VICTORIOUS MARCH STILL UNBROKEN

Storm Ended New York Game in Fourth.

RIOT STORIES UNFOUNDED

Scarcity of Rain Checks Causes Management to Throw Gates Open Today.

NEW YORK, April 22.—With bright indications for an auspicious opening of the American League season here yesterday afternoon between the Yankees and the Nationals, a sudden storm broke over the park on Washington Heights causing the players to seek shelter in the fourth inning and disappointing more than 20,000 fans who had assembled to give the Highlanders a royal welcome.

The inability of a printer to meet the demand for rain checks caused the New York management to decide to throw open the gates this afternoon and admission will be free to any one who makes the trip to the Heights.

Happy Jack delighted the fans by striking out his first man—Jones. He franked Hill, but Stahl and Huelsman were easy money at first. Dougherty lifted the rosters to their feet by their hair when he cracked out a warm double along the right line. Keeler sacrificed him to third. Elberfeld died at first, but Williams walloped the leather to right for a roost and Long Pat skidded home. Cassidy's good assist spoiled what looked like a hit for Honest John Anderson.

Neither side jotted in the second, thanks to the excellent box work and diamond-dusting, and in the third a snappy double play by Chesbro, Elberfeld and Chase marred Washington's chance.

Ground Slippy.

By the time they got to the fourth the Highlanders were slipping all over the field and the ball was as hard to handle as a piece of ice. Consequently a combination of fielding and battery errors, for which it would be harsh to blame anybody, put three Nationals on base before Shaughnessy hefted hickory. Chesbro is only human, so he couldn't control the ball in the downpour, and it struck Shaughnessy's stick just right for a lucky three-bagger to left center. Kitzredge's out at first retired the side end then the game was called.

Sensational stories of riot, a menacing movement of the crowd to the field, clubbing by brutal policemen, breaking down of a big fence, a frightful thunderstorm and general disorder received a certain degree of circulation in Manhattan last evening, and were widespread to other cities. They were not exaggerations, but simply common or garden lies.

GALLAUDET BLANKED FREDERICKSBURG TEAM

Mennier's Clever Twirling Responsible for Victory—Gave Visitors But One Hit—Fanned Dozen Batters.

Gallaudet blanked the Fredericksburg College team at Kendall Green yesterday afternoon by 5 to 0.

Mennier's clever twirling was largely responsible for the Mutes' victory, as he allowed the visitors but one hit during the whole game, and fanned an dozen batters. In the first inning, with the bases all and no one down, Mennier pulled himself together and struck out the next three batters. The game was called in the seventh because of rain.

This afternoon Gallaudet will play Johns Hopkins University. Score by innings:

BROOKLYN INTENDS TO PLAY SUNDAYS

BROOKLYN, April 22.—President Ebets yesterday informed Police Inspector Cross he intended having the Superbas play Sunday ball, beginning tomorrow. There was no reason he could see, he said, why professionals should be prevented from playing on Sunday, when semi-professional teams were permitted to do so. The old argument that thousands of would-be gamblers were free to see baseball only on Sundays was advanced by the president.

Inspector Cross said he did not know whether to prevent the games or merely to get evidence and submit the question to the courts. It was thought he would follow the same course as last summer, when the police arrested two of Hanlon's men, then let the game go on. If that is to be done, perhaps Manager Hanlon will regret having released Peole, who proved so useful as an arrest pitcher.

KANSAS CITY DERBY WILL BE RUN TODAY

KANSAS CITY, April 22.—The spring meeting of the Kansas City Jockey Club will begin at Elm Ridge today. The Kansas City Derby, at one and one-quarter miles, with $5,000 added money, will be the feature event of the opening day. Seven horses are entered for the derby, and it is probable that one or two more will be entered before post time. John Smujski and Waterside are popular choices for the prize.

VIRGINIA CARROLL DIED OF CANCER

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—James J. Carroll, known as "Virginia" Carroll, and for many years one of the most noted figures of the American turf, is dead here of cancer, aged forty-seven years. He was born in New Orleans and was a member of a family still prominent in business and social circles. One of the famous horses he owned was Blue Jeans, which beat Proctor Knott.

Herrera Is Not Likely To Knock Out Sullivan

Mexican Has Bad Left-Hand Punch, But It Doesn't Look Like Sleep-Producer. Got Decision Over Daly.

Aurelio Herrera earned the decision last night over Tommy Daly in Baltimore, after fifteen rounds of as hard and clever fighting as has been seen before Al Herford's Eureka Athletic Club this season.

