

Catholic University Is Today Happy Over the Victory Scored at Georgetown Field

GEORGETOWN DEFEAT BY BROOKLAND LAST YEAR IS REPEATED

Joy at Catholic University Today Over Victory in Close Game.

ERROR IN THE FIRST PROVES RESPONSIBLE

Teams Are Tied for Seven Innings and Pitchers Furnish a Duel.

There is some real, deep-rooted joy at the Catholic University today. For years the height of athletic ambition of the Brookland institution was to win from Georgetown. Last season this was accomplished, and yesterday it was repeated, when the students from the East End crossed Rock Creek and handed Georgetown a beating in the best game seen on the hilltop this season.

The score was 3 to 2, and the defeat was due to an error in the first inning by Connolly, which enabled the Brooklanders to make two runs in the first inning.

Tie Until the Seventh. Georgetown tied this up in the second half of the opener, and until the seventh it remained even. In this round, usually spoken of as a lucky inning, Hessler, Catholic University's first baseman, tore off a drive to right field that went over the bank, and before the ball was returned the runner that crossed the plate with the run that decided the battle and gave the Brookland nine an even break with the Blue and Gray on the second.

The game was really a pitchers' duel, with Fleete and Green each pitching their best game of the year. Not a base on balls was given by either twirler, and while Catholic University made one more hit than did Georgetown, there was little to choose between the pair in the box.

Fury Leads At Bat. Fury led at the bat with a trio of safe drives, while Cogan and Zachary each made two hits.

TODAY-None.

The Auditors and Law put up an excellent exhibition of ball yesterday, and after seven innings of play the former team won out by the close score of 5 to 4.

The game was hard fought all the way through and Law threatened to break it up at any moment.

Munch was in perfect form and was well pitched. The big twirler fanned fifteen men and allowed no one a base on balls.

Frost was unfortunate. He pitched a creditable game, kept the hits well scattered and picked his way out of several tight holes, but he was unable to handle five men, four of which eventually scored.

Two passes by Frost in the first inning, coupled with Grace's hit, netted the former change two tallies. Again in the fourth, Telford was roused, scoring on Munch's bingle. In the fifth Keyser sauntered down on four wide ones, and counted on Riddle's two-sacker.

Telford was hurt in the sixth, but Manager Pollard had no one to shove in his place, and the plucky little catcher er struck it out. He caught his usual good game and held Munch in fine style.

Rosenthal was the principal offender in the fielding line. His two miscues in the sixth inning presented the Auditors one run and the game. In all three wobbles were charged against the shortstop, the only ones charged against his side.

Munch fanned the opposition almost at will. He whiffed at least one in each inning, and struck out Horn and Johnson every time up.

The games are being closely contested every day, and the class of ball seems to be getting better. Interest is being kept up among the teams and games are worked with promptness.

Treasurers and Auditors still have to fight it out for leadership. Bookkeepers seems to be the only team outclassed.

TODAY-Petworth vs. Silver Spring. New Hampshire avenue and Uppur street northwest.

Park View trimmed Brookland yesterday in the Suburban League when it handed out a crushing defeat, score 11 to 2.

By winning yesterday Park View again takes the lead in the pennant race, its only defeat having been received at the hands of "Cy" Cummings' Silver Spring team. Manager May has a fast aggregation and it will be found fighting for the lead when the race closes should they not be on top.

Brookland used three pitchers in an endeavor to stop the Park View team, but their total of ten hits shows how effectively the stick was wielded.

Lee Hillery twirled another clever game, holding his opponents to four scattered hits. Hillery seems to be in excellent shape this year, the last time he gained a 3 to 1 victory over Petworth.

Oliver in center for Park View put up his usual good game. He is a tireless and energetic worker on the coaching lines and in addition to this he is also there with the pole, two safe drives being his share in yesterday's combat.

Shep Gallagher, who has been seen at third in the last few games Park View has played, is a ball player worth having and Manager May is lucky in having obtained the services of such a sterling player. In yesterday's game he wielded the willow to good effect, two hits being credited to him.

Shipley, Beckert and Simons, the Brookland twirlers were found for ten bingles, most every member of the winning aggregation landing for a safety.

The Brookland batters seemed to have left their eyes at home, as they could not connect with the sphere. Ten was the number who perished by the strike-out route.

Today's game is between Petworth and Silver Spring. A victory for the former will again cause a tie for first place. Silver Spring will no doubt be greatly strengthened for tomorrow's contest and should it win will be within speaking distance of the leaders.

TODAY-Naval Medicine vs. Tenleytown. Thirty-sixth street and Wisconsin avenue.

St. Stephens made it seven straight wins yesterday, running away from Company K, the undisputed holders of the cellar championship, in a slugfest contest, 3 to 0.

Every man on the winners got one or more hits as their share, but Schombert and Callan led, the former getting three out of the box, and the latter connecting for two out of two. Manager Ernest, Company K, used two pitchers in his town boys, but they availed him nothing.

Bradcock worked the first three innings and was touched up for eleven safeties. Dutton finished the six-inning affair, and was batted for nine safe ones.

TODAY-Congressional vs. Adams Express. First and M streets northeast.

Commissioners were forced to swallow a bitter pill when Adams Express romped away with a 7-to-5 victory.

It looked dubious for Adams in the first inning, when four Commissioners crossed the plate on four infield errors and Al Handiboe's triple to deep center. The four tallies were counted by the first four men to face McMahon.

Commissioners twice threatened to break up the game, but McMahon's pitching cut them short. In the fifth inning Lay and Al Handiboe hit safely with two gone, but Burley fanned at three wide ones.

