

BUEL IS RETIRED FROM UNIVERSITY

President of Georgetown, According to Old Custom, Given New Duties.

The Rev. Father David Hillhouse Buel, S. J., president of Georgetown University, has received notification from the superior general of the Jesuit order in Rome, that his official duties as head of the Washington University will terminate on September 1.

A few days later Father Buel will assume parochial duties at St. Joseph's College, Philadelphia.

The Rev. Father Joseph Himmel, S. J., rector of St. Aloysius' Church and president of Gonzaga College, has been named as Father Buel's successor.

The change was made in accordance with the century-old custom of the university that a new president be chosen every three years. Coming some time after the term, when Father Buel's three years had elapsed, the change was something of a surprise to those familiar and associated with university circles.

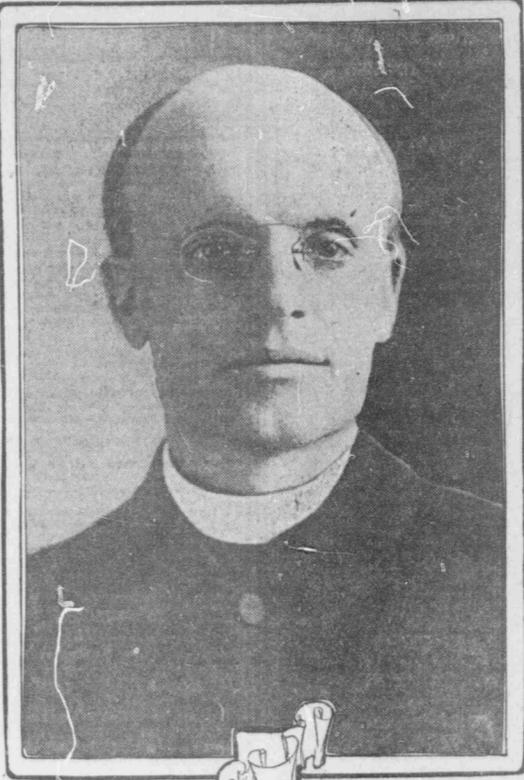

The Rev. Eugene DeL. McDonnell, S. J., minister of Gonzaga College, is temporarily appointed vice rector of that institution to fill the vacancy caused by Father Himmel's advancement and the Rev. F. Noonan, S. J., has been appointed minister of the college, vice Father McDonnell.

Under the regime of Father Buel, Georgetown University has prospered, and it has been due to his broad-minded and intellectual policies that the institution has advanced to the front ranks among institutions of learning in the United States.

Father Buel was a strict disciplinarian. Although his methods in this respect were greeted with some little criticism by the student body at the start, the results obtained have amply shown that it was a meritorious principle.

Father Buel leaves as one of the most popular presidents who have guided the destiny of the university. It was through his efforts that funds were raised for the erection of the new Ryan Hall, the handsome new gymnasium, the improvements to the Community building, the building of the college building, and additions to the beautiful grounds which surround the college.

CAMP PERRY SHOTS ANXIOUS TO FINISH

Range Officials Hope to End Individual and Pistol Matches by Tonight.

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 28.—The National individual match, which began yesterday afternoon, and the national pistol match, are the closing events of the tournament of the national board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice.

Anxious since the finish of the national team match yesterday noon to rush the meeting to an end, the range officials are doing their best to have these two individual contests ended before dusk today.

The national individual match is shot on the same ranges as was the team match—but the order is changed. The skirish run is taken first, after which low-score contestants are rapidly eliminated. The 200-yard rapid fire follows then the 200-yard slow and the 400 and 800 yard and the concluding 1,000-yard test.

The competitors making the twelve highest scores get gold medals and cash prizes ranging from $60 to $5. There are silver medals for the second twelve and bronze medals for the third twelve. The highest aggregate slow-fire score wins a gold medal and $50 and the highest aggregate rapid-fire and skirish scores are also rewarded with gold medals and $20 prizes.

The match was won last year by Willis J. Lee, Jr., of Kentucky, a cadet at the United States Naval Academy, who scored 218. The winner in 1906 was Lieut. T. H. Dillon, Corps of Engineers, U. S. A., and in 1905 Private James Durward, of Massachusetts, led the field.

The national pistol match, which begins today, is shot on ten shots at 25 yards, twenty seconds a shot; ten at 25 and ten at 50 yards, twenty seconds for each five shots; and through ten shots at 25 and at 25 yards rapid-fire, eight seconds for five shots. Midshipman Lee amazed the camp by shooting it up last year with the score of 228.

