

MRS. BRIGGS, OLIVIA, FAMOUS WOMAN JOURNALIST OF SIXTIES

Brilliant Newspaper Work in Sixties Won Her Lasting Renown.

"MAPLE SQUARE" MECCA OF FAMOUS

Pioneer Woman Journalist in Washington Field to Be Buried in Chicago.

Lying wrapped in her shroud in a little darkened room on the upper floor of the quaint, rambling old building that for forty years has known her presence, lies the body of Mrs. Emily E. Briggs, the most noted and brilliant newspaper woman of her day and age.

She died yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock after an illness of nearly one year, during which time she was only able to make known her few wants by signs to her ever-present nurse and loved ones of the family.

"Maple Square," the house wherein she passed away, lies amid the foliage of great maple trees in the square bounded by South Carolina avenue, D street, Sixth street and Seventh street southeast, and is one of the landmarks of the District, famous for having sheltered such men as Francis Pickens, John W. Foster, and a sheet that will be remembered by the older residents of the city.

Mrs. Briggs became famous for her journalistic work away back in the early '60s, when she wrote Washington news letters for the Philadelphia Press. She also worked for the old Washington Chronicle, edited by Col. John W. Foster, and a sheet that will be remembered by the older residents of the city.

Mrs. Briggs, following her services for the Philadelphia Press, was the Washington correspondent for the Philadelphia Times, under Col. Alexander K. McClure.

Original Newspaper Woman.

Mrs. Briggs bears the unique distinction of being the original newspaper woman, for up to the time she entered the field as correspondent for dailies, the woman journalist was unknown.

The best known of Mrs. Briggs' books was a compilation of her newspaper correspondence, published under the title of "Olivia Letters," which won for their author wide popularity.

Perhaps her most famous piece of reportorial work was the impeachment trial of Andrew Johnson. She introduced a new feature into journalism, instead of reporting merely the dry official business of the trial, she incorporated in her stories a great deal of descriptive work.

She described the people in the galleries and told charmingly of what they did. When General Butler made his speech she minutely described the man. After that she slowly gained the confidence of statesmen, to whom a woman reporter was a novelty, and won for herself a national reputation.

Born in Chicago.

Mrs. Briggs was born in Chicago almost eighty years ago, and was the daughter of wealthy Robert Edson. She received an unusually liberal education for a girl, and as Miss Emily Edson became prominent socially in Chicago and New York. During her early years a wealthy husband was selected for her by her father, but Miss Emily wasn't so inclined. She did not love the suitor picked for her, but braved her parents' wrath by marrying John R. Briggs, the editor of the Daily Gate City, of Gate City, Iowa.

Mrs. Briggs came to Washington and purchased Maple Square, a house built of bricks brought over from England shortly after the Revolutionary war. There she has lived, summer and winter, and the century-old halls have rung with the merriment of young voices and childish laughter, for "Aunt Emily" dearly loved children and always had them around her.

Entertained Famous Men.

To the historic old house also came men of national fame to chat with the brilliant woman journalist and "swap" opinions on the topical questions of the day. There she entertained with lavish hand until insidious age crept upon her and she was forced to abandon many of the gayeties she had accustomed to.

Neighborhood Mourns.

Edson Briggs, a prominent real estate broker of Washington, said this morning that his mother once had been continually with his mother since she began to fail. The peaceful girl came at just 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. By her bedside was her only son and his wife and their two little children.

The body will be taken to Chicago Wednesday morning, following funeral services tomorrow afternoon at "Maple Square." Mrs. Briggs and his wife will accompany the remains. Interment will be made in beautiful Rosehill Cemetery, the burying ground of the Briggs family for half a century. "Olivia" will rest beside the graves of her three sisters, her father and mother and near relatives.

MISTAKES WIFE FOR INTRUDER

GOOD GROUND. Long Island, July 4.—Mistaking his wife for a burglar, David Smith shot her through the body before she could call to him. He went almost insane with grief when he realized his mistake.

