

COLUMBIA HEIGHTS AGAINST SALOONS

General Opposition to Sale of Intoxicants in the Neighborhood.

Citizens' Association Com- plains of Street Car Service.

Also of Late Delivery of Mail on Week Days.

Charles S. Bundy, president of the Columbia Heights Citizens' Association, at a meeting of that organization last night, was instructed by unanimous vote to begin a movement for opposition to the granting of wholesale or retail liquor licenses in the Columbia Heights and Mt. Pleasant section, in which the organization is interested.

A report was made by President Bundy, showing that he had appeared before the excise board at a recent hearing as a representative of the association to oppose the granting of a license in the territory within the confines of the association and that it had been refused on the grounds that it was opposed by the association, which represented to the excise board that Mt. Pleasant was a residential section and that the establishment of a saloon there would be detrimental to the best interests of the community. Following this report, the proposition to oppose all licenses was formulated and will be completed at the next meeting of the association.

Tardy Mail Delivery.
Secretary W. B. Todd, W. H. Saunders and C. M. Campbell were appointed a committee to look into the recently established system of mail delivery, in which it was shown that the change from the old system has caused more or less delay for week days and no delivery to the suburban postoffice on Sundays, forcing the citizens of that part of the city to come downtown for their mail on Sundays. Postmaster Barnes will be asked to re-establish the old system.

The executive committee was asked to make representations to the Commissioners that the manner in which the street cars stop on the crossing at Fourteenth street and New York avenue, where many of the members of the association leave the cars every morning, is a menace to life and limb of the public, and ask the officials to arrange the stops of cars at that point so as to make stops on both sides of the crossing.

Want School Playground.
The committee on schools was instructed to ask the Board of Commissioners to provide a playground for the Johnston school on School street. The ground formerly used for this purpose was private property and has been sold to the Young Men's Christian Association for tennis grounds, depriving the children of that school of recreation grounds.

The offer made by a citizen of the association to purchase the tract of land at the northwest corner of Fourteenth street and Columbia road, at $100,000, and turn it into a public park, provided the Commissioners would guarantee the purchaser 4 per cent for a period of twenty years, at the end of which time the Commissioners are to have the option to purchase at the original price, will be presented at the opening session of the Sixtieth Congress. The committee on public parks was continued for this purpose. The name of the intending purchaser was not made known.

The choir of the university will furnish the Gregorian musical program, and a eulogy on St. Thomas Aquinas will be delivered by the Rev. Dr. E. J. Hanna, of St. Bernard's Seminary, Rochester, N. Y.

CALLS SHAW PRESIDENT—OF CARNEGIE TRUST CO.

NEW YORK, March 6.—"I can now call you Mr. President," was the laughing remark of one of the callers upon Leslie M. Shaw, who has assumed his new duties as president of the Carnegie Trust Company. Mr. Shaw, after he relinquished the office of Secretary of the Treasury, came on from Washington at once with Mrs. Shaw and their two daughters.

"They will make their home temporarily at the Fifth Avenue Hotel."

MOUNTED POLICE TO DO RESERVE DUTY AT HOME

Major Sylvester has under consideration a plan whereby all mounted policemen in the District will be allowed to do reserve duty at their homes. Besides giving the men an opportunity to spend considerable more time with their families, Major Sylvester believes this plan will be much more practicable, enabling them to give their horses regular attention. The men will be required to stay at their homes while on reserve, and, as many of them have telephones, they will be notified in this manner when their services are needed.

ESTATE LEFT TO PHYSICIAN: COURT SAYS IT'S A.I.L. RIGHT

The action of the District Supreme Court in sustaining the will of Mrs. Kate Ross was yesterday upheld by the Court of Appeals. Mrs. Ross was some sixty years old at the time of death, October 17, 1905. For thirty years she had been an employee of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing. She left an estate valued at $2,788.20, which she bequeathed to her physician, Dr. Frank E. Gibson. A caveat was filed by John Riddle, et al., a brother of Mrs. Ross, and Alpheus E. Riddle, alleging fraud, undue influence, etc. The court decided there was no evidence to sustain the charges.

