DEDICATION OPENS
WITH LOVE FEAST

New Methodist Episcopal
Church Near Camp Springs
Is Formally Consecrated.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.

The new Methodist Episcopal Church on the northwest corner of Twenty-sixth and Lincoln Streets was dedicated today by the Bishop of the District of Columbia, the Rev. Wm. M. Edwards, after having been completed it has been open for several weeks.

The church is the latest in a series of beautiful buildings erected in the district in recent years for the purpose of making the church more accessible to the public and the place where the people can meet for religious instruction as well as for social intercourse.

The building is the result of the generosity of the late J. M. Edwards, who had given a substantial amount of money for the purpose of erecting a church in this district.
