

DATE ANNOUNCED FOR HEARING

Alabama Representative's Case Will Be Called After Congress Opens.

AFFAIR ATTRACTED GREATEST INTEREST

Ink Fraud Hearing Will Be Taken Up Later in the Fall Term.

District Attorney Daniel W. Baker announced today that the case of Representative J. Thomas Heflin of Alabama, under indictment for assault to kill, will be called for trial immediately after Congress convenes in December.

The determination on the part of the District Attorney saves Heflin the trouble of making an additional trip from Alabama.

The affair for which Representative Heflin was indicted, occurred last March when he shot a negro at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Sixth street, because the negro's behavior was disrespectful to some white women who were passengers on a street car.

A horse trainer named McCroery, who was standing on the sidewalk near by, was accidentally hit by a flying bullet, and hovered between life and death for weeks after the shooting.

Rechtin's Trial.

Henry Rechtin, formerly disbursing officer of the Department of Justice, charged with embezzlement of funds in connection with his duties in that office, will be one of the first cases called for trial in November.

Other Federal criminal trials, which will attract attention during the fall term, will be the ink fraud case and the Patent Office fraud case.

Edwin M. Van Dyck, the former ink expert of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, will be placed on trial alone, Victor G. Bloede, with whom he was jointly indicted, having pleaded guilty and paid a fine of $5,000 a week ago.

The Patent Office frauds will also be called in after election. Ned W. Eaton, a former examiner in the Patent Office; Henry E. Everday, a patent attorney of Philadelphia; and Joseph A. Heany, an inventor of York, Pa., were jointly indicted for destroying public records in an attempt to tamper with electric lighting inventions.

MALCOLM HUFFY FORFEITS BOND

Malcolm Huff, a lawyer, arrested last night on a charge of failing to pay a $3 hack fare on the Police Court building this morning, but did not answer to his name when the list of those who put up collateral at the various precincts was called, and forfeited $3.

George Patterson, the hack driver, was in the court room, and stated that he had driven Huff around town in his vehicle for three hours, and that when he came to collect the fare Huff refused to give it to him, offering no explanation, and refusing to discuss the matter. Policemen Downs made the arrest.

COURT OF INQUIRY SUSTAINED BY NAVY

The Navy Department has approved the findings of the court of inquiry appointed to investigate the circumstances attending the grounding of the battleship Colorado at Puget Sound, and in which Captain Underwood, commander of the battleship, was exonerated.

The court requested the Secretary of Commerce and Labor to have his department investigate and remedy the improper charting of the ground at the point the accident occurred.

TYPHOID CLAIMS SECOND DAUGHTER

Funeral services for Miss Ada Nussear, the fifteen-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund A. Nussear, will be held at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Grace Baptist Church.

The death of Miss Nussear is particularly sad in that it has been less than a month since her elder sister, Miss Mary Nussear, died of typhoid fever. The Misses Nussear were the only daughters in the family.

ICE PLANT, FINED, QUILTS OPERATION

After suffering arrest and paying large fines three times within the last week, all of which it maintains were unjust, the ice making plant of the American Ice Company at Sixteenth and E streets northeast, was shut down yesterday by order of S. A. Kimberly, local manager for the company.

The arrests and fines have been the result of alleged violations of the District solicitor law, which officers of the company claim were technical violations and unworthy of consideration. Kimberly says that the plant, which employs twenty-six men and pays $400 a week in wages, will be closed six months.

New Magazine, "The Cavalier," Is Filled With Good Fiction

Newest Munsey Publication Makes Favorable First Appearance—Strong, Stirring Stories by Well-Known Writers Are Its Features.

"The Cavalier" appears on the newsstands today. This is a new Munsey publication, with all the Munsey characteristics. It is a new high-class magazine, made up chiefly of romantic fiction, a monthly, and is sold at the Munsey price of 10 cents, which is today almost as unusual as when the first magazine was issued at this figure by this same company.

Stories that "jump." This is the field of "The Cavalier." The very first issue includes two serials by authors known to every reading American family as writers who leave the "ginger" in—Robert Barr and Stanley J. Weyman.

