

SHIP SUBSIDY BILL AGAIN TO BE PRESSED

Department of Commerce Prepares Statistics.

FOR USE BY CONGRESSMEN

Are to Show Advantages Given Foreign Ship Owners Over Those of United States by Premiums.

At the request of several Senators and Representatives who are interested in the matter the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor has begun the preparation of tables showing the effect of foreign subsidies upon the merchant marine of the world. It is the intention of the Senators and Representatives to use the tables in the coming session of Congress...

Senator Hanna and his colleagues from seaport States, including Senator Frye of Maine, intend to push the measure, and they are to be aided by the New England and New York Representatives.

Subsidies Necessary. It appears many of the leaders of Congress have come to believe as do the statesmen of many of the other big nations—that in order to uphold and sustain a merchant marine subsidies are necessary.

In the case of the United States they are certain of their ground, as something has to be done to offset the difference in wages, both in the construction of ships and the operation of them.

In preparing the tables some interesting facts have been developed. One of these is that at the present time there are only three sailing ships, at sea under the flag of the United States carrying cargoes of oil, against more than half a hundred ten years ago.

Underbid American Ships. With these payments behind them it has been easy for them to carry cargoes out of American ports cheaper than the native ships. French vessels are now carrying all of the oil from the California fields to the far East.

CLAIMS HE ACTED IN DEFENSE OF WOMAN

Negro Makes This Answer to Charge of Assault.

Charged with assault with intent to kill, Andrew Williams, a negro, was locked up at the Second precinct station yesterday. Williams is said to have struck Charles Walker, colored, on the head with a baseball bat, fracturing Walker's skull so badly that the physicians at the Homeopathic Hospital entertain but little hope of his recovery.

KANN'S CLOSING HOUR.

Time for Saturday Nights Has Not Been Changed.

The management of S. Kann Sons & Company desire to announce to the public that their advertisement which appeared in the "Washington Post" yesterday, was in error in stating their store would remain open until 10 o'clock Saturday evenings. The proper closing time is 9 o'clock.

MRS. FAIRBANKS' JEWELRY STOLEN FROM HER HOME

A gold breastpin, set with pearls and garnets, and a five-point star pin, set with garnets and brilliants, was reported by Mrs. C. W. Fairbanks, wife of Senator Fairbanks, as missing from her home, 1360 Massachusetts Avenue northwest. The theft is believed to have occurred some time between January and April 1 of the present year.

EXAMINATIONS FOR PROMOTION.

The following officers of the Ordnance Department have been ordered to report to an examining board in New York to take an examination to determine their fitness for promotion: Capt. J. Walker Benet, Capt. Edwin B. Babbitt, First Lieut. Edward P. O'Hern, First Lieut. Edwin D. Brieker.

SHANGHAIING CASES SET FOR OCTOBER

Norfolk Jury Will Determine the Facts.

PROMISES WERE PLENTIFUL

Charles Epps Was Shipped to Rotterdam Against His Will—Many Similar Cases Alleged.

Department of Commerce and Labor officials are awaiting with much interest the outcome of several cases of shanghaiing at Norfolk which have been brought to their attention and which they have investigated. These, it is expected, will come before the Federal grand jury of that district. One of them is the case of Charles Epps, colored, who alleges he was shipped to Rotterdam on the British steamship, Allegheny, and there discharged penniless. He was finally sent home by the American consul. He accuses a shipping agent at Norfolk, and the Department of Commerce and Labor has been looking into the facts closely and will submit its evidence in this and several other cases to the next grand jury.

Practice is Decreasing. An official of the department said yesterday there is little real shanghaiing nowadays, as the term is generally understood, and it is seldom a man is violently treated and forced on shipboard against his will. He said the cases were generally in the nature of swindling, men being lured aboard of ships when half drunk through promises of big wages or other returns equally illusive.

Norfolk is said to be a point where this industry flourishes, as many ships from Gulf ports stop there to coal before crossing the Atlantic. When coaling, there are many desertions, and it is necessary in some way to get seamen. Consequently skippers are apt to obtain them by hook or crook, and the most tempting promises are sometimes set forth.

