

BASEBALL SENATORS ARE IN NEED OF PITCHERS * GOLF * TURF SENSATIONAL FINISH * YACHTING

WHY SENATORS NOW OCCUPY LAST PLACE

The Pitchers Are Showing Strange Reversal of Form, and Are Way Down on the List of Twirlers.

Morgan and Apperious, of Georgetown, Decline to Play Professional Ball, Despite Flattering Offers.

Hardly a day has passed of late, that Charlie Morgan and Sam Apperious, third baseman and catcher, respectively, of the Georgetown team, have not received offers, and flattering ones at that, to play professional ball.

Both are players of exceptional brilliancy, and the batsmen, have few superiors in professional ranks. They would make a valuable addition to any team could their signatures to a contract be obtained, but it seems otherwise. Both stoutly maintain that with the closing of their college career their ball days end and no offer, no matter how tempting, could induce them to adopt baseball as a profession.

Fortunately, these young men are in a position to do so, since both are sons of wealthy parents, and can follow their own bent. Morgan is taking a classical course, and will remain in Georgetown until he obtains his B. A., while Apperious is taking a course in medicine, and in a couple of years will flaunt his stethoscope to the gaze of the passing populace.

In a measure, their flats cause disappointment, keen and poignant to hundreds of fans in this city, who have long cherished the hope that one or both of these young collegians would be seen in a Washington uniform.

Robinson, Washington's abbreviated shortstop, broke into the game yesterday, and perhaps his poor showing is attributable to his game ankle. Three times at bat, no runs or hits, two putouts, three assists, and two errors is the record of his day's work, and one hardly to be proud of.

Had Robinson pitched and Orth remained at short, the individual records of each could hardly have been worse, since Al came in for a grilling at the hands of the Babe. Orth has shown a strange reversal of form this year. One day he pitches an invincible game, and the next he goes in and is lambasted by the four runners of the lot, and in a few instances, out of the lot, since home runs have been frequent at his expense.

Joe Martin has taken a slump in his batting the past few days, but we can forgive the boy for most anything these days, in lieu of his past performances. However, a youngster broke into a game and infused new life into his comrades, who knew so little of his capabilities, that boy is Martin. He hit like a fend for a while, and it is hoped his batting eye will soon return.

In any event, his fielding is above par, and out-of-town scribes are tumbling over themselves to shower eulogiums upon his modest head.

The averages of the pitchers in the two leagues are appended, Sunday's games included. Orth and Patten are thirteenth and fourteenth, respectively, on the list. Lee and Townsend bring up the rear.

CRIPPLES COULD NOT SOLVE WRIGHT'S SHOOTS

Big Twirler Holds Senators Down to Three Hits.

Three hits were as many as the Senators could bump into unguarded territory off big Gene Wright's delivery at Cleveland yesterday, and the Legislators bowed down in defeat before the mighty Napoleon by the score of 9 to 1.

Al Orth's scatters wobbled up to the plate like toy balloons and the Clevelanders steered twelve of them to the outer bulwarks for nine voyages around the course.

Of Cleveland's twelve bingles, seven were good for more than one base, and Hickman's four-sacker was the longest drive seen on the Cleveland diamond since that club has been in the American League.

Ryan, Coughlin, and Carey were the only statesmen to connect for an amble out for things around short field, although still suffering from a bad leg. Delehanty, another cripple, butted into the game by hitting for Robbie in the ninth, but quit with the proverbial goose egg in the hit column.

The features of the game were Wright's pitching and Hickman's home run for the Napoleons and the fielding of Martin and Clarke for the cripples.

Score: CLEVELAND. AB. R. IB. PO. A. E. Wright, p. 4 1 2 0 2 0

WASHINGTON. AB. R. IB. PO. A. E. Holman, p. 4 0 0 2 0 0

GEORGETOWN TO PLAY GALLAUDET COLLEGE

Columbian Tackles Blue and Gray Lads Tomorrow.

This afternoon the Georgetown University baseball nine will endeavor to take a fall out of the Mutes, from Gallaudet College. The game will be played on the Blue and Gray campus.

The Mutes are stronger than ever this year, and considering the fact that they have played close games with some of the same teams that Georgetown has met this season, it is believed that the contest today will be a close and exciting one. The Kendall Green lads are, however, a trifle weak at second, and if they can find someone other than Winter to look after things around that portmanteau they will enhance their chances of winning. Eschrich, the twirler of the nine, is in good condition now, and his work in the St. John's game at Annapolis Saturday demonstrated the fact that he is capable of pitching against Georgetown or any other strong college team.