Mr. Barr's story is "The Cleverness of Cadillac." Five chapters are included in the first installment, and this one sample arouses an interest not less than that of "Tekla." "Young Lord Strangleh," this author's other popular novels.

Mr. Weyman is represented by "The Wild Goose," a brisk, virile tale of a staggler blown into a "port of missing men" in the southwestern part of Iceland. The action sweeps along in the manner of "A Gentleman of France" and "Under the Red Robe."

Both these serials are blood-tingling and mind-grIPPING. There are, moreover, four other continued stories—"The Wings of Mars," by John Whitson; "The Shadow of the Sphinx," by Albert Turhune; "The Legacy of Terror," by Ludwick Lewisohn, and "The Whispering Man," by Dana K. Adams. The reader is offered also ten short stories. The story in character from the jumpy, impressionistic little tale of "The Dutch West Indies," "The Merry War," by Thomas R. Yarra-to-E. Irving-Fletcher's "The Other Fellow," a vigorous work painting of high-pressure life in the New York of today.

Other contributors to the magazine are short stories are: "Rebecca Lane Hooper, Belle Glyn, I. A. R. Wylie, Donald Kennicott, Lawrence Reamer, Roman Scheffauer, James J. Carroll, and Theodore Roberts.

A Knight of Today," by Bannister Merwin, is a complete novel, closes the number. This author, well known as a successful magazine editor, has here written the kind of a story which it is well for the reader's peace of mind to publish complete. Any one who is likely to understand the story will know what is meant when told "it's a hummer."

Three poems complete this month's table of contents. Poetry is evidently not the first interest of the magazine, but such poetry as it presents is good poetry, not too long, light, and the kind that sticks in the memory.

Stories are the pulling power of "The Cavalier." The magazine is, nevertheless, attractive to look at, and pleasant to hold in the hand. The print is large and clear, the paper good, and the cover a striking drawing of a young girl, atop a hunting mount, clearing a three-rail fence.

Turns on Gas, Tries Some Poison, And When Arrested, Tells Judge It's Joke on Wife—Gets Bail

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Oscar Morrison, twenty-one years old, of 102 Fortieth street, Brooklyn, met a girl two years ago and fell in love with her. He proposed and was accepted.

Morrison was known as a practical joker, and when his friends learned that he was engaged they told his prospective bride that she would better think a good deal before she married.

The culmination of Morrison's jokes came yesterday when Mrs. Morrison came home from a shopping tour and found her husband lying on the bed and the room filled with gas. She picked him up, and carrying him into another room, telephoned Dr. P. B. Dowd. Before the physician reached the house Morrison revived and attempted to swallow a quantity of creoline.

Mrs. Morrison, in fright, telephoned the Norwegian Hospital. Ambulance Surgeon McGuire and Dr. Dowd reached the house simultaneously and passed a stomach pump on Morrison. After working over him for an hour they pronounced him out of danger. Morrison was arrested and in the Fifth Avenue court, very much dejected, he told Magistrate

McGuire it was all a joke.

"Well, that is a funny joke," said the magistrate. "I am afraid my sense of humor is not quite well enough developed to appreciate it. You can have a week to laugh over it." The magistrate adjourned the case until September 22, and Morrison was released in bail of $2,000.

The resignation of Adolph A. Koch, a clerk at $1,200 per annum, in the division of postoffice inspectors, was announced today at the Postoffice Department.

Announcement also is made of the promotion of Miss Alette S. Nickelsson, clerk, from $1,000 to $1,200 per annum, and the promotion of Arthur J. Delevigne, clerk, from $800 to $1,000 per annum.

George E. Lopez, of Missouri, has been selected through civil service channels for appointment to position of clerk at $900 per annum.

An order has just been issued at the Postoffice Department for the publication of a general advertisement inviting proposals for carrying the mails of the United States in Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Delaware, Maryland, Virginia, and West Virginia, from July 1, 1909, to June 30, 1912.

As an aftermath to their competitive drill in Boston last month, members of the First Washington Company, Uniformed Knights of Pythias, held a smoker last night in Pythian Temple.
