ARMY-NAVY GAME

WAS HARD FOUGHT

Soldiers Eked Out Victory Over Sailor Eleven.

ALLISON'S PRETTY GOAL WON

With Score Tied He Booted Ball Directly Between Posts—Thousand Persons at Park.

In the post-season football match at American League Park yesterday afternoon between the Army and Navy the soldiers triumphed by a score of 6 to 5.

The weather conditions were simply miserable, but the arrangement reflected credit on Manager LeMat. From one end to the other the ground was covered by a thin layer of ice which made the footing miserable and scientific playing out of the question, while the chilly atmosphere kept the crowd moving, but without the game was a success. Over two thousand persons attended, and supplemented by two regimental bands, kept things lively from the beginning of the game to the last whistle.

Both Teams Good.

The teams were undoubtedly the best that have represented their respective branches of the service in these parts. The physical condition of the players was far better than is usually found among teams of their sort, while each man seemed to possess far more football sense than the teams which met two weeks ago.

The game itself was close and the result was always in doubt. In the first half the sailors scored a touchdown, but on the try for goal went wide. The Army turned defeat into victory in the second half by getting a touchdown, and by Allison kicking a beautiful goal from one side of the field.

Army won the toss, and Captain Monaghan elected to receive the kick-off. The ball was run in ten yards, and then the Army carried the ball to the center of the field, where there was a fumble, and it was Navy's chance to see what sort of an offense she had. Down the field the sailors swept, wallowing their rivals, and gaining yard after yard until the ball was on the one-yard line. In the final try the Navy line was a little overzealous, and the ball was put back for off side.

Navy Fumbled.

In its next effort to gain Navy fumbled and Army recovered the ball. The playing at this time was hard, as each team was fighting for every inch. One of the Navy players grew a bit strenuous and he was requested to go to the side lines. Army finding that she could not make the necessary distance punted forty yards to Miller. Then Navy again got her attack in full swing, and using Bruff, her 255-pounder, as a battering ram, carried the ball to within two yards of the last back line. Here Army made a stand, but it was not to last. Koester crashed through for a touchdown. The ball was off to one side of the field, and the goal was missed.

Unable to Gain.

Navy received the kick-off, but was unable to make any short advance, when the Army bolstered up her defense and Navy tried a fake kick. It cost her the ball, and Army had what she wanted, an opportunity to carry the oval. With a tackleback on each play the soldiers were not to be stopped, and carried the ball to the 15-yard line. Here Captain Miller called on the sailors for a stand, and for three times they repulsed the charge of the Army's defense. Seeing that no gain was forthcoming through the line Barrett received the ball and slid around left end for a touchdown. The whole Army contingent shouted and jumped with glee while the band struck up a lively tune.

But the prettiest play of the game was yet to come. With the ball in the hands of the Army, they attempted to go it at an angle of 25 degrees, and the goal posts, which were tipped by the stormy weather, leaned slightly toward the gridiron. With these handicaps, together with a slippery field and ball, Allison was equal to the occasion, and kicked the ball directly between the uprights, thereby giving his team an advantage of one point.

SIX FAST BOUTS IN QUAKER TOWN

O'Neil Made Cardiff Quit in Four Rounds.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 27.—Jack O'Neil made Jack C. Cardiff, of Reading, quit in four rounds, at the National Athletic Club, yesterday afternoon, before a packed house. Cardiff attempted to mix it up with O'Neil, but lacked cleverness and gave up the struggle.

Beebe the Winner.

"Kid" Beebe outpointed Young Kilpatrick. Beebe appeared to have weight on his young opponent, who is just graduating from the novice class. Kilpatrick, by rushing in the first two rounds, held Beebe even, but Beebe, by roughing it and punching in the clinches, managed to outpoint Kilpatrick in the last four rounds.

Tommy Love in Form.

Tommy Love showed in his old-time form and decidedly outpointed Tony Bonder. Love's left was his best punch, and all through he jabbed Bonder's head, sometimes repeating without a return. He also used his right to the best advantage, and Bonder was completely outclassed.

TITUS IS GOING TO AUSTRALIA

Has Outlined Ambitious Program for Winter.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Constance Sutton Titus, of the Atlanta Boat Club, and former champion amateur sculler of America, says that all the arrangements for a trip to Australia in February or March has not been made, but he would certainly go to the Pacific Coast to row "Al" Page on Lake Merritt, near San Francisco, stopping on his way at Portland, Ore., to meet Ed Glass.

Is Still Strong.

"Both Page and Glass are bigger men than myself, Page weighing about 150 pounds, and Glass between 175 and 180. My rowing weight is 125 pounds. Some people think that my sculling days are over, but I am going to celebrate my tenth year of active training soon, when I will show that there are a few good races left in me yet. At present I feel good and strong, and my last Sunday week I rowed regularly on the Hudson River with two woolen sweaters and long woolen tights. Ice alone prevented me from continuing my practice. I want to go to Sydney, Australia, to meet the best amateur scullers in that country in a regatta, and if my plans materialize I will probably be absent until May."

ANOTHER VERSION TO SLOAN CASE

Recovers Only Costs and Not Damages.

RULING OFF SUSTAINED

French Court of Appeals Says Jockey Club Has Entire Control of Its Grounds.