Foresees in Washington World's Greatest Capital

Veteran Merchant of San Francisco Says This City Should Be the Berlin, Paris, and Vienna, Combined, of New World.

The Oiler theory that men pass their usefulness when they arrive at forty years is given its refutation by C. Shilling, one of the captains of trade from San Francisco, who is at the New Willard.

Mr. Shilling comes of the same mold in which Claus Spreckels was cast. The fire and earthquake swept his great coffee business into a pile of brick and ashes, but Mr. Shilling is up and about again, and declares that although seventy odd years have passed over his head, he has resumed business again.

Mr. Shilling came on to Washington to visit the Capital, which he says ought to be the mecca of every patriotic American.

"I never come here," said Mr. Shilling, "but what I feel better. It inspires one with a feeling that there is no limit to what can be done in this world. Washington ought to be the Berlin, Paris, and Vienna, combined, of the new world. From here is ruled a greater nation than are those directed from the capitals of those of the old world. With our vast wealth, patriotism and ingenuity, Washington ought to be the greatest and most sought capital on earth."

MOTORMAN GETS VERDICT AGAINST TRACTION COMPANY

The Court of Appeals reversed the trial court in the case of William J. Carter, a motorman employed by the City and Suburban Company, and directed that judgment for $2,500 be entered in favor of the motorman. Carter was employed as a motorman by the City and Suburban Company in December, 1903, and by reason of the collision of his car with another car of the defendant company, he was severely injured. The company claimed that as the conductor of the car with which Carter collided was a green hand the company should not be liable.

FORESTRY SERVICE POLICY DEFENDED BY CHIEF PINCHOT

Vigorous defense of the forestry service and its policies is contained in a statement issued by Gifford Pinchot, chief forester. The statement refers mainly to what will be the future of the 17,000,000 acres recently added by the President to the forest domain.

These forest reserves, Mr. Pinchot explains, are made for the express purpose of the country using all their resources in the wisest ways possible, including the forest, the range, and the water supply. He declares that any agricultural land that may be included in the 17,000,000 acres will pass into private ownership under the act of June 11, 1906.

Mr. Pinchot points out that, in the matter of timber, everybody who wants it to establish a home can get as much of it as he wants, and that miners are better off because the timber near mineral lands is preserved for the special benefit of the miner. All stockmen who have been using the range included in the reserve will be allowed to continue such use.

GOT THE CANNON, BUT NO WHEELS

Representative Wanger Can't Move Guns to Valley Forge.

Representative Wanger of Pennsylvania has twenty-five brass cannon on his hands. He can't maneuver them from place to place or shoot them off because the obliging weapons of death will not walk. The War Department has refused to supply the carriages needed for the proper mounting and moving of the brass destroyers, and it will be necessary for Mr. Wanger to wait for a year before he can use them.

Mr. Wanger is not a bloodthirsty Congressman. Far from it. But he is the patriotic representative of the Valley Forge Association of Pennsylvania, whose purpose is to commemorate the historic winter that General Washington and his fellow fighters for freedom spent in the darkest days of the Revolution. With this end in view, Mr. Wanger introduced a bill in Congress last session, and had it passed, authorizing the War Department to turn over to the association twenty-five cannon, carriages, and equipment. The department cheerfully turned over the cannon to Mr. Wanger, but expressed the deepest regret that there were no carriages available for the guns to rest upon. Mr. Wanger has concluded that he will not take the cannon until he can get Congress to contribute the necessary funds with which to purchase the carriages.

DISTRICT NOT LIABLE IN GOLDEN BROWN'S CASE

In the District Court of Appeals, in the suit of Golden Brown, the eleven-year-old daughter of a District fireman, suing for $50,000 damages for injuries received by falling through the floor in one of the engine houses, it has been decided that the District was not liable for damages, the hole in the floor being part of the equipment of the place, and the house not being intended for children.
