

LIST OF VICTIMS STILL INCREASING

Company Admits Fifty Are Dead; Others Say Seventy-five.

WEATHER DELAYS WORK OF DIVERS

River Is Frozen and Storm Is Raging, Causing Suffering.

SUDBURY, Ontario, Jan. 22.—In the frozen depths of the Spanish river, confined in the marred and wrecked cars of the Canadian Pacific, rest the bodies of an unknown number of wreck victims, which divers are today seeking to bring to the surface.

Officials of the Canadian Pacific today admitted that at least fifty persons met their death in the terrible catastrophe, but survivors declare the death list will reach seventy-five.

In spite of the efforts of the divers and the wrecking crew, who are today vainly seeking to fasten chains around the submerged cars to bring them to the surface, it is thought the full extent of the loss of life will not be known for a week.

The river is frozen about two feet deep, and the divers can remain in the water but a few moments. Time and time again they come up numb with cold and without having been able to force their way into the cars of death.

Added to the terrible cold is the storm which is sweeping over the Lake region. Great bonfires have been constructed on the bank of the river to aid the workers.

Frozen At Cribbage Table.
The divers succeeded in getting into the smoking compartment of the first-class coach, where were found the frozen bodies of four traveling men sitting position around a table, just as they were playing cribbage as the car smashed through the ice of the frozen river.

It was pointed out here today that on the 100 miles on the Chaplay division of the Canadian Pacific, the scene of the terrible Sudbury wreck, there have been more wrecks annually than of all the rest of the 5,600 miles of the great system. It is the weather conditions which bring about these wrecks, railroad men say.

The thermometer of an falls as low as 40 degrees below zero, causing the rails to split as in the present instance. There have been on an average of three or four wrecks on this division every winter.

It was hours after the last wreck before relief trains with surgeons and nurses reached the scene. Men and women sat on the banks of the river to the terrible sight of the wreckage and their injuries freezing their clothes to their bodies. The suffering was indescribable, according to witnesses.

Nearly All Lost.
Practically all of the passengers in half of the second class car, the colonist car and the first class car, all of which plunged into the river, are dead.

A few saved themselves and are being cared for by hospitable residents. Most of the people in the half of the second class car which remained on the bridge, were stunned and burned to death when the bridge caught fire.

Conductor Reynolds saved most of the occupants of the diner by tearing a hole in the roof and pulling them through it. One woman slipped out of his hands and was drowned.

The passengers in the Pullman were jarred and stunned but none of them were killed. In the first class car, one man was saved. He hung by his hands to the top of the car for three hours until a hole was chopped through. He breathed the air which remained at the top of the car which was almost submerged.

Some Thrilling Rescues.
The occupants of the second class car which was torn in two parts by the accident, one-half remaining on the bridge, the other half plunging into the river, were burned or drowned. They had no chance of escape and only a few were pulled out of the burning heap on the bridge, their faces and bodies torn, cut and seared. It was the rear trucks of this car which first left the track as the swift train sped down the incline and started across the bridge. As the trucks left the track the car was thrown against the stone abutments of the bridge and the massive car was torn apart as though it were paper.

One young Norwegian woman was rescued from the half that remained on the bridge. It was burning fiercely when she was pulled out of the wreckage with terrible wounds on her head and face and with the flesh of her right leg cut to the bone. She walked up the track and sat down to watch the rescuers and wait five hours for the coming of the surgeons.

Conductor Reynolds is today being hailed as a hero because of his rescue of the imprisoned occupants of the diner. When the car plunged into the river he scrambled out of a broken window and swam to an opening in the ice. Climbing to the top of the car he tore a hole in the roof and pulled the occupants out.

TRAIN HITS TWO.
ELKTON, Md., Jan. 22.—James Duffy, of Baltimore, and John E. Huddy, of Rochester, N. Y., employed in rebuilding a bridge along the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, near Elk Mills, Cecil county, while walking along the tracks were run down by a freight train. Huddy was killed, and Duffy was buried some distance, but escaped serious injury.

J. F. PAXTON FOUND DEAD.
CHARLOTTE, N. C., Jan. 22.—Joseph T. Paxton, son of a prominent mill machinery manufacturer of Philadelphia, Pa., was found dead in the Corcoran Hotel, in Durham, N. C.

RICORD'S VITAL RESTORATIVE
Increases Men's Vitality.
Price $1. At all druggists. Always on hand at O'DONNELL'S Drug Store, 204 F St. N.W. Mail orders solicited.

Wilbur's Cocoa
Per Can Special, 19c
J. T. D. PYLES
14 STORES
The Wise They Buy Our Groceries

F. S. LINCOLN SEES PROSPEROUS YEAR

Excellent Prospects for Business World in 1910, Says F. S. Lincoln.

