

MAN DISAPPEARS FROM HIS STUDIO; FRIENDS ALARMED

Police Department Asked to Begin Search for M. Kets Kemethy.

Friends of M. Kets Kemethy, a photographer, who conducts a studio and lives at 1115 Pennsylvania avenue north-west, today reported to the police that he disappeared Saturday and has not been seen or heard from since.

Inspector Boardman was given a description of the missing photographer and asked to assign detectives to assist in the search for him.

The photographer's friends say they have no idea what has become of him. His business was prosperous and his health good, but notwithstanding these facts he closed his establishment early Saturday and dropped completely out of sight, leaving no traces as to his whereabouts.

Throughout the week many patrons have called at his studio only to find the door locked and the curtains down. His friends say they are at a loss for an explanation of his disappearance. M. Kets Kemethy is an Austrian, fifty-seven years old, and for more than a score of years has ranked high in photographic circles in Washington.

R. W. Harper May Resign Commerce Chamber Place

R. HENRY LYNN, Who Has Been Elected President of the American National Bank.

Board of Directors and President to Discuss Matter in Few Days.

After having resigned from the presidency of the American National Bank Robert N. Harper is now considering tendering his resignation as president of the Chamber of Commerce.

When Mr. Harper was seen this morning he expressed his belief at having removed from the bank any possible embarrassment by his resignation.

Among the speakers were Henry H. Plather, R. R. Horner, Daniel Murray, Capt. Frederick Daniels, and W. M. Hewlett, and W. S. Welborn.

RESIGNS FROM BANK

At a meeting of the directors of the American National Bank late yesterday afternoon Mr. Harper tendered his resignation as president of that institution. Although opposed in this action by the directors, Mr. Harper insisted that in view of the arraignment of the President of the United States his further continuance at the head of the bank might cause it some embarrassment and he insisted on the acceptance of his resignation out of his interest for the welfare of the bank.

Mr. Harper's letter of resignation was as follows: "The Board of Directors, American National Bank: Gentlemen—While I am innocent of the charges brought against me of violating the pure food and drugs law, and confidently look forward to a complete vindication, yet, owing to the fact that such charges are pending and to the notoriety which has recently been given to the prosecution against me, as well as to the subsequent arraignment of the Chief Executive of the United States, and believing that this notoriety might possibly tend to injure the interests of the American National Bank, I have reached the conclusion that it will be for the best interests of the bank that I resign my position as its president."

"I feel assured that all my friends will appreciate my motive for resigning. I am, however, a member of the board and the officers of the bank for their loyal and earnest co-operation in building up the American National Bank to the magnificent position of strength which it now occupies among the institutions of Washington, I now tender my resignation."

"Very respectfully, 'ROBERT N. HARPER.' Pass Vote of Confidence. Following the acceptance of Mr. Harper's resignation, the directors passed the following resolution of confidence: 'The board of directors of the American National Bank in accepting Mr. Harper's resignation as their president unanimously regret that Mr. Harper, through his devotion to the interests of the institution, should feel called upon to resign his position as president, and further express themselves as freely convinced of the innocence of the charges under which he is now arraigned, and their supreme confidence in his early and complete vindication of any intent to violate the law."

R. H. Lynn, the cashier of the bank, who was elected to succeed Mr. Harper as president, took charge today. For the present Mr. Lynn will assume the duties of both cashier and president. Mr. Lynn has been associated with Mr. Harper since they were together in the London National Bank of Leesburg, Va. He has held the position of cashier of the American National since its organization by Mr. Harper, William H. Saunders, and himself in 1904.

GLOOMY STUDENTS TO BE PRISONERS FOR THREE MONTHS

Insurrection is brewing in the student body of Georgetown College, and the end of the St. Patrick's Day escapade is not yet, according to those whose loyalty to Ireland's patron saint made them prisoners today.

Although liberal douches of cold water were thrown in the face of anarchy by the Rev. David Hillhouse Buel last evening, when two students, said to be leaders of the insurgents, were summarily expelled from the historic Jesuit institution, the warring spirit of the students will not subside.

Today there was a very quiet student body at the college. The young men were not permitted to leave the building drawn forth and fondled, gazed upon and replaced. The students dug their hands deep into their pockets, wore long faces, and peered wistfully out on the campus. Many gathered in small knots in the corridors and waiting rooms.

Two Are Expelled. Last evening Edward G. McCormick, of Albany, N. Y., and John P. Kephart, of Charleston, W. Va., preparatory students in the academic department, were expelled from the college. Their trunks had preceded them, and they were requested to hurry out of the confines of the institution. The expulsion of these alleged insurgent generals was a mere preface to the work which the college mapped out for itself in the matter of bringing the overzealous youths to time.

The junior class was ordered before the prefect. More forceful language than was employed by Father Buel may be used this year, but no junior of Georgetown is expected to hear it. In a few apt and well-turned phrases the prefect told the laddies just what he thought of them. He then sent them back to quarters with the parting shot that for the next three months they would not only form no part of the P street promenade, but would know of that daily pageant by mere hearsay. Gone are the extra privileges, friendship between the "profs" and "stews" has vanished in thin air, and each go their individual way without exchange of greeting.

Seventeen Under Ban. An ominous cloud bedims the brows of seventeen students who are said to have been lieutenants of the ringleaders on St. Patrick's Day, when 150 leather-lunged "Hoya, Hoya, Saxa" boys pranced up and down the streets of Washington singing "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here."

Just what fate awaits these marked seventeen students could not be learned today. Father Buel is reported to be the ringleader of the college is investigating a report to the effect that several students endeavored to break into the girls' convent, near the Blue and Gray institutions.

Vigorous denial is made by the faculty that one of the professors was ducked in water on Monday night, but the students declare the dismissed youths were not expelled for this reason. The parade on Tuesday, Healey Hall was flooded with water from the fire hose.

HAIKIAN PRESIDENT STRENGTHENS FORTS

PORT AU PRINCE, Hayti, March 19.—The danger of trouble in Hayti is not over. Against foreigners the bitterest feeling exists. President Nord Alexis continues to strengthen the garrison at Forts Bisoton and Alexandre.

The diplomatic representatives here and at Gonaves still consider themselves in grave peril of attack, and the commanders of the cruiser indefatigable army Bremen here, and the D'Estrees at Gonaves are holding marines in readiness for a hurried landing.

The naval commanders are also likely to inquire how it happened that the break of dawn Tuesday found the harbor commanded by cannon and machine guns ready to sweep the spot where it was evident marines would be landed if sent ashore.

The diplomats and naval officers generally agree in blaming General Leconte, the new minister of the interior, for the trouble, and there is a strong disposition to force him from office. While he remains in power it is feared the reign of terror will continue.

Don't Let Your Piles Grow

Every Hemorrhoidal Ulcer is a Fertile Field for Cancer and Other Deadly Diseases.

Constipation unchecked brings inflammation, inflammation begets piles and piles too often superinduce tumors of malignant nature.

Piles (or hemorrhoids) rarely kill, but they cause more agony in a few minutes than much more serious troubles.

They are easy to cure if you do it right. Operation with the knife is dangerous, agonizing, and rarely a permanent success.

There is just one way to be cured—sure, sure, painlessly and privately—and that is with Pyramid Pile Cure.