Both boys were aggressive and each was after his man all the time, but the Mexican was clearly entitled to the decision, although he did not have a great deal on Tommy. The fight was interesting to Washington lovers of the game, because the winner is to meet the winner of the scrap between Kid Sullivan and Harry Lewis, which takes place before the same club next Friday night, and the man who beats Herrera, according to Al Herford and the solemn assurances of Brother Maurice, will meet Battling Nelson.

Judging from Herrera's showing last night he will probably outpoint Sullivan should Sullivan beat Lewis and be his next opponent, but there is little likelihood of his knocking out the Capital fighter. The Mexican has a nasty, cutting left-hand punch, and a bad left swing to the body, but while it is a swing that counts and hurts, it is not likely to knock a man out except by accident, and Sullivan has stood the gaff from so many hard-hitters that there is no reason to believe that he cannot take all the dark-skinned scrapper sends and come back strong all the time.

Herrera also has a right which can do damage, and he generally uses it to the "cut" it is slow starting, and it was comparatively seldom last night that he brought it into play. If he could get snap and speed in that right he would be a serious proposition for any of the lightweights.

The Mexican will prove faster on his feet than Sullivan, but he is not lightning fast and Sullivan's persistent, dogged style of always carrying the fighting to his man should enable him to get at least a draw on points for his aggressiveness. Daly had the Mexican tired once or twice last night with body blows, and when he goes up against the terrific, even if slow, thumps of the kid the fellow-citizen of President Diaz will probably find that it will take all of his cleverness to keep from being stopped before the fifteen rounds are over.

Daly's gameness last night was the feature of the engagement. Tommy had his head nearly punched off, but he came back every time and when least expected would rush his rival around the ring and make him use his best footwork to escape.

Tommy had some vicious swings, but too many of them went wild, and he was never able to land on the right spot. He did better when he shifted his plan of attack and went for the body. It was when he did this that Herrera had to take it on the run.

Daly showed to his best advantage in the early part of the fight, but after the fifth round the Mexican had the situation well in hand, with the exception of occasional fierce rallies by Tommy. In the tenth round a right cross to the jaw put Daly on the floor and he took the count of five before rising. It was the best right-hand blow Herrera delivered and it came within an ace of sending the Brooklyn fighter to dreamland.

Personal Comment on Men and Things in the Field of Sports

BASEBALL

Pitcher Goodwin, who was released by Brooklyn, has hooked up with the Memphis Southern League club.

As a result of a dispute over compensation, Doherty whom Brooklyn was so anxious to get, will return for another season with the Albany club.

Bill Rogers, the business manager of the Boston Nationals, and who was in charge during the Southern trip this spring, died in New York yesterday, at the age of forty-five.

Pete Noonan, the Holy Cross catcher, who was tossed overboard by Connie Mack, has caught on with the St. Paul American Association team.

Rube Waddell, the eccentric Philadelphia pitcher, did the brave act the other night. While passing a theater the Rube saw two men fighting, rushed between, separated them, and the rest was easy.

Victor Willis was one of the few balking ball players, who got what he wanted. Willis was offered a contract by the Boston Nationals there was a big decrease in the salary section, and he positively refused to take pen in hand. After thinking the matter over the Boston people agreed that Willis will be worth last season's salary, and everything has been satisfactorily arranged.

Jack Dunn is determined to get a good team in Providence and the other day he shipped into New York and collared a youngster from each of the metropolitan clubs. So far as known neither Griffith nor McGraw is shedding tears over the loss of the recruits.

Bauswine, who has been appointed on the staff of umpires of the National League, is well qualified for the position. He was formerly a Philadelphia policeman.

In Frank Smith the Chicago Americans claim they have a pitcher who has more speed than the redoubtable Rube Waddell. We are from Missouri.

Wittes is the only southpaw on the Giants' pitching staff.

Since Chesbro invented the spit ball Jim McGuire, the hero of many battles, has christened his mit the "cupid glove."

Manager LaJolo has notified his players that they will be allowed to use their own judgment and hit any way they please. It's a good bet that unless this policy is changed there will be no flag flying at the Cleveland park at the end of a season for a long time to come.

Mike Donovan, the boxing instructor at the New York Athletic Club, was knocked out in the first round of what was scheduled to be a fifteen-round bout with Kid Lemmel. A smash over the heart did the trick.

Jack Munroe, the Butte miner, knocked out Doc Payne, of Cleveland, in the sixth round of what was to have been a fifteen-round bout at Atlanta last night.

Captain Hogan, of the Yale football team of last fall, has come forward with a protest against changes in the gridiron rules for next fall. Hogan does not believe that the code needs any tinkering.

Two alumni of Exeter Academy have made an offer of $15,000 to the directors of the school to equip an athletic field.