Mrs. Smith was lowering the upper sash of a bedroom window, when the noise awakened her husband. "Hands up!" he yelled, reaching for his revolver. Then he fired, without waiting for an answer.

CLARK TELLS OF TALE OF GOOD CHEER

House Democrats United and Enthusiastic, Declares Minority Leader.

TARIFF DENOUNCED; VICTORY PREDICTED

In Fourth Address to Tammany Men, Styles G. O. P. "Party of Expiration."

NEW YORK, July 4.—Champ Clark, Democratic leader of the House, was the principal speaker at the Tammany Hall Fourth of July celebration here today. He denounced the Payne-Aldrich tariff bill as "illegitimate" and declared that the Republican party's promise to "revise the tariff downward" had been violated.

"Is it any less dishonest to secure offices under false pretenses than to obtain money in that felonious manner?" he inquired.

Democrats, declared Clark, "celebrate the birthday of a Republic under more favorable auspices this year than at any time since 1824."

"Republican factionists are at each other's throats in the House of Representatives," he said. "The House is throughout the land. More power to their arms."

Brings Glad Tidings. "I bring to you the glad tidings of great joy that the Democrats in the House are presenting a solid and united front to the enemy. We are eager for the fray."

"Notwithstanding the fact that at the beginning of this Congress the Republicans and forty-seven majority in the House, and after the casualties in the Fourteenth district of Massachusetts and the Rhode Island district, they still have forty-three majority, we have fought several drawn battles and gained some great victories. The day after Mr. Havens achieved his triumph in New York, a newspaper man asked a prominent Republican member of the House: 'If the House members would carry the next House, whereupon the disgraced and fallen Republican members keep on dying, they'll carry the present House?'"

Hard Fight Necessary. "But we will not gain the victory without a fight. 'Tis true the Republicans are badly scared, but we should remember that sometimes men fight the most viciously when they are the worst scared."

Clark attacked the wool schedule in the tariff with vigor, declaring that the great white plague was in a measure due to the high tariff on wool, fewer blankets being imported and the poor being thus rendered more liable to consumption.

"A man must be a complete idiot," he declared, "to believe that the tariff is not directly responsible to the extent for the high cost of living. That it is responsible for the high price of manufactured articles is a plain and obvious fact by the fact that manufacturers came to Washington in droves to retain the tariff rates of the Dingley bill or to increase them."

Driven Out, He Says. "This high cost of living is driving 100,000 Americans annually to settle in British North America. Instead of being a party of patriotism, the Republican party is a party of expatriation. Dollars are being wasted annually by the Republican party in running the government, and the government is purely on a business basis. He concluded by asking Republicans who are dissatisfied with the government to join the Democratic party, adding that "even life-long Republicans will be welcomed under the good old principle 'While the lamp holds out to burn the vilest sinner may return.'"

Alexandria Church Will Pay Off Debt. Collection of Sunday Believed Sufficient and Event Will Be Celebrated.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ALEXANDRIA, VA., JULY 4. At the First Baptist Church yesterday a collection was taken up which it is thought will clear off the indebtedness on that church. Services in celebration of the paying off of the debt will be held at this church next month.

The funeral of John Francis Rothford, who died in Washington, was held at St. Mary's Catholic Church this morning. The Rev. Father Kelly officiated and the burial was made in St. Mary's Cemetery.

Erwin Doyle and Arthur Carter were fined $10 each in the police court this morning. Doyle was charged with trespassing on the property of the Southern Railway Company and Carter with carrying concealed weapons.

R. E. Lee Camp, Confederate Veteran, will hold a meeting at their hall, in Prince street, this evening.

The circuit court for the city, Judge J. B. T. Thornton, will open its sessions at the court house here tomorrow morning. This is a civil term.

TWO DEAD, TWO SHOT IN FIGHT OVER GIRL. EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill., July 4.—Michael Eason and Evelyn Higginbotham are dead here today and two other men are seriously wounded, the result of an attempt by John Higginbotham, who is a native of Kansas City, to remove his daughter, aged eleven years, from the home of her former wife.

