

COPPER TRUST'S WAR IN MONTANA SERIOUS

No Telling Where Controversy Will Now End.

EMPLOYEES MADE HELPLESS

Shut Down of Mines Adds Labor Problem to Legal Complications.

News from Montana of the closing down of the great properties of the copper trust has attracted the keenest attention in Washington and throughout the East.

The shut down of the Amalgamated mines and smelters is by far the most tragic step yet taken in the merciless copper war that has been waged in Montana for years.

The closing of the Amalgamated mines has followed on the heels of the decision of Judge Clancy in the noted Minnie Healey mine case.

It had scarcely been announced when the order came for the shut down of the Amalgamated mines and other property.

All sorts of opinions are given as to the real reason for the shut down.

Temporarily the victory is with Heine, but an appeal to the supreme court of the State will be taken and a reversal, it is said, may be expected by that tribunal.

Heine and his friends charge that the shut down is unnecessary, that there is nothing in the decision of Judge Clancy to require it, and that the step has been taken for the purpose of depressing Amalgamated stocks.

The Amalgamated people, however, make vigorous denials of any attempts at stockjobbing.

Ex-Senator Carter's Views.

Ex-Senator Carter of Montana, who is in the city, said yesterday the shut-down of the mines was serious in the extreme.

"It is difficult to tell how long it will last," said he. "It is not caused by stock jobbing or desire to influence the stock market, or anything of the kind.

"The closing of the mines will have little political effect except to cut down the vote. There is nothing in the present litigation to bring it to the Federal Supreme Court."

PHONOGRAPH NOW A STREET PREACHER

Salvation Army Employs "Converted Talking Machines" to Spread Gospel.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—In its unceasing search for means by which to bring the Gospel to the masses, the Salvation Army has requisitioned the talking machine and is developing its possibilities to an extent that promises soon to place it on an equality with the drum and the tambourine as a recognized factor in the work of the organization.

Salvation Army songs, bits of prayer, and short talks of a vigorously religious nature have attracted the notice of passers in the streets about the city hall for several weeks past.

As a novelty the use of the phonograph in this manner attracts good-sized crowds wherever Adjutant Sully halts his wagon and starts the mechanism.

Adjutant Sully calls the phonograph his "converted talking machine." He is planning to extend his operations next summer to the public squares and parks all over the city.

Heine and his friends charge that the shut down is unnecessary, that there is nothing in the decision of Judge Clancy to require it, and that the step has been taken for the purpose of depressing Amalgamated stocks.

FAILED TO CLIMB MOUNT M'KINLEY

Dr. Fred Cook, Back From Alaska, Tells of What Was Accomplished.

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Dr. Frederick Cook, a member of the expedition which tried unsuccessfully this summer to ascend Mount McKinley, in Alaska, the highest mountain in North America, has returned to his home in Brooklyn.

Dr. Cook said that the trip had established the fact that it is impossible to scale Mount McKinley, 29,000 feet high, from its western side, but that three routes were noted on the eastern slope, by one of which it is possible the summit may be reached.

Other results of the expedition were the exploration of some hitherto unknown country to the eastward of the McKinley range, the discovery of what is probably the largest glacier in Alaska, and the gathering of valuable botanical collections.

"We followed an Indian trail to the Kuchatua River," said Dr. Cook, "crossing the Beluga and Skewentna rivers by boat. On the way I climbed Mount Yenlo (4,500 feet) and obtained a good view and survey of the whole McKinley range.

GOULD MILLIONS ARE GOING SOUTH

Investments Being Made in Street Railways in the Old Dominion.

All reports to the contrary notwithstanding, large quantities of Gould money are going into industries and railroad propositions in the Southeast.

In some quarters it is said the famous New York railroad family intends to bring the Wabash into Washington over this line, but the officers of the company deny they are doing anything more than to try and establish a legitimate electric railroad enterprise.

On the other hand, however, is the chance of the same line being the right of way for a transcontinental system, and there is hardly any doubt the officers of the company are going to make it such if they can.

The Baltimore and Ohio is to bring into the city today a special train from Chicago. On board are several hundred members of the Wisconsin Press Association, which is on its annual outing.

New Schedules.

It is announced that the schedule for the "Palm Special," the fast daily express the Southern intends to operate between Washington and Jacksonville will be made public Thursday or Friday. The train is to be put on early in November. The season is to open this year several weeks earlier than usual.

Local freight officers of the various railroads are receiving reports from Southern quarters to the effect that the cotton crop is not going to be as short as some of the bull brokers would like to make it appear.

Because of the criticism which grew out of the accident on Long Bridge, some of the passenger officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad are inclined to believe that there may be a reflection cast upon the service of the great Pennsylvania generally.
