AMERICAN RACING MEN... ENGLAND... SUPPRESSED HERE

Rich Purses Offered at the French Tracks Another Attraction.

British Can't Understand Opposition to Turf in United States.

LONDON, March 21.—British racing men are watching with more than their usual amount of interest in affairs foreign to the progress of the fight against track betting in the United States.

While betting on the track is so firmly established an institution here that it is hard to realize there can be such serious opposition to it as has sprung up in the United States.

The rich purses offered on the French tracks are bound to attract some of the big American racing men, and W. K. Vanderbilt is likely to train some of his fellow-countrymen as competitors for the big French turf prizes.

Contrary to opinion, the so-called English system race tracks is by no means confined to credit, settlements to be made the following Monday, but a great deal of the wagering is with ready money, especially in the "silver ring," held on your side.

In France bookmaking has been stopped, and all the money bet on races throughout that country goes through the pari-mutuel. The laws against bookmaking were not rigidly enforced in France until the last four years.

In France bookmaking has been stopped, and all the money bet on races throughout that country goes through the pari-mutuel. The laws against bookmaking were not rigidly enforced in France until the last four years.

It is believed here that the feelings against track betting in America is due to abuses peculiar to the country, and that large bookmakers own horses and control jockeys the fact is very successfully concealed.

Fifteen minutes later the baseball reporter, red-faced and perspiring, turned in the following:

The game was put up this a. m. by the Rev. Van Deusen, who assisted a double play—Phibrick to Hicks. The game was called at 10:35 and none of the decisions were disputed.

Club Preparing For Intercity Tennis Matches

Bachelors Elect Officers. Plans Perfected for Spring Tourney.

The annual meeting of the Bachelors Lawn Tennis Club was held last Thursday at the University Club, and the same officers were elected for the coming year, and other important matters were taken up.

The officers chosen were: Gilbert H. Grosvenor, president; Charles G. Harris, vice president; Ralph W. Hills, secretary and treasurer; Fred L. Davis and J. Tridman, Hendricks, together with the other officers, are to serve as the board of governors.

The club is making arrangements, together with the Chevy Chase Club and the Le Droit Club, for the intercity match, the first round of which will be held May 23 on the Bachelor courts, between Washington and Philadelphia.

The spring tournament of the Middle Atlantic Tennis Association will be held on the Bachelor courts in the latter part of May.

A special committee, composed of Messrs. Glazebrook, Lincoln and Hill, was appointed at the meeting to arrange matches with the leading universities, especially Princeton and the University of Virginia.

The club expects a large number of Northern and Eastern players at the spring tournament.

BASEBALL PLAYERS... FROM COLLEGE

Summer Playing for Cash on the Grill at Georgetown.

What promises to be the most stirring cavalcade ever held by the Athletic Association of Georgetown University is that which has been called for next Sunday by President Howard G. Smith, to convene in historic Gaston Hall on the college grounds.

The committee appointed three months ago to frame a new constitution, to take the place of the one lost two years ago, has completed its task. Sunday it will be brought before the house for adoption. Probably the most important phase of the meeting will be the question raised over the playing of summer baseball by the Georgetown athletes in the spring of 1906 the Athletic Association amended the constitution in such a manner that the men playing on the Georgetown teams were permitted to play during the summer, providing they did not engage in contests under the national agreement or in the Tri-State League.

There is a provision in the new constitution as drawn up by the committee which will put an end to summer ball playing, providing it receives a majority vote.

It is understood that the members of the baseball team will make a fight against having the ruling passed. Similar action taken by Harvard, Yale, and Dartmouth has had its effect on the colleges throughout the country, and it is only after considerable agitation that Georgetown is endeavoring the step. It is doubtful if the measure will go through, as the student body at the local school seems to favor the playing of summer baseball by its athletes.

The students in power also argue that Georgetown's eligibility rules are at present the most stringent in the East, and that if this step is taken it will create a spirit of dissatisfaction among the men, and perhaps destroy whatever chances the team has of making a good showing this year.

