thurmont, no War Tax added.

To talk from Emmitsburg to Frederick will cost 20 cents plus 5 cents tax, or 25 cents.

No tax is charged on messages where the rate is under 15 cents.

The Station to Station schedule is as follows:
Frederick to Brunswick, 15c
Frederick to Buckeystown, 20c
Frederick to Emmitsburg, 20c
Frederick to Middletown, 10c
Frederick to Mt. Airy, 10c
Frederick to Myersville, 10c
Frederick to New Market, 10c
Frederick to Thurmont, 10c
Frederick to Walkersville, 10c
Brunswick to Braddock, 10c
Brunswick to Middletown, 10c
Emmitsburg to Thurmont, 10c
Emmitsburg to Walkersville, 10c
Thurmont to Walkersville, 10c
Middletown to Braddock, 10c
Middletown to Myersville, 10c
Mt. Airy to Buckeystown, 15c
Mt. Airy to Damascus, 10c
Mt. Airy to New Market, 10c
Myersville to Braddock Heights, 10c
Buckeystown to New Market, 10c

Local District Manager, Paul I. Payne of Frederick, gave out the following statement concerning the raise:

"The federal government assumed control of the property and business of this company on August 1, 1918. Since that time it has been operated under government supervision. The act of congress under which the government took over the control provided that the corporation should be paid a just compensation for the use of its property, and a contract was made covering this compensation. This contract provides for the upkeep of the property, a continuance of the past high grade of service, and the payment of interest and dividends at the same rates as heretofore. Therefore, the monies now collected for telephone service belong to the government.

"But, even under government control, there is no reason why the business should be operated at a loss. To do so means that a deficit must be paid out of taxation. At the rates now charged there is not enough revenue to meet expenses and it is imperative that the rates for local service be increased. The telephone business, just like the individual, has been suffering from steadily increasing costs. Every means possible has been applied to meet this difference between revenue and expenses by economies but we have reached the point where the business must have increased revenue if it is to maintain a satisfactory service and not result in a direct loss to the government.

"Every effort has been made towards making the burden of this increase fall as lightly as possible upon the subscriber and the community and as a matter of fact the increased cost to the subscriber is insignificant in comparison with the increased cost of commodities generally."
