Amateur Veterans Playing in Post-Season Series

TWINING WINS IN DIVISION B

beat out a throw to catch him at third. Gordon again was master of the situation, and fanned the next two.

Twining garnered four of its runs in the first, which was a wild exhibition from the Eckington's viewpoint.

McCarthy, first up, reached first, when McMahon nudged a throw, reached second on Evans's sacrifice, the only one of either game, and scored on Howard's hit. Wyncoop's triple sent Howard across the plate and Kelleher made the circuit on a series of errors.

Twining, who wanted to add to the hitting strength, after an all-round shift in the seventh, singled, scoring Evans. The scores:

For two sessions that second contest was as promising a young force as one would go to a London music hall to see, then the situation cleared, but not the rain, and the ensuing struggle was check full of sensations with one un-corked each inning.

At the opening the teams men on both teams labored under the delusion that the game would soon be called on account of rain so what's the use anyway.

The account of the second round would be exceedingly tiresome, and is also complicated, which are both good reasons for leaving it out.

Cobb in Midst of Batting Slump; Leadership Is Not in Danger

Contenders Also on the Toboggan, So That There Is No Likelihood That Georgian Will Fall From Grace. Tigers' Average Lowered.

Crisis, of the Browns—the most remarkable pitcher of recent years—still holds his place as the nominal batting leader of the American League, while Ty Cobb is still the actual head and front of the all-season batmen.

Cobb has fallen away considerably in the last few days, but still has so fat a margin that he is not likely to be overtaken. Most of the batting records, both individual and collective, have fallen down of late, so that Cobb is no exception to the general rule.

The Detroit team, which has the lead in club batting by a big margin, has fallen off from .373 to .328, and the rest in like proportion. Detroit also leads in extra bases, and the White Sox in fielding.

Cobb is the chief extra base batsman, Sam Crawford only a few points behind. Five pitchers still have perfect fielding averages. Sullivan is the real, all-season leader of the catchers; Donohue heads the first basemen, Killebrew the second sackers, Ferris the third basemen, and Bradley the shortstops. Hahn tops the outfielders.

BEAMS OF LIGHT PRODUCE SOUND. Wonderful Discovery Is Made in Passing Sunlight Through a Prism.

One of the most wonderful discoveries in science that have been made within the last year or two is the fact that a beam of light produces sound. A beam of sunlight is thrown through a lens on a glass vessel that contains lampblack.

Recently a most wonderful discovery has been made. A beam of sunlight is made to pass through a prism, so to produce what is called the solar spectrum or rainbow. The disk is turned, and the colored light of the rainbow is made to break through it.

For instance, if the vessel contains red waxed, and the green light flashes upon it, loud sounds will be given. Only a sound at all. Green silk gives sound best in red light. Every kind of material gives more or less sound in different colors, and utters no sound in others.

HOW THE BLOOD DEFENDS THE BODY

Recent laboratory research on the blood and on the properties through which it defends the body against the invasion of bacterial diseases has opened up a field rich in present information.

These cells keep close to the vessel wall that they move more slowly than the current of red cells, and that they have a certain power of independent movement, as well as the power to change in shape.

Here, take his pick and spade! He dug him for the night; A bed where he'll be laid. And certain from the light; His fee of life is paid.

He followed many an one. But it was hit and miss; He never turned back again. So sure a dust as this—

He never found his strike; But, here where he laid. He proves all pick and spade; Of common clay is made.