The coach of the Georgetown nine will doubtless send in Johnnie Fay or Joe Seitz to do the box work. These lads have to get in condition for the Northern trip, and they may as well do it now as on the trip.

Tomorrow afternoon the Blue and Gray team will meet Columbian's husky sons on the sward at the American League Park. This game is attracting much attention, since the Orange and Blue lads are playing excellent ball this year, and have looked forward to the Georgetown game ever since the season began.

Cochran has given his proteges some timely tips on the fine points of the game, and he and Manager Clyde Kelley believe it is in the Columbian lads to turn a trick on Georgetown, and they do not think the boys will have any hesitancy in letting it out.

Fulcher, the star twirler of the Orange and Blue team was conspicuous by his absence in the Columbian-Navy game, at Annapolis Saturday, but he will be on hand Thursday, for his teammates will need his services badly. With Fulcher in the box with his speed and crooked arm, and the diminutive Service behind the pan, and a good infield, composed of Kannelly, first; Earnest, second; Raymond, short, and the popular, hard-working Captain Belaski at third, Columbian should give a good account of itself.

ST. ANDREW'S TOURNEY BEGINS THIS MORNING

More Than Eighty Golfers Qualify for the Opening Medal Event.

NEW YORK, May 20.—This morning the annual tournament of the St. Andrew's Golf Club started at Chauncey, N. Y., with more than eighty entries. The contest is to last out the week, and as it is the last big meeting prior to the Metropolitan championship, at Deal, next week, the work of the leading contestants will attract more than usual interest.

Today's feature is to be a qualifying round at medal play, in which the best thirty-two will be selected to meet tomorrow at eighteen holes, match play. Most of the college golfers are entered, and the outlook is bright for one of the best tournaments of the season.

A number of contestants appeared yesterday for practice, and the condition of the links, considering the lack of rain, was excellent.

It is expected that a number of low scores will be recorded in today's round.

MARRIED MEN BOW TO THEIR SINGLE BRETHERN

The Bachelors won the deciding game of the series between the Married Men and the Single Men, of the Chevy Chase and Metropolitan Clubs, yesterday on the former's golf links. The Married Men were shy a slab artist and Mr. Dennison was persuaded to play with the Married Men and help them out. Unable to stand the strain of nine weary innings, in the intense heat, they called it quits at the end of the fifth session. Following is the score by innings—the error column omitted by request:

ST. ALBAN'S FINE RECORD.

St. Alban's Athletic Club nine played the Goldenrods, at Tenleytown, on Monday, and succeeded in running up a score of 16 to 10 against the visitors. St. Alban's is doing remarkably good work, in view of the fact that this is its first season, and that it was late in organizing, having already won three out of the four games played. Last week they defeated Gonzaga 15 to 5.

Today they will play the Wisconsin on the Industrial Home School grounds at 5 p. m. All challenges should be addressed to Manager Spencer W. Jones, Tenleytown.

This is a uniformed and regularly organized nine, composed of members of St. Alban's Athletic Club.

Wright had a world of speed yesterday. Five of his benders shot across the rubber with such terrific force that they tore Bemis' glove from his hand.

FOURTH PRESBYTERIAN DOWNS CALVARY BAPTIST

The second championship game of the season, in the recently organized Church Baseball League, of this city, was played yesterday by the Calvary Baptist and Fourth Presbyterian Church teams. The latter won by the score of 11 to 10.

The game was exciting throughout, and in doubt until the last man was put out in the eighth inning, when Umpire Goodman called the game on account of darkness.

Dudley, who twirled for the Calvary Baptist team, was touched up lively, while Cunningham pitched masterly ball, striking out sixteen of the batsmen who faced him, and giving the opposing team only seven hits. Warman and Hayden, of the winners, carried off the batting honors, bagging seven hits between them. The score by innings:

TORONTO'S HORSE SHOW TO BE UNIQUE EVENT

Novel Program Arranged for July 3, Under Auspices of Board of Trade.

