

WOMAN'S COURAGE
AMAZES LONDON

Mrs. Arthur Paget Undergoes Eight Operations.

IS SLOWLY MENDING

Beloved Englishwoman Who Fell Down an Elevator Shaft Has Herself Strapped to Couch and Taken to Germany.

LONDON, June 4.—That most remarkable of patients and sufferers, Mrs. Arthur Paget, is still maintaining that wonderful cheerfulness and clearness of mind which have so often been the result of her numerous troubles. Mrs. Arthur Paget has now undergone her eighth operation. She is in the highly skilled hands of Sir Alfred Fripp, the eminent surgeon of King Edward.

Mrs. Paget did not appear to have been successfully treated after her terrible fall down the well of the lift at her house in Belgrave square. So one day, hearing of the fame of the Hofa Institute in Berlin, she had herself strapped down to a mattress, and with great courage was conveyed to the German capital. There she remained eight months, undergoing much suffering, but buoyed up with the hope that she could be cured. But, alas, those optimistic anticipations were not realized, so Mrs. Paget returned home and placed herself in the hands of Sir Alfred Fripp.

Making Slow Progress.

Mrs. Arthur Paget rejoices in probably a larger number of friends than most people, and they are ever wanting to know how she is getting along. Her left leg is becoming sounder and stronger as time and treatment go on, but the right is giving much more trouble. On this limb the wound, ten centimetres long and five deep, proves very refractory. It does not heal naturally. The treatment of the wound is painful and has to be attended to daily. The right leg itself, owing to long disease, is naturally in a feeble condition, and during the process of healing, which has been attempted, it is encased in a steel sheath.

Friends Gather at Bedside.

In the meantime Mrs. Paget is practicing daily with crutches. She finds the attempt difficult enough, for that right limb is a very helpless one; but in spite of all her courage is never-failing. Such a constitution as she has is remarkable. Her bedside is constantly surrounded by friends and doctors. Royalties, diplomats, politicians and society people rally around the most remarkable patient modern times have known, and so Mrs. Paget, whose mental capacities are more than ever acute, takes the keenest interest in all questions of the moment. Only a few days ago the United States ambassador was making a speech, telling his audience of the Charing Cross Hospital how Mrs. Paget in the midst of all her sufferings had found time to interest herself vividly in a ward of that famous hospital which she has entered. And so it is all along with Mrs. Paget. Although for the time being disabled, she is living in the closest touch with the world and all that is interesting in it.

MONKEYS ARE JUDGES OF WHAT IS WHISKY

Case in English Court Rests Upon How Animals Behave When Under Influence of Liqueur.

LONDON, June 4.—All London smiles over the quaint case being tried at Clerkenwell Sessions before Mr. Macconnell, K. C., the title of which is "What is whisky?" This is being thrashed out by several illustrious lawyers and some very quaint witnesses. It is all a question as to whether pot still whisky can be equaled by still liquor. In order to give a practical illustration two monkeys were taken, one made intoxicated with pot still whisky and the other with patent still whisky. According to the evidence, the monkey treated to undue portions of pot still behaved after the manner of a drunken man, whereas the one dosed with patent still misbehaved, after the manner of an Irishman at Donnybrook Fair.

RICH UNCLE BEFRIENDS
DISINHERITED GROOM

Pays Bills of Nephew Who Married His Mother's French Maid.

NEW YORK, June 4.—John Alton Moorehead, the son of a Pittsburgh multi-millionaire, who was cast off by his father for marrying Miss Frances Doors, his mother's French maid, has found a refuge with his bride, it has just developed, after his father repudiated the bill for the couple at the Holland House in this city. Horace R. Moorehead, the rich uncle of the disinherited young bridegroom, has taken the young couple under his wing and declares that he will take care of his nephew until he is able to get on his feet and demonstrate that he can provide for himself and wife. Young Moorehead had been ill, and the uncle told him to take plenty of time to regain his strength and then to get a job and show that he could keep his pretty wife. "It's up to you to make good," said the uncle. "She's every bit as good as you or your family and you have got to stick to her. Now run along."

The uncle, it is reported, has taken kindly to his nephew because he did not go in for society when he was at Yale.

HORSE HE HAD KICKED BIT MAN IN THE LEG

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—When Pastor J. Meek, a huckster, kicked a horse in the ribs at Third and Federal streets, Camden, the horse dug his teeth in the man's left leg and held him until the huckster was relieved by Policeman Murray's club. Meek was arrested for cruelty to animals and given thirty days in jail.

