

Social News and Gossip of the Day.

The White House.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who returned to Washington on Wednesday from a visit to New York, will have as her guest for the season her sister, Miss Carow who recently returned from Rome.

Mrs. Roosevelt will meet the ladies of the Cabinet at the White House next Tuesday, when these distinguished women, headed by the wife of the Chief Executive, will discuss plans for the new social season.

Cabinet Notes.

The President and Mrs. Roosevelt will be entertained at dinner Tuesday, December 23, by the Secretary of State and Mrs. Hay. This will open the series of formal dinners given by the Chief Executive and Mrs. Roosevelt to members of the President's official family.

Secretary and Mrs. Hay will entertain the Diplomatic Corps at breakfast on New Year Day, and this will complete the list of social affairs at the home of the Secretary of State. Mrs. Hay is a sufferer from rheumatism, and in consequence will take no part in the White House receptions this season.

Ms. Knox, wife of the Attorney General, is spending a few days in New York. The family of the Attorney General will spend Thanksgiving Day on their newly-purchased farm at Valley Forge, Pa.

In Diplomatic Circles.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutz Anderson, who are occupying their Brookline home, will entertain a number of guests at the Harvard-Yale football game in Boston today. Among those who went over from Washington were the Viscount de Chambrun, of the French embassy, and Senor del Viso, of the legation of the Argentine Republic.

The Austrian ambassador and the Baroness Hengelmüller, accompanied by their daughter, Mila, have returned to Washington from a visit abroad and a short stay in New York. The embassy has been attractively renovated in the absence of the ambassador's family.

Countess Marguerite Cassini, daughter of the Russian ambassador, will entertain some of the young set on Tuesday afternoon. This will be the first entertainment by the charming young hostess of the Russian embassy since her return from Europe. Mile. Therese Manzone will give her French conference at the Russian embassy this afternoon.

Capt. Dudley de Chair, naval attaché of the British embassy, is confined to his apartments at the Highlands by a severe attack of quinsy.

The Argentine minister and Senora Maza have left the house, 1812 Twentieth Street, formerly occupied by Baron Gevers, minister from the Netherlands.

Dinners.

The Speaker of the House and Miss Cannon will give their first entertainment of the season tonight when members of the Illinois delegation in Congress are to be their guests at dinner.

Senator and Mrs. Hale will entertain at dinner on Tuesday, November 24, Miss Louise Van Dyke Jones, niece of the Postmaster General and Mrs. Payne.

will act as hostess to a company of young people on the same evening.

Senator and Mrs. Depew have issued invitations for a dinner at the Corcoran House on December 5 in honor of Senator and Mrs. Thomas C. Platt.

Weddings.

Lippincott-Armstrong.
The marriage of James Dundas Lippincott and Miss Isabel Armstrong took place quietly at 1 o'clock today at the home of Gen. Frank C. Armstrong, in Sunderland Place. The bride's wedding gown was a handsome lace robe. Mr. and Mrs. Lippincott will reside in Philadelphia. The bride comes of a distinguished family and is related to several of the most prominent families of the South.

Church-Boss.
Invitations to the marriage of Capt. James Robb Church assistant surgeon, U. S. A., and Miss Beulah Maude Boss, of New London, Conn., have been received by friends of the young people in Washington. The ceremony will be performed in New London on Wednesday afternoon, December 2. Captain Church has many friends in Washington where he was on duty recently and where his family now resides.

Senator and Mrs. Martin, of Virginia, are pleasantly located at the Gordon for the winter.

One of the interesting events of this afternoon was the tea given by Mrs. Clover, wife of Commander Richardson Clover. The hostess was assisted by a bevy of charming girls.

The first anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Petty was made the occasion last night of an enjoyable euchre at their home, 1910 Third Street northwest. The first prize was won by Miss Marie Hutton, while the second went to Vincent A. Sheehy. Among those present in addition to the host and hostess were Misses Hilda Edwards, Ada Burt, and Marie Hutton; Dr. Howard, William W. Stewart, Edgar A. Hawk, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent A. Sheehy, and Mr. Hughes. Refreshments were served.

