

BOARD AND CHAMBER TO CROSS BATS TODAY

Proceeds of Baseball Game Will Go to Playgrounds Association.

PLAYERS CONFIDENT AND FULL OF GINGER

Pitchers Will Be Largely Relied Upon to Win the Game.

With practically the entire membership of both organizations preparing to be on hand to encourage its respective teams, the baseball game to be played at American League Park this afternoon between picked lines representing the Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade promises to be one of the most enthusiastic contests of its kind ever pulled off in Washington. The game will be called at 4 o'clock.

Two weeks of practice and preparation ended today with the announcement of the line-up of the two teams. The selection of players for the Board of Trade team is final, and the batting order has been definitely arranged. The Chamber of Commerce line-up, however, is subject to change. While the infield has been practically determined, there are a number of good men out for the outfield, and several of them will probably be given a chance to play. The game is expected to open with Knox, Kaufman, and Guy in the positions of left, right and center, respectively, on the Chamber team.

Teams About Equal. On paper, both lines appear to be about on a par in fielding and batting ability, and until the first ball is thrown all speculation will be futile as to which side has gotten in better condition and will be more likely to win the game.

There are several stars in both aggregations, whose records are chiefly responsible for the speculation that is being indulged in as to the outcome of the contest. Chamberlain will probably open up in the box for today, and it is expected he will not pitch more than four innings, when he will be relieved by Connor. The great things are expected of Connor, as it was this speedy little twirler who, last year, largely won the game for the Board of Trade team. His arm is not in the best of condition this year, but it is believed that he will more than give a good account of himself.

Not only is the infield of the Board of Trade unusually fast, but in the practice games the members have shown up well in the work with the stick. Southernland and Brooks have both attracted attention through their batting, while Carlisle is counted upon to give an exhibition as a Wagner at short. The Board of Trade nine, taken as a whole, is regarded as being superior to the team which represented that organization in the game last year.

Chamber Shows Up Well. Tingie Hume will probably pitch the entire game for the Chamber of Commerce. He pitched effective ball in last year's contest, and it is believed he can duplicate his record. The infield of the team has also shown up unusually well during the recent practice games, which makes it fairly certain that in playing off the Board of Trade infield will constitute no spectacular feature of the monopolistic sort.

While the outfield of the team will be subject to change, Ray Knox is practically assured of playing at left field. Knox has a good account of himself in all of the practice games so far. He has been playing both at third and in left field and has an errorless record. Kreh has also been playing in left field.

Harry and Phil King are expected to do some feats of heroism at bat. That they have not lost their old-time form is evidenced by the fact that in the recent practice games they knocked several balls far away, they were never recovered.

From the number of tickets to the game which have been disposed of, it is estimated that close to 3,000 people will witness the contest. The receipts of the game will be turned over to the Playgrounds Association and used in maintaining the children's playgrounds this summer.

PLANTERS' CONFERENCE.

MANILA, June 28.—Acting Governor General W. C. Forbes has gone to Zamboanga to attend the conference of American planters and commercial representatives of the island, who will assemble there on July 4, to discuss the needs of the country. Acting Governor Forbes plans to make a personal study of conditions on the island during his tour.

SNAKE SPOILS NAP.

CLAYTON, N. J., June 28.—Napping in a big porch rocker, Mrs. Nathan Nelson, of North Clayton, was startled by a hissing close by, and found a big black snake coiled about the pillar of the veranda, with its head pointed directly toward her, its tongue out, and its eyes glistening. She called her husband, who dispatched the snake, which measured more than seven feet.

LIVES YEARS ON ICE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., June 28.—For the first time in twenty-seven years Emil Mobsack, a hunter, trapper, and fisherman, who has arrived from Alaska on the codfishing schooner J. D. Spreckels, has been out of the icy regions of the Far North. And while the little vessel rode at anchor off Black Point he was still aboard getting his full of anticipation before realization.

BINDS SELF AND DROWNS.

HONOLULU, N. Y., June 28.—Robert M. Borney committed suicide in a peculiar manner. Going to the bank of a pond he tied his feet securely with a rope, which he also looped several times about his body until his arms were fastened. He then rolled into the water.

ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.

