

ment he managed to bring influence of bear which saved him from entire dismissal. The seven men, including Mr. Flower, were notified by Captain Poole, Superintendent of the State, War, and Navy building early in June, that their resignations were necessary. They were given two weeks' leave of absence after July 15, and their resignations became effective July 1.

Root Chairman of Commission. The dismissals were made by Captain Poole in accordance with instructions from the building commission, which is composed of Secretary Root, chairman, and Secretaries Taft and Bonaparte.

Mr. Shaw and Mr. McLeod are more than eighty years of age. Three of the men discharged were Civil War veterans. Somers and Rose were in the Civil War, and Neal lost a leg as the result of his experiences in the Mexican war. Each has been in poor health for a number of years, and it will be no surprise to any one to learn of another's death at any time.

The services will be held at the house, 506 Third street northwest, this evening, after which the body will be placed on the train and taken to Chesapeake county, Md., where it will be buried in the church yard of historic old Durham Parish Church, which Mr. Flower's father attended as a boy, and where he was buried and interred.

Mr. Flower is survived by his wife and a daughter, Mabel, and a son, John.

MYSTERY SHROUDS DOUBLE ARRESTS CORWIN ROBBERY

Believed There Is More Behind the Alleged Theft.

NEW YORK, July 20.—A handsome young woman, silk gowned, blonde, and giving evidence of good breeding, who gave her name as Elizabeth McBetty, twenty years of age, of 23 West Forty-fifth street, and a man of good appearance describing himself as Alfred King, six months, thirty-one years of age, living at the Hotel Cadillac, were taken into custody last night by the police and are being held as suspicious characters.

While the detective bureau is singularly reticent in regard to the prisoners it is generally understood that they have been arrested in connection with the alleged theft of $50,000 worth of jewelry from Mrs. Hansy Corwin, which was reported yesterday. It is expected that the prisoners will be arraigned in Center street police court today, and that the facts in regard to the robbery will then come out.

Mrs. Corwin was reported to have lost her jewelry while spending the night at the home of a friend in Forty-fifth street. The story of first arrest was that she had left the jewels on a bureau when she retired and that they were missing when she awoke. The door was locked and investigation showed that entrance through the window was practically impossible.

On account of the secrecy observed by every one interested in the case it is believed there is more behind the alleged robbery than has been brought to light. In this connection it is reported that there was a dinner at which Mrs. Corwin was a guest before the robbery occurred, and it is stated that the two persons under arrest were also present. It is supposed that plans were made at the dinner to effect the robbery.

Mrs. McBetty is said to be the runaway wife of a millionaire living in Riverside, Cal. It is stated that she came to New York about two years ago and had known Mrs. Corwin for about six months. King is said by the police to be the husband of May Bonner, a notorious badger woman who deserted King to become the mistress of "Big Cleveland," a bank burglar.

Mrs. McBetty and King were arraigned before Magistrate Mayo on a short affidavit charging them with being implicated in the crime of grand larceny. Magistrate Mayo committed them to the Tombs in default of $5,000 bail each for examination tomorrow morning.

Mrs. Corwin was present in court during the proceedings.

USED BAD WORDS BEFORE COMPANY

But Just Which Lady Used 'Em Isn't Exactly Clear.

It was a drama of neighborly discord, with the eternal feminine filling the cast. The last act was given with great effect in the Police Court this morning.

Mrs. May Gould was an unwilling occupant of the role of the disturbing element. Two women, whose names were consigned to oblivion by the noise in the court room when they were called, deposed as follows:

"We were in our backyard and had company. Suddenly Mrs. Gould came out in her yard and began to swear and call us all sorts of vile, low, common names. We had just put a stop to it. Mrs. Gould, with the tears welling in her eyes, and blood mantling her cheeks until they were banners of wrath, said:

"Your honor, I went out into my yard, and these two women were in their back yard drinking beer with a lot of women. Then they began to talk and swear something fearful. I did not call them awful names. I went back into the house with my mother-in-law."

Judge O'Neal solved the problem by taking Mrs. Gould's personal bonds. The curtain was rung down on the performance, and the eternal feminine was for a time off the boards.

ra, and late in the afternoon the Marblehead swung out to sea.

The Navy Department advised were from Commander Mulligan, captain of the Marblehead, but he did not give the names of the members of the commission from either country, nor state whether Honduras was requested. It is believed, however, that the commissioners for Salvador will represent their ally, Honduras. It is understood at the State Department that Senator Pecas, who was delegated by the President of Salvador to come to Washington as a special emissary, but later recalled when actual hostilities broke out, is chairman of the commission for his country.

Ministers on Board. Minister Merry, it is learned by the State Department, boarded the Marblehead at Acapulco, while Minister Comandante joined him at San Jose, Guatemala. Neither minister will participate in the proceedings, but it is understood that they may offer suggestions if called upon by the commissioners and keep this Government posted on the progress that is being made. As the Marblehead is equipped with wireless telegraphy, she may move southward in order to get into communication with the station at Colson, so that dispatches from the ministers may promptly be transmitted to the State Department through the navy.

Ministers' Powers Limited. Neither minister is authorized to go any further than to act as counselor to the envoys from the country in which he is stationed, and to use his good offices so far as it lies in his power to bring about a peaceful settlement of the questions at issue.

