

PRESIDENT HOST OF IRISH PRIMATE

Cardinal Logue and Other Distinguished Churchmen Attend Luncheon.

Visitors Inspect Places of Interest About the Capital.

Cardinal Logue, primate of Ireland, was the guest at luncheon today of President Roosevelt. The cardinal was apparently delighted with his reception at the White House.

Future Home of Church.

At the luncheon given in his honor at the Catholic University yesterday afternoon, Cardinal Logue predicted that the United States would be the home of the Catholic Church and of science.

The cardinal then indulged in a little preaching, and he warned the clergymen that if they kept the people going to mass regularly and kept up their interest in their religion there would be fewer scandals.

"Had I done so," he said, "the United States would have had a bad bargain. Still, if I renounced my allegiance to the British crown, I have talked of America so much that many of my people think I am an American."

The cardinal said that although he had always dreamed of America he was astonished at the beauties which greeted his eyes everywhere, and he had little idea of the charming beauty of the Capital.

SHOT OFFICER IN ARM, HELD FOR GRAND JURY

As an aftermath of an exciting pistol duel several weeks ago on his roof at his home, 1421 Q street northwest, Charles Deaunne, who shot Policeman Patrick D. Holmes in the right arm, was arraigned in the Police Court this morning on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon.

Judge Kimball said there was a doubt if Deaunne was justified in shooting the officer, and therefore held him for the action of the grand jury.

Policeman Holmes, who was the first witness, said he was summoned to his sister's room, and he would not turn back until 1:30 o'clock in the morning by one of the roomers, who was informed there had been a burglary in the house.

Holmes said he went on the roof after the burglar and two shots were fired at him, one of them penetrating his arm. Going downstairs he entered the house from which the shots had been fired. He found a man at the door and informed him that he had shot a burglar on his roof.

PERU REVOLUTIONISTS FLEE BEFORE TROOPS

LIMA, Peru, May 6.—Troops under the subprefect of the city of Pasco are scouring the Cerro de Pasco mountains for scattered members of Durand's revolutionary band, which the subprefect defeated in battle several days ago.

How Women Can Keep Themselves Cheerful

Women live indoors; they exercise little. They need laxatives more than men. Their headaches, their dull days, their "blues" are generally due to the bowels. Such conditions are wrong because they are unnecessary. One Cascaret—taken just when you need it—sets everything right. One candy tablet ends completely most of our minor ills.

Once Gay "Love Trust" Leader Has Sordid End in Mining Camp

TONOPAH, Nev., May 6.—The fate of Bina F. Verrault, the fascinating young woman who lived like a princess and started New York two years ago with her scheme of winning men's hearts and thousands of dollars through the notorious "Love Syndicate," of which she was the head, has been revealed in a strange way.

Last year a woman drifted to this mining camp as a prospector. She had little money, but a number of fine gowns, which were as unsuited to her work as she herself seemed unsuited to the company of the rough and sturdy men who were braving the hardships of heat and desert in the quest for gold.

There were but few women in the camp at the time and the woman, who called herself Mrs. Hamilton, attracted a great deal of attention. No one asked where she had come from, nor why. These questions are not usually asked in mining camps.

Suddenly She Was Shunned. Then the tide seemed to change against her. She was no longer sought by the men and their admirers. The reason they kept to themselves. The woman began to frequent the restaurants and concert halls. She seemed to find her only solace in strong drink, and it was not long before its effect was noticeable. She was no longer the woman whose fine appearance had dazzled the camp. She was simply a familiar figure, and not a very attractive one.

Then she fell ill. A doctor was called and gave her every attention, but the call had been too long delayed. The woman died in delirium. Her death was so sudden that it was deemed a coroner's case, and it was investigated. The verdict was that the woman had come to her death from acute alcoholism.

The camp decided that Mrs. Hamilton should have a decent burial. An undertaker was given charge of the body, and on the day of the funeral a few men acted as mourners and watched the body consigned to the grave. Then the woman's effects were turned over to J. P. Brissell, as special administrator. The woman was forgotten by every one but the administrator.

It was Bina F. Verrault who died unknown in a mining camp, and her death was peculiarly free of that romance which had surrounded her life. Head of "Love Trust." In August, 1936, Bina Verrault was the most prominent figure in the eye of the public of New York. Several men had made startling revelations to the authorities about the conduct of a "Love Syndicate," and had revealed the large and palatial furnished house at 223 West Eighty-second street as the headquarters of the syndicate.