Prophecy of increasing business prosperity for the ensuing year was made this morning by Fred S. Lincoln, Washington agent of the Macey Company's filing device, who returned yesterday from the semi-annual "furniture market" at Grand Rapids, Mich.

Mr. Lincoln returned to Washington not only with stories of excellent prospects for general business, but also with tales of one of the most severe blizzards in the history of the middle West. He said that after going West from Baltimore, he never saw a particle of clear ground except in the cities until his return to that point.

In spite of the severe weather, however, the attendance at the "furniture market" was a record-breaker, and in every way a great success. Buyers from nearly every quarter of the globe have ordered for his Washington establishment, at 62 Twelfth street, a complete line of the most modern office furniture.

SNOWBALL BATTLE LEADS TO ARREST

Son of Former Representative Powers Haled to Prison.

HANOVER, N. H., Jan. 22.—Leland Powers, a senior at Dartmouth College, and son of former Representative Samuel L. Powers of Massachusetts, was arrested late yesterday afternoon for snow-balling on the street.

Powers was one of a hundred engaged in a fierce snow-ball battle, and the entire body called a truce when he was arrested and selected the police as a mutual enemy. They snow-balled the police all the way to the station house, and then gathered outside, where they were finally persuaded to go home by Clark Tobin, the football captain.

Constable Ford when he emerged from the station house after making the arrest, was discovered by about fifty students and was chased through the streets until he found refuge in his hardware store, brandishing a red-hot poker and threatening the first one that dared cross his threshold.

Powers was haled out early in the evening, and will be arraigned in court tomorrow morning before Prof. W. T. Warden, of the Dartmouth faculty, who is also the district judge. He is one of Powers' instructors.

ATTEMPT TO POISON WOMAN FOR ESTATE

Servant Tells of Scheme to Kill Mistress—Owns Property Here.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 22.—An extraordinary case of family difficulty, in which charges of an attempt to poison a woman are made, and which is additionally sensational because it involves whole or part possession of a valuable estate in Washington, D. C., was called to the attention of the police today by Mrs. Ester Marks, who lives at 629 Heliotrope drive.

City Chemist Miller examined two packages Mrs. Marks had submitted to him and found in one a quantity of starch containing powdered glass. In the other was strychnine in sufficient quantities to kill a number of persons.

Patrolman J. D. Robinson told the chief of detectives and District Attorney Keech that he believed an attempt had been made to poison Mrs. Marks. He said that Rilla Taylor, Mrs. Marks' negro servant, had received the poison from an aged woman last Friday. The servant stated that she was told to give the contents of the package to Mrs. Marks. The woman, according to the servant, is related to Mrs. Marks. Her identity, however, is being concealed by the police.

Through some fortunate circumstance neither package was opened at the Marks home, but Robinson was called and requested to take both to the police station. The servant declares she was told to drop the contents of one or both packages into the coffee served Marks at the breakfast table. She was given $5 to do this. The servant gave the package to Mrs. Marks.

Mrs. Marks believes it was a scheme to poison her so that she cannot enjoy her share of a large estate in Washington, which was left a short time ago by a relative. She is thirty-five years old; her husband is thirty-six.

For a couple of years Marks has been in the real estate business in this city.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH REVIVAL SUCCEEDS

Nearly 1,000 Persons Present During Sunday School Hours.

Because of the campaign that has been made in the northeast section during the past week, the Ninth Street Christian Church was packed today during the Sunday school hours.

The effort to have 1,000 men, women, and children present almost succeeded. Yesterday, the Rev. George A. Miller had fifty boys and girls at work delivering invitations and urging attendance. Each night, during the progress of the revival meetings, the church members have been urged to surely attend the Sunday school today. The result was the largest attendance in the history of the school.

The average attendance at this Sunday school is about 40. Two weeks ago, the officers of the school strove for 500, which they secured. Last week, they tried for 700, which was almost reached, the number actually attending being 619. The meetings throughout the week addressed by President R. H. Crossfield, of Transylvania University, Lexington, Ky., have been largely attended.

IRISH HERO MAY DIE IN HOUSE FOR POOR

A. P. O'Neil, Who Fought for His Country, An Inmate of Dunning.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Unless action is taken by Irish societies, Arthur P. O'Neil, who served more than a quarter of a century in English prison for his effort to gain freedom for Ireland, will end his days in the Dunning poorhouse.

MARRIED TO NURSE UPON DEATH BED

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 22.—Married to his nurse on what his physicians informed him would be his death bed, William Garfield Jackson, who is the owner of valuable property in Brooklyn, N. Y., is hourly expected to die.