The winner two years ago was Lieut. S. M. Parker, Twenty-ninth Infantry, U. S. A.

Walsh Fight Takes New Turn; Committee Issues Circular

Alleged Weak Points in the Hodenpyl Plan Are Shown in Communication to Stockholders—Wide Opening Is Left.

The contest for control of the first mortgage bonds of the Southern Indiana railway, the Walsh road, which recently went into the hands of a receiver, took a new turn yesterday with the issuing of the bondholders of a circular by the Young committee, in which attention is drawn to the fact that under the terms of the agreement of the Hodenpyl committee the committee has power to pledge the bonds deposited with it for the purpose of acquiring junior securities of the Southern Indiana railway.

Should such a course be deemed advisable by the committee.

This provision is regarded by some of the bondholders as of particular interest because of the belief which they hold that the Hodenpyl committee is closely identified with the Walsh interests, and that for this reason it is likely, in formulating any plans for the reorganization of the road, to represent not only the first mortgage bondholders alone, but holders of other securities as well. The circular issued by the Young committee, in comparing the terms of its own agreement with those of the Hodenpyl committee, states that bondholders who place their bonds with the Young committee cannot be called upon to meet expenses in excess of 2 per cent of the face value of the bonds except through the adoption of a plan of reorganization which might involve further commitments, but which cannot affect the bondholders, unless they consent to the plan, whereas, under the Hodenpyl agreement the maximum is not limited in this way.

Since it is laid by the Young committee on the fact that under its agreement bondholders are free to withdraw their bonds should they fail to approve of the plan of reorganization which the committee may draw up, whereas in the case of the Hodenpyl agreement 51 per cent of the bonds deposited with the committee can compel the bondholders to adopt any plan of reorganization, however much the plan may be in the interest of junior securities. Furthermore, the Young committee points out that its agreement pledges it to obey the reasonable instructions of depositors of bonds, while the Hodenpyl committee is authorized to use its discretion.

The issuance of this circular by the Young committee is taken as proof that it means to make a determined fight to prevent the Hodenpyl committee, which claims to represent a majority of the bonds actually securing the deposit of the bulk of these bonds.

PRESIDENT'S SON STOPS A RUNAWAY

Kermit Saves Lives of Three Persons by His Heroism.

OYSTER BAY, L. I., Aug. 28.—After an exciting chase on horseback of the runaway team, Kermit Roosevelt brought a pair of dashing horses to a stop, and probably saved the lives of Mrs. Frank Hilton, of New York, and her two small sons, along the Bayville shore road yesterday afternoon.

The feat of the second son of the President, aged nineteen years, was a most daring one, and numbers of people, who with bated breath watched the chase, expected the young man to be thrown from the back of his horse under the feet of the runaway team.

Mrs. Hilton and her sons sat frantic with fear in the rear seat, while young Roosevelt dashed along for some distance on his own steed until he could catch the dragging reins.

Mr. Hilton, who was driving the team, had been thrown out when the horses became frightened at an automobile. He picked up another machine and came flying into town a few minutes after Kermit had brought the horses to a standstill. The lid was covered with congratulations, but blushingly broke away with a "Don't mention it." When he arrived at home, Kermit did not tell the President of his adventure, and members did not know of the act of daring until a late hour last night.

SULTAN'S CAPTURE REPORTED FROM FEZ

Held for Ransom by Tribal Chieftain, According to Report.

TANGIER, Aug. 28.—A message today from Fez says that Mulai-Hafid, the newly proclaimed Sultan of Morocco, has been captured by Ouled Djema, a tribal chieftain, and is being held for a ransom. Negotiations are said to be pending with Abdul Aziz, the late Sultan, who was recently overthrown by Mulai, for the latter's surrender.

The news caused a sensation, and members of the foreign diplomatic corps immediately set to work to verify it. As yet no confirmation has been received. Mulai is said to have ventured too far from Fez without a proper escort and been seized by Ouled Djema, who, with a large following, had kept in wait for several days, awaiting a chance to capture him.

Ouled is not allied with either of the Moroccan factions, and if Mulai is his prisoner, he will be surrendered to the side that offers the largest ransom. The last report from Abdul Aziz said that he was not in Casablanca.

Out at Glen Echo Park the rainy season was passed in brightening up the attractions and in improving new means for the Washington public to enjoy itself.

Large crowds have participated in the funmaking at the park, and L. D. Special efforts were made to keep the dampness out of the dancing pavilion and the various other indoor amusements.