TORONTO, May 20.—The city of Toronto is making an interesting departure in horse shows and is to hold a novel one in the open air on the afternoon of July 3 in connection with the Old Home gathering which the board of trade of that city has arranged. Instead of extending a show over one week, it will all be done in one hour. The beautiful Queen's Park and University Oval in Toronto furnish a roadway around adjoining circles of over two miles, and on these will be ranged upward of 500 hundred horses and carriages. A large number of judges will make the awards and the judging will not occupy above an hour. Then the whole exhibition will move around the oval and pass in review before the governor general, Lord Minto. It is expected that over 200,000 people will witness this unique horse show. It is destined to show to the thousands of home-coming Canadians how important a center of the horse-breeding industry Toronto has become.

Today's feature is to be a qualifying round at medal play, in which the best thirty-two will be selected to meet tomorrow at eighteen holes, match play. Most of the college golfers are entered, and the outlook is bright for one of the best tournaments of the season.

A number of contestants appeared yesterday for practice, and the condition of the links, considering the lack of rain, was excellent.

It is expected that a number of low scores will be recorded in today's round.

THE LATONIA DERBY IS SCHEDULED FOR TODAY

Jockey Club Opens Its Season. Prospects Bright.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, May 20.—The Latonia Jockey Club will open its twenty-first spring meeting at the pretty course over in Kentucky this afternoon. The prospects for a successful meeting have never been brighter.

The event for today is the seventh running of the Derby. This has always been a true English derby, at a distance of one and one-half miles, and will be worth $7,000 to the winner. The track is in fine condition.

The entries, weights, etc., are as follows: Judge Himes, 127 (H. Booker), 6 to 1; Tancered, 114 (Helgeson), 20 to 1; Gold Bell, 114 (R. Williams), 20 to 1; Tom Hall, 114 (E. Ellis), 50 to 1; Woodlake, 114 (W. Crowhurst), 20 to 1; Sailor's Dream, 115 (C. Kelly), 15 to 1; Bad News, 111 (B. Davis), 4 to 1; Maxey Blumenthal, 110 (Reiff), 30 to 1; Ramposa, 110 (Winkfield), 8 to 1.

The sentiment of the horsemen seems to be in favor of Tancered. Judge Himes, winner of the Kentucky Derby, at Louisville, is too heavily weighted to suit the talent.

LUKE WARD WINS A SENSATIONAL RACE

Six Horses Finish Heads Apart at Morris Park.

NEW YORK, May 20.—Head and head at the winning post, all fighting under whip and spur, six horses raced home abreast for the last event of the program at the Morris Park track yesterday in the most remarkable finish that the season has produced. To the last jump any one of the six might have won, and even after the actual finish of the contest the spectators were in doubt as to what had been the result until the official decision was made in the display of the number of the Cincinnati horse, Luke Ward. A nose behind him was The Musketeer, second, with St. Daniel a head farther back, third, and Knight of Harlem, Futurita, and Homestead following in the order named short heads apart, while the seventh horse, Tim D. Jr., was hardly more than a neck away. The race was a handicap, and with the weights ranging from 125 pounds on The Musketeer down to 87 on Knight of Harlem, the result was a singularly convincing argument in favor of the handicapper's skill.

A well-managed coup was made through the medium of the three-year-old colt, The Carmelite, in the opening event, the horse, who was scratched out of the race for maidens to run in the first race, winning all the way, after having been backed from 30 to 1 down to 4 to 1 by the followers of Fred Burlew's stable. A penalty was exacted for the triumph, however, as The Carmelite, entered to sell for $1,000, was bid up to $1,500 by G. Tompkins, and then retained by the owner for a further advance of $5.

The only pronounced favorite to win in the course of the afternoon was Foxhall Keene's filly, Stolen Moments, who was backed to even money in the race for maidens, and won ridden out a neck before Meesmer, Torchlight and Past, equal favorites for the selling mile, had the finish between them. Torchlight drawing out at the end, and winning with a little in hand by two lengths. The weather was sultry, and dust flew in clouds from the track, but fair fields started in all the races. The attendance was large.

PARKER AND BOTHNER MATCHED TO WRESTLE

Signed Articles in New York Yesterday for a Finish Bout on June 9.

After considerable dickering the best wrestling match of the season was finally clinched yesterday when George Bothner, the "wizard" of the mat, and Harvey Parker, of Brockton, Mass., known as the "little demon," signed articles for a finish contest, in New York, to take place at Sulzer's Harlem Park on Tuesday, June 9.

Both men have posted a forfeit of $200 to guarantee their appearance in the ring at the required championship weight of 135 pounds. This is the first time that Parker has condescended to make weight for Bothner, and the match will in consequence definitely settle the question of supremacy between these two cranks.
