

SHUNNED BY NEW YORK COUNTY REPUBLICANS

None of Them Wants Presidency of Committee.

WHITE HOUSE CONFERENCE

Assistant Treasurer Fish and Collector Stranahan Both Here to Take Counsel With President.

The presidency of the Republican county committee in New York is believed to have been the chief topic of conversation at the White House yesterday.

Mr. Fish and Mr. Stranahan arrived from New York yesterday morning. Both paid visits to the Treasury Department.

Job Goes Begging.

Concerning the business which called them to the Treasury building Mr. Fish and Mr. Stranahan talked freely, but declined to discuss New York politics.

Since the appointment of Mr. Fish as assistant treasurer he has been more active in New York politics than for several years.

The presidency of the county committee, held by Mr. Morris, has not only gone begging, but has been shunned or rejected by nearly every man whose name has been mentioned as a possibility.

Positive Refusals.

Mr. Sheldon, who was said to be the personal choice of President Roosevelt for the place, declined to permit the use of his name on the ground that he had been "sacrificed enough already."

He referred to the defeat of his ambition to obtain the nomination for lieutenant governor in the last Odell convention. A day or two ago the name of Edward Lauterbach, a former incumbent of the office, was mentioned. He answered he would not be the name of the man.

Mr. Odell, and members of the New York committee are worried because of the unsettled condition. It is necessary for them to find a competent man for the place without delay.

PAINTERS' UNIONS MEET TO AFFILIATE

Committees representing the Amalgamated Painters' Society and the Brotherhood of Painters and Decorators met last night at the meeting of the Brotherhood, and the request of the first-named organization for affiliation with the Brotherhood was complied with.

The Amalgamated men were at one time in the Knights of Labor, but wished to be under the protection of the American Federation, and chose affiliation with the Brotherhood as the best course to pursue to that end.

As a result of the meeting last night and the admittance of the Amalgamated men into the Brotherhood, of the first-named organization goes out of existence in Washington.

TO MEET MRS. MCKINLEY.

Secretary Cortelyou is to leave for Canton, Ohio, this evening. He has arranged to meet Mrs. McKinley and discuss memorial affairs. There is to be a meeting of the McKinley Memorial Association at Cleveland, Tuesday.

PARTITION OF ESTATE.

Proceedings were instituted today in Equity Court by Frances Porter against Hal V. Porter and others for the purpose of having a trustee appointed to ratify the partition of the estate of the late Henry N. Porter. The amount involved is about $40,000.

GRANT FOR VICE PRESIDENT.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 20.—The "Union" announces that U. S. Grant is a candidate for the Republican nomination for the Vice Presidency next year.

RIGHTS OF WAY NOW QUESTION AT ISSUE

P. R. R. Restrained From Removing Poles.

A RECESS WRIT OF ERROR

Supreme Court to Pass Upon Law of 1866—Eminent Domain—Big Damages Possible.

If there are any more telegraph poles standing along the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company belonging to the Western Union Telegraph Company they are safe from destruction for nearly a year unless President Cassatt decides to take a chance of becoming in contempt before the United States Supreme Court.

It is said that there a number of these poles standing in the West and some across New Jersey and in New York. The Supreme Court has come to the rescue of these.

Recess Writ of Error.

Justice Peckham, sitting at Albany, New York, granted a recess writ of error, which was sent out yesterday, removing the case from the lower court to the higher. The arguments will now be heard at the fall session of the court.

There are some nice points involved in the suit as it now stands, and it is by no means improbable that the Pennsylvania may not yet be called upon to pay about $15,000,000 for the wires and poles it destroyed, besides being compelled to allow the Western Union to replace the poles.

Right of Eminent Domain.

The Supreme Court is to be asked to pass upon the constitutionality of the old law passed by Congress in 1866 on rights of way and eminent domain.

This includes a proviso that all post-roads must allow a right of way to telegraph and other companies transmitting Government telegrams. As the Pennsylvania Railroad carries the mails, it clearly comes under the postroad provision.

This phase of the fight has already been brought up in the lower court, and to it the Pennsylvania made reply that it had contracted with the Postal to place wires along the tracks, and that there was no room for Western Union wires.

Construction of Property.

The company in the reply, however, did not say anything about the alleged illegal destruction of the property of the company in possession of the right of way when the railroad decided to give the rights to the Postal.

This is the phase that is to come before the Supreme Court, and it would not surprise the Gouglis if about the beginning of next winter, the Pennsylvania would be busy putting up poles and stringing wires in place of those destroyed.

LABOR DISSENSIONS SETTLED BY COMPROMISE

At a conference last night between the structural iron workers and the wood and wire lathers in regard to the swinging metal ceiling at the Stoneleigh apartment house, Connecticut Avenue and L Street northwest, the difficulties existing between the two factions were satisfactorily adjusted.

The chairman of the joint committees refused to state the terms of the agreement, but it is understood that all of the workmen returned to work today, and the prospect is that the Stoneleigh will be finished without any further demonstration on the part of the workmen.

FIREMAN VIRNSTEIN COMMENDED FOR BRAVERY

Acting Chief Bell, of the District Fire Department, has recommended to the District Commissioners that Assistant Foreman J. H. Virnstein, of No. 8 engine company, be given a letter of commendation for bravery displayed in stopping a runaway team. Mr. Bell wrote to the Commissioners at the suggestion of J. H. Ferris, 651 A Street southeast, who saw the fireman stop the team.

THREE MONTHS IN JAIL FOR CARRYING A RAZOR

When Policeman Sullivan arrested William Johnson, a negro, on Ninth Street northwest, he found a razor in his pocket. Judge Kimball sent Johnson to jail for fifteen days for disorder, with ninety days additional for carrying the razor.