The household was a notable one. Mrs. Verrault, known as Mrs. Hamilton, and Mrs. Izella Brown were its heads, and they posed as wealthy, marriageable widows. Both were handsome and had wonderful gowns. There were brothers, a sister, and a daughter of Mrs. Brown to add to the attractiveness of the home and at dinners, suppers, and card parties they played important parts in the social life of the city.

For a time the affairs of the syndicate prospered greatly. Several men, lured on to answer advertisements, gave the women large sums of money. When no more money was forthcoming the suitors were unceremoniously dismissed. The display of money and good living in the household established a fine line of credit.

Women Were Arrested. Two men who had fallen in love with Mrs. Verrault, and who found themselves turned away from the door when they would give no more money, reported the swindling operations of the syndicate. Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Verrault were arrested. Then the household tumbled all to pieces and creditors stormed at the doors.

Mrs. Verrault failed to appear in court one day when a case against her was called. She had left town, it was reported. Nothing else was ever heard of the woman until it was learned that the Mrs. Hamilton who died here on October 24 last was Bina Verrault.

What the result of tonight's conference will be it is impossible to predict with any certainty, but the leaders are doing all they can to put the Vreeland bill in such a strong place that it will get enough Republican votes to pass the House. The Democrats will vote against it.

After being prevented several times from securing its consideration, Senator Gallinger secured the attention of the Senate to the bill regulating child labor in the District of Columbia this afternoon. The measure was taken up and read for information and consideration of it began under the agreement made some time ago that it should be voted upon before the close of today's session.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

VREELAND MEASURE DENIED SUPPORT

House Republicans End in Wrangle, to Be Renewed Tonight.

Money is a trouble-maker. Every Republican member of the House, who came out, battle-scarred and dusty, from the fruitless conference last night on the proposed emergency bill, was ready to testify to this in no uncertain terms.

The long wrangle brought forth was a decision that the conference meet again tonight to renew the battle. As a matter of fact, the leaders of the House find themselves today in an unenviable position. After months of work to get the Republicans together to finance the bill, they let it be understood that they had not succeeded, and that the conference of the party last night would knit the elements in support of the Vreeland bill. No such thing happened. Chairman Fowler, of the Committee on Banking and Currency, managed to scrape together enough support for his elaborate bill to prevent the conference reaching any conclusion at all.

Therefore, the leaders are working hard today in the endeavor to get enough men back of them to put their measure through the House. They are working more intently than ever to get emergency currency legislation adopted, and if the panic of last October is repeated it will get enough Republican votes to pass the House. The Democrats will vote against it.

Numerous conferences of small groups in committee rooms, and the corridors of the cloak rooms, and the corridors were held this morning and afternoon. Last night the conference failed to pledge itself to support the Vreeland bill, even after it had been urged to do so by Speaker Cannon himself, who did not mince words in giving it as his opinion that the legislation is absolutely necessary before this session adjourns.

The Speaker's remarks were backed up by speeches from Burton of Ohio, Weeks of Massachusetts, Keifer of Ohio, and Madden of Illinois. Against it, there were speeches by Fowler of New Jersey, Hill of Connecticut, Waldo of New York, Davis of California, and Campbell of Kansas.

What the result of tonight's conference will be it is impossible to predict with any certainty, but the leaders are doing all they can to put the Vreeland bill in such a strong place that it will get enough Republican votes to pass the House. The Democrats will vote against it.

After being prevented several times from securing its consideration, Senator Gallinger secured the attention of the Senate to the bill regulating child labor in the District of Columbia this afternoon. The measure was taken up and read for information and consideration of it began under the agreement made some time ago that it should be voted upon before the close of today's session.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

PLAN TO ASSIST CATHOLIC SCHOOL

Hibernians Want Members in Each State to Raise Fund.

The problem of financing the Catholic University, which has been the source of anxiety several years, was practically the only subject under discussion today at the meeting of the board of trustees of the university. The need for funds has become so pressing that even with the Knights of Columbus raising $50,000 more money is needed.

To meet his demand, if possible, P. T. Moran and P. J. Halligan, representing the National Council of the Ancient Order of Hibernians, went before the board today and submitted a proposition whereby a large amount of money might be raised throughout the United States, independent of the work now being done by the Knights of Columbus.

