GEORGETOWN LOSES TO VIRGINIA TECH; GAME SPIRITLESS

Frequent Fumbles Figure in the Washingtonians' Defeat.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 5.—Georgetown met defeat at the hands of Virginia Polytechnic Institute yesterday by 20 to 0 in forty-five minutes of play.

Before the game the odds were 2 to 1 in Georgetown's favor, but the first few minutes of play put a stop to the betting on this or any other basis. It was an off day for both teams, and mistakes could hardly have been more frequent had the game been played on wet grounds Saturday.

Both teams attempted the forward pass frequently, and each succeeded twice. The ball was several times knocked out of the Georgetown back's hands, and Georgetown usually obtained the ball when the play was essayed by its opponents. Both teams made a large percentage of their gains in kicking, a department which was the one redeeming feature.

Ragged Playing.

The mistakes of each other, rather than good football, kept the score down to 5 to 0 in the first half. W. P. I. scored near the end of the half, when, with the ball within thirty yards of the goal, Lutterell skirted Georgetown's right end and frequently obtained the ball when the play was essayed by its opponents. Both teams made a large percentage of their gains in kicking, a department which was the one redeeming feature.

Scored Early.

The first touchdown in this half was made on Georgetown's fumble of an on-side kick. Diffendal obtained the ball, and a little later was shoved across the goal.

The ball was in Georgetown territory the greater part of the time until the game was called. The Virginians gained almost at will, and fell back frequently on the account of fumbles. Had they played a consistent game the score should have been even larger.

A. A. U. MEETING ON NOVEMBER 18

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The annual meeting of the Amateur Athletic Union will be held at the Grand Union Hotel in this city Monday, November 18, at 11 o'clock.

In notifying the delegates-at-large, ex-presidents, and ex-secretaries of the Amateur Athletic Union, Secretary Dixon has urged them to make a special effort to attend the meeting on account of the important business to be transacted.

In addition to settling many troublesome questions that are pending, President James E. Sullivan will probably bring up the question of the British Olympic games. There is little possibility of any contest for the leading positions on the National Amateur Athletic Union board.

Frank Chance Richest Man In Baseball

CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Nobody knows what Frank Chance craves as manager of the Chicago Cubs, but President Murphy has stated for publication that he gets more money than any other player ever did in the big leagues, and that means in the country.

His salary as a player is large, for he is one of the stars of the game. Added to that is his salary as manager of the club, and besides this are the dividends he receives for the 100 shares of stock he holds in the club, presented to him by Charles P. Taft when the club was originally purchased from James A. Hart.

Frank Chance doesn't have to work during the winter for a living. His parents were wealthy, his father having been a banker at Fresno, Cal., and at his death he left Frank something over $30,000 to begin life with. Chance is liberal-spirited, but never is wasteful, and the result is that today he is one of the wealthiest ball players in the country. He is said to have a number of large corporations in this country.

It's the Hopkins Garments that are fast coming to the front! And why?—well we will gladly explain that fact to you in person. See our $2.50 Garments to order.

LOCAL WRESTLERS HAVE BUSY WEEK

Mackey, Baker, Turner, and Williams to Appear.

Emanuel Broglio, the Polish wrestler who is meeting all comers at Korman's New Lyceum this week, had no trouble last night in throwing Louis Zerega in four and one-half minutes.

Zerega was fat, but fairly active, and staved off the inevitable longer than might have been expected. Broglio looked to weigh about 175 pounds, and while Zerega was not enough to make him exert himself, showed he knew more about wrestling in a minute than Kid Cutler, John L. Sullivan's sparring partner, who met all comers here, will know in the next five years.

Tonight Broglio will go against Rob Roy Mackey, of Washington, who announces he is going to do some real wrestling, which should help some. Mackey has had a tendency to rest too much in some of his late matches, and it is time for him to get out and hustle. He will be outweighed twenty-five pounds by the Pole, but is perfectly capable of giving the foreigner an exciting run for his money.