GRAND JURY KEPT BUSY IN LAST DAYS OF TERM

Several More Indictments Expected in Postoffice Cases.

The grand jury for the District will make its final presentation to Justice Pritchard on next Monday, October 5. On that date its term of service will expire. From now until then, however, the jury will be busy. For the past two or three months its time for the greater part has been taken up with the Postoffice cases. The result of its work in this line is shown by the number of indictments reported against persons for bribery, accepting bribes, and conspiring to defraud the Government.

Meanwhile a great deal of routine work has accumulated, and the jury will be pressed for time between now and next Monday to dispose of it. Before the term of service of the grand jury expires, however, it is confidently expected it will report several more postal indictments.

NO LAW TO PREVENT SUNDAY BALL PLAYING

Charles H. Scott, of 1004 Florida Avenue, who complained to the Commissioners recently that teams from the Church League were playing baseball on Sunday near his home, will be informed that there is no law prohibiting Sunday ball playing.

WORK ON TRUNK SEWER TO BE READVERTISED

Guiney-Cavanaugh Tragedy's Effect on District Contract.

New bids are to be asked for the construction of section 40' of the New Jersey Avenue and B Street trunk sewer. Several weeks ago the Commissioners opened bids for this work, and agreed to accept the bid of Guiney, Jones & Cavanaugh for $176,000. Before the signatures of the parties could be attached to the contract, Guiney shot and killed Cavanaugh and then himself, leaving Jones the only surviving partner. The Commissioners believe they cannot hold the firm under the circumstances, and have decided to readvertise.

It appears that Guiney and Cavanaugh represented the money of the firm, and Jones the experience. When the firm submitted its bid, Guiney mortgaged his house for $5,000 in order to make the necessary deposit for the performance of the contract, should the firm's bid be accepted. Jones, not having command of the resources of the firm, would hardly be able to do the work as specified in the contract, and the deposit will be returned to Guiney's widow, in order that she may lift the mortgage on her home.

At first it was thought advisable to accept the next lowest bid for the work, but investigation showed the amount to be more than $10,000 in excess of that named by the defunct firm. This plan was discarded, and the Commissioners are of the opinion that on readvertisement they will be able to get the work done for $175,000, or even less. A formal order asking for new bids will be issued upon the return of Commissioner Macfarland.

OUTRAGE IN GOMEL LIKE THAT IN KISHINEV

False Charges Against Jews Followed by Slaughter.

To the Editor of The Washington Times: Who spoke the truth? Was it the Russian government, through its mouth piece, the gracious Count Cassini, and the others of his kind, or those who knew the situation and feared the worst for the future of the helpless Jews in Russia?

A pogrom in Gomel is the latest! This infernal manipulation was like that at Kishinev, thoroughly planned and organized. As in the Kishinev case a fictitious story was circulated abroad of a Jewish carol man hitting a Christian woman, which, however, subsequently proved to be a mean falsehood; so here, too, the Russian officials have prepared a yarn with a Russian moujik, whom the Jews at Gomel killed because he refused to pay the price for a herring, in consequence of which the pogrom ensued.

The truth is now developing. Jews positively felt that the foul movement was at hand and they had accordingly prepared to defend their lives with such missiles as sticks and stones. They had, indeed, succeeded in warding off the hoodlums once, but on the Monday following the Jew-baiting cutthroats had gathered again and under the actual protection of the militia, and with the loud incitement of the "intellectual," they mercilessly battered, butchered, outraged and plundered.

The details of the Gomel pogrom are most shocking. Nearly all that had occurred at Kishinev was copied at Gomel. The European world will now doubtless take a stand. In Paris the newspapers earnestly agitate the suggestion that the Powers combine now to present a note to the Russian government urging an immediate granting of equal rights and religious freedom for Jews in Russia, which alone will put an end to such and similar bloody outrages.

The Kishinev relief committees at all places in the United States are now requested to send to the New York central committee whatever money of the collections left in hand, so that it be now employed for the relief of the Gomel sufferers.