The proposition submitted by the A. O. H. representatives has for its object the establishment of scholarships at the university by Hibernian orders in every State in the Union. The amount involved in the proposed scholarships way of raising is $1,000,000 annually, but it is intended to have the amount range between $500 and $500 annually.

The board finally decided that it would take no action on the proposition at this time, but it appointed a special committee, with Archbishop Gleason of St. Louis, as chairman, to confer with the national officers of the A. O. H. in this city some time later in the week.

SMILE OF FAT MAN SADDER THAN TEARS

Beneath a Show of Joy Lies the Gloomy Vision of the Grim Reaper. We have learned to know that the adage, "Laugh and grow fat," is just as untrue as the early-to-bed and early-to-rise fib. It does not usually make a man healthy, wealthy, and wise, at least not in our day.

And so we are beginning to realize that fat is a very dangerous disease and not a state of giggling happiness. Many fat people haw-haw in public, and wear their thumbs in their vest arm-pits just as a safety valve to their misery, and to make us believe that their smiles are genuine.

Some are really jolly, but not because they are fat. To most of the jolly ones as well as to the others, every coming and going of their breath is a puff of misery, and their smiles are sadder than the tears of childhood.

Most fat people will not acknowledge it, but deep down in their hearts they know this is true. They know that smiles avail not, and that the same heart which tries to be happy, that same moment is being clutched by death-fat, slowly but surely, to be finally smothered and made silent forever. Some do not know what is going to happen, but they feel that something might. They may well be apprehensive.

Rengo is a reducer of fat and a cure of fat disease is a Godsend to every fat man and woman in the world. It is the new method, the only safe method. Rengo reduces you, while at the same time making you feel better and stronger.

There is nothing "just as good" as Rengo. For sale by all druggists at $1.00 per full sized box, or by mail prepaid, by The Rengo Co., 322 Rengo Bldg., Detroit, Mich. The company will gladly send you a trial package free by mail, if you write them direct to Detroit; no free packages at drug stores.

For sale and recommended in Washington at H. Evans, 524 F street northwest; Art's Drug Store, 1429 Pennsylvania avenue northwest; People's Drug Store, 524 Seventh street.

CHINA MATTINGS ARE MADE OF HAND-SPLIT STRAW, AND JAPAN MATTINGS OF FINE ROUND STRAW.

—We are direct importers of Matting, and as a result can offer you exclusive patterns at exceptionally low prices.

Chinese Matting, 6 patterns, in checks, plaids and stripes. Regular value, 15c yard. Special..... 9c yd.

Chinese Matting, 8 patterns, in stripes and checks; colors, red, blue and green. Regular value, 22c yd. Special..... 17c yd.

W. B. Moses & Sons, F St., Cor. 11th.

WHEN PEOPLE come from so far to have us make their teeth you must realize a few extensive our reputation must be: The teeth arrived yesterday, and I am much pleased. CHAS. F. RAILLEY, Newport News, Va. Examinations and estimates free. DR. EVANS' DENTAL PARLORS, 12th and PA. AVE. Ent. on 12th St. VEBORIST.

WHEN PEOPLE come from so far to have us make their teeth you must realize a few extensive our reputation must be: The teeth arrived yesterday, and I am much pleased. CHAS. F. RAILLEY, Newport News, Va. Examinations and estimates free. DR. EVANS' DENTAL PARLORS, 12th and PA. AVE. Ent. on 12th St. VEBORIST.

WHEN PEOPLE come from so far to have us make their teeth you must realize a few extensive our reputation must be: The teeth arrived yesterday, and I am much pleased. CHAS. F. RAILLEY, Newport News, Va. Examinations and estimates free. DR. EVANS' DENTAL PARLORS, 12th and PA. AVE. Ent. on 12th St. VEBORIST.

WHEN PEOPLE come from so far to have us make their teeth you must realize a few extensive our reputation must be: The teeth arrived yesterday, and I am much pleased. CHAS. F. RAILLEY, Newport News, Va. Examinations and estimates free. DR. EVANS' DENTAL PARLORS, 12th and PA. AVE. Ent. on 12th St. VEBORIST.

HOUSE REPUBLICANS END IN WRANGLE, TO BE RENEWED TONIGHT.

Money is a trouble-maker. Every Republican member of the House, who came out, battle-scarred and dusty, from the fruitless conference last night on the proposed emergency bill, was ready to testify to this in no uncertain terms.

