PRINCETON GLEE CLUB HERE ON DECEMBER 23

BAN JOHNSON TO BOLSTER UP THE SENATORS

Will Call on Athletics, New York, and St. Louis for Players.

LOOKING FOR A MANAGER

Rumored That Lave Cross Will Pilot the Solons. Deals Pending.

To bolster up the Washington baseball club is now Ban Johnson's object. That a poor team in the National Capital does not always pay was made manifest last season, when the tail-end Senators lost at least $30,000.

In order to strengthen the club, President Johnson will call on the Athletics, New York and St. Louis for players. When Ban was here last Thursday he handed it out that next year's Senators would be a winning combination, and, as he says the American League has never failed to make good a promise to the public, some real players will have to be sent here to make the team a winner.

Deal With Athletics. When Johnson departed from Washington, he went to Philadelphia, where he had a conference with President Ebbets and Manager Mack, of the Athletics, for the transfer of one or more of the Quaker stars to the Washington team.

The Philadelphia articles have not been able to make Mack "open up" on the subject, but it is thought Scybold or Hoffman and one other player will come to Washington. The information was gleaned here, however, that a deal was on whereby Charlie Moran would be traded for Hoffman. For some reason or other Ban and Connie have not yet agreed upon the matter, and it may be that Scybold will be a Senator next year, as Mack is known to be sweet on Hoffman.

May Get Lave Cross.

Rumor has it also that when Johnson and Mack have completed their business, Lave Cross, who for the past two years has captained the Athletics, may be brought here as manager of the Washington club. Should Cross be obtained, a deal might be effected whereby Mack would get a local infielder, probably Coughlin.

However, until Johnson returns to Washington it is probable that nothing definite will be ascertained. Lefty Davis has been tabbed for a slide by Clarke Griffith, and it may be that he will be transferred to Washington. Griffith may also turn General over to the Senators, since he has signed John Anderson to play first base for his New York team next year. It is not probable that he will willingly consent to give Johnson anyone else, as he will need a strong team to successfully compete with McGraw's Nationals. May Already Have St. Louis Men.

St. Louis is also booked to give up one or more players to the Washington cause, and there is no doubt in the minds of many familiar with the local situation but that Johnson fixed that end of the deal before coming East. But Ban is unusually discreet these days, and who the men are is not definitely known. When asked what stars he will bring here for next year, Johnson only says: "Washington will be a winner next season."

Johnson, it is known, wants to dispose of his interests in the team. In his present condition he is aware that no one wants the club, and is, therefore, strengthening it in order to make a sale.

It is rumored that William Hart, a local stockholder in the Washington franchise, is dickering for the Washington franchise.

CUBANS IN FOOTBALL SELECT INTERPRETER

American Chosen to Give Signals for Foreign Team at Pennsylvania School.

BLOOMSBURG, Pa., Nov. 2.—That the Cubans attending the State Normal School at this place are becoming thoroughly Americanized is shown by the fact that they have organized a football team. They are practicing daily, and expect to attain a remarkable degree of efficiency by the time another season rolls around.

When the organization was first discussed, each one wanted to be the captain, and this for a time threatened to disrupt the team. A compromise was reached by the election of an American captain. Then a new difficulty presented itself, as very few of them could understand any English, to say nothing of the vernacular of the football field. One of the Cubans, who understands English, agreed to act as interpreter, and now the would-be athletes receive their commands second hand.

LAFAYETTES WANT GAMES. The Lafayette football team, averaging 115 pounds, would like to arrange games with the "C" team of the same weight. For games, address John H. Davis, 212 L Street northwest.

BASKETBALL MEETING. A meeting of the new National Guard Basketball League will be held in the Center Market Armory at 8:30 o'clock this evening for the purpose of adopting new rules and a schedule.

GIRLS PUNCH FACES. POTTSVILLE, Pa., Nov. 2.—Two Schuylkill Haven mill girls, Millard Orlando, of the former place, and Laura Barton, of Crossport, each of a hand, fifteen, rivals for the hand of a handsome young man, fought in a suburb of this place for a half hour yesterday afternoon. The Crossport girl was finally but out with a black eye.

DEALERS HAVE A BUSY DAY

New Agencies to Be Opened—Bigger Track Here for Speeding in Prospect.

Warm sunshine and balmy breezes filled the country roads with automobiles yesterday. The number of motorists was so great that it appeared as if every owner in the city had decided to take a run. The dealers and renters reported one of the biggest days' business of the year. The garages were empty of vehicles before 10 o'clock, and by 3 o'clock managers were having trouble in getting gasoline. Manager Weston, of the Automobile Storage Company, had his building empty before noon, his patrons all making for the country. Manager Kull, of the Willard Station Company, could hardly supply the demand, and the same condition of affairs was reported by Manager Foss, of the Pope Manufacturing Company.

The motorists did not "bunch" to use a trade word. They seemed to scatter all over Maryland. A large number organized an impromptu club run to Frederick and others did the same out the other roads. The Aqueduct road all the way to Great Falls was too crowded all day for comfort.