Mackey and Baker. Mackey also announces he will engage in a number of bouts here this winter, and as he will gain no prestige by taking things easy in the exhibition tonight, he should be a good drawing card.

Tomorrow night the Pole meets Bobo Baker, who is willing to tackle anything from a heavyweight to a problem in astronomy. Baker has no vast amount of natural ability as a wrestler, but he is persistent and has proved himself clever and game enough to cause any man who has thrown him to know the time had not been spent in eating bonbons with a summer girl. As he has grown older, larger, and stronger, Baker has improved.

Turner and Williams. On Thursday night Broglio has promised to meet Joe Turner, the Pole asked so many questions about Turner that he was obliged to do a match with him. Last night that impression was knocked in the head by the announcement the Pole would take him. Turner says the Pole was anxious to make special terms for a match between them, but the Washington man held out for the sum advertised, $25 for any man who stayed fifteen minutes.

Tomorrow Korman avows roundly last night he would not stand for any cut in terms, and that Broglio and his manager would have to do as advertised if they wanted to show at his house.

On Friday night Broglio has promised to meet Tom Williams, the mute wrestler, and they should furnish an exciting go. Williams has improved more rapidly than any grappler ever developed in Washington. He is not yet as clever or as experienced as Turner or Mackey, but he has so much natural strength and gameness either of those better known men. One thing about him, he has always been more interested in those who were not to waste a second in loading when they enter the ring.

COLORED FIGHTERS IN HARD TRAINING

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 5.—Sam Langford and Young Peter Jackson, the colored men who are to fight before the Pacific A. C. November 22, are doing strenuous stunts at their separate training quarters. That the boys will be a hummer is the belief of every fan who visits the black men, for with the purse split 75 and 25 it will be more both not to waste a second in loading when they enter the ring.

Murphy has been doing light work the past few weeks, and will be in good trim for the bout. Keys will return to Stratford today with Jack Robinson, but as he is in good condition already, only a little roadwork and sparring will be necessary to keep him in trim.

Keys is in great demand since he defeated Johnny Summers at New Haven.

GET YOUR RUBBERS! HERE'S MORE SLUSH

Tad Still Talking of Johnson Meeting Jeff.

By TAD. NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—"Jeffries is training two hours every day in a little gymnasium out there in Los Angeles," said Ben Berry, the baseball man from the Southern town. Berry was here at the big baseball pow wow, and when he heard that Burns' manager had said that Jeffries was disappointed he went right up in the air like a rocket.

"Believe me," said Mr. Berry, "giving a very modest cherry and olive green vest. 'Jeff is not drinking himself to death. Of course, he takes a drink now and then with the boys in his place, but, on the level, he's working every day out there with the bag and skipping rope."

Could Be Persuaded. "No, I can't say that he is looking for a fight, but when a man stops and hones a razor he isn't going to put it away if he has any use for it. Jeff would be ready to get down to hard work in a few minutes if something showed up worth while. The bluff thrown out by Burns' manager about Jeffries being all bloated up was by give the impression that Burns is the big fighter of the age."

Burns is too cheap himself to go in a place to buy a drink, so I don't see how he comes in to say anything about Jeff.

Three years ago when Jeffries was training for the Munroe fight at Harbin Springs he stated that whenever he found himself unfit for a tough course of training he would quit the ring.

"I know that I am as good as any fighter in the world," said Jeffries at that time, "and if my condition is as good as the other fellow's I will always win. If I can't train properly for a fight, I won't fight."

Mr. Berry says the big fellow is trying himself out daily now. Wonder if he smells a rat? Wonder if Jim Corbett's offer has bothered him any? Looks as though the Johnson person might draw a bunch of money with him and as the gilt is what we all love, the fellow might not back.

What an insignificant thing this gentleman burns would be if Jeff and Johnson could book up!