CHICAGO, June 28.—Edward G. Albert, of Spayerville, N. Y., who is said to be of a wealthy family, attempted suicide here by jumping into the Chicago river from the Randolph street bridge. He was rescued, but would give no reason for his act. He said he was on his way to San Francisco.

RUNS OVER BOY.

MT. CARMEL, Pa., June 28.—Edward, the little son of John Purcell, was run over here by an automobile, and it is feared the boy's neck is broken. The automobile was going slowly, as there were many people in the road, and the young Purcell ran in front of the car. The machine was used to take the boy home.

HADLEY DEPLORES

DEPLETION OF GREEK

Yale President Declares Its Study Best Mental Training.

NEW HAVEN, June 28.—The annual report of President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale, made public today, deplors the diminution in the study of Greek, the study of which he thinks is the best discipline a college man can get; discusses considerations which should govern the selection of professors, and tentatively favors the introduction of honor courses into American universities similar to those of Oxford and Cambridge.

President Hadley declares that when a man has passed his examinations in Greek he knows the student has made the study to some purpose, because it is one of the exact sciences in which the examiner can tell a student's ability minutely.

Management of College. "It is infinitely harder to manage a college where students do not want to study Greek than one where they do," he continued, intimating that men who wanted to study Greek were usually those who were of such a serious turn of mind that they behaved themselves while in school.

Hadley thinks that the plan to select instructors who have more ability to teach and less to do research work would work harm to any college adopting it. He declared that, with few exceptions, the great teachers were investigators.

"It is the organization of the student life, rather than the faculty life which is most imperative," he said. "Two plans have been advanced. One plan looks to making colleges a place for technical study, so that students will have a professional stimulus to do their work well. The other would introduce the element of intellectual competition among students by establishing 'honor courses.'"

Wants "Honor" Courses. The ordinary student, he asserted, could pass his ordinary examinations and get his ordinary degrees. But the more ambitious could go into competitions for "honors" in classics or mathematics, history, or philosophy. "A first-class man in any of the leading 'honor' courses at Oxford and Cambridge is a great honor. He can do things. That is what should make 'honor' courses attractive to strong men."

Among the important changes in the permanent staff during the year are the retirement on the Carnegie Foundation of Dean Charles W. Smith, and the appointments of L. B. Brockbridge, University of Illinois, as professor of mathematical engineering; J. McClelland, of Leland Stanford, as professor of mining engineering.

Thunder Helps Yale. "Thunderous applause" is no figure of speech in Yale. The class day exercises yesterday were punctuated with peals of thunder that shook the whole country.

With Yale luck the speakers were just getting well worked up when the worst storm of recent years broke over New Haven. The exercises were to be held in the open air, but the first gust of wind sent the guests of the class of 1909 scurrying indoors. Then the thunder started and crash after crash shook the roof.

But all this did not phase the Yale spirit. The Yale spirit was bubbling. The orators simply timed their addresses so that the thunder came in at the proper time as applause. "Old Yale" is back in New Haven today. The hundreds of grads are coming town to look over the college and the campus and see what the "young uns" are doing with traditions they helped build up. There was much doing throughout the day. Sheffield held class day exercises and the law and medical schools their commencements and alumni meetings.

Taft Will Attend Yale Graduation

President Leaves Washington This Afternoon—Will Be Guest of President Hadley.

President Taft will leave this afternoon for New Haven, where he will assist in the commencement exercises at Yale. He will leave Washington shortly after 5 o'clock in the private car Olympia, which will be attached to the Federal Express, and is due to reach New Haven at about 2 a. m. Wednesday.

While in New Haven he will be the guest of President Hadley, of the university. In addition to making an address to the graduates, Mr. Taft will visit a number of fraternity houses, do a little handshaking, and take luncheon with the professors and members of the Yale Corporation at President Hadley's residence. The President will return to Washington on Thursday morning. Accompanying him on the journey to Connecticut will be Assistant Secretary Mischler, Capt. Archibald Butt, his chief military aide, and the Secret Service guard.

OPPOSE CORPORATION TAX.