Mr. Merry's mission, perhaps, is the more important of the two, he having been authorized by the State Department to the extent of offering the good offices of that country in arranging a settlement. Mr. Comandante's position, in case Honduras has delegates aboard, might prove somewhat embarrassing and delicate, inasmuch as he represents this country in Honduras as well as Guatemala.

Even these two ministers has fallen as much responsibility in a way as affecting the peace of Central America, as fell upon Ambassador White, upon Italy, at the conference between Germany and France on Moroccan affairs, in Spain last spring. The Central American situation has but little interest for the powers of the world. It is a crisis, inasmuch as it represents the matter as seriously as if the questions affected the peace of Europe.

RECOVERED HER SPEECH AFTER 3 YEARS' SILENCE. ST. JOSEPH, Mich., July 20.—After being unable to speak above a faint whisper for over three years, Mrs. H. S. Roblee, wife of the pastor of the First Congregational Church of this city, suddenly recovered her voice.

Her ten-year-old son asked her to sing. To humor the boy she played on the piano the music of a favorite song, tried to sing the first words of the verse and was overjoyed to find that her vocal powers had returned in full vigor.

ARROW IN GIRL'S EYE. SHOT BY HER PLAYMATE. NORWOOD, N. Y., July 20.—"Get out of the way or I'll shoot," said little Erastus Wilkins to his playmate, Flossy Stacey, as he pointed his bow and arrow toward her. "I won't get out of the way; shoot if you want to," replied Flossy. Erastus did the arrow striking the girl full in the left eye and burying its sharp point in the optic.

Flossy is nine years old and Erastus is seven. The boy had no intention of injuring his little friend and she had no thought that he would. She was only a few feet in front of him when the arrow hit her.

NO MORE MONEY FOR HARRY THAW, MOTHER'S THREAT

Must Accept Her Plan of Defense or Be Cut Off.

NEW YORK, July 20.—There was no doubt today that Mrs. William Thaw will force her son, Harry K. Thaw, to accept the plea of insanity as his defense for the murder of Stanford White. She holds the purse strings and without the Thaw riches the young man would be unable to make a fight for his life.

By his father's will he was left an income of $2,500 a year, but his mother generously increased this to $8,000. She can stop it whenever she pleases.

Cuts Off His Income. That she has cut off this income is indicated by the fact that Harry Thaw is without funds.

In her last interview with her son Mrs. Thaw insisted and then pleaded that he consent to the insanity defense, as she was convinced that it was the only chance to save him from the electric chair. He refused, and they parted almost in anger.

Mrs. Thaw went to the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. L. Carnegie, at Roslyn, L. I., and yesterday she did not visit the Tombs. She is keeping away, it was said today, to give her son time to think over her proposition, to fully realize how helpless he will be to make a defense without her financial aid.

She is confident that he will accept her view eventually.

Olcott Gets $25,000 Fee. The fact that she has retained Judge William K. Olcott, whom Harry dismissed, is evidence of her intention to pursue the insanity defense. It was by the Olcott firm independently of anything Harry Thaw may do. It was reliably stated today that the firm received a $25,000 retainer.

The fact that his detectives are at work today looking up evidence as to Thaw's mental condition prior to the shooting of White and that he has engaged former District Attorney Edwin J. Lichtenwalner, of Allentown, Pa., one of the most noted experts of emotional insanity, indicates that he is going right ahead preparing the defense regardless of the prisoner's wishes.

It was said today that Mrs. Thaw's next move would be to apply to the supreme court to be the insane guardian of her son, "an insane person."

A big suit case full of papers was taken from the office of Black, Olcott, Gruher & Bonnyne to the office of Attorney Clifford W. Hartledge yesterday. Mr. Hartledge had demanded them as belonging to his client, Harry Thaw, and says the Olcott firm had refused to produce them, so he got a court order.

Mr. Olcott described the move as "laughable." He said that there had been no disposition to withhold the papers, and that he had demanded them as belonging to his client, Harry Thaw, and says the Olcott firm had refused to produce them, so he got a court order.

Mr. Hartledge and the other lawyers now representing Thaw will be ignored by Mrs. Thaw and her lawyers.

Mrs. Harry Thaw is still aiding Mr. Hartledge, apparently. She visited his office yesterday after her usual visit to her husband.

OUTDOOR LIFE Will Not Offset the Ill Effects of Coffee When One Digests It. A farmer says: "It was not from liquor or tobacco that for ten years or more I suffered from dyspepsia and stomach trouble, they were caused by the use of coffee until I got so bad I had to give up coffee entirely and almost give up eating. There were times when I could eat only boiled milk and bread and when I went to the field to work I had to take some bread and butter along to give me strength."

"I doctored with doctors and took almost everything I could get for my stomach in the way of medicine but if I got any better it only lasted a little while until I was almost a walking skeleton."

"One day I read an ad for Postum and told my wife I would try it, and as to the following facts I will make affidavit before any judge: "I quit coffee entirely and used Postum in its place. I have regained my health entirely and can eat anything that is cooked to eat. I have increased in weight until I now weigh more than I ever did; I have not taken any medicine for my stomach since I began using Postum. Why, I believe Postum will almost digest an iron wedge."

"My but they saw the effects it had on me and when they were feeling bad they began to use Postum. One at a time, until now we all use Postum." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

Ten days' trial of Postum in place of coffee proves the truth, an easy and pleasant way. "There's a reason." Look in place for a copy of the famous little book "The Road to Wellville."
