

FATHER AND SON IN ARMY AND NAVY

Taft Allows One to Serve With Other.

MORTON RULES AGAINST IT

Lieutenant McCaskey Assigned on Staff of General McCaskey—Admiral and Lieutenant Evans Separated.

Secretaries Taft and Morton are unable to agree as to whether it is good or bad for a young officer to serve as aide-de-camp on the staff of his father.

Two Applications.

The matter came to the attention of Secretary Morton on the application of an admiral, supposed to be Evans, to have his son detailed as flag secretary.

Secretary Taft had to think about it when Gen. William S. McCaskey took this moment to ask that his son, Lieut. Douglas McCaskey, be assigned to his staff, when he assumed command of the Department of the Columbia, with headquarters at Vancouver Barracks.

Chances of Injustice.

The navy theory is that a son on the staff of his father will either get more than is coming to him, or if he does not get that he will receive less on account of his father's intention to show no favoritism.

HOLLYWOOD WILL BE LEE'S BURIAL PLACE

concluded such purchase last year, when he took hold of the Jamestown Exposition project, and removed with his family to Norfolk. He favored the site of the square in which the Confederate president, Jefferson Davis, is buried, and close by the grave of Dr. J. L. M. Curry, the publicist and Southern educator. The site is on an eminence overlooking James River.

A meeting of officials of the State government was held at Richmond yesterday at which a committee was appointed to go to Washington to ask Mrs. Lee to let the body be buried in Hollywood. The city council is called to meet at 4 o'clock this afternoon to unite in this invitation and to offer the station square as the temporary resting place for the body of the distinguished soldier. A military funeral on a scale of unusual splendor is being planned.

The Wednesday Club Music Festival will close Tuesday night with the singing of a requiem in honor of Lee's memory. The Boston Festival Symphony Orchestra and noted soloists will take part and the audience will stand at solemn intervals.

Mrs. Lee Arrives.

The train bearing Mrs. Lee and the relatives met her at Lynchburg and Charlottesville, arrived at the Pennsylvania station at 10:21. A distinguished gathering was at the station to meet the widow of the renowned soldier. She was escorted from the train to a carriage which was awaiting her, by her husband's brother, Daniel Lee, and his wife, Mrs. Burton. Later, she went to the residence of her brother, B. H. Fowle, where she spent the night.

Give Silent Greeting.

Confederate veterans, comrades in arms of the famous Virginian, officers of the United States army, recently associated with him in the service, prominent official representatives of the State of Virginia, family connections, and intimate friends stood with bared heads as Mrs. Lee stepped off the train. Only the members of her family and the ladies of the party spoke to her, the rest keeping that sympathetic silence which speaks stronger than words.

Many Friends Gather.

Long before the train arrived last night a large number of persons assembled at the station to meet the Lee family. General Lee's two brothers, Daniel and Smith Lee; Major Robert W. Hunter, Major Leigh Robinson, Major Beverley Mason, Captain Trigg, all of whom were present, met her in Richmond tomorrow.

the Confederate army; Captain Littlepage and Captain Marmaduke, of the Confederate army, represented the lost cause for which Fitzhugh Lee gave up his commission in the United States Army. From Richmond there was a delegation headed by Lieut. Gov. Joseph E. Willard, Mayor McCarthy, Major S. T. D. Myers, and Col. Jo Lane Stern. The United States Army was represented by Inspector General Burton, who was accompanied by Mrs. Burton; Major Kean, and Major Michie. Among the relatives of General and Mrs. Lee who were at the station were Mrs. Casciella Cabell, Miss Virginia Mason Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Minor, Dr. Robert F. Mason, and Miss Polly Mason.

Spanish War Veterans Send Letter of Condolence

At a meeting of the Roosevelt Club of Spanish War Soldiers, Sailors and Marines, held at Pythian Temple last night, resolutions of condolence were adopted upon the death of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee, U. S. A., retired, a comrade of the Spanish-American war. It was ordered that a letter expressing the club's sympathy be sent to General Lee's family.

There was a large attendance at the meeting, Major H. P. Dean, of the G. A. R., and Special Inspector Tobin, of the Army and Navy Union, were present and both made addresses.

The invitation of the Spanish-American War Nurses Association, expressed in a letter from its president, Dr. Anita Newcomb McGee, to the members of the Roosevelt Club to attend the monument to the Spanish-American war nurses, who died in the service in 1898, at Arlington, on Tuesday afternoon was accepted. A delegation of fifteen members was appointed to represent the club on that occasion.

DISTRICT DAUGHTERS ELECT MINOR OFFICERS

The District Daughters of the American Revolution held a meeting last night at the Shoreham Hotel, electing their minor officers and authorizing the appointment by the State regent of a select committee to inquire into the advisability of the District Daughters furnishing a "District room" in the new Continental Hall.

It was the first meeting presided over by Mrs. Ellen Spencer Mussey, who, with the vice state regent, was elected a short time before the meeting of the national congress of daughters in this city.

The minor officers, all of whom were re-elected, were as follows: Miss Mary Wilcox, recording secretary; Miss Mabel Louise White, treasurer; Mrs. J. D. Crossant, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. William De Reimer, chaplain. It was decided not to elect a historian at the meeting last night, and this will be done at a later date.

KEPT A CLOSE WATCH ON SERGEANT HARRY

Damaging testimony against Sergeant Harry, of No. 7 precinct, was heard by the police trial board, at its session, held in the Police Court building, yesterday afternoon.

Policeman Smith of the Seventh precinct, was the star witness. Harry said to have reported Smith some time ago and came near causing him to lose his position. At the trial yesterday Smith frequently made reference to a memorandum book to score points against Harry.

He testified that Harry shirked his duties and took naps while he should have been at work, and he declared that the sergeant was in the habit of roasting his superiors. One of the remarks Harry is said to have made concerns

Sylvester, to wit: "Now that Commissioner Ross is dead, I don't guess big Dick will be the whole show down the line." Smith said Harry never spoke respectfully of any of the officers at Headquarters.

Desk Sergeants Shepherd and Johnson and a number of other witnesses were called. In many points they corroborated Smith.

The verdict of the board is awaited with great interest. The case of Private Bloom was concluded yesterday, but no decision was rendered by the board. Bloom was summoned to Major Sylvester's office on March 14, and questioned regarding the crap game in which Privates Walsh, Hoffman, and Lallagher participated in the bunk room of the Seventh precinct station house. He denied that he knew anything of it.

Later he testified at the trial of the men, and Major Sylvester placed charges of making false statements against him. He stated yesterday that all he knew of the playing of crap in the station was what he had heard subsequent to his statements to Major Sylvester on March 14. He was represented by Attorney Wilton J. Lambert, who submitted his case without argument.

Death from heart disease was the substance of the certificate given by Coroner Nevitt tonight in the case of John H. Magee, 617 1/2 Q street northwest, who died in room at the Cosmopolitan Hotel yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Magee was a clerk in the Treasury Department, and was at his desk yesterday until 9 o'clock in the afternoon. After office hours he rented a room in the hotel, having been taken ill while walking along street, near New Jersey avenue northeast, the corner where the hotel is located. He explained to the clerk that he had a stinging pain in his left side, and a bell boy was sent to the room tannister to his wants.