CRUELTY TO A HORSE.

Because his horse was a trifle balky and refused to haul a heavy load on a grade, William Copeland kicked and beat the animal. In the Police Court Judge Kimball imposed a fine of $10, with thirty days in jail in default.

TO HEAR MURDERER.

Justice Pritchard has ordered Clement Smallwood, under indictment for murder, to be brought before the court June 29 for an examination as to his sanity, the plea of insanity having been entered by the prisoner's attorney.

FIRE DAMAGES TO SCHOOL.

G. B. Coleman, superintendent of repairs, has made a report to the District Commissioners concerning the fire of May 24, at Garrison School, which estimates the damages to school property at $4,867.18.

TROOPS SUPPRESS RIOT IN TURKISH CAPITAL

Forty Wounded Men Removed From the Palace.

BERLIN, June 20.—The "Cologne Gazette" today prints a letter from a usually trustworthy source in Constantinople, which speaks of disturbances in the Turkish capital, and intimates that the Bulgarian government had much to do with the trouble. The letter says:

"One night recently forty wounded men were removed from the palace. The cause of their wounds is unknown. Disturbances have occurred in the military academy lately. The troops suppressed them. A number of persons were killed and wounded. The secret detective force has been greatly increased."

NATIONAL SAENGERFEST CLOSSES AT ST. LOUIS

Final Night Attracts a Very Large Audience.

ST. LOUIS, June 20.—With two grand concerts, the Thirty-first National Saengerfest closed last night. In the matinee the six numbers of the children's chorus of 5,000 voices, under direction of Prof. Pommer, elicited great applause.

It was a grand sight when, at the last number, "Red, White, and Blue," the audience of 15,000 rose to its feet and joined the children in the patriotic air. At the evening concert the United Singers of Chicago carried off the honors with the "Battle Hymn," by Moehring. The National male choruses received great applause.

There was but one thing that marred the success of the concerts, and that was the gigantic proportions of the hall, which, at times, prevented the soloists and the orchestra from being plainly heard in remote parts of the building. The fest proved a financial success.

COMPTROLLER REDUCES CAPT. HARDING'S FEES

Compensation for Supervising New District Building.

Comptroller Tracewell of the Treasury Department has revised the settlement made by the Auditor for the State and other Departments with Chester Harding, captain of engineers, U. S. A., on account of services for April, for the supervision of the construction of the new municipal building in the District of Columbia.

The revision reduces Captain Harding's compensation $9 a month, and in addition defines the meaning of "salary" as used by Congress in fixing the payment of army officers when they are engaged in special work outside of their army duties.

Captain Harding was appointed to supervise the construction of the District Building in accordance with an act of Congress which specified that he should receive for the work a sum amounting to 25 per cent of his army salary. The appointment, as made by the President, dated from April 1.

In making up his account Captain Harding added to his captain's pay the monthly allowance of $36 commutation of quarters, which would give him $9 a month additional.

The Auditor for the State and other Departments made the allowance, but the Comptroller of the Treasury called upon Captain Harding for an explanation. Captain Harding quoted from the act of Congress providing the manner of payment for the Engineer Commissioner of the District.

Comptroller Tracewell decides that the cases are not analogous, inasmuch as the act referring to the payment of the Engineer Commissioner uses the term "pay and allowances" instead of salary. Salary is held to mean the fixed wage and not to include special allowances.

Therefore instead of 25 per cent of $252.57 a month Captain Harding will receive 25 per cent of $216.67, his pay as mounted captain after fifteen years' service.

MOUNT AIRY MAY GO TO J. EDWARD ADDICKS

J. Edward Addicks, the Delaware millionaire who has made such a persistent fight for a seat in the United States Senate, is said to be the prospective purchaser of Mount Airy, the old Lord Baltimore estate, near Upper Marlboro, Md.

The Pennsylvania Realty Company has been bidding on the property as the agent of Mrs. Tillie Littell, of New York, who is now living on the place. Mrs. Littell is said to be acting for Mr. Addicks, who has visited Mount Airy recently and is said to be buying it for a country home.

Mrs. Littell first offered $12,400 for the place. The Calvert heirs objected to the ratification of the sale on the ground that the price was inadequate. Mrs. Littell has now offered $12,000, and the objecting heirs are said to be willing to withdraw their protests. The case is still in the courts at Upper Marlboro.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING NOTES

Dominican College. Colonel Biddle, District Engineer Commissioner, has recommended to his associates that a permit be granted the Dominican Fathers for the erection of the College of the Immaculate Conception near the Catholic University. The style of roof proposed for the new building makes the entire height over sixty feet. The building regulations require that a building over sixty feet in height be fireproof, and as the new college building is not so designated, Assistant Inspector Ashford recommended that the permit be not granted. After a hearing with representatives of the Dominican Fathers, Colonel Biddle was convinced that it would be safe to grant the permit. There are to be no sleeping rooms in that part of the building which is over sixty feet in height; there will be no fires in the building, the boiler house being twenty-five feet distant and finally there will be ample stair facilities.

Deed to Rectify Title.

Philip T. Dodge, the patent attorney, and president of the Mergenthaler Linotype Company, has purchased a large portion of the square southeast of the postoffice and Postoffice Department building. The purchase price named is $75,000. The property has been owned by Mr. Dodge for some time, but has been in the name of John Ridout and W. E. Edmonston, as trustees for others interested with him. The transaction consisted in the placing of the deed of sale on record which makes Mr. Dodge the true purchaser.
