ALEXANDRIA NEWS NOTES

Alexandrian Died in Atlanta. ALEXANDRIA, Va., June 3.—The police this morning received a telegram from Atlanta, Ga., asking them to find the relatives of Forrest T. Harrison, living at 118 South Roy Street, Alexandria, Va., who had died at that place yesterday. Inquiry at the home of Mr. Harrison resulted in the information that Forrest T. Harrison, son of the late George Harrison, had gone from Alexandria several weeks ago as a neyman glassblower. The last heard from him he was in the neighborhood of Atlanta, Ga. Mr. Harrison was the nephew of ex-Councilman John T. Harrison. His remains will be brought to this city tomorrow for burial.

Negro Played Detective. When John Dogan, a negro, was alighting from a train here last night, he was accosted by another negro, named Hugh Burke, who informed him he was a private detective, and told Dogan he was under arrest. Dogan insisted that he had done nothing to be arrested for, but Burke told him to come with him to the station house. On the way down the street Burke informed Dogan that if he would "stand treat" for himself and a friend he would let him go. Dogan treated Burke and another negro to a saloon in the neighborhood, but then proceeded to the station house and swore out a warrant for Burke's arrest. Burke was arrested by Policemen Garvey and Mayhew, and this morning was fined $10 by Mayor Simpson.
