

DELEHANTY AND DAVIS MUST PAY OR GET OUT

Baseball Magnates to Force Star Players to Give Back Advance Money Obtained From the New York Team

Mathewson and Bowerman in Same Box, But Have Smaller Sums to Pay. Baltimore is Doubt.

It is not unlikely that baseball will lose two of its stars in Ed Delehanty and George Davis. Under the prize agreement entered into by the National and American League magnates these players must return the advance money obtained from New York and Washington or go out of business.

As Del has been ordered to report to Washington and Davis to Chicago there is nothing left for them to do but scrape up the money. If the pair refuse, then they must quit the game.

Should the local club advance the $4,000 to New York which will make the crack outfielder, then Del must make good here and work the entire season without pay. Certainly President Postal would deduct the money from his salary.

If they cannot dig up the coin both are "dead ones." Mathewson and Bowerman, who also figure in the little game, obtained $500 each from St. Louis American League team, but as that sum is small they will have no trouble advancing it or securing the same from New York on their salary account.

Joe Grant continues to meet with success in Baltimore in his wrestling engagements. He met Fred Packham yesterday afternoon and threw him in six minutes. Grant has not lost a match since he came to Baltimore. He was thrown once by William Hart, but as the match was held here and Grant wrestled last night for an hour, it took Grant twenty-two minutes to throw Hart by a quarter-Nelson and whist hold. Hart gained a fall in forty-five minutes by a half-Nelson and croch hold.

This afternoon Grant tackles young Carl Pons. In the evening his opponent will be champion middleweight E. J. Atherton, who has offered to forfeit $50 to Grant if he cannot throw him in fifteen minutes.

Baltimore looks for a decisive announcement in the next few days as to the position it is to occupy in the baseball world. Harry Goldman, former secretary of the old Orioles, is deeply interested in the matter, but refuses to give out the exact situation.

It is believed that "Robbie," former captain of the Orioles, is working with Mr. Goldman, and that matters will be fixed up for an Eastern League club.

Both are sanguine of success, but hesitate about explaining their plans until details have been perfected. The Eastern league, they hold, is composed of some promising players who under skillful training would be able to give Baltimore a good team.

Al Herford, manager of Joe Gans, has advanced a novel proposition to halt Jimmy Britt into meeting the lightweight champion. Herford has taken the step in view of the fact that Britt has come out repeatedly with the assertion that he would never meet a negro.

Herford offers to sign articles calling for Gans to meet Britt and "stop" the Pacific Coast champion inside of twenty rounds. As further incentive Herford says that Gans will give Britt twenty seconds in which to recover in the event of being knocked down. Should this meet with Britt's approval, which is not at all likely, Herford will be ready to post a forfeit and sign articles at once.

It is possible that Napoleon Lajoie will not play ball this season. The great second baseman of the Cleveland team is a ill dangerously ill. He is not suffering from pneumonia, as was at first reported, but pleurisy, with effusion. The physicians have been forced to make an incision in his side, and each morning they extract over a quart of liquid. He is in a very weak condition.

If present plans do not miscarry the Philadelphia ball club (limited) will be sold either today or Monday. The ratification of the deal now pending between Co John I. Rogers, his associates, and Barney Dreyfus, of Pittsburgh, will take place as soon as Mr. Dreyfus reaches Philadelphia, which will be either today or Monday.

A conclusion of the meeting of the National League magnates in Cincinnati on Thursday. Mr. Dreyfus left for his home in Paducah, Ky., for a short visit before coming to this city. Harr-Pulliam, president of the National League, is expected in Philadelphia today, for a conference with Colonel Rogers.

We have paid Delehanty $4,000, which he will have to return before he can play ball anywhere. The same conditions apply to George Davis and Norman Elberfeld.

It was also shown us that Mathewson and Bowerman had signed with the St. Louis American League last July, and had each received $500 advance money. The St. Louis people wanted their claim.

Walbaum, reputed a wiseacre among the members of the Metropolitan Turf Association, is holding the center of the New Orleans racing stage today. Walbaum is out with a statement in effect that there will be no discussion in the Metropolitan Turf Association over Sol Lichtenstein's radical departure from the usual methods of bookmaking.

He admits that two distinct classes of bookmakers have sprung up on the American turf within the last ten months. Like every other branch of commercialism, the business of laying prices for the public patrons of race courses has undergone a certain evolution. The old time field of the bookmaker was confined to dealing directly with the speculation on the trackside. "The new element" is holding out for the immense play of the thousands of racing enthusiasts removed from the scene of actual sport.

According to Walbaum, the new school of layers has tapped a rich and verdant pasture, and by means of "turf commission" schemes its adherents are just piling up fortunes of gold. Sol Lichtenstein represents this class, while Wheeler and others of the "Met" are sticking to the conservatism of the former bookmaking methods.

Walbaum says that while Lichtenstein, Eddie Burk, Ullman, Charley Burns and others of the first class of Metropolitan layers will syndicate through the New York circuit this season with their interest standing out in striking relief from the style of operation of their fellow-layers, there will be no strife. The bookmaking craft recognize the coming of a revolution which will not brook opposition. There will be no obstruction placed in its progress. The faction which has been deceiving Lichtenstein and his peculiar class will quietly fall into line and concede the "turf commissioner" to be a legitimate percentage of the turf in 1933.

The track dried out well overnight, which accounts for the improvement in the class and tone of the racing seen today.

HOLY CROSS COLLEGIANS SURPRISED BY PENNSY.

Northern Institution Had No Intimation That Penn Would Refuse to Play.

