

LAST HOPE GONE FOR A. T. PATRICK

Supreme Court Denies New Trial, Sing Sing His Home for Life.

Sing Sing will not give up Albert T. Patrick. The Supreme Court of the United States, the last one on earth that Patrick could appeal to, this morning refused his petition for a new trial, and he will now be compelled to spend the remainder of his life in the grim prison on the Hudson.

Patrick has proved one of the most remarkable criminals in whom the courts of New York have had to deal.

When he first came up for trial, in 1922, for the murder of W. M. Rice, a Texas millionaire, who was poisoned, it was charged, in 1920, by Patrick and Rice's valet, Jones, he made one of the most skillful fights that any man similarly placed has made.

Despite the confession of Jones, who said that he had killed Rice at the instigation of Patrick, who sought the old man's wealth, Patrick conducted a brilliant defense.

He was convicted for the first time on March 25, 1922, and placed in the death cell at Sing Sing. He appealed to the courts of appeal of New York in 1923, argued that appeal, lost; made another appeal for a reopening of the case in 1924, lost that in 1925, and seemed about to face death.

The execution was set for August 7, 1925, but was postponed. Finally Patrick was sentenced to life in prison on December 6, 1926, and the governor of New York refused to interfere further, until Patrick had made an appeal to the United States Supreme Court.

While this appeal was in preparation his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment. He made this commutation one of the reasons for seeking a retrial, claiming that his imprisonment is an "increased" punishment, and that the governor's act in making the commutation was contrary to the Constitution.

SENATOR RACE IN OHIO GROWS COMPLICATED

With Joseph B. Foraker out in the open, defending his record and announcing himself a fighting candidate for reelection to the Senate; with Charles P. Taft insisting that the place is his, and with Theodore E. Burton just as positively protesting that he wants it; with George B. Cox apparently determined to make Foraker the winner if he can, and with President-elect William H. Taft suddenly called to Cincinnati on a mysterious mission, the Ohio Senatorship seems to be much up in the air indeed.

Senator Foraker today issued his defense against the Hearst charges of Standard Oil affiliation. It is known that Foraker has a strong support among the members of the Ohio assembly and the voters of the state. He is on the highest authority that Boss Cox, of Cincinnati, is going to stand for Foraker to the end. Cox got the best of the Ohio State offices last spring. In the trading that was done at the time Taft got the Presidential delegation. He comes nearer to ruling at Columbus than any other man in the state. He unquestionably rules in Hamilton county, and in alliance with Brown, Gilbert, and other State bosses he could control a Legislature if he should get about it in earnest.

Cox doesn't like the Tafts very much. He would rather not play with them when it isn't necessary. Now, it happens that President-elect Taft is in bad shape to mix in the Senatorship, because he is under great obligations to Burton. Burton's friends are positive they have twenty-six of the forty-six votes necessary to control the Republican legislative joint caucus. Probably they are oversanguine, but it is certain that Burton has a good bunch of pledges, and Foraker another. It looks like anybody's race, with the President-elect almost forced to keep hands off.

Foraker's Letter.
Cincinnati, Oct. 5, 1936.
Dear Sir: In view of the charges of Mr. Hearst and the discussion now going on in the newspapers as to the character of my employment by the Standard Oil Company, and the services I rendered under such employment, I would be glad if you would write me regarding the same and give me permission to use your letter if occasion should seem to require it. I make this request because I was employed by the Standard Oil Company, and because you are entirely familiar with the scope of that employment, the services rendered, and, in short, the whole subject, and because, under the circumstances, I prefer that you rather than myself should speak on these points. With assurance of continued regard, I remain, very truly yours, etc., J. B. FORAKER.

Reply Received.
Kline, Tolles & Goff,
1215 Williamson Building,
Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 6, 1936.
Hon. Joseph B. Foraker,
Cincinnati, Ohio.
My Dear Sir:—I am just in receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, asking me to write you in regard to your employment, with permission to use my letter, if occasion should seem to require it. With that request I am glad to comply.

In December, 1933, at the time you were employed by me, there was pending in the supreme court of the State of Ohio, a very serious and difficult litigation, in which the Standard Oil Company had been instituted by the attorney general, charging that company with having willfully violated the order of the supreme court directing it to withdraw from the trust agreement. The company had answered, issues had been made up, and a considerable volume of testimony taken.