The long wrangle brought forth was a decision that the conference meet again tonight to renew the battle. As a matter of fact, the leaders of the House find themselves today in an unenviable position. After months of work to get the Republicans together to finance the bill, they let it be understood that they had not succeeded, and that the conference of the party last night would knit the elements in support of the Vreeland bill. No such thing happened. Chairman Fowler, of the Committee on Banking and Currency, managed to scrape together enough support for his elaborate bill to prevent the conference reaching any conclusion at all.

Therefore, the leaders are working hard today in the endeavor to get enough men back of them to put their measure through the House. They are working more intently than ever to get emergency currency legislation adopted, and if the panic of last October is repeated it will get enough Republican votes to pass the House. The Democrats will vote against it.

Numerous conferences of small groups in committee rooms, and the corridors of the cloak rooms, and the corridors were held this morning and afternoon. Last night the conference failed to pledge itself to support the Vreeland bill, even after it had been urged to do so by Speaker Cannon himself, who did not mince words in giving it as his opinion that the legislation is absolutely necessary before this session adjourns.

The Speaker's remarks were backed up by speeches from Burton of Ohio, Weeks of Massachusetts, Keifer of Ohio, and Madden of Illinois. Against it, there were speeches by Fowler of New Jersey, Hill of Connecticut, Waldo of New York, Davis of California, and Campbell of Kansas.

What the result of tonight's conference will be it is impossible to predict with any certainty, but the leaders are doing all they can to put the Vreeland bill in such a strong place that it will get enough Republican votes to pass the House. The Democrats will vote against it.

After being prevented several times from securing its consideration, Senator Gallinger secured the attention of the Senate to the bill regulating child labor in the District of Columbia this afternoon. The measure was taken up and read for information and consideration of it began under the agreement made some time ago that it should be voted upon before the close of today's session.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

At the beginning of the consideration, Senator Hollister, in charge of the bill, extended to Senator Beveridge the assurance that the Committee on Education and Labor, reporting this measure, would in the near future take up the question of a child labor measure, applicable to the entire country.

With this assurance Senator Beveridge said he would refrain from offering his child labor bill as an amendment.

No food is more strengthening than whole wheat; none so easily digested as

Quaker Wheat Berries

(Puffed and baked under 400° Fahrenheit) To introduce this delicious cereal to you we are offering the ten cent package for 7c for a limited time only Crisp before eating The Quaker Oats Company The price on Quaker Oats is now 10c.

Amusements. Tonight at 8:15 NEW NATIONAL ABORN OPERA CO. WIZARD OF THE NILE

Amusements. Tonight at 8:15 COLUMBIA HACKETT IN A SPECIAL REVIVAL OF "THE PRISONER OF ZENDA"

Amusements. Tonight at 8:15 CHASE'S POLITE VAUDEVILLE

Amusements. POPULAR WITH THE PEOPLE NEW LYCEUM ALL THIS WEEK—MATINEE DAILY. THE GAY YOREADERS

Amusements. The Davison's Annual MAY BALL and CARNIVAL National Rifles' Army Monday Evening, May 11, 1936.

Amusements. Christian Xander's Gin Cocktail (MARTINI) Highest grade cocktail on the market.

Amusements. 25 Feet Garden Hose Only $1.60

Amusements. Bon Marche Many of the best styles of the Spring Suits are now marked about half price.

Amusements. ANNUAL WATCH SALE R. HARRIS & CO. 7th and D.

Amusements. BEHREND'S 722-24 7th St. N.W. THURSDAY SPECIALS

Amusements. NEW ACADEMY MATE. TUES. THUR. and SAT. CHAR. E. BLANEY OFFERS FISKE O'HARA

Amusements. BELASCO Evenings, 5c and 10c. Mat. Wed. and Sat., 25c and 50c.

Amusements. MacDOWELL MEMORIAL FUND TESTIMONIAL CONCERT

Amusements. FANCY DRESS CARNIVAL by pupils of MISS IDA HAYES

Amusements. Gayety Theatre 9th Street Near F ALL THIS WEEK—MATINEE EVERY DAY

Amusements. BASEBALL American League Park, 7th & Fla. Ave. 4:30 Today 4:30

Amusements. DANCING Assemblies Every Sat. Eve. at the Washington Club

Amusements. STEAMBOATS. TO MOUNT VERNON STR. CHARLES MACALESTE R.

Amusements. No List Is Consulted Oftener

Amusements. LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE

Amusements. TIMES WANT ADS BRING RESULTS