Chit-Chat.

Mrs. Thomas C. Platt, wife of the Senator from New York, is spending a few days in the city. Senator and Mrs. Platt will occupy apartments at the Arlington Square season.

Dr. and Mrs. Isaac L. Kip, of New York, who have been spending some time in Washington, will return to their home tomorrow, where they purpose remaining through the winter.

Miss Whitney, a charming representative of New Haven's social set, is in Washington as the guest of Miss Maud Ely. Miss Whitney came over to attend the wedding of Miss Bates and Mr. Swift on Monday.

Senator Hanna addressed members of the Society of Naval Architects and Marine Engineers in New York last night on the occasion of the annual dinner given by the society at Delmonico's. Other distinguished guests at the banquet were Rear Admiral Barker, Commodore Charles H. Loring, Clement A. Griswold, the retiring president, and Rear Admiral Bowles, the incoming chief.

Mrs. Frank Sloan, of Baltimore, is spending a few days in Washington as the guest of friends.

Senator and Mrs. Martin, of Virginia, are pleasantly located at the Gordon for the winter.

One of the interesting events of this afternoon was the tea given by Mrs. Clover, wife of Commander Richardson Clover. The hostess was assisted by a bevy of charming girls.

PIUS X MAY APPOINT AN AMERICAN CARDINAL

Efforts in Rome to Secure the Honor for Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia.

ROME, Nov. 21.—A great struggle is going on to have an American cardinal chosen at the next consistory. The two most prominent candidates are Archbishop Ryan, of Philadelphia, and Archbishop Ireland, of St. Paul. The former archbishop is especially supported by the conservative element in the sacred college.

Archbishop Ireland in the last few years has lost much ground because of his unceasing allegiance to Cardinal Rampolla, which alienated from him the sympathy of a number of cardinals, especially Serafino and Vincenzo Vannucelli, whose opinions acquired great weight through having been the chief electors of the present Pope.

Indeed, after Pius' ascension to the pontificate the feeling against Archbishop Ireland was rather strong. Statements have been recently made, however, that the situation is beginning to change in his favor, there being a chance that he may be soon made cardinal.

WOMEN WEAR CROSSES ONLY FOR ORNAMENT

Fashion Started by Mrs. Carter Spreads Over New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 21.—A fashion started by Mrs. Leslie Carter in "Du Barry" has taken hold of New York women, to the mingled horror and approval of the Roman Catholic clergy. It is the wearing of a large cross.

So much in demand are crosses of all sizes, but especially the large ones, and of all kinds of material, that some jewelry manufacturers have neglected work on other trinkets to devote their efforts to making crosses.

Some priests approved the fashion until they learned its origin and made observations which convinced them that not all the women who wore crosses were inspired to do so by the feeling of religious devotion.

Some of the crosses now are made of gold and set with jewels according to the fashion of an archbishop's pectoral cross. One jeweler has made a cross valued at $5,000. Others are of ivory, silver, onyx and jet.

The most artistic of the women who are now affecting this ornament choose old crosses from the curio shops. There are many from the Philippines and Spanish countries which command high prices.

INVITATIONS DECLINED BY THE PRESIDENT

President Roosevelt, it is learned, will stay at home much of next year. Several invitations to make addresses at various public functions have been declined by him recently, and after January 1 practically all banquet invitations will be declined and no speeches of a political nature will be made by him except at Oyster Bay. This decision is in view of the many matters of unusual importance now placed before him.

NO TRANSFER OF APACHES TO RENO RESERVATION

Secretary Root and Assistant Secretary Oliver have disapproved the recommendation of General Bates, commanding the Department of the Lakes, that Apache prisoners of war be transferred from the Fort Sill Reservation, in Oklahoma, to the Fort Reno Reservation.

NEWS FROM ROCKVILLE.

