

FULLER'S FUNERAL SERVICES SIMPLE

President Taft, Col. Roosevelt, and Others Send Their Regrets.

SORRENTO, Me., July 6.—With Associate Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes as the official representative of the United States Supreme Court, simple funeral services were held this afternoon over the body of Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller.

The funeral which took place at "Mainstay," the summer residence of Mrs. Nathaniel Francis, where Justice Fuller died, was conducted by the Rev. James E. Freeman, an old friend of the Fuller family. He will accompany the body to Chicago, where burial will be made on Friday, in Graceland Cemetery, beside the grave of the late Chief Justice's wife.

SALUTE TO BE FIRED FOR CHIEF JUSTICE

When the body of Chief Justice Fuller is lowered into the grave in Graceland Cemetery, Chicago, Friday afternoon, a salute of seventeen guns will be fired at Fort Sheridan, at the expressed wish of the late head of the highest court of the nation.

Though the Chief Justice was distinctly a quiet man of peace, more of a poet than a warrior, he had a special liking for the salute to which his high office entitled him. To his daughters he expressed many times the desire that seventeen guns be fired from Fort Sheridan when he should be laid to rest in Graceland Cemetery.

Justice Harlan, who is at Murray Bay, Canada, is unable to attend the funeral on account of his advanced age and physical condition. Associate Justice White will be the senior member in attendance. Others present will be Associate Justices McKenna, Holmes, Day, and Lurton.

James H. McKenney, clerk of the court, and Major F. M. Wright, the marshal, left here this afternoon for Chicago. The justices and officials will meet at the Auditorium Annex Friday morning. The services will be conducted in Graceland Cemetery Chapel.

The body of the Chief Justice will be taken to Chicago immediately after the service this afternoon at Sorrento, Me.

"PENNSY" TRAINMEN VOTING ON STRIKE

Employees on Lines West Demand Increase in Wages.

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 6.—Employees of the Pennsylvania lines west are taking a vote on the question of whether they will strike for a wage increase ranging from 5 to 20 per cent.

In this action they are following the lead taken by the Pennsylvania railroad employees, members of the Railroad Conductors and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the routes operated east of Pittsburgh and Erie.

Announcement of the result of the vote on both the Eastern and Western systems of the Pennsylvania is expected on July 12. More than 4,700 trainmen, conductors, and yardmen are involved on the Pennsylvania lines.

CLOUDY WEATHER FOR A CHANGE

A temporary change in the delectable weather condition of the last two days is predicted by the Weather Man.

Late this afternoon, according to the authorities at the Weather Bureau, who skies will cloud, and tonight there will be rain.

The humidity, which for more than thirty-six hours has been absent, will return, and with it a higher temperature. Light to moderate breezes, however, will continue to blow, and showers on Thursday will further alleviate the heat.

No continued or severe hot wave, says the official forecaster, is in sight for the District, and a return of the distressing condition which attended Washington's first real summer weather need not be feared.

The thermometers throughout the country show that the heat is only moderate, and that comfortable weather prevails generally.

PASSING OF THE PASS CAUSES GLOOM ON HILL

Telegraph Frank Soon to Go the Way of Other Esteemed "Perks" of Good Old Days—All Save Salary and Postal Privilege Lost.

The good old days of mutual favors and exchanges of "courtesies" between the legislators and officials of Washington of the one side and the public service corporations on the other are passing.

In a few weeks the one survival of that halcyon period, the telegraph frank, will be no more. The new railroad law will go into effect, and then Washingtonians will pay for their telegrams just like other folk.

Before the passage of the Hepburn bill, the railroads were generous to their favor—generous to a fault. Nobody who was anybody paid to ride on a train. It was just like throwing money away to buy a railroad ticket. And nobody had money to throw away.

About the same time, too, members of Congress and others began to pay street carfare in the District. That was a new sensation, but they are used to it now. The fact is, they legislated themselves into that very predicament.

But express and telegraph franks were left. They were some consolation. Not much, perhaps, but some. A few years rolled by. Then the express companies withdrew their courtesies, saying they were violating the "spirit" of the law.

SMOKE AND FLAME BRAVED BY HERO

PITTSBURG, Pa., July 6.—Beating his way through a wall of smoke and flame, W. A. Weaver today prevented the explosion of two immense benzine tanks, near which were 20,000 barrels of crude oil. Weaver, who is superintendent of the Atlantic Refining plant, saved the lives of hundreds of persons, almost sacrificing his own.

A still, connected by pipe with the tanks, caught fire. The flames spread rapidly. Weaver, seeing that an explosion would result if a cock in the pipe were not turned off, rushed through the blaze, with his clothes afire, and turned the lever.

A crowd of nearly 3,000 persons saw him disappear in the smoke, and, singed, burned and blackened, return after he had turned the spigot.

being common carriers and engaged in interstate commerce.

But the average Congressman did not mind this. He still had the Government postal system at his command. He could still frank cows and typewriters and everything but real estate through the mails.

Now the telegraph franks are destined to go. They have served long and faithfully but their end approaches. The telegraph companies have been placed under the Interstate Commerce Commission through the agency of the new railroad law. They will be forbidden to extend favors, and it is known that they will cheerfully comply with the law.

Only the postal frank remains and this fact makes Washington wonder why anybody should now care to be a Congressman.

Of course the $2.50 a year salary still attaches, and this is said to be a matter of consequence to some members of Congress.