PROSPECTS ROSY FOR CLASSY MEET OUT AT BENNING is not particularly impressive, and picking winners is likely to be risky business. The feature is the First Benning Handicap, which shows up a likely field. Berkeley has top weight, 115 pounds. This one showed up in great form at the last autumn meeting at Benning, but it was thought that a distance of ground would suit him better than sprinting. Oraculum, Greeno, Grizzly, Killercrane, Billie Hibbs, Bellweather, and Woodlane have been welling well for the event, and it should prove a great betting race.

A fair field of cross-country horses is entered in the steeplechase, and this should prove one of the best races of the afternoon. Percentage, from the Colt stable, has been working finely for this race, and many of the wise ones believe he will prove to be a good bet.

INTERCITY WHIST MATCHES AT CLUB

The Washington Checker Chess, and Whist Club's coming match with the Baltimore Whist Club at the club rooms, 614 Twelfth street, next Saturday night, March 23, is exciting much interest among the members and others.

The Baltimore Club is known to be one of the best in the country and it intends to send a team of the best players it can get. Twenty Baltimore whist players will make the journey with the intention of going home the winner of the match, but from the showing the Washington team made in Baltimore some weeks ago it looks as they will not have it as easy as they think, as the Washington team was slowly but surely gaining on them when they had to quit to catch the train for home.

The Baltimore team will be composed of such men as B. Smith, McDonnelly, Prof. Smith, Thomas Johnson, Dr. Gaiter, and others, while the Washington team will be represented by the following men: Tallock and Jones, who won the championship of the District of Columbia a short time ago, together with Tallafiero, Charles Davis, Polk Nye, Turner, Parker, J. Townsend, Stein, and other well-known players, who have not been decided upon yet.

In the weekly compass whist, played last night, Turner and Parker with Volk and Nye tied for first place, plus 8.

Catholic University Has Game With Pick of Eastern College Teams

Coach Has Trouble in Picking Nine From Candidates.

Season Opens With Georgetown Game Next Wednesday.

The Catholic University has announced its schedule and will appear against Georgetown, on Georgetown Field, next Wednesday.

The management has had trouble in narrowing down the squad to a reasonable size, and argument waxed hot regarding which nine of them will march over to Georgetown for the opening game of the season.

An aggregation numbering nineteen has been so far selected from thirty-five candidates. The schedule appears to represent the pick of the colleges up and down the seaboard, and shows that the Brooklanders will take a chance at the District championship, and will have opportunity to defeat the champions of Maryland. Games are being arranged with Columbia and Fordham, and when Notre Dame emerges from the tall grass to try its luck in the East, a chance will be taken at its side.

Canale, last year's captain, is still on the job, and will pitch or play first base. Hessler, from St. John's college, has already awakened great enthusiasm among Washington fans by his feats with the big glove, but husky Jack Moran is giving him a hard fight for the position back of the plate.

When Canale feels fatigued, Darr, Galligan, and Kontz will tantalize the batters for about an equal number of games, the staff being so equal in merit that it would take some great scientist like Pop Chadwick to decide which is best. Hanga, captain last year of the Memphis Christian Brothers College team, is contesting for left field with Kennedy, of the Georgetown Preps, '07, Merva, Taraher, Ramos, and Burke are last year men and as handy as ever.

Personnel of Team. The team will most likely be composed of the following: Catchers—Hessler, Moran, Carter. Pitchers—Galligan, Canale, Darr, Kontz. Shortstop—Devries. First base—Canale. Second base—Lora.

Negotiations Pending. A game is also to be negotiated with Washington College, at Chestertown, and in case the negotiations are closed the squad will be accompanied by the relay team.

The university athletic field has been completed on the heights back of the main buildings, and a grandstand of adequate capacity is being erected. The ground and money for its equipment are gifts of the university board. The relay team is still composed of the old four, Dailley having recovered from his sickness, and Lora from his sprain. Mulvanity has shown surprising good form in putting the shot and will enter in all the coming meets.

The track team, will no doubt be entered at Philadelphia, but it has not yet been decided with whom the relay team will contest at the time.

HAYES BESTS ROBESON IN SIX-ROUND MILL

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., March 21.—Grover Hayes turned the trick on Spike Robeson at the National Athletic Club tonight.