The bride was Miss Helen Euenier, of Chicago, who has been Jackson's nurse for several weeks. He fell in love with her and, desiring that she have undisputed possession of his estate, decided to marry at once.

MUST PAY GRAVE RENT.

SAGINAW, Mich., Jan. 22.—The board of park and cemetery commissioners of Saginaw has ordered the city comptroller to notify all delinquent owners of cemetery lots that, unless payment is made by March 1, bones will be dug up and placed in graves in the pauper section of the cemetery.

LEWIS IN CONTROL OF MINE WORKERS

President Defeats Attempt to Have His Election Declared Illegal.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 22.—When the convention of the United Mine Workers of America convenes tomorrow it will be with President Thomas L. Lewis in full control. The delegates have made their attack upon his administration without effect.

Lewis' ruling that his election cannot be invalidated simply because some of the locals voted illegally is apparently upheld by the majority, and even more the illegal votes thrown out, the vote for Lewis, which was 23,000 over his opponent, William Green, would not be seriously affected.

A riot in the hall yesterday only was averted by a good humored delegate whose hearty laugh relieved the situation. President Lewis had ordered Francis Peelian, president of the Pittsburg district, removed, but he and his followers gave evidence of an intention to resist and trouble seemed imminent until the humor of the situation appealed to a delegate, and, through him, to all the rest.

No effort was made when the vote by districts was called to have the election declared illegal, although it is believed that during the week the anti-Lewis faction will endeavor to have the votes of certain Central Pennsylvania districts thrown out.

BRICKLAYERS SEEK TO EXTEND UNION

Change in Constitution Will Allow Plasterers to Join Organization.

BOSTON, Jan. 22.—That the bricklayers and masons international union will try to bring the plasterers into its organization through a constitutional change made in secret session during the closing hours of its convention in Boston, was stated by a large number of delegates before leaving for their homes in different sections of the country late last night. The officers of the convention itself refused to make the fact public.

The plasterers have one of the most powerful trade unions in the country. They also have a regular American Federation of Labor charter, while the bricklayers and masons always have remained apart from the federation.

SNOWBALL BATTLE LEADS TO ARREST

Son of Former Representative Powers Haled to Prison.

HANOVER, N. H., Jan. 22.—Leland Powers, a senior at Dartmouth College, and son of former Representative Samuel L. Powers of Massachusetts, was arrested late yesterday afternoon for snow-balling on the street.

Powers was one of a hundred engaged in a fierce snow-ball battle, and the entire body called a truce when he was arrested and selected the police as a mutual enemy. They snow-balled the police all the way to the station house, and then gathered outside, where they were finally persuaded to go home by Clark Tobin, the football captain.

Constable Ford when he emerged from the station house after making the arrest, was discovered by about fifty students and was chased through the streets until he found refuge in his hardware store, brandishing a red-hot poker and threatening the first one that dared cross his threshold.

Powers was haled out early in the evening, and will be arraigned in court tomorrow morning before Prof. W. T. Warden, of the Dartmouth faculty, who is also the district judge. He is one of Powers' instructors.

ATTEMPT TO POISON WOMAN FOR ESTATE

Servant Tells of Scheme to Kill Mistress—Owns Property Here.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Jan. 22.—An extraordinary case of family difficulty, in which charges of an attempt to poison a woman are made, and which is additionally sensational because it involves whole or part possession of a valuable estate in Washington, D. C., was called to the attention of the police today by Mrs. Ester Marks, who lives at 629 Heliotrope drive.

City Chemist Miller examined two packages Mrs. Marks had submitted to him and found in one a quantity of starch containing powdered glass. In the other was strychnine in sufficient quantities to kill a number of persons.

Patrolman J. D. Robinson told the chief of detectives and District Attorney Keech that he believed an attempt had been made to poison Mrs. Marks. He said that Rilla Taylor, Mrs. Marks' negro servant, had received the poison from an aged woman last Friday. The servant stated that she was told to give the contents of the package to Mrs. Marks. The woman, according to the servant, is related to Mrs. Marks. Her identity, however, is being concealed by the police.

Through some fortunate circumstance neither package was opened at the Marks home, but Robinson was called and requested to take both to the police station. The servant declares she was told to drop the contents of one or both packages into the coffee served Marks at the breakfast table. She was given $5 to do this. The servant gave the package to Mrs. Marks.

Mrs. Marks believes it was a scheme to poison her so that she cannot enjoy her share of a large estate in Washington, which was left a short time ago by a relative. She is thirty-five years old; her husband is thirty-six.