Excitement prevailed during Commissioners' half of the seventh. Lay was safe on O'Neil's third error, and stole second. He tallied on Bill Handiboe's drive to center. Bill then took second, and went to third on brother Al's third hit, the latter advancing to second on the play. With but one score, Hurley flew to short, and McMahon punched Falconer, saving the day for Adams.

Al Handiboe was the shining light of the game. In four of the nine he drove out a pair of singles and a triple, stole a base, and pitched right-gidded ball when he relieved Burke in the ninth. Two scratch hits were made off his delivery in three and two-thirds innings, and he fanned five.

"Cooch" O'Neil, the Adams infielder who was severely spiked two weeks ago, was back in the game in the ninth, and clearly showed lack of practice. Half of his six chances got away from him.

Riddle, assistant manager of the express team, had a finger broken during practice before the game, and was taken to the Sibley Hospital for treatment.

Government Printing Office has made application for a franchise in the league, and the matter will be considered at the next meeting, which will probably be called Sunday morning.

TODAY-Andrews vs. Moses, Georgia avenue and Kenyon street northwest.

Havenner yesterday managed to hold Willard down to a 7 to 3 score. Although the latter got less hits than the former they came when men were on bases.

Six errors by the Bakers were also a considerable factor in enabling Willard to win.

Both Thompson and Symonoe pitched good ball. Each struck out nine men and each gave two passes. Ten hits were registered off the latter and eight off the former.

Each team recorded a double play in the second inning. Myers and Staub figuring in Willard's, and Wilson, unassisted, making Havenner's.

TODAY-First National vs. District National, White Lot Ellipse.

In a game where long hard hit balls featured the playing of American Security, Second-Washington was beaten by 19 to 1.

At no time did the leaders get a look in, and but five hits were made off Dyer, who worked his first game for American Security.

R. Rawlings got a homer and a double, while "Slag" Rawlings connected for a double and a single.

Hayes was the only player for American Security to go hitless.

Tows, for Second-Washington, was the only player to get an error on either side.

Hall and D. Rawlings, of Second Washington, seemed to be the only players who could thum Dyer's curves. Each got two hits, and P. Moore managed to squeeze in another.

There seems to be little to it but American Security these days. The team is playing consistent ball, battling every pitcher who opposes, and fielding in good style.

First National and District are scheduled for this afternoon.

Dyer, the new twirler for American Security, appears to have the goods in pitching and hitting. A triple and two singles was the total he added to his good day's work.

TODAY-St. Paul vs. National Union, at North Capitol and V streets.

Manager Will Donnelly is the only manager in the league who has not given the secretary any trouble registering and releasing players. Donnelly handed his certified list in at the beginning of the season and has made but three changes since then.

Every day the results of "Pop" Meyers' efforts in trying to keep the children in order are more marked. Yesterday was the first day that "Pop" was not on police duty, but nevertheless everything was orderly and quiet.

Shamrock has shown much batting strength, but is still shaky at fielding. Fifteen hits were made by them yesterday, but the errors and other misplays by that side gave Manhattan the game.

TODAY-Woodland vs. Immanuel, Sixteenth street and Columbia road.

It took White Haven to stop the onward stride that Southland has been getting into. The Clubmen were in rare form yesterday, defeating the hard playing Southwesterners, 6 to 2.

Up to the ninth, the game was a pitcher's battle of the first degree. The score stood one to one, and Elbert, of Southland, had allowed but six hits, while Southland had been able to get only six off Binsted. In their half of the last, White Haven, by coupling three hits with three errors by the Southlander infield, piled up five runs.

Southland came back with a rally, but fell four short of tying it up, pushing but one over.

Bueckholz, Southland left fielder, was badly hurt in the seventh when he ran the barbed wire fence in left field. He went into the wire with such force that he became impaled and had to be helped loose. Something should be done about that fence as this is the second man to be injured on it.

Both twirlers were in great form. Elbert allowed nine hits, while his team mates could get but eight off Binsted. The Southlander struck out eleven men, two more than did the Clubmen. With the support that each received, the game until the ninth was a pitcher's battle of first water.

The fans will have the opportunity to see the new club in action this evening for the first time. Woodland, which has replaced Silgo, will play Immanuel, and as it is anxious to make a good showing, the game should be well fought out.

With the acquisition of Woodland, no more forfeits are expected. While Silgo played fair ball, the players as a rule failed to show up, giving preference to other teams.

President Capp looks for a better crowd to day than usual. Many have the interest of Woodland at heart and look to see it win over Immanuel.

Hits and Errors Combine Against the Gallaudets

Gallaudet suffered a severe drubbing at College Park yesterday when the Maryland Agricultural College won by 19 to 1.

In the fourth inning a combination of hits and errors gave M. A. C. five runs, and it was not until the eighth that Gallaudet averted a shut-out by scoring a single tally.

Smith, for the winners, pitched an excellent game, while the Kendall Green nine's work was most erratic.

TODAY-E. A. C. vs. Navy Yard, Navy Yard and I. streets.

Navy Yard and Eastern Athletic Club are scheduled for this afternoon, and from reports the Eastern Athletic Club should win, as Navy Yard may be weakened by the absence of many players.

Cornell Company, with a patched-up team, easily won out over Navy Yard yesterday by 7 to 2. While Cornell had three catchers and three regular pitchers stuck around in the outfield, not a single error was made.

The big game will be played Friday, when Cornell Company and Sewage Pumping Station are scheduled. Cornell trimmed the Pumping Station in its last engagement and expects to do so again.

Mr. Hughes, umpire of the Sewage Pumping Station, will handle the Cornell game Friday.

If Navy Yard had more than three players yesterday it is more than Carr would have been benched.

Beard continued his excellent work first for Navy Yard and drove off hits out of two times up. In the first of many he is without a peer in circuits and is a youngster with fire.