Higginbotham came from Kansas City to take charge of his daughter. When he went to the Mosey home Higginbotham drew a revolver and fired, as the daughter stepped into the line of the bullet. She dropped dead. H. C. Felner then shot Higginbotham, probably fatally, but before the latter dropped he wounded his assailant with a bullet in the arm and killed Mosey.

MARYLAND FUGITIVE CAUGHT IN OHIO. Appears Among Cincinnati Car Cleaners Thinly Clad and They Call Police.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, July 4.—The form of a man fitting about the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad yards at the Mill street crossing here clad only in a suit of "peek-a-boo" summer underwear, created intense excitement among a squad of women car cleaners in that vicinity today and a call was sent to police headquarters. The fellow hopped on a dining car and crouched in a corner, where Patrolman Conner found him.

He gave his name as Mike Joyce, aged thirty, and said he had been confined in the Bayview (Md.) asylum, later transferred to the Catonsville (Md.) asylum, but escaped from that place. He walked to Cumberland, Md., he says, and from there beat his way to this city.

FORK PUNCTURES ARTERY. KEWANEE, Ill., July 4.—While eating dinner in a hurry to get the ball field in time for a church league game, Third Baseman John Marsh accidentally punctured an artery in his arm with his fork. He is under the care of a physician and it will be some time before he will be able to play ball.

SCARED MONKEY IN BALLOON. POTTSVILLE, Pa., July 4.—George and Alexander Storborski, of Minessville, have been arrested for cruelty to animals, putting a small monkey in a basket and sending it up on a balloon.

The balloon, after going a mile, was barely able to carry the monkey, chattering over the housetops of a mining village, where it descended. The monkey had escaped from a circus.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU, ANACOSTIA, D. C., JULY 4. A patriotic service was held last evening in the Garden Memorial Presbyterian Church, on Minnesota avenue, under the auspices of the Brotherhood of the American colors were draped about the platform and floral decorations were also in place. Alexander B. Gardner, the president of the Brotherhood, was the presiding officer. The invocation was delivered by William A. Snell, the superintendent of the Sunday school. Edward Parker read the Scripture lesson. The Rev. George M. Cummings, pastor of the church, delivered the address, taking as his subject "Christian Citizenship." The choir and the congregation sang several national hymns. The service was largely attended.

The members of the Anacostia Baptist Church, at Thirteenth and W streets, heard a plea for the extension of the safe and sane observance of the Fourth of July throughout the country from the Rev. Frank L. Bardeen, the pastor, at patriotic exercises that took place last evening in the edifice. The services were scheduled to take place on the lawn, but an epidemic of influenza in the congregation assembled indoors. There was special music, Cornetist Herman rendering "The Star-Spangled Banner." The choir sang appropriate numbers. Mr. Bardeen cited statistics to prove the dangers in explosive celebrations of the Fourth.

The funeral of Thomas Corbin, late patrolman at the Government Hospital for the Insane, was held this morning at 9 o'clock from St. Teresa's Church, where requiem mass was offered. The burial took place in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Walter Burroughs, nineteen years old, who recently forfeited $10 collateral when he was arrested on a charge of committing an assault on a patient at the Government Hospital for the Insane, will be called upon to answer a charge in open court, an attachment having been issued for him. The police of the Anacostia precinct arrested him yesterday. Burroughs, who was an attendant at the asylum, is alleged to have beaten an inmate who was under his care. He was observed and arrested by police officers, who promptly followed. Some of those interested in the case believed that Burroughs had escaped from custody on a charge of $10, whereupon officials at the Police Court decided to reopen the case, an attachment being issued for Burroughs, as stated.

The members of the Sunday school at the Anacostia Methodist Episcopal Church will be tendered a fete on the lawn surrounding the home of Charles P. Linger, Good Hope road, on Friday evening next.

The Rev. Samuel W. Grafflin, the pastor of the Anacostia Methodist Episcopal Church, delivered an illustrated lecture on "Joshua to Jephthah" in the edifice last evening.