FALL RIVER, Mass., June 28.—A protest against the proposed tax on the earnings of corporations will be forwarded to Washington by the Fall River Manufacturers' Association, as a result of the vote of the executive committee of that body. A committee was appointed to draw up the protest and instructed to forward it to Representative W. S. Greene.

GIRL ENDS LIFE.

PHILADELPHIA, June 28.—A well-dressed girl, clad in white and about nineteen years of age, walked to the bank of the Schuylkill river in Fairmount Park, laid her hat and a well-filled lunch basket on the ground, and without hesitation jumped into the water. Two boys saw her make the leap, but being unable to aid her, they immediately notified the park policeman, who recovered the body after grappling for it about two hours.

REPUBLICANS FAVOR

SMITH'S TEA TAX

Smith of Michigan, Carter, Dixon, and Heyburn Support South Carolinian.

Senator Tillman's proposition to impose a duty of ten cents per pound on tea, for the purpose of building up the tea industry in the South, developed unexpected strength in the Senate this morning. A number of Republican Senators spoke in favor of it.

Senator William Alden Smith, of Michigan, in an earnest speech declared he would support Senator Tillman's amendment and declared he had not known a better case made for levying a duty than that made by the Senator from South Carolina. He declared it was strictly within the Republican policy as to protection. He stirred up something of a sensation by reading an article from a Yokohama paper in which it was stated the Central Japanese Tea Guild was asking more subsidy from the Japanese government for the reason it had been obliged to spend large sums in Washington combating the idea of a duty on tea.

Senator Smith asserted that the real source of the consumers' protests against a tax on tea which were reaching the Senate was Japanese tea interests. "This propaganda against a revenue duty on tea is a fraud," he exclaimed. "The price of tea never has been raised in this country by a revenue duty."

New Southern Industry. Senator Tillman has been led to advocate a duty on tea on account of the success of the experiments in tea culture in South Carolina by Dr. Charles U. Shepard. He takes the view that a great industry can be built up in the South. In fact, he holds that this country can produce its own tea. He said on the Senate floor this morning that a great belt of territory stretching along the coast from North Carolina to Texas was suitable for tea culture and that almost all of the territory which produces cotton will produce tea, except the drier part of the cotton territory.

Senator Dixon of Montana suggested a bonus, but Senator Tillman said he did not want to be inveigled into any Republican schemes and was opposed to a bounty.

Senator Heyburn brought out the fact that if the duty was imposed on tea a number of men of capital were willing to make investments in tea culture. It was also brought out that a number of capitalists interested in attempting tea culture were willing to accept the price of the tea in this country would not be increased if the duty were put on.

Good Politics. Discussing the politics of the situation, Senator Tillman intimated it would be beneficial to the Republican party to put a duty on tea. He said that already a lot of people in the cotton business in the South were squinting toward protection and it was the duty of the Republican lumber business. However, he did not think South Carolina would go Republican while the Republican party maintained its present attitude.

Senator Carter of Montana addressed the Senate in support of Senator Tillman's amendment. He said it was meritorious, and he felt the tea industry could be built up, and there were large possibilities in it.

Senator Heyburn of Idaho also spoke for the tea duty. Senator McLaughlin of Mississippi opposed the duty, saying it was a strange doctrine that was advocated, that of imposing a duty on a necessity of life and putting a price on people who were ill able to stand it. He defended the retailer against the charge made by Senator Carter and Senator Heyburn that it was the retailer who was responsible for high prices and not the manufacturer or producer.

Aldrich to Take Rest. Senator Aldrich announced in the Senate this morning that with the vote on the tea amendment by Senator Tillman, the consideration of schedules in the Committee of the Whole would be closed. This led to a protest from Senator Owen, who said that when the bill reached the Senate he would propose a series of amendments.

Senator Brown tried ineffectually to get the Senate to consider now the joint resolution for an income tax amendment to the Constitution. Senator Bailey and others objected.

As soon as the corporation tax and income tax amendments are under consideration, Senator Aldrich will leave the city for a three days' rest. Where he is going is not made public. The strain on him for months past has been intense and he wants a short rest while there is opportunity.

BLADDER TROUBLES NEED PROMPT ATTENTION.

