PRESIDENT INSISTS CAPITAL CONTROL MUST GO IN BILL

Tells Callers Matter Is Important As Well As Party Pledge.

SHIPPER TO HAVE MEETING WITH TAFT

Assurances Given That Conference Will Soon Agree on Railroad Measure.

Latest Developments In Railroad Situation

President Taft confers with Senators Elkins and Aldrich about the railroad bill in the conference committee. It is assured good bill will be forthcoming, and that there will be little delay.

President will insist that there be legislation for control of railroad capitalization.

Probable that time for suspension of rate increases will be reduced from ten months to six or seven.

Western shippers have asked White House for conference with President next week.

Promise of railroads to withdraw rate increases seems to assure peace in railroad world for some months to come.

Conference committee of House and Senate expected to begin its sessions tomorrow.

By JOHN SNURE.

President Taft will endeavor to have the conferees on the railroad bill see to it that the capitalization control sections of the House measure, or provisions approximating thereto, are put into the law. The President set about accomplishing this today, and he is hopeful he will succeed.

The President told some of his callers today he believed provision should be made in the new law for the control by the Government of stock and bond issues. In the first place, he deems this of the utmost importance. Moreover, the party platform calls for it. The President will not insist on the language of the House bill in this respect, but wants the principle maintained. He will endeavor to convince some of the recalcitrant Senators on this subject.

Talks With Senators.

Today the President talked with Senators Aldrich and Elkins, who are on the Senate Conference Committee, about this matter. He has already talked with Representative Mann. He spoke strongly on the subject of control of capitalization, for which the Senate bill makes no provision. One of the difficulties of getting a provision to this effect past the Senate is the fact that all the Democrats, or nearly all, are against it. Senators Elkins and Aldrich assured the President that a good bill would be brought out of conference and that there would not be much delay. Senator Elkins will call the conference together tomorrow. He told the President he thought not much time would be needed in conference. Senator Aldrich cheered the President by telling him he was planning to go salmon fishing next week. The President wants early action on the bill.

TAFT PLAYS GOLF WITH W. J. TRAVIS

Two of the country's most distinguished golfers chased the elusive golf ball over the Chevy Chase links this afternoon, when President Taft and Walter J. Travis, America's golf champion played. Travis, despite the fact that he was acting as a coach and instructor really played a strong game against the Executive. Travis is preparing a book on golf, and it is expected that President Taft will be included in the comment on the same.

ROOSEVELT TO PAY DUTY ON BAGGAGE

Declares Reports of Lax Examination Is Insult to Himself and to Loeb.

SPECIAL FAVORS TO BE DECLINED

Former President Spurns Suggestion That He Be Treated As "Special Ambassador."

LONDON, June 8.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt declared today that he had neither asked for nor would he accept any favors from the New York custom-house upon his return to America, on June 15.

In reply to questions concerning the report from America that, in view of the fact that he had represented the United States as a special ambassador at the funeral of the late King Edward, his baggage would be allowed the exemption from customs that attaches to ambassadorial agents, the colonel said:

"I have not asked any courtesies of the New York port or any special consideration for my own baggage or that of my family. I expect to pass through the customs office the same as any private citizen returning from a trip abroad. I expect to pay full duty on every article not exempted to the general traveling public."

When it was suggested to Roosevelt that the fact that Collector of Customs Loeb was formerly his private secretary at Washington would probably mean that the examination of the colonel's baggage would be a mere formality, Roosevelt said that such an idea was preposterous and an insult to both him and to Mr. Loeb. Roosevelt said he was aware that many complaints had been made against the New York port of the alleged over-zealousness of its officials and that he would like to see for himself whether the complaints were justified.

CABINET MEMBERS TO GREET ROOSEVELT

President Taft will send a message of welcome to Theodore Roosevelt on the return of the former President from Europe June 18.

This message will be conveyed to Mr. Roosevelt by Captain Archie Butt, aide of the President. Captain Butt was also former President Roosevelt's aide.

More than this, Secretary of Agriculture Wilson and Secretary of the Navy Meyer will go to New York with Capt. Butt. The three will be conveyed down the bay to meet the former President in the revenue cutter. The reason why Secretaries Wilson and Meyer have been selected for this mission is that they are the only members of the present Cabinet who were in the Roosevelt Cabinet.

More than a personal message by Captain Butt and the fact that the two Cabinet members are going to meet the incoming former President, it is expected, will be taken as signifying the good will of this administration toward Mr. Roosevelt. It is expected to give the reception in New York an official tone.

PRIMARYS BOOM INSURGENT CAUSE

Victories Won In Iowa With Cannonism As the Issue.

Insurgency broke out vigorously in the primaries of both Republican and Democratic States yesterday.

