Anacostia POLICE STATION SITE NOT CHOSEN

Committee of Three Will Be Appointed to Make the Selection.

Nothing definite has been decided upon in the matter of selecting a site for the new police station in Anacostia, and the matter is still in abeyance.

It is understood, however, that the officials at the District building will appoint a committee, consisting of three officers of the department, to look over the ground and make a recommendation of a site which in their judgment will be best suited for the needs of the police department in this suburb. This report will be accepted as final and the site selected by the committee will be purchased at once to allow of the early completion of the new quarters.

NOBODY EVER "AT" LONDON.

A case of irregularity occurs in a cablegram that announces from New York the residence of a certain accused person "at London." You will perceive at once the absurdity of those words—"at London." A New Yorker may want to get at London, but those who live there live "in London." And it is one of the triumphs of London and language (through most irregular) that no one is ever "at" London. You can drop off "at Paris on the way to anywhere, and you may spend the winter "at" St. Petersburg, or "at" New York. You may change "at" Chicago. But there comes a moment when the English language gets irregular. Is it when the fifth million has passed? No Englishman was ever "at" London. It would be as irregular as being "at" Asia or "at" heaven.—London Chronicle.