Perhaps you don't know how much work is required of your kidneys and bladder or of how much importance they are. Do you know that on these important organs hinges good health? Many an apparently strong, healthy man or woman has been stricken without notice by serious kidney and bladder disease only to realize too late what might have been prevented with proper care and attention.

Some of the early symptoms of weak kidneys and bladder are lumbar, rheumatism, catarrh of the bladder, pain and discharge in the urine, frequent urination, at times have headache or indigestion, dizziness, you may have a salivary complexion, puffy or dark circles under the eyes, sometimes feel as though you had heart trouble, may have plenty of ambition but no strength, get weak and wasteful.

If you find you have some of the symptoms mentioned, you need then a remedy that will reach the seat of the disease and at the same time build up the system generally.

Such a remedy is Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver, and bladder remedy. In thousands of cases it has accomplished just the work you need performed now. Sample Bottle of Swamp-Root Free by Mail. Send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. It will convince anyone. You will also receive a booklet of valuable information, telling all about the kidneys and bladder. When writing, be sure and mention The Washington Daily Times. For sale at all drug stores. Price fifty-cents and one-dollar.

Greatest American Medical Associations Condemn Benzoate of Soda in Food

The American Medical Association, numbering over 65,000 members, is the largest and most influential medical body in the world. At the Association's annual convention, held at Atlantic City, June 10th, the following resolution was passed concerning the drugging of foods with Benzoate of Soda or other chemical preservative:

"Resolved, That the American Medical Association respectfully urges upon Congress the necessity of amending the national pure food and drugs act in the following particulars, viz:

"(1) To prohibit absolutely and unqualifiedly the use of Benzoate of Soda and similar preservatives in the preparation and preservation of foods destined for interstate commerce.

"(2) * * * * * (c) the prevention of the utilization of unclean and offensive waste productions, which now, by the use of such preservatives are branded as foodstuffs and sent through the channels of commerce."

Last week resolutions of similar import were also passed in the great conventions of the American Institute of Homeopathy (25,000 members), The Medical Society of New Jersey, and The Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical Association.

All these resolutions express the most weighty opinions on the pure food question ever recorded. They constitute an unanswerable endorsement of the stand taken by H. J. Heinz Company and other reputable manufacturers for strict purity, sound materials, and sanitation in the manufacture of food products.

In the face of these far-reaching opinions, will the Government protect the people, or must the public continue to endanger health by the use of drugged foods? Such foods are not only pronounced harmful because of a drug, but—as indicated by the resolutions—they permit the use of refuse and waste materials.

From drugged food there is only one protection—read labels carefully. The law demands that every article of food prepared with Benzoate of Soda must have that fact stated on the label. Look particularly for obscurely-placed fine type, making some such announcement as "Contains 1/10 of one per cent. Benzoate of Soda."

Heinz Tomato Ketchup, Fruit Preserves, Sweet Pickles, Apple Butter, Mince Meat, etc., do not contain Benzoate of Soda or any artificial preservative. These—and all of Heinz 57 Varieties—are prepared from fresh, pure materials, by clean methods, in open-to-the-public, sanitary kitchens which are visited and inspected by thousands annually from every part of the world.

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD

Bulletin.

NIAGARA FALLS.

A BRITISH-AMERICAN HOLIDAY TRIP.

The very name of Niagara Falls is magical. The test of it is that no matter if you have been there once there is always the desire to go again. It is the trump card in the deck of outing spots. The witchery of the Falls is never ending and ever varying. The environment is attractive from every point of view. The temperature of the region is recreative. The facilities for seeing every notable foot and every scenic phase of the wonderful river are complete and most reasonable in price. The Circum-Niagara trolley system is a great boon to the sight-seer.

Then there are delightful little trips into King Edward's domain both by rail and boat which carry with them the spice of foreign travel. The idea of shifting from the shadow of one flag to that of another by passing an imaginary line is fascinating. Niagara is the nearest spot where both flags can be seen at once, each flying over its own soil.

The Pennsylvania Railroad's route to Niagara is scenically attractive, and its provisions for special vacation excursions are equally so.

Special excursions are fixed for July 14, 28, August 11, 25, September 8, 22, and October 6. The excursion tickets are sold at $11.00 from Washington, $10.65 from Baltimore, and permit a stay of fifteen days.