ROCKVILLE, Md., Nov. 21.—In the circuit court here with Judges James B. Henderson and John C. Motter on the bench, the following cases were disposed of: Aaron Luster, selling intoxicating liquor, two cases, guilty; Charles Bowen, selling intoxicating liquor, guilty; Morris Cromwell, carrying concealed weapons, guilty, fined $10 and costs; Richard Bruner, carrying concealed weapons, not guilty, there being no intent to violate the law.

The grand jury of this term will probably adjourn today when it will reconvene at the next session of the legislature that the present prohibitory liquor law of the county be amended as they shall suggest.

DEATHS EXCEED BIRTHS IN OFFICIAL RECORD

Records of Past Week as Shown by Reports From Physicians and Midwives to Health Department.

There were reported to the District Health Department last week 167 births, according to a statement made this morning by Health Officer Woodward.

If these reports represent the entire number of births which occurred, deaths exceeded births by 14. Among the whites 75 births were reported, which is an excess of 10 over the white deaths. Thirty-two births were reported from among the negro population, which is fifteen less than the number of deaths reported in the same class.

Only 84 physicians reported births during the past week, although the total number of physicians authorized to practice in the District is 1,257 and the number actually practicing probably represents a considerable part of those registered. Out of the total of 136 registered midwives only 23 made reports.

One birth was reported as having occurred in the Washington Asylum, 1 in Providence Hospital, 3 in Freedman's Hospital, and 2 in the Crittenton Hope and Help Mission. The northwest section of the city contributed 67 births, northeast 12, southwest 5, and southeast 8. Three births were reported from Takoma Park. Seven were reported from the rest of the District.

DR. BUEHRER ASSUMES DUTIES IN DECEMBER

Will Be Pastor of the First Reformed Church.

The Rev. Dr. J. D. Buehrer, who has accepted a call to the First Reformed Church of Washington, Sixth and N Streets northwest, will arrive here, it is expected, in the early part of December to take up his work. Since the death of the Rev. Dr. August Fuchs, about two months ago, the church has been without a pastor, and Dr. Buehrer's arrival is eagerly awaited.

Dr. Buehrer for seventeen years has been the pastor of the Second Reformed Church in Tiffin, Ohio. In fact, he has occupied that pulpit ever since his ordination. He is a graduate of Calvin College, Cleveland, Ohio, and of the theological department of Heidelberg University of Tiffin. He is a strong preacher and a man of energy.

At present Dr. Buehrer is arranging his affairs in Tiffin and waiting until his old congregation can find a new pastor.

SEASONABLE FOOD SUPPLIES ON MARKET BENCHES.

Meat is plentiful in the market today, except veal. Veal is unusually scarce because of the comparatively small number of calves which are slaughtered. Veal brought this morning 20c and 25c a pound. Pork was a bit more plentiful than a week or two ago and sold for 12½c a pound instead of 15c.

Beef has made little change in price, the rate depending largely upon the quality of the cattle. The lamb supply was sufficient to meet all demands this morning, mutton was more scarce and a mutton brought 15c a pound.

In the poultry market, prices were up. Turkeys brought 28c and 22c a pound, and chickens the same. This raise was due to a combination of the cold weather, small supply, and large demand.

Red snappers made a good appearance on the benches of the fish market today and sold at 15c a pound. More smelts were to be had at 25c a pound. Spanish mackerel brought 25c, trout 12½c and 15c, and rockfish 15c and 25c. Panfish were unusually scarce this morning.

The supply of green vegetables was small and the prices a bit higher. Eggs brought 34c a dozen.

Game was scarce, due to the stringent laws, it was said. Squirrels brought 15c, rabbits 20c and 25c. Quail was sold for $4 a dozen, and ducks ranged from $1 to $5 a pair, according to kind.

MANEUVERS SHOULD BE NEAR NEW YORK CITY

Scene of Army Drills Should Be Upon Ground Where It Would Have to Fight.

New York and other Eastern cities have been insisting for several months that the army maneuvers should be held near the great center of population on the Atlantic coast, where an attack would be made by a foreign foe in case of war.