De Reszke Has New Patti
In Pretty New York Girl

Vivienne Fidellee, Who Taught Herself How to Sing Gounod's "Ave Maria" By Listening to a Phonograph

PACH PHOTO.

PARIS, June 4.—A new Patti is said to have been discovered in the person of a pretty young New York girl of seventeen years, Vivienne Fidellee, who has just commenced a course of singing lessons under Jean de Reszke.

Vivienne was taken to a New York manager's office by her father, who lives in a poor quarter of the city, last April. She sang Gounod's "Ave Maria" with richness and purity, and it was learned that the only "instruction" she had had was that gained by hearing Melba's singing of it reproduced by a phonograph.

Vivienne's gift was reported so enthusiastically to M. de Reszke that he offered to pay her expenses to Paris in order to hear her sing. Miss Fidellee was cabled for and came to Paris with her mother. De Reszke heard her sing, and at once offered to give her two years' training without any fee.

GERMANY OPPOSES
NAVY DISARMAMENT

Press of Fatherland Scorns English Proposal on Basis Now Suggested. Reasons for Attitude.

LONDON, June 4.—It is but natural that the question of international disarmament excites more interest in Germany than in Great Britain, where it has originally been raised. The majority of the Berlin press declare against the plan and from this attitude, it is assumed that, if the proposal should ever be made with serious intent, it will receive scant courtesy at the hands of the Kaiser. The Tagliche Rundschau sarcastically remarks that Sir Edward Grey hit the nail on the head when he declared that the present was the time to raise the question of disarmament because the superiority of the British navy over the navies of other countries is now greater than at any other time. In these circumstances it would naturally suit Great Britain to bring about a limitation of the naval expansion of other countries. If England, says the journal, ever made a proposal regarding disarmament, Germany could only reply by accepting the principle of a limitation of naval expansion on the basis of an equality of the fleets of all the great powers. Germany might well agree to the cessation of naval expansion when the German navy was as powerful as the British, "Germany," concludes the Rundschau, "certainly cannot afford to agree to limit her program of naval construction on any other conditions."

MISS BARRYMORE GIVES LOVER A LONG CHASE

Leaves Boston for Vermont, Followed by Ardent British Captain and Puzzles Gossips.

BOSTON, June 4.—Miss Ethel Barrymore, the actress, has gone to Windsor, Vt., leaving during the night of the 3rd, leaving her carriage in the hands of a still engaged to Capt. Harry Graham, the British army officer. By a curious coincidence Captain Graham, reported to be her fiancé, who has also been staying in this city, left his hotel, saying that he was going to the country to stay until Monday. An apparently well-grounded report has it that the captain, failing to obtain a renewal of his engagement, has gone to Vermont, there to further plead his cause. Two months ago the engagement of the two was reported to have been broken. Miss Barrymore refused to either deny or confirm the rumor that she was to be married to the British officer. "All the stuff printed about my marrying Captain Graham and my acquaintance with him are a pack of lies."

SICK HEADACHE

Positively cured by these Little Pills. They also relieve Distress from Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Too Hearty Eating. A perfect remedy for Dizziness, Headache, Stomach Troubles, Bad Taste in the Mouth, Coated Tongue, etc. PAIN IN THE SIDE, TORPID LIVER. They regulate the Bowels. Purely vegetable. Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

GENUINE MUST BEAR FAC-SIMILE SIGNATURE
CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.
REFUSE SUBSTITUTES.

LEPERS IN REVOLT
DESECRATE GRAVES

Uprising in Madagascar When Colony Learns That No Cure for Them Could Be Effected.

LONDON, June 4.—The last mail from Madagascar gives news of an insurrection in a leper colony at Farafangana. Becoming desperate on being told that they could not be cured, a number of the French inmates plotted to massacre the French sisters who cared for them. The plot was discovered by the administrator, though not before the European cemetery had been desecrated and the body of one of the sisters dragged from the grave and mutilated. The ringleader, Marie Harper, was sent with herself and her accomplices to the island of Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie. There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie. There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

REPORTER IS AUTHOR OF WALES' SPEECHES

Prince's "Notable Orations" Delivered After Rehearsal Before Mirror. Dreads Talking in Public.

LONDON, June 4.—To make a speech in public is an ordeal which the prince of Wales dreads to go through, yet he very frequently is obliged to face a big audience and stammer out his prepared speech. His great speech at Guildhall, at the luncheon offered by the city of London to the Prince and Princess on their return from India, was a fine piece of oratory. This, like all the Prince's speeches, was rehearsed over and over again, the prince standing before a mirror in the Marlborough House and spouting away regardless of servants entering the room or any other interruption. The composition of the speech is attributed to a special newspaper reporter, who accompanied the prince on his tour and who has published a notable book, "A Vision of India," as the result of the trip.