It was said today that many of the motorists had not yet returned to the city. If the day remains as warm as yesterday all of the owners are not expected in the city before tonight or tomorrow.

May Erect a Garage. It is reported that the representative of a well-known house is seeking a site for a new garage, his present location not being just what he wants. It is said he is ready to spend $30,000 in a suitable structure.

To Handle Supplies. The supply houses of the city are soon to have a rival in the agent of a well-known manufacturer. Contracts have been made for a large stock of goods.

Two New Agencies. In addition to the proposition which a Chicago company is now considering to put an auto cab service into Washington similar to that in New York, it was said today that the Baker Electric Company, and the West Company are to establish agencies in the city. They are to cover the territory south of Washington and east of the Mississippi from here.

From Out of Town.

Among the visiting motorists yesterday were two young ladies, Julia Kutt and M. L. Nash, of Fredericksburg, who came over the country in a St. Louis car. Howard W. Gill and party came over from Baltimore.

New York Accident.

In the fall meeting of the Long Island Automobile Club, at Brighton Beach track Saturday, one serious accident marred the day. Albert Champion, the motor cyclist, who made his debut as a professional chauffeur, broke his leg and was otherwise injured. Champion was driving the Packard "Gray Wolf" on a terrific pace, when something slipped and the machine dashed into the track fence. The machine was demolished, and Champion was thrown twenty feet. He was taken to a hospital, and will not be able to appear again before next season.

Barring the accident everything went well, and some good records were made. Ten miles were made in 1:12 2-5, five miles in 3:30 2-5, three miles (steam machines) in 4:33 3-5, and fifteen miles in 2:18 1-5. The final was five miles; machines driven by owners; time, 6:30 2-5.

The races were all close to record time, distancing all that was done at this track. The reason for this was the size of the track. None of the big machines were run at their best best Wednesday, as the track was too small. Negotiations are now under way for a bigger track in Washington, and unless something unforeseen happens the Capital will see some record racing before snow flies.

YALE IN GOOD SHAPE AFTER COLUMBIA GAME

Say Failure to Score in First Half Is Not Due to Opponents' Good Work.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 2.—The entire Yale football squad returned to New Haven yesterday, and aside from a few bruises are all in good physical condition. The only man wearing a bandage is substitute Quarterback Soper, whose right ear was cut. Metcalf has a stiff right knee that may keep him out of the scrumming for a day or so. The members of the team expressed themselves as well satisfied with the result of the game. There is general disappointment over the failure of the team to score in the first half. The Yale men are all in good physical condition, and the coaches are not sure who of the old veterans will return to assist in the coaching this week.

GUNNING SEASON BEGINS TODAY

Rabbits Plentiful in Maryland and Virginia.

QUAIL ARE REPORTED SCARCE

Big Licenses in Nearby States, Except for Child or Guest, Denied by Laws.

Today marks what may be termed the formal opening of the quail and rabbit season in the District, and in many counties of Maryland and Virginia. Game may be shot in the counties of Calvert, Montgomery, St. Mary's and Charles, in Maryland, today, and in Virginia quail, wild turkey, rabbit, and pheasant may be killed in all counties except Northampton and Accomac. In Prince George county, Maryland, it is unlawful to shoot this game until November 10.

Local market dealers on Thursday attempted to gain permission to put rabbits on the market Saturday, but there were none seen on the stand that day.

Must Have Licenses. Non-residents will have to pay dearly for hunting in some counties in Maryland and Virginia. In Maryland a license costs from $4.50 to $25, and in Virginia one may be procured for $10. Provision is made for guests, however, in a section of the law which reads:

"It shall be unlawful for any person not a resident of this State to hunt or kill wild waterfowl, wild turkeys, pheasants, woodcock, quail, or other game birds, or deer, within this State, unless he shall have first secured a hunting license; provided, however, that the non-resident child of a resident owner of land shall be allowed to hunt on the land of his parent as though he were a resident of the State, and the non-resident guest of a landowner shall be allowed to hunt on the lands of his host as though he were a resident of the State, when accompanied by said host, or a member of his host's family; provided said host receives no compensation, directly or indirectly, from said guest."

General Prospect Good. Gunners say rabbits give promise of being more plentiful this season than last, especially in the counties of Montgomery and Charles, Md., and Prince George, Va. Quail are reported rather scarce, as yet. Wild turkeys are plentiful in Virginia, but do not abound in great numbers in Maryland, or in any of the counties near the District.

INDIANS' COACH DEFENDS TRICK

Says Hiding of Ball Under Dillon's Sweater Is Not Against Football Rules.

The most-talked-of subject in football circles today is the trick play sprung on Harvard by the Carlisle Indians in the game at Cambridge, which the Crimson won by a score of 12 to 11. The trick was the hiding of the ball under the sweater of Dillon, the guard, which enabled him to reach the Crimson goal before the whereabouts of the ball was discovered. It was cleverly planned and worked like a charm. Its success is due, to result in imitation unless a rule is passed to cover it.