There was also pending against the Buckeye Pipe Line Company a proceeding in quo warranto charging it with being a member of a trust, in violation of the anti-trust laws of the State, also a proceeding against the Ohio Oil Company and the Solar Refining Company, and one of a like character, at that time, I think, threatening against the Standard Oil Company of Ohio, and which was brought in January, 1932. These were so-called constituent companies of the Standard Oil trust.

His Assistance Sought.
It was in the midst of these difficult cases, with the very serious consequences incident to any adverse decision, that, with the approval of my client, I turned to your for assistance and advice.

I had, I remember, a prolonged interview with you when I first met you in connection with this business. Copies of the pleadings in the contempt case were shown you and the substance of the evidence already taken narrated, together with the action of the certificate holders taken at the meeting and the course being pursued by the trust, carrying out the purpose of the resolution.

SUPPORTED PEARRE, DECLARES WARNER

Scouts Charge That He Led Disaffection From Republican Ticket.

B. H. Warner, who has been accused by Representative George A. Pearre, of the Sixth Maryland district, of opposing the latter's re-election that the normal majority in that district was reduced from 4,500 to about 500, said this morning that Mr. Pearre's accusations were false and foolish.

"There is not a word of truth in it so far as I am concerned," said Mr. Warner. "I voted for Mr. Pearre and asked many of my friends to do so. I am a business man and not a politician. From my point of view, if this had not been the year of the Presidential campaign, Mr. Pearre would have lost the district."

Opposed by Friends.
"His opponent, David J. Lewis, and many of his friends made an active campaign against him. Mr. Pearre did not get the votes. That is the reason his majority figured up so small."

"Why doesn't he charge President Roosevelt with helping to defeat him? His letter referring to the Pearre anti-luncheon bill reached many voters in Allegheny county."

"He has not explained the situation in Frederick and Washington counties."

No "Warner Faction"
"But, as I said, I am not a politician and have a lot of business to attend to in which I am a great deal of pleasure. There is no Warner faction in Montgomery county or anywhere else, and I hope there never will be—only friends, true friends."

Mr. Warner said further that he had distributed many copies of a speech he made in October, at Frederick, in which he asked the voters to come out for Taft, Sherman, and Pearre.

RACE WAR FEARED IN OKLAHOMA TOWN

Rioting Between Whites and Blacks Threatens, Following Clashes.

OKMULGEE, Okla., Nov. 16.—Serious race troubles are today threatened here, following yesterday's pitched battle between Jim Dockard, a negro desperado, and officers in which five men were killed and ten injured. Two of the injured are likely to die. If this happens, race rioting seems inevitable.

With armed men patrolling the streets last night, and a company of militia held at Muskogee ready for a quick rush here, order was maintained, but the feeling is growing more bitter among both races, and hostilities may precipitate trouble at any moment.

The situation in the local courts offers excellent opportunity to arouse trouble. Last week the district court convicted many negroes. This caused protests from the negro community that every black man was being railroaded to prison by white jurors.

When a negro woman was arrested Saturday, Judge Alexander summoned a jury of negroes, and the woman was acquitted. This brought protests from the whites. A motion to dismiss the negro panel is scheduled for argument today and this may cause trouble.

HEPBURN TO FIGHT FOR CONGRESS SEAT

Veteran Believes Votes Thrown Out on Technicality Will Win for Him.

Representative Hephburn of Iowa, defeated on the face of the returns in the Eighth Iowa district, has announced that he will contest.

More than this, the veteran Congressman believes he has an excellent chance to win.

On the returns, W. H. Jamieson defeated Hephburn by about 250 plurality. Colonel Hephburn charges that more than 1,000 ballots were thrown out on technical grounds, and that the great majority of these were for him. The Iowa ballot law provides a difficult and technical method of splitting a ballot, and has been several times changed in recent years. Uninformed voters are given to marking the ticket in accordance with the last known method, when perhaps the law may have been re-modeled once or twice since they had experience. This accounts for the large number of bad ballots. However, the "intent of the voter" clause is rather broad, and the Hephburn people believe they will win under it.

LOST IN STORM.
CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Nov. 16.—James Copeland is dead and four other persons who were caught in a "norther" while off the Texas coast in a gasoline launch are in such serious condition that their recovery is doubtful. The other members of the party were Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Greene and Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ford.

Freshly Roasted COFFEES

There's character to well-selected coffee that is not found in the general coffee of commerce. A well-selected, properly blended, and FRESHLY ROASTED coffee contains life and strength which are vitally important if you would have a really good beverage. Old roasts are tough and stale, and utterly lacking in exhilarating effects which properly belong to the coffee bean. A & P coffees are always fresh and crisp, and cost you no more than the ordinary kinds.