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—There appears to be another version to the case of Jockey Tod Sloan, who was recently supposed to have received a verdict of $40,000 against the French Jockey Club. The "London Sportsman," in commenting on the case, says:

"The court of appeals has just given its decision in the remarkable case, caused by the ruling off of Tod Sloan from all premises under the immediate control of the Societe d'Encouragement (French Jockey Club), owing to the part he took in the preparation of Rose de Mai, the winner of the Prix de Diane (or French Oaks) at Chantilly, in 1903. Sloan argued that as he was not the holder of a license from the Societe d'Encouragement he was not under the jurisdiction of the stewards, and could, therefore, only be considered a trespasser on their rights. He therefore sued the stewards of the Societe d'Encouragement and the publisher of their social 'calendar' for damages.

Won in Lower Court.

"The first court gave a decision in his favor, and the finding of the court of appeals somewhat concurs, although the damages claimed by Sloan have been disallowed and limited to the payment of the Societe d'Encouragement of his taxed costs. The point of law raised as to the authority vested in the stewards of the Societe d'Encouragement has been satisfactorily answered. The court of appeals has upheld the authority of the stewards and confirmed their right of warning off from all inclosures and premises the owners of the property, any person under their control."

COLUMBIA WILL BEGIN PRACTICE IN A FEW DAYS

NEW YORK, Dec. 27.—Columbia's baseball plans will be commenced for the season in a few days.

Capt. William R. Tyler, of the varsity team, has ordered forty of the university baseball players to report to him in the baseball cage in the gymnasium, and the men will be given a drill in batting, picking up grounders and light throwing. The matter of a coach for the team is still unsettled. Manager Thomas J. Thorp has been asking several of the prominent league players to serve, but up to the present has been unable to obtain anybody for the position. The Columbia team of the Union team of New York, took charge of the team last year, and while he made the men very strong in field work, he did not succeed in giving them all the fine points of good, heavy hitting.

SOUTHERN LEAGUE'S STAFF OF UMPIRES

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Dec. 27.—President W. M. Kavanaugh, of the Southern League, today named Dan Pfenninger, R. W. Black, Joe Burke and Frank Bassett to be umpires in the Southern League next season.

Pfenninger with the Southern League

Pfenninger was with the Southern League last season. Burke and Black umpired in the South Atlantic League, and Bassett officiated in the Cotton States League.

President Kavanaugh has appointed

Abner Howell, of Atlanta, Newton Fisher of Nashville, and Charles Frank of New Orleans, as a committee to assist him in preparing the 1905 schedule. The committee will probably meet in Shreveport about the middle of January.

Clever Blocking Marked Fight at Rock Spring

Whistler Showed His Former Defensive Ability in Draw With Ed Crowley—Washingtonian Has Much to Learn.

Decision Approved.

The decision of Patrick F. O'Connor, the referee, was that while Whistler had the better of the mill, it was not by a margin wide enough to entitle him to the long end of the purse, and the draw verdict was well received. Crowley landed the right to a draw by his aggressiveness. He was after his man all the time, and did practically all the leading. He showed his lack of experience, both in leading and blocking, and at times was unusually awkward, but he was willing, and showed that he can take punishment. Blows to his head and neck were about all that Whistler tried, and these had no effect on the Washington boy, except in the eighth round, when a right and left swing to the jaw caused him to slip and go to the floor.

Must Become Faster.

Unless Crowley becomes faster and adds more blows to his repertoire, he will not become a boxer, for a boy with a good swift hook and uppercut will put him out. He said yesterday that he felt in excellent shape, but, as a matter of fact, he looked trained down to fine. At 19 a. m., when the boys weighed in at Ristic Leonard's place, the Washington scrapper was at 132 pounds, six pounds below the weight named in the articles. Next time he will probably know better and not take off so much flesh.

Lewis Pleased Crowd.

Bobbie Baker, who was to meet George Myers in the preliminary, missed his car and arrived too late to go on. Later he challenged Myers and said he would fight him for a side bet of $50 before the next meeting of the club, which will be on the afternoon of January 2. In order not to disappoint his many admirers, Lewis, who boxed "Kid" Lackey at the next meeting, went four exhibition rounds with Myers. Lewis made a fine impression, showing that he is an active boy, able to use both hands and knowing how to plant a quick blow calculated to bring home the money.

Personal Comment on Men and Things in the Field of Sports

The father of Jim Jeffries has gone to Australia to tour the country, preaching the gospel, and he will not return for nearly a year.

After the snow and sleet the Army-Navy game has been at last played.

The management of the annual meet of the Boston Athletic Association, which is to be held on February 11, has switched the relay races. Instead of Harvard, Yale and Pennsylvania meeting in a three-cornered event, an effort is being made to pair off the members of the big six. This arrangement will bring together Harvard and Yale, Pennsylvania and Princeton, and Columbia and Cornell. If this can be worked out it will be one of the best indoor relay meets ever held.

Nearly all the most famous billiard players of the country will meet in the amateur tourney to be held by the Chicago Athletic Association on January 30.

There were charges that these in charge had favored certain sections of the country in the matter of invitations, but this is unqualifiedly denied by the managers of the affair.

After all the snow and sleet the Army-Navy game has been at last played.

The conditions in the first game could not have been worse, but yesterday they were bad enough. Both teams showed a 50 per cent improvement, and at times really first-class football was played by both elevens. This game should become an annual fixture on Washington's athletic list, as the rivalry is fierce, and with anything like decent weather conditions the crowd would be numbered by thousands.

John Willie, the husky Chicago light heavyweight fighter, has issued a challenge to meet any heavyweight wrestler in the country.

Willie was a wrestler before he took up the gloves, and his challenge this time is a little broad.

The first set-back for the organizers of the new cycling association has been received with the announcement that Nat Butler, one of the prime movers, has decided to back out.

He has paid his fine of $50 to the National Association for quitting the Madison Square Garden six-day race and is again TOM ROLAND.
