HONORABLE DEFEAT GEORGETOWN'S FATE

Crew Deserves Warm Support and Another Trial at Poughkeepsie.

SULLIVAN AND HANLON

May Meet in Baltimore on July 4. Leonard and Levy Nearly Bet on Coming Bout.

By THOMAS S. RICE. Defeat with honor. Such is the record of Georgetown at Poughkeepsie. The lightest and youngest crew in the regatta, it worked under more adverse conditions than any crew that ever entered the intercollegiate, and the fact that it finished last is no disgrace at all.

Nothing more regrettable has ever occurred in the history of American sport than the manner in which the Vesper crew of Philadelphia was organized and handled in the English Henley. The Henley is the strictest amateur event in the whole range of sports, and when it was proposed to send the Vesper eight to race, many who were familiar with the rules governing the regatta predicted that the American crew would not be allowed to enter.

The latest news from Kid Sullivan is that the clever Washington lightweight made a bonanza out of his fight with Ed Kelly at Baltimore, on July 4. The Kid has been out of the ring a long time now because of an injury to his left hand in a bout with Turk Russell, but he is the portside duke in his shape again and that he would like nothing better than a chance to meet the money king.

That bout between Eddie Crowley, the peevish one, and Jimmy and Levey, the large crowd to still hanging fire, will take place soon. It has been delayed so long now that it will probably have to be postponed until the first of Fourth of July, as Tommy says he is due in New York on that day to take a punch at some unknown in private engagement for the edification of a bunch of hot sports who want to see warlike doings on the holiday.

Down on 12 street, where Tommy is one of the family, they think he is about the best ever and can't see where there is any ground to be gained by releasing him. They think he is so good that they are willing to bet money on him, and if the match does take place, they promise to be the same back. On this form Sullivan should win, but Hanlon is famous for his ability to take punishment and it was probably the private a dozen policemen in fear of being forced into action.

Through the defeat of Pittsburgh by Cincinnati yesterday at Cincinnati the Giants took a step upward on the pennant ladder. McGraw's men are now in second place, tied with the Pirates. Chicago and St. Louis are the clubs tight, and the man on the leading position in the race.

AMATEUR BASEBALL. The Washington Boys' Club took their initial game in the Monumental League from the Navy Yard Stars, who forfeited to the former, on Saturday.

Personal Comment on Men and Things in the Field of Sports

BASEBALL. For the first time since leaving Pittsburgh, Brantford, the Quaker first baseman, has been accused of not moving fast enough or hitting hard enough to be of great value to his club.

President Ban Johnson of the American League, is considering the case of Charlie Jones, Washington's outfielder. Jones lost control of his head the other day and shed a drinking glass against the grandstand to show his indignation at Umpire She dan.

After winning ten out of fourteen games, the Detroitis drew less than 2,000 persons on an ideal day. Some of the fans couldn't understand, though, why Detroit couldn't afford to keep half a dozen extra players in idleness.

In Harry A. Eells, the stocky Kansas City recruit, Manager Lajoie has a twirler who is an adept in watching the bases. Eells shoots them over to first with cannon ball speed and the opposing runners do not seem to care to take too much of a lead when "Slippery" is on the rubber.

The veteran Tim Murnane tells how the good pitchers are being batted this season. Then his "personally conducted" Boston American League Club is held to three or four daily sprints by some rude newcomer who pried into the league baseball without even being introduced to Tim.

Just as fast in the mud as on dry ground is not a description of a horse. They say this and more about Mike Doolin, the Quakers' shortstop.

Any time Fred Clarke can lead his Pittsburgh team into a victory over the Giants there is a fine dialogue between McGraw and the equally fiery Pirates. The other day the spitting kept half a dozen policemen in fear of being forced into action.

The Toledo club, of the American Association, counted on getting pitcher Louis Leroy, of the Yankees, to even up the Morarity deal. Half a dozen Eastern League teams would take the Indian.

CHARLES E. DURVEY. Charles E. Durvey, in speaking of some experimental work he made in the use of alcohol for motor purposes in 1882, said he discovered that alcohol required either a little more heat or a little finer pulverization than is needed in the use of gasoline. He thinks that an increase of power is obtainable from the use of alcohol, but is unable to say with certainty how great this is.