LIVED NEAR EACH OTHER.
MET ONCE IN 20 YEARS

SHARON, Pa., June 4.—Although living but forty-five miles apart for the last twenty years, Mrs. Thomas Daniels and her husband, Harper, met Sunday for the first time in two decades at the home of the former.

MALARIA AN INSIDIOUS FOE TO HEALTH
Malaria is an atmospheric poison which we unconsciously breathe into our lungs through the impure air arising from low, marshy places, stagnant ponds, damp cellars, sewer pipes, improperly ventilated houses, decaying vegetable matter, etc. Day after day these germs and poisons are taken into the lungs, and as the blood passes through them it becomes infected with the poison and in its circulation distributes the microbes of disease to all parts of the body. Malaria is a very insidious disease; it gives no warning of its coming until the circulation is filled with the poison and this foe to health has the system at its mercy. The blood becomes polluted, thin and weak and its slow, irregular circulation fails to properly nourish and strengthen the body. Then the entire system is attacked, and if the germs and poisons of Malaria are allowed to remain the strongest constitution will break down. No one can feel well when the system is in a malarial condition; the vitality is weak, the appetite poor, digestion deranged, the complexion grows sallow and the entire body feels the effects of the poison. Malaria must be removed from the system through the circulation and the only medicine that can accomplish this is S. S. S. It not only cleanses the blood of all unhealthy, morbid matter, but destroys the germs, cures Malaria and restores this vital fluid to a strong, healthy condition. S. S. S. is made of roots, herbs and barks combining purifying and tonic properties which keep the blood free of all poisons and the system in perfect condition. While destroying the germs and building up the weak, polluted blood S. S. S. gives tone and vigor to the entire system. Book on the blood and medical advice without charge.
S. S. S. PURELY VEGETABLE.
THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

QUEEN OF SPAIN
OF HUMBLE ORIGIN

Battenbergs Descendants of Polish Waiter's Child.

RECOGNIZED BY VICTORIA

English Gave Ena's Mother in Marriage to One Despite Opposition of Royalty.

PARIS, June 4.—If Queen Victoria of England were alive today she would smile over the curious revenge that fate has brought about in the matter of the "despised Battenbergs." When she gave her youngest daughter, the Princess Beatrice, to Henry Maurice of Battenberg—a princeling without a principality, without estates and penniless, she not only offended all the other members of her family, but put the royalties of Europe in a ferment. Poor Prince Henry was so unhappy over the family disputes that he begged permission to lead an expedition to Western Africa, hoping that it might prove fatal to him. And so it was, for he died there of malaria on the 23d of January, 1896, leaving a widow and four children.

Ena Second Child. The second of these children was Victoria Eugenie Julie Eve of Battenberg, popularly known as the Princess Ena, who has become the Queen of All the Spains. The reason for the intense and angry opposition on the part of Victoria's family to the match lay in the fact that the Battenbergs are descended on a Polish waiter and that the grandmother of the present Queen of Spain was originally married. The rise of the Princess Ena is therefore one of the most dramatic in the court romances of Europe.

On the 12th of November, 1885, a baby girl was born to a Polish servant in the employ of the Grand Duke of Darmstadt, whose name was Isaac Hauke. The baby girl grew to be a lovely woman and when Alexander of Hesse saw her in 1881 he fell in love with her and the two were married. Alexander was a Lutheran prince and the girl, Julie Theresa, was of the Jewish faith. Alexander was a prince and Julie was a commoner, but neither fate nor station stood in the way of love. Alexander made amorganatic—sometimes called a left-handed—marriage with the handsome Frankish Julie, who was three years his senior, and Julie became a Lutheran.

The easy-going Grand Duke of Darmstadt helped to smooth over the matter by bestowing the Hessian title of Countess of Battenberg on Prince Alexander's wife, and so the Hessian princess gave her the title of princess with a right of descent in the title to her children.

So it is that the descendants of this morganatic marriage are not known by the Hessian title, but by that of Battenberg.

Queen's Good Fortune. Good fortune has ever gone hand in hand with the Princess Ena. The Battenbergs were, in common parlance, as poor as church mice, and it was only by close economy that they were enabled to live on the $20,000 which Queen Victoria added to the young couple's income by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse.