He caught the Englishman just off edge and gave him a drubbing. He knocked Robeson down in the first round with a stiff right-hand punch, but the latter came back only to be driven across the ring several times with jabs on the body and jaw.

Robeson's blows lacked force and Hayes did not seem to mind his jabs and counters and kept boring in at each round. Hayes won a clear-cut victory and Robeson was well jolted throughout the six rounds.

After the bout the Englishman complained that he had not recovered the use of his injured leg and was handicapped thereby.

TECHNICAL TAKES ANNUAL CONTEST

Manual Trainers Show Good Form Against the Takoma A. C.

In its first game of the season, Technical High School defeated the Takoma Athletic Club by 17 to 5.

The large lead obtained by Tech in the early stages of the game gave Captain Richard a good chance to try out his new men, who showed up exceptionally well. The loose fielding of Takoma, coupled with the fast base running of the school nine, left no doubt as to the result.

Technical's team this year will be fast, and with the places of Mess and Platt, who left school last year, filled, should make a good bid for the scholastic championship. The score:

Table with columns: Name, R., H., P., O., A., E. for Technical and Takoma A. C.

EXTRAVAGANCE

I heard a story lately of a Highlander who had been persuaded to buy a ticket for a raffle. He won the first prize, a bicycle, but on being told of his good fortune, instead of hugging himself with delight, he said: "Well, that's just my luck, buying two tickets with my win, and a dunce 'e's list a saxpence wasted."—Dundee People's Journal.

RICHMOND GAMES... BY VIRGINIA... FOR SECOND

G. W. U. and V. P. I. Share the Consolation Honors.

RICHMOND, Va., March 21.—A quaking lot of athletes, hardly able to do their stunts with any firm, carried out the details of the lengthy program in the Horse Show building here tonight.

Representatives from almost every school and college in Virginia and Maryland took the mark in the third annual meet of the Richmond Intercollegiate Club.

George Washington won the relay against the Virginia Polytechnic Institute with ease. The National Guards of Washington won a similar event from the Richmond Howitzers. William and Mary took the relay race from Randolph-Macon.

For Second Honors. George Washington tied with V. P. I. for second place, scoring eleven points. Sterrett led the spectators upon their toes while he was pole vaulting, and got a well-earned round of cheers when he cleared the bar at 11 feet, breaking the Southern college record.

Fontaine and Charrington, of Virginia, had a pretty fight for third place, but the Buff and Blue man went ten feet easily, shutting out the Virginian. The relay race between V. P. I. and George Washington was a pretty exhibition, the Washington boys coming in half a lap ahead. It was sweet revenge for the football defeat given them by the Blacksburg collegians last fall.

The sturdy athletes were cheered by a large crowd of society belles and their escorts. Almost all of the 100 boxes were filled. The sudden change in the weather kept hundreds of people away however, as they did not care to get chilled in the unheated hall.

Spectators Cheer Performers. Referee Caddy called time at 7:50 o'clock and from then on the spectators cheered the fleet-footed runners around the oval, or held their breath as the pole vaulters sailed over the bar.

The high jump was also lustily cheered, as the Virginia record was broken by Holladay, who cleared the bar at five feet ten inches. He was cheered to the echo when the height was announced.

One of the features of the meet was the ease with which Connor, of Wesleyan, won the mile. He romped home in four minutes and forty-six seconds, six yards ahead of second man. He had an easy running of all the way, not having to exert himself at any part of the distance.

Burke's Run. Burke, of the Washington School for Boys, ran a pretty race in the scholastic 100-yard race, but though he only got third, would have taken second place had it not been for a bad start.

His teammate, Rosser, ran a heady race in the scholastic quarter, nosing out a second place when within a yard of the tape.

The District National Guard had a busy time of it with the Richmond Howitzers, beating them by half a lap.

The Summaries: Fifty-yard scholastic—Pendleton, E. H. first; White, E. H. S., second; Burke, Washington School for Boys, third. Time, 1:45 seconds.

100-yard scholastic—Pendleton, E. H. S., second; Gill, Jacob Tome Institute, third. Time, 3:35 seconds.