113. and Waterlight, 112. The race, which in the two years of its history, has been won only by three-year-olds, has been won by three-year-olds, in 1904, and by Sysonby, with 111 pounds last year, will have a very good chance of $17,000.

The Coney Island Jockey Club on Thursday of this week will close for the autumn meeting at Sheephead Bay the newest of the popular private sweepstakes races, the Waldorf, six furlongs, each subscriber to have the right to name two horses and start one.

Oiseau, the horse which was regarded by many horsemen last season as second only to Sysonby, after having been compelled to pass the earlier of the great spring handicaps, now is set down as a doubtful starter for the $25,000 Brighton Handicap, nearly a month away.

William K. Vanderbilt's gift of the Oiseau stallion Halma to the Jockey Club's Bureau of Breeding, and the expected arrival of Halma in America about July 1, will leave the Vanderbilt breeding farm in France in the hands of an American-bred stallion, though Mr. Vanderbilt has on his farm, the Haras de Villebon, about twenty-two American-bred stallions.

The most valuable stake for two-year-olds of the spring season, the $20,000 Great Trial, at full six furlongs, over the Futurity course, will be the big racing event of this week at the Sheepshead Bay track. The entries for the Great Trial include about all the best horses that have raced this spring.

Mike Murray, manager of the Lincoln Athletic Club of Chelsea, Mass., is trying to arrange a match between Aurelio Herrera and Kid Herman, of Chicago. Murray has sent the men an offer and is waiting to hear from them. He would like to put them on the latter part of next month.

The postponed bout between Dave Barry, of California, and Jimmy Barry, the Kansas City middleweight, will take place at La Salle on July 4.

Jack Dougherty, the Milwaukee welterweight, has been signed by the Lincoln Athletic Club of Chelsea, Mass., to meet Joe Walcott, who has decided to re-enter the ring.

WILLIE FITZGERALD, who put Amby McGarry away last Friday night, has received an offer from the Grand Rapids Athletic Club to meet Jack Dougherty, of Milwaukee, some time next month.

KING EDWARDS' HEALTH CAUSE OF MUCH ALARM. LONDON, June 25.—Alarm is felt today over King Edward's health, organic troubles having come with the increase in flesh. Drowsiness is his greatest enemy, and it is whispered during the luncheon to Mrs. Longworth he was several times asleep and also dozed in his box at the Ascot races.

COLLEGIANS EXCEL IN POLE VAULTING

Only Event in Which Rahl Rahl Laddies Are Better Than Clubmen.

GREAT WORK THIS SPRING

Records Have Been Repeatedly Broken During Past Season—Now Stand Twelve Feet Five Inches.

Pole vaulting is on the upward swing. Collegiate celebrities are topping the bar at record-breaking heights, the spring competition having been productive of some wonderful performances. Little Gilbert, of Yale, soaring over the cross stick at 12 feet 3 inches, smashed Norman Dore's record of 12 feet 1 1/2 inches, but scarcely had Gilbert turned the trick on the Californian, when his own record was bettered by Leroy Sams, the Hercules Hoosier, who succeeded in hurling himself over the bar at the remarkable height of 12 feet 5 inches.

Lack of Vaulters in Clubs. There is one fact, however, which is causing adverse comment among the followers of the vaulting game, and that is the lack of vaulters among athletic clubs. To the lovers of pure club sport this is not palatable, but nevertheless it is the truth.

Vaulting a Grand Sport. Pole vaulting is a grand sport. It is a great body-builder, requiring suppleness and spring of body and limb muscle, great skill and strength of arm. It presents a fine field of endeavor for novices, being mastered rather by earnest work than by natural ability.

WISCONSIN ROWING FUTURE UNCERTAIN. What the Faculty Will Do Next Year. NEW YORK, June 25.—Oiseau, the colt for which "Diamond Jim" Brady paid $20,000, is down with a similar ailment to that which took off the gallant Sysonby.