The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie. There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

There were sentimental and national reasons why Eugenie should help out the fortunes of the young princess. The national reason was that her beloved and only son loved Beatrice, but the assagai of a Zulu ended that romance. Queen Victoria, guided by the young couple's income, by making Prince Henry governor of the Isle of Wight, then governor of Carisbrook Castle. But had not the fairy godmother appeared, Ena would have brought no dot to Alphonse. The good fairy was ex-Empress Eugenie.

GRISSOMS DIVORCED
ARE UNITED AGAIN

Wife Once Attempted Suicide in Washington.

FRIENDS ARE SURPRISED

Once Thought That Reconciliation between the Two Was Next to Impossible.

News of the marriage of Mrs. Volma Grissom, of Spray, N. C., to her divorced husband, William Grissom, of the same city, was received with no little surprise by Washingtonians who remember her visit to this city some months ago.

Mrs. Grissom is the woman who attempted to end her life in Farragut Square last winter by shooting herself in the left breast. The bullet was deflected and failed to strike her heart. After several weeks' treatment at the Emergency Hospital she was discharged from the institution.

Divorced Husband's Visit. Her divorced husband came to Washington immediately after hearing of her attempt at self-destruction, and paid her hospital bill six weeks in advance.

At that time he stated that he did not believe there was any possibility of a reconciliation. Mrs. Grissom stated at the hospital that she wanted to die because her husband had procured a divorce and the court had granted him the custody of their son. She was allowed to keep the lad for six months and then he was returned to his father.

Her Attempt at Suicide. It was after this change was made that the woman came to Washington and tried to end her life. The woman went to Spray, N. C., after she left the Emergency Hospital, and since her arrival in her home town friends have been working to effect a reconciliation. The divorced man and wife were reunited last Saturday.

WHITE ROBIN ASTONISHES CURIOUS BANGOR PEOPLE

BANGOR, June 4.—A white-backed robin is the latest curiosity in Bangor. It has established itself in an elm tree on the grounds of Franklin A. Wilson, and there is nearly always a crowd there watching it.

SPENT $50
WITH DOCTORS

Got Barber's Itch From Shaving—Worse Under Doctors' Care—Tried Everything and Was Discouraged—Railroad Official Cannot Praise Cuticura Too Much

CURED BY ONE SET OF CUTICURA—COST $1

"I want to send you a word of thanks for what the wonderful Cuticura Remedies have done for me. I got shaved and got barber's itch, and doctored with my own doctor; but it got worse all the time. I spent in all about fifty dollars with doctors, but still it got worse. A friend of mine wanted me to try the Cuticura Remedies. As I had tried everything, I was discouraged. I bought one set of the Cuticura Remedies (Soap, Ointment, and Pills, cost $1.00) and they cured me entirely, so I cannot praise them too much. I would be willing to do most anything for the promotion of a cause like the Cuticura Remedies. They are wonderful, and I have recommended them to every one where occasion demanded it. I think every family should know about the Cuticura Remedies where they have children."

Allen Ridgway, Station Master, The Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, Oct. 2, 1905. Barneget Station, N. J.

"BEST IN MARKET"
Are Cuticura Soap and Ointment

"Herewith I express to you my most sincere thanks for the wonderful cure of the scalp of my child by means of the Cuticura Remedies. They are the best Soap and Ointment ever sold in the market." Mrs. M. Neuner, 1206 E. Eager St., Baltimore, Md. June 21, 1905.

Complete External and Internal Treatment for every Humors, from Pimples to Scrofula, from Itchiness to Age, consisting of Cuticura Soap, 25c. Ointment, 25c. Pills, 25c. per box. (In form of Scrofula-Coated Pills, 25c. per box.) They are had of all druggists. A few cents' worth cures the most distressing cases when all else fails. Putnam Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. 60¢ Mailed Free, "How to Cure Torturing, Disgusting Humors," and "The Great Skin Book."

We sell at retail, quoting wholesale prices! Close daily 5 p. m. Saturday, 1 p. m.

P. Andrews Paper Co., Inc. E. Faber's Rubber Bands, 4-lb. boxes, assorted sizes; special price, per lb., $2.40. 827-29 La. Ave. 628-10 D St.

ARLINGTON CARBON PAPER, assorted colors, 2 1/2" x 10" sheets. 50¢ per 100. 100 sheets. $1.00. 611 7th St. Washington's Painless Dentist.