Coach Warner, of the Indian team, in talking of the game and the trick, said: "We have two or three tricks, and Dillon's is one. It may not be straight-out football, but it is strategy that works very well, and no rule covers it. It is not a forward pass, either. The Indians were told to work off the first time Harvard kicked off, and they did it. As Johnson caught the kick-off the Indians surrounded him. The ball was quickly slipped up under Dillon's jersey. He had an elastic cord around the bottom of the jersey, and this held the ball securely. I used the trick in 187, when I was coaching Cornell. Penn State was the victim. The ball is slipped under the jersey from the side. There is nothing in the rules to prevent the play."

FOLK HAS DECLINED.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2.—On the occasion of his recent visit to the President to discuss the extradition of Councilman Charles Kratz from Mexico, Circuit Attorney Folk was requested by Mr. Roosevelt to accept an appointment as member in the postal fraud cases. Mr. Folk declined the appointment, which, it is understood, would have stood for five years.

PRINCETON ELEVEN WILL STAND PAT

Barring Injuries There Will Be No Change in the Tiger Squad.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 2.—Princeton football players are all in good condition after the contest with Cornell. Although the result of the game was just satisfactory, it is not taken by local supporters of the Orange and Black to be much of a criterion of the crucial match with Yale on November 14.

In all probability, however, the Tiger eleven will enter that game practically intact, unless injuries should be received in the game with Lafayette on Saturday, which will be a decided advantage over last year when the team met Yale with Kaffer and Burke, two of the strongest players, out of the game with injuries.

Saturday's game practically established several players in positions where before there had been considerable doubt as to who the incumbents would be, and probably will bring about a change in one position which was thought to be settled. The weakness of Yesterday's tackling, which was clearly shown yesterday in his attempt to bring down Rice when the latter had broken through Princeton's line, makes Burke's chance for first call on quarterback position a high probability, while the work of Kaffer, Miller and Dillon in their respective positions gives small likelihood for change.

HARVARD DESPONDENT OVER CARLISLE GAME

Crimson Team Is Not Up to the Mark for Battle With Pennsylvania.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Nov. 2.—Harvard's coaches all agree that Saturday's showing against Carlisle was anything but encouraging, and with the Pennsylvania game only a week away, things indeed look dubious for the Crimson team. Head Coach Cranston's terse statement concerning the Indian contest was that it "was mighty discouraging." Captain Marshall was thankful Harvard won, but he summed up the general opinion by saying, "Something must be done, and mighty quick, too, if Harvard expects to win against the Quakers next Saturday."

The most cheerful man of all was Trainer MacMasters. His cheerfulness was explained in his brief statement that all the men came through Saturday's game without injury.

Harvard's offense is fairly good, but her center is weak, a mere mass of fat, in fact, and against even such a light, ballster team as the Indians, is absolutely unable to hold its own. Everyone realized that some change must be made quickly in the center of Harvard's line. Dillon, Carlisle's guard, who made a touchdown on that wonderful fake play Saturday, says that in his opinion A. Marshall is a weak man.

It will be the first meeting of these two cracks, and the match will be for 1,200 points, 400 to be played each night on Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. The utmost interest is being shown, not only in Boston, but in billiard circles throughout the United States.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 2.—Mayo Lake, adjacent to Stewart River, in the British Yukon, is believed to have its bottom lined with gold, but how to obtain its golden riches is a problem now confronting engineers of Klondike and adjacent districts. AVERAGES OF BOWLERS IN LOCAL LEAGUES

District Tenpin Knights Begin Their Season's Schedule This Evening.

Now that the championship season of the Departmental League is well under way, and the bowlers have struck their goal, one has an opportunity to judge the strength of the teams. The Bureau report, composed of practically the same men as last season, heads the list with seventeen games won and four lost. The interior team, which won the pennant last year, has greatly improved in its playing recently, and is in second place with fifteen victories and six defeats. The Postoffice, Commissioners, Agricultural, Navy Yard, Government Printing Office, War Department, Treasury, and Commerce and Labor falls follow in the order named.

Hurdle, of the Bureau, leads in individual averages, with Helmerich, his team-mate, second. Meyers, Hough, Crist, Gorman, McCauley, Smith, Shields, and Bunn follow in order.

In the Railway Relief Association League, the Eastern five holds a big lead over the other teams, having won eight games and lost one. The Track and Roadway and Southern quints are tied for second place, with five victories and one defeat. The Southern, Clerks, Northern, Lighting Company, Columbia, Northern, Mechanical, and Officers teams follow as named. Whitely, last season's champion bowler, leads the individuals, with Benchert second, Garber third, Crosby fourth, slavers fifth, and McIntyre sixth.

The District League, the oldest in the city will begin its schedule tonight with a set of games between the Aemes, a new team, and the Fat Men's Club, on the latter's alleys.