WORCESTER, Mass., Jan. 24.—The Rev. Daniel J. Quinn, perfect of discipline at Holy Cross College, in discussing the action of Pennsylvania in canceling games with Holy Cross and other colleges, said:

"In the absence of any official I am inclined to think that the statement made in the press dispatches is either unauthorized or else has been misconstrued, for our relations with all the colleges have been very friendly and this is the first time that any question has arisen regarding our amateur status. There is nothing in any correspondence that has passed between Pennsylvania and this college that intimated any break in our relations, and if this statement is official, it remains for Pennsylvania to investigate the matter fully before making the accusation public.

"It is singular that no Eastern college has ever questioned our standing, and we have games scheduled with all of them, including Yale and Harvard, so that to be judged at a distance does not appear in the light of true sportsmanship.

"Our college requires a higher standard from its athletes than any of the educational institutes in the country and no student can take part in any college games unless he has attained 60 per cent or over in every discharge of study. Our action in the Coakley matter should be sufficient guarantee that we will tolerate nothing that would bring our games into question, for he was without doubt the best college pitcher in the country and the coming summer would have shown even better results than last year.

"Still, we suspended him on his own statement and did not quibble, much as we will feel his loss."

Coakley today received an offer from Woonsocket, R. I. Independent team, but his family is opposed to him playing professionally and he turned the offer down. He will remain at college, he says, and finish his course.

GHASSAWAY SENTENCED.

Judge Scott yesterday sentenced Ogdolana Ghassaway to eleven months and twenty-nine days in jail for cruelly beating his eleven-year-old son, Darrell Ghassaway.

On the night of January 5 the Ghassaway boy ran naked into the house of a neighbor, screaming and bleeding from head to foot, and saying that his father was beating him to death. When the case was called in Police Court recently, the testimony showed that the father had beaten the boy because he had failed to account for 25 cents of his earnings.

CHANGE IN FOOTBALL SYSTEM AT ANNAPOLIS

Middies to Keep Pace With the Times.

ANNAPOLIS, Jan. 24.—There is said to be a feeling here that a change in the system of football coaching would be a good thing. Some experts incline to the opinion that Annapolis, unlike the army, has not kept pace with the times in the offensive tactics of football, and that a more up-to-date attack is needed by the Middies to make them able to cope successfully with the West Pointers.

Princeton men have been coaching the Middies for several seasons, and it is contended in some quarters that Princeton's attack is behind the times.

There are two players, either of whom, according to the report, the Navy would like to get for head coach. One is Chaddwick, the Yale captain last fall, and the other is John DeSaules, the former Yale quarterback.

Captain Chaddwick is considered the most likely man for Yale's head coaching job. There is little doubt that the position will be tendered him, and if he does any coaching that he will give his services to his alma mater. DeSaules coached the University of Virginia team last fall, and successfully. He knows the Yale game. Yale men have been prominent factors in the rise of West Point to a front rank in football.

BOXING BOUTS MAY BE REVIVED IN GOTHAM

Hope Strong Among Followers of the Game.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Hope for the revival of boxing contests in this State is now strong among local sporting men. The confidence of those interested in the sport is based upon assurances from Albany that Senator Frawley's proposed bill to legalize exhibitions of the manly art will be favorably acted upon by both branches of the Legislature.

Senator Frawley's bill provides for the appointment of a State commission, to be composed of five members. They will be appointed by the governor and will have charge of granting licenses for all bouts. The fees of all clubs will go into the State treasury. The bill is being framed on the same lines as that governing control of racing.

"Joe" Vendig is quite certain that Senator Frawley's bill will become law. Discussing the matter with friends yesterday, he said that the provisions of the bill will commend themselves to all interested in honest sport.

"With the power of the State boxing commissioners absolute only responsible athletic clubs will be able to obtain licenses," said Vendig. "This will prevent undesirable persons from becoming promoters and insure high-class sport. There is no doubt that there is a strong sentiment in favor of boxing as proposed in Senator Frawley's bill, and I have no doubt that the measure will obtain sufficient votes to pass the Legislature."

John Considine expressed himself as pleased with Senator Frawley's bill. "The people of New York want boxing," said Considine, "and I believe they are entitled to have it. All chances of fraud in bouts is eliminated by the provisions of Senator Frawley's bill. As I understand the measure, the State boxing commissioners will have the right to issue all licenses, as well as to withdraw permits.

"The fear of losing their licenses will make all clubs holding the same very circumspect as to the management of bouts and insure healthy competition. From what I hear the bill is almost certain to become a law, it having the support of all reputable athletic organizations in the State.

"Charles" White, a well known boxing referee, said that he considers Senator Frawley's bill the best measure of its kind ever suggested at Albany.

"The bill," he continues, "provides for clean, honest sport, makes it impossible for guilty ones to escape punishment, and should have the approval of all fair-minded citizens. Irrespective of party affiliations I believe there are enough members of the Legislature in favor of the measure to assure its passage."

"This is easier said than done, yet it may be of some help to consider the matter. If the cause is something over which you have no control it is obvious that worrying will not help the matter in the least. On the other hand, if within your control you have only to act. When you have a cold and fear an attack of pneumonia, you a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it judiciously and all cause for worry as to the outcome will quickly disappear. There is no danger of pneumonia when it is used, for sale by Henry Evans, wholesale and retail, and all druggists.

Col. C. E. Tuller, of 1291 Euclid Avenue, Cleveland, Ohio, says: "My success in curing afflicted people is absolutely wonderful. A boy given up for sure death by five physicians I restored to perfect health inside of five minutes. A woman that could not touch her foot to the ground on account of rheumatism was cured by one application of the method explained in your system."
