WHAT IS "THE IDEA BEHIND PENITENTIARIES?"

Some time ago the Chicago Inter Ocean indulged its wit at the expense of a serious movement for the betterment of methods in the Iowa State penitentiary at Fort Madison.

"Since Warden Sanders is attempting honestly to solve a grave problem according to his light, his effort may deserve more dignified consideration.

"The law is emphatic in denying that it ever contemplates vengeance. But despite this emphatic denial there is an underlying element of vengeance in the law.

"Convict life is essentially and terribly tragic. The good of society demands that it be terribly and essentially tragic.

"This is not all the Inter Ocean says. But it is a fair brief of all that is said.

"Punishment is an incidental to imprisonment, not the main factor. Strength, new strength to combat temptation, should be the prime object.

"The mistake about the oil product duties will give opportunity to bang up the snoot of the oil can some more, for home consumption.

"Mount Etna is warming up for another eruption, but it will hardly attract much attention because the base of the mountain is due to break out at the same time.

"Senator Aldrich makes it plain that it is wise enough to know the history of those tariff bills which aroused the antagonism of the women.

"What they've got to do is to get some deck hands that can see a ball when it comes at 'em as big as the moon, and know that a bat's meant to hit it with and not to be used as a plow-handle.

"Also etc. Also ad naus. Jokes about the tariff jokers are not real jokes, nor made by genuine jokers.

MOONSHINE IN DRAMATIC CRITICISM.

Flub! Flub! Flub! The New York newspapers are filled with it these days concerning acting.

"No actor since Edwin Booth left the stage has fully manifested Richeieu. The performance was perfect in every particular, and it will dwell forever in the annals of great acting.

"This is, of course, from Mr. Winter. Whatever is old is 'vital,' has 'inherent majesty of soul.'

"Hardly had the proud father entered the sick room to get his first glimpse of the new twins than both new-boys set up a loud howling.

"Swinburne. From his poem on the death of Barry Cornwall (1874).

"In the garden of death, where the singers whose names are deathless. One with another make music un-

"Now, as a matter of fact, there are few critics of the drama who are competent to oppose their judgment to that of the studious actor.

"Time takes them home that we loved, fair names and famous, To the soft, long sleep, to the broad sweet bosom of death.

"The members of the Cabinet. Representatives Ellerbe of South Carolina.

"The Brazilian Minister. Senator Jose Carlos Rodriguez of Brazil.

Capital Tales

CHARLES VADEN BARTON. "The Count," one of the choicest cranks that ever came to the capital, has arrived from Seattle to open his campaign to elect himself President in 2008.

"Well, you don't look as if you were wasting the revenue on clothes or soap, anyhow," he replied. The Count used to be a printer, and he sells, for a quarter, a marvelous booklet in four colors of paper and ninety-one kinds of type, setting his religious-political program before the readers.

"The Count is looking for a joint debt currency bill, and he is looking for one on the tariff with John Dalzell. He had not definitely looked there as yet, but is hopeful.

Wendell Wadsworth Mischler, assistant secretary to the President, is of German descent, and is a lover of music.

Still, there are some reasons why we are compelled to regret that the ladies will have less excuse for kicking about the schedules.

Here's trusting that the gentlemen who have the tariff figures to make up will not get them tangled with the baseball percentages.

The worry about our Japanese friends buying a flock of fast submarine boats is less acute by reason of the fact that they are going to buy them of an American builder.

Sensational reports that the reduced tariff on hats will only cause the ladies to make them bigger than ever, should be suppressed as soon as possible.

The jails in Nicaragua are reported filled, but from the fact that the government is still at large, it appears that the wrong people have been getting inside.

The peach crop has been completely ruined by frost, which shows that, after all, the world advances mighty slowly.

Senator Johnson of North Dakota wants a high-ball census of the military and naval service, if he is properly understood.

There's something awfully familiar about that Iowa idea proposal of Senator Cummins. If it manages to kick up half as big a row on the national stage as it did in its native State, it will add gawdy to politics for some time to come.

The mistake about the oil product duties will give opportunity to bang up the snoot of the oil can some more, for home consumption.

Mount Etna is warming up for another eruption, but it will hardly attract much attention because the base of the mountain is due to break out at the same time.

THE MODERN DINNER. Dinner, in the primitive sense, is something to eat; but in the higher, social sense it is something to sit over in uncomfortable clothes, peck at with six kinds of forks, and be altogether bored by. Dinner is often saved by wine, because wine is a mocker and makes you think of things to say which you wouldn't think of saying otherwise.

There are men who know when wine has made them just foolish enough to dine with grace, but they are not many. Most of us keep on drinking until we fancy we are witty and then nothing will do us but to get drunk.

If it is true, as some suppose, that the prohibition movement is largely due to a great people having been lashed to fury by a scandalous oratory, then have dinners after all their moral significance. It was inevitable.—Puck.

EVINCING AUTHORITY. Hardly had the proud father entered the sick room to get his first glimpse of the new twins than both new-boys set up a loud howling.

The marriage of Miss Edith L. Bryan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bryan, to Maurice J. Wall, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. F. Wall, of Worcester, Mass., took place last evening at 6 o'clock in St. Patrick's Church, the Rev. Dr. McGuigan officiating in the presence of a large gathering of relatives and friends.

Quantities of palms, ferns and Easter blossoms formed the church decorations.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a handsome gown of princess lace over white satin and her long tulle veil was caught with a spray of roses.

DOUBT ABOUT JACKIES

There wasn't anything louder than the buzz of conversation or the music of a two-step or waltz in the seamen gunners' workshop in the Navy Yard last night.

The officers' hall had a remarkable air of expectancy, caused probably by the wonderful manner in which the sailors had decorated it. Flags from every country in the world, almost, were hung about the walls and festooned about the ceiling.

The wives and sweethearts of the jackies were there in numbers and in the way in which both entered into the enjoyment of the dance, indicated they felt that the men who got the affair up with infinite trouble, certainly deserved some reward.