The latter was never better in his life than he is right now, and as Jeff has been out of the game for some time, it would be a break-out to one-sided and heavy.

With their mouths watering for revenge, the Indians will travel over to Cambridge this week with their war paint spread an inch deep on their faces, and there is likely to be a grand scalping bee inside the stadium. Yet, the sons of John Harvard are confident of repeating the trick of the Tigers.

Here is another team that will be looking for revenge Saturday. Brown, although beaten by Harvard, outplayed the Crimson at every department except kicking, and means to do all kinds of things to take to patch the injured feelings. It may do lots of things, but it won't win.

Pennsylvania plays her namesake Saturday, and the latter has a fine chance of stepping in and copying the honor. Pennsylvania State is one of the fastest teams of the season.

Up on the battleground that overlooks the Hudson, West Point and Cornell will endeavor next Saturday to tear each other to pieces. This struggle should be the best of the day. To pick the winner is as hard as going home on a pay night without money.

Coach Yost, of Michigan, is just as sorry Pennsylvania lost to the Indians as any student at the Philadelphia University. He had hoped that Michigan would defeat the best team of the East this year. At that, the Ann Arbor eleven is likely to find the Quakers as hard to beat as they were last season.

Yost is not taking any chances on being caught without good substitutes in case of stepping in and copying the honor. Pennsylvania is stronger in every department of the game. No, we don't disagree with the Providence gentleman, he may be right.

Captain Pryor, Brown's veteran and rusher, says: "If Harvard should play Pennsylvania, the Quakers would smother them. Harvard is not in the same class with Pennsylvania this year judging from what Brown did against both. Pennsylvania is stronger in every department of the game. No, we don't disagree with the Providence gentleman, he may be right."

Tigers Sustained But Few Injuries In Carlisle Game

Victory Saturday Attributed to Improved Defensive Work.

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 5.—After a week filled with hard work, culminating in a victory over Carlisle more decisive than the most optimistic Princeton enthusiast had dared hope for, the Tigers received a well-earned rest yesterday afternoon.

Not a single veteran was asked to report to W. W. Roper, head coach, yesterday, but instead, the tennis courts were put at their disposal, and the men relaxed their muscles with a little work with the rackets. Scarcely a scratch was found on the eleven after the hard struggle with the redskins. Captain McCormick was perhaps bruised up more than any of his men. Although he was forced to leave the game on account of his injuries, Flood, the trainer, found nothing more serious than a few black and blue spots.

The Princeton coaches attribute the ease with which the Indians succumbed on Saturday entirely to the big improvement in defensive work that has developed since the Cornell game. The Tigers were particularly coached in following the ball, and this worked out in Saturday's game so well that as a rule there were more Princetonians than in the case with which the Indians succumbed on Saturday.

Now that the defense, which has been one of the stumbling blocks in the way of a high-class combination Princeton this season, has been improved, the coaches will devote more time to perfecting the bewildering attack that the Tigers have already developed. In the last week the veterans have scarcely tried the forward pass or on-side kick in attempts to strengthen the line.

The George Washington line had received one fault which was severely criticized earlier in the year, that of played too high. Yesterday the interference was effective largely because the home team charged low and followed up its interference, another distinct innovation for the Hatchettes. This latter fact contributed largely to the success of the end runs, which were big factors in the outcome.

One criticism still stands against the Buff and Blue. Its men repeatedly failed to recover fumbles. When either side made a mistake of this kind Maryland almost invariably obtained possession of the ball.

While the forward pass was employed by both squads, and to great advantage by the local players, a failure to execute it properly gave the visitors their one opportunity to score. In the first half Witten kicked to Parymore, the ball was carried back 20 yards, Witten then captured Maryland's forward pass and ran back ten. Pierce attempted a quarterback run, but was thrown for a loss, and Witten followed the ball on Witten's forward pass and ran thirty-five yards for a touchdown.