CHURCH TEAM READY

St. Vincent de Paul's second team wants games with teams averaging fifteen years—church leagues preferred. The line-up is as follows: C. Manco, catcher; D. Strother, pitcher; W. Mills, first base; J. Canivan, second base; C. Phillips, third base; J. Simpson, shortstop; Maurice Hooley, center field; R. Angelo, right field; J. Snipes, left field. Address: D. Strother, 1921 Four-and-a-half street southwest.

WORKMAN IS KILLED IN LABOR UNION QUARREL

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., April 22.—As a result of differences in the Bricklayers' Union, J. T. Cavanaugh, a bricklayer, fired five shots from a revolver at a group of brick masons here today. John Madigan, of Clinton, Mass., was instantly killed. In a scuffle for safety several other laborers were severely hurt. Cavanaugh is in jail.

TAILOR LINDLEYKENT FOUND DEAD IN BED

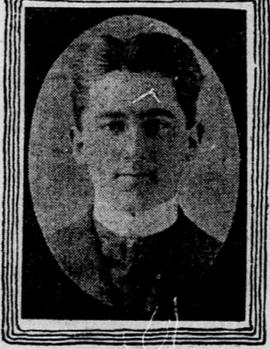

Death from heart disease was the substance of the certificate given by Coroner Nevitt today in the case of James Thomas Lindleykent, a tailor, forty-three years old, who was found dead in bed at 97 F street northwest, about 7 o'clock this morning.

He seemed in his usual health last night, but failed to answer this morning when called to his breakfast.

It's a good bet that Georgetown will not be the only crew which will leave Annapolis this season with a black mark. The Middies have probably the fastest crew that ever represented the Navy with gradual improvement they should develop into one of the most formidable eights in America.

Dr. Osler should be given a pass and transportation to the fight between Charley Mitchell and John L. Sullivan, which is scheduled for some time next month at Tacoma, Wash.

WRESTLERS DIDN'T APPEAR

Stakeholder Eloped With $5,000 of Sucker Money and Lawyers Say It's No Use Kicking.

TORONTO, Ont., April 22.—Christian W. Tusch, of Syracuse, bet $5,000 that Arthur Edmonds, said to be well known here as a wrestler, could not beat George Wallace, who was not known in Toronto.

That morning Tusch went to the Standard Bank and drew out $5,000 and had deposited on his arrival in Toronto. This he turned over to Connors, the stakeholder. In the afternoon the party engaged two of Muir's backs and drove to Oleott's Hotel, Eglinton, and the match took place in a barn in the vicinity.

Connors was to hold the stakes, and is still holding them.

Tusch sent Byrne, his solicitor, to Toronto today to investigate. But Byrne has gone home with the opinion that the episode offers but another proof of the saying, "A fool and his money are soon parted."

RECOVER $100 BET ON HORSES THREE YEARS AGO

NEW YORK, April 22.—One hundred dollars which he had bet on the horses at Sheepshead Bay in 1902 has been returned to Harry Mendoza, of this city, the bookmaker paying the money to satisfy a judgment of the New York State supreme court against him.

Mendoza bet $100 each with five bookmakers and lost $500. He brought five suits to recover his money under an old gaming law. After hearings before three courts his claim has been sustained in one case, and the bookmaker has satisfied the judgment. The four others are still fighting the case.

SPIT BALL TO GO, SAYS DREYFUSS

Pittsburg Magnate Makes Strong Statement.

IS TOO HARD TO CONTROL

Constantly Injures Catchers and Umpires Cannot Get Line on It. Taking Mail Vote.

PITTSBURG, April 22.—Barney Dreyfuss, owner of the Pittsburg baseball team, yesterday made the startling announcement that the spit ball must go, and intimated strongly that a mail vote is about to be taken by the National League to settle its fate. Mr. Dreyfuss said in part:

"Let me make a prediction. The 'spit' ball will be shut off by league legislation before the season is two months older. Why? Simply because it makes the players look like jays. The pitcher is also too dangerous. Catchers get hit on the arms, legs, ankles, etc., and it is only a question of time when a backstop will be seriously injured.

Catcher in Distress. "Look at the game in Chicago on Wednesday. Mr. Ewing struck out a number of men, that's true, but he also made three wild pitches and had his catcher in distress all through the game.

"Umpires dodge around like jumping-jacks trying to gauge the ball. There are other objections to the use of the delivery. Players cannot handle the ball, owing to its slippery condition. It's often reeking with saliva. Altogether, it is not the most pleasant thing in the world to handle a ball covered with excretion.

"Mark my word, the pesky pitch is going to be put on the shelf in a few weeks."
