

CUBANS QUIETED BY KNOX NOTE; TROOPS NOT TO BE MOVED

Intervention Will Not Be Necessary, Says State Department.

The State Department is today convinced that there will be no occasion for intervention in Cuba. In a statement issued from the department this morning the improvement in conditions in Cuba was noted and the fact stated that no movement of American troops was not contemplated.

The statement is as follows: "The reports received at the State Department of the situation in Cuba indicate that there have been no positive developments and that the general situation is greatly improved as a result of the note handed to President Gomez. "The meeting last night at the palace was quiet and marked by the conciliatory attitude and views of all the party and factional leaders who declared themselves in favor of settling aside all differences and working together for the solution of the present crisis.

In general, public opinion in Cuba regards the Knox note as a friendly warning, which should be heeded. No positive developments are expected in the near future."

As a result of the assurances from Cuba the State Department had advised the army and navy that no further preparation need be made for intervention at this time. The officials of the department are moderately certain that the Cubans will give no cause for an interference in their affairs by this Government.

The preparations at Fort Myer and at other army posts in the neighborhood of the Atlantic coast, therefore, will be suspended.

Committee to Consider Peace Centenary Plans

A meeting of the committee of 100 appointed by the Commissioners to consider plans for the celebration in 1914-15 of the hundredth anniversary of peace between English-speaking nations will be held in the board room of the District building, Monday afternoon, January 22, at 2 o'clock. James Brown Spott, secretary of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, is chairman.

The Washington celebration will be held in conjunction with a national celebration, which is planned by a national committee of which Andrew Carnegie is president, and Theodore Roosevelt, honorary president. Special interest will attach to the District celebration, in view of the fact that it was in Washington that President Madison signed the treaty of Ghent, which ended the war of 1812. The table on which the treaty was signed is on exhibition at the Occoquan House, the home of the Washington Chapter of the American Institute of Architects.

KING MAY VISIT U. S., SAYS REPORT

Well Authenticated Rumor in London That Ruler of Great Britain Contemplates Trip in 1914—State Department Anxious.

Rumor, apparently well authenticated, that King George and Queen Mary of England will visit Washington next year or later, startled the capitals of two nations today. The British embassy was inclined to be skeptical. "If true, nothing is known about it at the embassy," said one of the secretaries this afternoon. Officials of the State Department took the rumor seriously enough to begin studying what must be done in the matter of reception. It was declared that a new and pretty problem is presented, for precedents are practically lacking.

Dispatches from London today declared that much credence was given the story in England, and that the King's long expressed curiosity about America was the impelling motive. That Queen Mary was equally eager to see Washington and other parts of the United States is denied in the same dispatches, the Queen, it is said, having shown antipathy to Americans. From Canada come other dispatches saying that it is rumored in Ottawa that King George has accepted the invitation of the Duke of Connaught to be present at the opening of a new trans-continental railroad in 1914.

Small Blaze in Jackson Bros.' Store

Pieces of kindling wood left too near the furnace were responsible for a small fire last night in the furniture store of Jackson Bros., 215-225 Seventh street northwest. No. 6 engine company responded to a local alarm and the blaze was extinguished before any damage was done to the building. About a year ago the establishment was swept by fire with a loss of more than $50,000.

Sells Stolen Shoes And Gets 60 Days

An exchange of a pair of Salvation Army shoes for a pair of "Occoquans" was the undoing of Charles Brown, alias George Wilson, colored, in United States branch of Police Court. Brown bought one pair of shoes in the Salvation Army store, 121 Pennsylvania avenue northwest, and stole another pair. At a second-hand dealer's store in the Southwest he exchanged these shoes for the pair of "Occoquans" and it was through this exchange that Detective Embrey located and arrested Brown, and found, too, that the man had stolen and sold a coat belonging to a second-hand clothing dealer, Judge James L. Fugh sentenced Brown to serve sixty days on each of the two larceny counts. Asked why the shoes that Brown secured in exchange are called "Occoquans," the prisoner said, "Because those are the kind they wear down at the workhouse."

CUTTER LAUNCHING DELAYED BY ICE AT NEWPORT NEWS WAYS

Function, With Miss Hilles and Miss Richardson Sponsors, Is Postponed.

Because of the accumulation of ice in the mouth of the James river, in front of the launching ways at the Newport News Ship Building Company, the launching of the two revenue cutters Miami and Unalga, has been postponed until Saturday, February 10. Miss Barnes Richardson, daughter of Congressman Richardson of Alabama, ranking member of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, and Miss Elizabeth Hilles, daughter of Charles Dewey Hilles, Secretary to President Taft, to be sponsors for the two vessels, have been notified of the change in date.

The launching will be attended by several brilliant social functions at Newport News and at Old Point Comfort. Elaborate arrangements for the ceremony have been made, and many men from official life and social leaders in Washington will attend. Among the special guests will be Robert O. Bailey, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury in charge of the Revenue Cutter Division, and Mrs. Bailey; Capt. Commandant Berthoff, of the Revenue Cutter Service, and Mrs. Berthoff; Mr. and Mrs. Hilles, and Mr. and Mrs. Richardson. It is probable that a ball in honor of the sponsors will be given at the Hotel Chamberlin in the evening. According to reports the James river is frozen from its mouth to its source, and there is a heavy jam, in the bay, from Chesapeake bay, where the launching will take place.

KIDNEY REMEDY THAT ACTS LIKE MAGIC

I have been a terrible sufferer for a number of years with kidney and liver trouble, also nervous prostration and health generally poor, constitution entirely run down until life became a burden. I tried physicians and every available remedy but found no relief. Was induced to give Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root medicine, which acted like magic, and am happy to say that I believe I am entirely cured and now as good a man as ever. I believe it my duty to make this public statement that I may help others who may be suffering from the same trouble.