Israel Shines. Israel, a Washington boy, was the star of the Maryland team. He is unusually fast, a fact which, in spite of his light weight, landed him a position on the Central High School team when he attended that institution. He is better known in local athletics as a runner than a football player, and his work on the gridiron yesterday was a revelation to his Washington friends. He was frequently the pivot man in the interference of the visitors, and his punting was uniformly sure.

All the scoring was done in the first half. Both sides approached dangerously near their opponents' goal in the second period, but failed to carry the ball across.

FIGHTERS POST $3.000. CHICAGO, Nov. 5.—Both Pacey McFarland and Kid Herman are now in active training for their bout, scheduled to be pulled off November 21 at Davenport, Iowa. The men have pooled $1,000 each, and William Harrison to bind the match, and the club management put up a similar amount.

BONNER AND RYAN DRAW. WILKESBARRE, Pa., Nov. 5.—James Bonner, of Summit Hill, Pa., and Billy Ryan, of Syracuse, N. Y., fought six rounds here last night. Bonner out-fought Ryan, but Ryan saved himself by his foot work, clinching many times. The bout had a very close finish, and Bonner would have won.

M'INTYRE MAY JOIN YANKEES NEXT YEAR. NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Matty McIntyre, the great outfielder of the Detroit club, may wear a Yankee uniform next spring if the leg which he injured early last season shows that it is as strong as ever.

McIntyre would like to play in New York, as his home is on Staten Island, where he has lived all his life, and manager Griffith is making an effort to secure his services.

SECRET PRACTICE BEGUN AT YALE

Wheaton Stunned by Hard Tackle on Return to Game.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Nov. 5.—By substituting Graham Foster for Cooney at left guard the Yale coaches made a beginning at the sweeping changes they have been discussing in the Yale football eleven, but they obtained some poor results that they shifted the players back to their original positions before today's practice closed.

Foster has been both substitute tackle and guard. He lacked finish and aggressiveness today, and Cooney went back to his old position in the second half.

Left guard is giving the coaches more trouble than any other position at present. The competition is still open, and it is still anybody's race. This was the only change attempted. For the first time this season the varsity and second eleven went behind closed gates, playing a fifteen-minute half in secret and another of exactly the same length in the open. Captain Biglow said last night that this policy would be followed practically every day till the close of the season.

Wheat and Wylie, the cripples of last month, were in the daily scrimmage for the first time. Wheat had his old place at left halfback, and Wylie, who played that position for two weeks after Wheaton was hurt, went to right halfback.

Wheaton's traditional ill fortune clung to him, and he was stunned by a hard tackle, which compelled his retirement again.

The new coaches present were "Phil" Stillman, formerly center, and "Joe" Quill, fullback two years ago.

MORAN AND NEIL WEIGH IN AT 122

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Owen Moran, the English featherweight boxer, who is to fight Frankie Neil before Alex Greggins' club on the night of November 23, arrived in the city yesterday from the East. Moran is chaperoned by Trainer Wicks.

Moran went over to Shannon's and will train there for his affair with Neil. The yarder carried back to Moran's at 4:30 Wednesday afternoon, when articles of agreement will be drawn up and signed. An agreement has been reached regarding the weight, which will be 122 pounds at the ringside.

INDIANS UNDAUNTED BY CRUSHING DEFEAT

CARLEISLE, Pa., Nov. 5.—The Carlisle Indian football eleven returned home and, strange to say, were not demoralized by the crushing defeat they had received at Princeton's hands in New York.

Few of the redskins were injured, but Houser sustained a bad back wrench, and may be out of the practice scrimmages for a few days. The aborigines will start immediately preparing for the Harvard game at Boston. Carlisle expects to make a good showing against Harvard, whom she has never defeated.

Captain Lupo said last evening that he gave all credit to Princeton for a clean game of football. Lupo said that the Indians' forward pass could not be used because of weather conditions, and the end plays were impossible for the same reason.