Pedro Domecq's SHERRIES. 19 standards in the original Spanish cases. Absolutely unexcelled in delicacy and age. 60c to $3 full quart. SOLE DISTRIBUTOR: Christain Xander, Quality 909 7th St. Phone House M. 274

POULTRY WIRE, 45c. A special value in poultry wire, 4c 100 sq. feet by roll; 5c 100 sq. feet, if roll is cut. Two Phones—M. 3314 and M. 3315. JOHN B. ESPEY, Hardware 1010 Pa. Ave.

LANSBURGH FURNITURE CO. Inter-Ocean Bldg., 512 9th St.

CONGRESSIONAL COFFEE. A delicious blending of rich Java and Mocha. 35c lb. Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. Main Store, Cor. 7th and E.

Lucas' Paints Are Famous. Especially the Red Label quality. There's none better than Lucas'. They're known the world over. All colors. We deliver paints to all parts of the city. $1.50 per gallon. R. M. Brown, 7th & N Sts.

TIMES WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

THE PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD HAS ISSUED ITS SUMMER EXCURSION BOOK

CONTAINING ROUTES AND RATES TO THE LEADING Seashore and Mountain Resorts NORTH SOUTH EAST WEST

COPIOUSLY ILLUSTRATED ON SALE AT ALL TICKET OFFICES AT 10 CENTS PER COPY

J. E. WOOD, Passenger Traffic Manager. GEO. W. BOYD, General Passenger Agent.

AMUSEMENTS. AMUSEMENTS.

ONE WEEK—Beginning Today—GREAT FREE DOUBLE BILL AT LUNA PARK

(Frederick Ingersoll, designer, builder, and director.) PHILIPPINE MILITARY BAND OF SIXTY PIECES. THE NOBLES, High Divers. Bands and Hippodrome, afternoon and evening.

DON'T FAIL TO SEE THE GREAT FIRE DIVE INTO A BLAZING TANK OF GASOLINE EVERY NIGHT THIS WEEK. An act of unequalled daring—an audacious defiance of deadly danger, staggering belief.

LUNA PARK IS EVERYBODY'S PLEASURE PLANT. Ten minutes from Washington or Alexandria, not far from anywhere. Cars from Twelfth and Pennsylvania avenues, or Aqueduct Bridge; direct service; reduced rate of FIFTEEN CENTS ROUND TRIP. Park opens 1 p. m. daily; 10 a. m. Sundays, holidays, and special occasions.

COMING TO LUNA PARK—"Kings of the Air." ROY KNABENSHUE—LINCOLN BEACHEY. June 12 to 18, in the crowning glory of aerial achievement. THE KNABENSHUE AIRSHIP. Two flights daily, weather permitting.

Matting and Rug Sale

AN IDEA OF THE VALUES. The regular 15c grade of fancy Chinese Matting—choice plaid patterns—for 7 1/2c

W. B. Moses & Sons F Street, Cor. 11th.

SACRIFICE SALE!

Big bargains for every woman in Suits, Coats, Skirts and Waists.

L. Noot & Son, 736 7th St. N. W. near H.

No Pain—No High Prices.

Beautiful Set of Teeth, $4.00. PAINLESS MOTLEY. Gold Crowns, Bridge Work, $2.00. Plates, $3.00. 611 7th St. Washington's Painless Dentist.

Pedro Domecq's SHERRIES

19 standards in the original Spanish cases. Absolutely unexcelled in delicacy and age. 60c to $3 full quart. SOLE DISTRIBUTOR: Christain Xander, Quality 909 7th St. Phone House M. 274

Grand Concert at CHEVY LAKE CHASE

By a Large Section of U. S. MARINE BAND. Every Evening Including Sunday. Dancing Every Evening Except Sunday. ADMISSION FREE.

Excursions.

Chesapeake Beach

Shady Picnic Grounds, Rustic Pagodas, Mammoth Boardwalk, All Amusements, Excellent Hotels and Cafes.

Haley's Band

FREE DANCING. Saturdays . 25c Round Other Days 50c Trip Train Schedule in Railroad Column.

SECOND GRAND ANNUAL EXCURSION. WHITE LAUNDRY DRIVERS TO RIVER VIEW, THURSDAY, JUNE 7.

Country Square Dance. Pie-Eating Contest. Foot Races. Contests Start 2:30 P. M. Steamer St. Johns leaves 10 a. m., 3:15 and 6:45 p. m. TICKETS: Adults, 25c. Children, 15c.

TO MOUNT VERNON

STR. CHARLES MACALESTER Daily 10 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. (Sundays excepted) Fare (round trip excursion ticket), 50 cents.