HELD FOR FAST DRIVING ON PENNSYLVANIA AVE. Policeman Holmes, of the bicycle squad of the First Precinct, put up a plucky fight last night with a colored man and three colored women, who were in a buggy driving recklessly down Pennsylvania avenue.

COW DRAGGED BY KEEPER IN FRONT OF LOCOMOTIVE. OWENSBURG, Ky., June 25.—While grazing a cow along the Henderson Route railroad, Lucien Lewis came near losing his life. A passenger train, running at the rate of fifty miles an hour, frightened the cow. The animal dragged the boy, who had a rope around his neck, and the train, just in front of the engine. The boy's head was struck by the cow and he was killed. Aside from three broken ribs, the boy was not seriously hurt.

IS YALE BLUFFING ABOUT SLOW TIME

Suspicion Arising That Her Crew Is Much Better Than Figures Indicate.

CAMPAIN FOR A CAPTAINCY

Bacon Expected to Lead Harvard Next Year and Sophomore Noyes Old Eli.

GALES FERRY, Conn., June 25.—Sixty John Kennedy, the Yale crew coach, has wound up the training of his three crews without giving the anxious a chance to get a line on them. The crafty "Old Fox" he picked out the worst weather condition, which to force Yale for her tin, he ever since the oarsmen came in. Harvard, meantime, has been looking for snap easy conditions and has picked them for her time rows. In consequence, Harvard has made from one and one-half to two minutes better time than Yale in all the four-mile spins.

Bacon and Noyes. At both quarters the campaigning for the captaincy of another year is going on in a lively fashion. It is taken for granted at Harvard quarters that Bob Bacon will lead next year's crew. He is son of Bob Bacon, who rowed for years on "Foxy" Bancroft's crew, and who is now First Assistant Secretary of State. He has been number six in the varsity eight for two years and captain of the freshmen crew.

NEW STYLE AIRSHIP FOR BOY AERONAUT. Beachey to Make Flights From Luna Park in Improved Machine. As a result of the magnificent flight over Washington, made by Lincoln Beachey on June 14, Frederick Ingersoll, designer, builder, and director of Luna Park at Washington, as well as half a dozen other big ones, and who is interested in nearly fifty parks in the United States, Canada, and Mexico, has gone into the airship business with the intention of building a ship which will make headway against a forty-mile wind and break the record for aerial navigation in the entire history of scientific investigation.

LIGHTNING HITS TWICE IN THE SAME PLACE. AUBURN, N. Y., June 25.—Thomas Sullivan, of Montezuma, merchant and politician, was stricken by lightning in a peculiar manner while driving across the marshes. He raised a steel rod umbrella, and the electric current took it for a lightning rod.

FROM HUMAN SOURCE? It is reported that Sysonby contracted his mysterious ailment from a human attendant. Oiseau has one or two small bald spots over his eyes. How Oiseau contracted the disease is hard to say. It could not be from contagion, as none of the fellow-stables of Sysonby suffered from his ailment, and horses like Wild Mint, Manzanillo and Von Tromp lived right alongside the dead champion.

LEAVING OUT DEAD ONES

Nothing Doing for Hart, Ruhlin, and Johnson in This Series of Scraps.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 25.—A heavyweight tournament to take place in this city to bring a legitimate world's champion out of the bunch of claimants now trying to tell the sporting world how good they are, is the latest statement of Tom McCarey, manager of the Pacific A. C. Here are the men he wants to get together and sift out a world-beater from their midst: Jack O'Brien, Hugo Kelly, Al. Kaufman, Sam Berger, Jack Root, and Tommy Burns. Six men and five fights "Joe listens good on paper."

DEAD ONES PUT AWAY. "Of course, we will pass over the outrageous howl which will go up from Marvin Hart, Gus Ruhlin, and Johnson. Marvin Hart is a mighty pert young fellow, but he won't do. Gus Ruhlin is the best that Herkimer county ever produced, and Johnson has the saffron stripe."

Lightweight Dream. Here is Tom's other dream: Britt to meet McGovern, Herrman to meet Hook Keyes, the winners of the two fights to meet for the privilege to fight Nelson the first week of the racing season, the winner of the light weight in San Francisco scattered all over the country.