In Iowa John A. T. Hull, the dean of the State's delegation in the House of Representatives, a Cannon man, and chairman of the great Military Affairs committee, was defeated for renomination by Judge S. F. Prouty, who has heretofore been three times defeated by Hull.

The contest in this district was on the issue of Cannonism. Speaker Cannon, some weeks ago, went into the district and spoke for Hull, Senators Dooliver and Cummins went to Des Moines and addressed a great meeting in favor of progressive nominations; and the result indorses them.

The Iowa progressives fail to defeat Gov. B. F. Carroll for renomination, by a close vote, according to the latest returns. Carroll would have been badly beaten but for the loyalty to the sentiment in favor of a second term, Carroll having had but one.

In the Ninth or Council Bluffs district, Congressman Walter J. Smith has probably been renominated. The contest against him was one the Cannonism issue, Smith being a member of the Cannon rules committee. His personal strength saved the day for Smith.

The real test of the Iowa result lies in the fact that the progressive Republicans will control the State convention, according to all indications at this time; that they will adopt resolutions indorsing the course of the Peace Party, of Dooliver and Cummins and the renominated eight of the eleven candidates for Congress, a gain of two over their present strength in the House.

Florida, at the opposite end of the political pole, has been carried by Gov. B. F. Carroll, for the Senatorial nomination of the Democratic against Senator Tallaferra. In the earlier primary the result was indecisive, and a new one was held yesterday. Broward is a progressive of exactly the same type, for the Southern Democracy, as La Follette and Bristow represent in the Northern Republican party. As a Senator he will affiliate with the insurgent Republicans and the progressive Democrats.

The results in South Dakota's primaries, held yesterday, are still in doubt, the insurgent and regular factions having run very close on the nominations for Congress, while the three-cornered race for governor's nomination of the Republicans is still in doubt.

ITALY FRIGHTENED BY FRESH TREMORS

Panic Not Allayed By Presence of King and Queen.

NAPLES, June 8.—Fresh tremors in Italy's earthquake stricken district today threw the population into panic as serious as that occasioned by the first shocks.

At Avellino, King Victor Emmanuel and Queen Elena, who insisted on joining him in the tour of the afflicted territory appeared before the people in an effort to check their fright. Not even the royalists, however, could re-assure the terrified population.

Fully a million people slept out of doors last night, and when day came refused to venture into their homes again ever for food. Camps have been pitched around all towns from which word has reached here. Army tents are in demand.

The latest advices give the following as the table of known dead:

Avellino, 2; Valetta, 1; San Fele di Potenza, 6; Castel Baronia, 1; Cianchi, 1; San Sossio, 1; Calitri, 30.

Not Exaggerated.

It is believed when the full list is secured, and the fatalities in outlying districts have been learned, that the death toll will be materially increased. Government officials stated today that the first estimate of 300 will not be too high.

The towns today are under martial law, troops patrolling the streets, curbing the frightened people, and directing the work of rescuing the dead and injured in the worst stricken towns.

Field hospitals have been set up at many points, and surgeons have been detailed to go through the remoter districts, to aid the injured on the farms.

The comparatively small number of deaths is one of the peculiar features of the earthquake. Officials today estimated the seriously wounded to be less than the dead. This is believed to be due to the fact that the time between the first shock and the second gave the people opportunity to escape.

King Aids Work.

As at Messina and Reggio, the King is himself actively directing the rescue work. His experiences in the Calabrian this will happen, however, with the understanding that in no case is an annuity to be more than $1,000 per year.

An appropriation for this will be necessary at the outset, but, as has been described, the saving in lower salaries to new employees will more than make up for the expense of the annuities. As time goes on, appropriations will be less and less as the clerks contribute the sums for their own annuities.

Next in importance to the decision of the Cabinet to get the retirement legislation immediately, is the second plan to take care of all those aged clerks who have been notified of dismissal for inefficiency recently. The President and his advisers, heeding the earnest pleas which have been made for relief for the old clerks, made up their minds to see to it that none of the old people be let out when it is only a question of a few weeks before they could retire with annuities which would go a long way to support them even if the sums thus given were not quite enough to meet all living expenses.

As a result of this decision, it was said today that all of the old clerks will be kept on the rolls until the retirement becomes authorized by law for July 1.

Business Men's Plan.

Announcement of the Administration's plans in regard to the employees in the classified service comes upon the heels of the news that an association of business men of Washington has been formed to look after the interests and welfare of the aged clerks. It was organized yesterday afternoon for the purpose of looking after any clerks who might be dismissed for age and have no means of making a livelihood. It may go so far as to buy a rent a home for the men and women unable to maintain themselves.

The organization was named the Business Men's Association of the District, and Louis P. Shoemaker was elected as its president.