For a couple of years Marks has been in the real estate business in this city.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH REVIVAL SUCCEEDS

Nearly 1,000 Persons Present During Sunday School Hours.

Because of the campaign that has been made in the northeast section during the past week, the Ninth Street Christian Church was packed today during the Sunday school hours.

IRISH HERO MAY DIE IN HOUSE FOR POOR

A. P. O'Neil, Who Fought for His Country, An Inmate of Dunning.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—Unless action is taken by Irish societies, Arthur P. O'Neil, who served more than a quarter of a century in English prison for his effort to gain freedom for Ireland, will end his days in the Dunning poorhouse.

MARRIED TO NURSE UPON DEATH BED

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 22.—Married to his nurse on what his physicians informed him would be his death bed, William Garfield Jackson, who is the owner of valuable property in Brooklyn, N. Y., is hourly expected to die.

MUST PAY GRAVE RENT.

SAGINAW, Mich., Jan. 22.—The board of park and cemetery commissioners of Saginaw has ordered the city comptroller to notify all delinquent owners of cemetery lots that, unless payment is made by March 1, bones will be dug up and placed in graves in the pauper section of the cemetery.

If You Don't Eat Meat

All foods except Milk have advanced over 50% in price. Milk alone has advanced very little in price and is the cheapest and most nourishing food you can profitably obtain.

You can cut down your expense and improve your family health by using WHITE CROSS MILK.

OUR GUARANTEE—We positively guarantee that every drop of WHITE CROSS MILK is heated and aerated for over two hours and is absolutely free from disease germs.

OUR METHOD—Our White Cross Milk is treated in the country while perfectly fresh; bottled by machinery in sterilized bottles with sterilized caps, shipped to Washington in our cars, and delivered to your door direct from the cars.

We Still Sell Our Milk at 9c

B. & W. White Cross Milk Co.

9th and N Streets N. W. Phones N. 1112-1113

No. 1

It may be you next—prepare!

NOT a pleasant picture here—but people must face the stern realities of life. Suppose you were hurt tomorrow—have you a bank account that will provide necessities for your family?

It's time to do some thinking. Start your bank account today! Every dollar will earn 3% interest.

No. 2

A continued story in advertising

WITHIN a few days past the advertisements reproduced here have appeared in both an evening and a morning paper.

They make it plain that all the points we wish to impress cannot be presented in a single "ad."

Keep in touch with our announcements—read every chapter of our continued story—and as each teaches its small part of one big lesson, we'll try to make the chapters interesting.

No. 3

It means a siege in the hospital

No. 2

How long must he stay in bed?

HE may be a man who has never saved a penny. What will pay for the necessities of life while he's ill?

Think about this! Think of yourself and your family.

Begin saving today. Open an account at one of our three banks and the money will earn 3% interest. You can start with one dollar.

Remember, we are open on Saturday nights from 6 to 9 o'clock.

No. 4

'Twill be life and death

EVEN if he pulls through, a debt has been piling up on his shoulders—but suppose he dies!

Imagine the mental agony of the man who is thinking of wife and children—of the struggle ahead for them—and all because he has never saved.

You can't take the thought too seriously. You can't begin saving too quickly.

Open an account at one of our banks—TODAY—and add every penny you can spare. We'll add quite a little—3% interest.

No. 3

It means a siege in the hospital

HE'S fighting for his life!

Do you think it will help his chances to realize that the wife and babies must want for actual necessities because he has never saved?

He'll take an oath to start a bank account if he ever "gets on his feet" again.

You'd better start one while you ARE on your feet.

Put a few dollars in one of our banks—add every penny you can spare. The'll be earning for you—3% interest—and perhaps save your life, some time.

No. 5

'Twas all a mistake because —we didn't know the man. We have shown his accident, his illness, and we have imagined the feelings of a man whose family had no resources.

But this man had a savings account!

He had provided against just such accidents, and the wife was free from financial worry.

See that you safeguard YOUR family in the same way.

Let us have your first deposit today—if only a single dollar. Add all you can spare and let it be earning 3% interest for you.

RICORD'S VITAL RESTORATIVE

Increases Men's Vitality.
Price $1. At all druggists. Always on hand at O'DONNELL'S Drug Store, 204 F St. N.W. Mail orders solicited.

Merchants and Mechanics Savings Bank

Branches:
7th & G Sts. N. W. Pa. Ave. and 10th St. N. W.
Pa. Ave. & 20th St. N. W.

Merchants and Mechanics Savings Bank

Branches:
7th & G Sts. N. W. Pa. Ave. and 10th St. N. W.
Pa. Ave. & 20th St. N. W.