Within 30 miles of New York there are 30,000 organized militia available for such maneuvers. In support of the contention that maneuvers should not be held in remote parts of the country the "Army and Navy Journal" for this week says:

In his report on the maneuvers in Kentucky, Colonel Parker lays stress upon the advantages possessed by the ground used at West Point, Ky., because of its resemblance to the land in the vicinity of the great centers of population in the East and along the Atlantic coast.

The obvious suggestion is that our soldiers should be familiar with the territory they will have to fight over in case of an attack from a foreign power. The wisdom of this suggestion is apparent. But instead of choosing for army maneuvers ground resembling that which is most likely to become the seat of conflict, why not assemble our soldiers for their annual practice on the ground with which they should become familiar? The autumn maneuvers for next year should be held somewhere within a circle having a radius of 150 miles, measuring from New York city as the center.

BOSTON QUARTET PLEASES IN EPWORTH COURSE

The audience that greeted the second year of the popular Epworth League star course was pleased with the program given by the Ariel Ladies' Quartet, of Boston. Four clever girls, with voices that blended beautifully, gave several quartet numbers which were well rendered and evoked continued applause.

The singing of Mabelle Monaghan, the first soprano, pleased. The readings of Miss Mackenzie are worthy of special comment. Miss Leavitt, the second soprano, is also a violinist and skillfully handles the bow. Alceen Sampson sang a contralto solo with violin obligato.

The next number of the course will be given on December 2, when Agoston will be the attraction. A few more course tickets are on sale at Philpitt's ticket agency.

"STABAT MATER" TO BE SUBJECT OF A LECTURE

A lecture on the "Stabat Mater" will be given at Carroll Institute Hall, Tenth Street northwest, on Wednesday evening, by the Rev. William Ennis, S. J., of Georgetown University.

Father Ennis will address the honorary, advisory, and supporting members of the Carroll Institute choir in anticipation of the performance of Rossini's "Stabat Mater," which that organization is to give at the Columbia Theatre on December 23.

MAY GIVE FULL RANK TO FIRST SECRETARY

Reported From London That Mr. Riggs Will Be Given Title of Minister.

Lack of official information both at the British embassy and the State Department about the report that the first secretary of the legation is to be given the title of minister plenipotentiary has by no means checked a keen interest throughout the Diplomatic Corps on the subject. If such a move is on the boards it will give the British embassy a prestige that will be especially evident at the State Department on diplomatic day.

Whenever Mr. Riggs, the British charge d'affaires and first secretary, calls at the State Department and finds a number of his conferees in the ante-room he must await the pleasure not only of the ambassadors who may be present, but of all the ministers of the State before he can see Secretary Hay. With the rank of minister the British first secretary will not be superseded, except by the ambassadors, of course, and the ministers whose appointments preceded his own.

It was for this reason the London government years ago made its first secre-

LECTURE ON STUDY OF CLASSICS IN ROME

Prof. West Reviews the Progress of American School.

The progress of the American School of Classical Studies in Rome was the subject of an address last night by Prof. Andrew F. West, chairman of the managing committee of the school, before the Washington Society of Archaeological Institute of America in the home of the president, Hon. John W. Foster, 124 Eighteenth Street. Prof. West mentioned that J. Pierpont Morgan had given the school $2,500 per year for four years, and that the American universities of the District affiliate with the American schools in Athens and Rome.

The executive committee of the society reported a total membership of 117, making the Washington society the fourth in membership among the thirteen societies which constitute the institute. Arrangements are being made for the second of a series of meetings in the homes of members. Following is a course of illustrated lectures to be given: Prof. W. E. Beecher, vice president of the institute, "Knife, Fire and Wheel in Early Art," Saturday, December 12, 1903; Prof. George F. Moore, of Harvard University, "Recent Excavations in the East," Friday, January 23, 1904; Prof. Thomas Day Seymour, of Yale University, president of the institute, "Archaeological Excavations and Explorations in Greek Lands," Friday, April 15, 1904.
