BEATEN AND ROBBED IN A CHICAGO STREET

Terrible Experience of Mrs. Lovett in Populous Thoroughfare of City by the Lake.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—A highwayman last night attacked Mrs. Rose Lovett, of 48 Pine Street, although hundreds of people were passing, and after choking and beating her into unconsciousness, robbed her of her purse containing a small sum of money and two diamond rings.

The attack on Mrs. Lovett occurred shortly after 6 o'clock, while she was passing an alley in Rush Street, between Indiana and Illinois Streets.

For assistance, Mrs. Lovett followed the robber and caught him by the coat, screaming for help as she did so. The highwayman put his hand over her mouth to stop the screaming, and she bit his finger. Enraged by this, he struck her in the face several times, and catching her by the throat, threw her heavily to the concrete pavement, where she lay stunned until carried to a butcher shop.

The robber was hotly pursued, but made his escape.

"GREEKS," IN COSTUME, APPEAR ON THE AVENUE

Today there are two new "Greeks" at Georgetown University. They are R. P. Whiteley, president of 94, and H. F. Pierce, and they are "glad it is over," for more than one reason.

As everybody knows, a candidate for initiation into a college Greek letter fraternity must religiously perform every act required of him by the "spelling" order. Failure to do so, freely and uncomplainingly, forfeits all chance of the completion of the initiation.

Last night these two Greeks were surprised to see two intelligent-looking men parading up and down Pennsylvania Avenue arrayed in all the glory of the circus clown. On their fantastic costumes were inscribed, in letters several inches tall, such legends as, "Oh, Joy! We Are In!" "Use Wilson's Dun Dopes for Dope Dogs!" "Free Oysters Tonight at the Corcoran Art Gallery," and the like.

That large crowds followed them about, gazing in amazement, seemed not to disconnect the strange "sandwich men" in the parade with the men named above, and that they were merely being put through their paces for initiation into the Delta Chi fraternity.

After the "horseplay" was over, the men went to the chapter rooms of the "frat" and were really initiated by the ritual of the order.

WATER COLOR CLASS, CORCORAN ART SCHOOL

The water color class of the Corcoran School of Art was reorganized yesterday afternoon under the supervision of James H. Moser, instructor in charge of the department.

Many students were present at the opening class, though a number of additions are expected within the next few weeks.

For that reason Mr. Moser cannot say what the attendance will be, but it promises to be an increase over that of last season, which was the one of the most successful in the history of the school.

GRAND DUKE CYRIL KILLS A COACHMAN

And Now German Authorities Are Wondering How to Proceed Against Him.

BERLIN, Nov. 3.—Grand Duke Cyril, of Russia, while driving a motor car yesterday with the divorced Grand Duchess of Hesse at Coburg, ran down and killed a coachman of Baron Duesenberg. The accident has made the grand duke, according to the laws of Germany, liable to imprisonment.

The grand duke recently caused a furor in Russian court circles by intimating that he was about to marry the Grand Duchess of Hesse, who, because of her divorce, is excluded from the Russian court.

Grand Duke Cyril is only three lives removed from the Russian throne, and any action taken against him, it is feared, might arouse the animosity of Russia, which would be a catastrophe, especially at this time when everything seems favorable for the arrangement of a rapprochement between the two countries, as a result of the czar's visit to Emperor William at Wiesbaden.

LARGE TRADE ENDED BY THE REVOLUTION

Santo Domingo Was a Good Customer of Uncle Sam Until the New Trouble Began.

Santo Domingo, now again in the throes of a rebellion, was beginning to be a pretty good customer of Uncle Sam, when the outbreak of hostilities put an end to commercial activity.

Minister W. F. Powell, in his latest report says that importations from the United States into the republic had increased more than 25 per cent during the past ten years in certain classes of textile goods.

Americans had almost complete control of the market for shoes, having supplied the French, the Germans and England in the finer classes of textile goods, however, surpasses that of the United States.

The United States has a monopoly of the provision market in the republic. The greater part of Dominican exports go to United States markets.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING NOTES

Washington's Beautification. At the recent meeting of the American Institute of Architects in Cleveland, the president, Charles F. McKim, in his address of welcome, advertised to the work and plans of the Park Commission for the beautification of Washington.

Mr. McKim had under his charge the improvements at the White House, and takes a consistent interest in the systematic upbuilding of the Nation's Capital. After referring to the sympathy with which the plans of the Park Commission have been received everywhere, both in this country and in London, Mr. McKim said:

"The relations of our profession to Congress are of the highest interest to us. Congress owes much to architects, for the nation's greatest architects built Congress a palace to live in—one of the noblest capitals of any country."

"But we owe much to Congress, and the institute must feel that this is now especially true. The Fifty-seventh Congress, besides the restoration of the White House, authorized the construction of a municipal building for the District of Columbia, the Army War College, a building for the National Museum, the Engineers' School of Application, the Union railroad station, an office building for the use of Representatives, a Hall of Records, besides making provision for the Lincoln Memorial. Designs for nearly every one of these buildings have been entrusted to members of our profession."

"Bearing in mind this great volume of work and the intimate relations that have for so many years been maintained between our profession and the central government, it should be by no means a cause of astonishment that from time to time differences of opinion should arise as to the exact form that these relations should assume. We should not feel that representatives of government, zealous in what they consider wise economies, are imposed upon the professional architect, or that the architect is imposed upon the government. Yet we must bear in mind that there are times when right relations are to be maintained only by the greatest tact and moderation."

"It is very desirable, at this time especially, that the institute should not remain idle with respect to the future development of the park system of the National Capital. The plans of the commission appointed by the Senate through the efforts of the institute, have already been made familiar in the public press and by illustrated lectures in all the principal cities, and have made a strong appeal to the national pride."

"Educated people everywhere have come to understand the scope of the work and to sympathize with it. Throughout the country, especially in Buffalo, in Cleveland, St. Paul and as far west as Seattle, the example has served to quicken, strengthen and inspire each city to develop and to make the most of its natural advantages. Moreover, in England the interest in this undertaking has been very great."

"But it must not be forgotten that the execution of the project depends now, not upon the attitude of a sympathetic public, but solely upon the appropriations which Congress may see fit to make from time to time. Ultimate success can only be hoped for in the fuller understanding of the plan by our legislators. They must be brought to realize its fundamental importance."

"This is a work which may be accomplished largely by the zeal and persistence of this institute through its chapters. The Senator or Representative who must make up his mind whether or not the needed expenditure from the public treasury is justified will be influenced largely by the resolutions we may pass here than by the architects of his own city and his own State, who are known, perhaps, to him personally and who can explain the plan and make clear to him its merits."
