

WILDER MARRIES A MUSIC TEACHER IN NEW YORK CITY

Congressman Weds Viennese Girl Who Chaperoned His Daughters.

NEW YORK, March 22.—Congressman W. H. Wilder of Massachusetts, whose first wife died two years ago last November, married yesterday in the Broadway Tabernacle, Broadway and Fifty-sixth street, Irene Paula Uibel, of 33 Northern avenue, a Viennese girl, who has been a teacher of music and languages in this city for the last five years. Although the wedding was private, only three persons being present besides the bride and bridegroom, a few of Wilder's closest friends in this city—and he has many here—learned of it late last night, and each expressed astonishment.

Wilder was seen last night in the Murray Hill Hotel. He admitted his visit has not been wholly because of business reasons.

At the reporter's first question Wilder raised a startled face. "Why, yes, it's true enough," he said, stroking his reddish-brown beard, "but where did you hear of it? Now listen to me, young man; you can have the absolute facts about my marriage, since you've got me cornered. Where will I begin? Well, Miss Uibel—that is, Mrs. Wilder—was born in Vienna, Austria, where her father runs a big soap box manufactory. Soap boxes are not very romantic, are they? She came over here four years ago."

"Five," prompted Mrs. Wilder, smiling into her husband's face. "And I grew so fond of America I couldn't go back. I've been teaching French, German and piano playing ever since, and I've grown to love every mile of this big city's streets."

"When did you meet Mrs. Wilder?" the reporter asked.

"Three years ago," answered the Representative. "When I sent my three daughters abroad I wanted a chaperon for them, and I had heard Miss Uibel spoken of very highly. I engaged her, and to make sure she would answer requirements, I went across with her and the children. When I came back again on the same ship, when my daughters returned the following fall they had nothing but praise for Miss Uibel; she had been everything to them; taught them languages, shown them places of interest and amusement and in general acted more as a companion than as a maid chaperon. I did not see her again until after my first wife's death. Then, when on my way through New York to Washington, I remembered once to stop off and thank Miss Uibel for her kindness. That visit led to our marriage. 'That isn't very romantic, is it? Just plain, everyday sort of stuff, don't you think?'"

Mr. Wilder said he has no definite plans for a honeymoon. "My daughters and I will go to Washington Monday," he explained. "Mrs. Wilder probably will remain here in her home, until we have settled everything positively. One thing we are counting on, however, is a trip to Europe in the summer. Between now and then I cannot say whether Mrs. Wilder will continue to live here, in Washington, or in Gardner."

FEARS EXPRESSED THAT ACCIDENT HAS BEFALLEN EXPLORER

No Word Has Been Heard From Captain Scott, Pole Hunter.

LONDON, March 22.—While Lieutenant Shackleton and the officials of the Geographical Society insist that there is no cause for alarm, friends of Captain Scott, the Antarctic explorer, are apprehensive that some accident has happened to him.

The arrival at Wellington, New Zealand, of the Japanese exploring expedition in the steamer Kaipan Maru and their statement that at no time did they see anything of the British South Polar expedition caused wonder as to the whereabouts of the British expedition. Shackleton and the scientists generally agree that Scott, finding that the Norwegian expedition led him to the "Great Nail," has decided to remain at the "bottom of the earth" as long as possible, compiling scientific records and exploring generally, so that the results of his expedition will be of incalculable benefit to science.

This view, however, prevails only in scientific circles. Elsewhere the fear is openly expressed that the British expedition has met with disaster, and if something is not heard from Scott and his companions soon a general demand that a relief expedition be sent in search of them will be made.

KAISER VISITS AGED EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA

Franz Josef Entertains Imperial Visitor At Schoenbrunn Palace.

VIENNA, March 22.—The Kaiser arrived here today in a driving rain. As he alighted from the special train he was greeted by the personal aides of the aged Emperor Franz Joseph, who welcomed him to the dual kingdom. The Emperor had desired to greet his imperial visitor personally, but his physicians prohibited him making the journey and exposing himself to the inclement weather.

The grizzled old monarch greeted the Kaiser at Schoenbrunn palace, to which the German monarch was escorted, surrounded by a strong guard of household cavalry. Emperor William will continue his trip late tonight to Venice, where he is to meet the King of Italy, afterward proceeding to Corfu for a brief rest.

$1.25 Baltimore and Return—Baltimore & Ohio, every Saturday and Sunday. Good to return until 9:00 a. m. train Monday. All trains both ways, including the Royal Limited.—Advt.

LADY FRANCES COOK SAYS WOMEN WRITE SPEECHES FOR MEN

Militant Suffragist Visits Washington and Makes Some Remarks.

Women, mostly wives and stenographers, wrote the speeches which enabled half the Senators and Representatives in Congress to reach their present political positions, according to Lady Francis Cook, America's original militant suffragist, who arrived in Washington yesterday. Lady Cook, who, prior to her marriage to the wealthy Lord Francis Cook, was Tennessee Claflin, has spent more than fifty years furthering the cause of woman suffrage. "Not until we have gotten rid of this generation of blithering rascals," said Lady Francis Cook, at her suite in the Willard this morning, "will women be able to obtain their rights. The present antagonistic generation of older men who oppose our plan of equal rights must die out before our cause wins."

"It is the young men we are depending on, and with the coming into power of these young men we will have that for which we have so long been fighting."

"Men need not be afraid to give woman her rights. If we had a vote I don't believe we would exercise it. It is merely the principle of the thing for which we are fighting. Women could do so much with their rights in the raising of their children."

"More than 100,000 girls leave their homes annually, and are never heard of because of the present conditions that exist in homes. Our social laws are faulty. The sin of a man should be considered as bad as the sin of a woman. I am not a race suicide exponent, but think that fewer children in families and more attention paid to these would ensue in benefit to mankind."

Lady Cook, who is seventy years old, appeared before Congress in 1870 and asked for suffrage for women. She is in Washington to again seek a hearing before the Senate Judiciary Committee. Lady Cook has had a most interesting career. She frankly acknowledges that she has been arrested many times on account of her suffrage crusades. Before going to England she was engaged in the banking business in New York city with her sister.

To Be Buried at St. Paul.

Arrangements for the funeral services for Norman Perkins, superintendent of the third division of the Railway Mail Service, are being completed today. Mr. Perkins died at his home, 1319 Euclid avenue northwest, yesterday afternoon. He was seventy-three years old and a veteran of the Civil War. The body will be taken to his old home in St. Paul, Minn., for burial.

YOU WILL REGRET IT IF YOU DO NOT SEIZE THIS OPPORTUNITY

Here Are Some More "HIGH VIEW" HOMES Ready for Immediate Occupancy

As you are probably already aware "High View" homes sell faster than such substantial structures can be built. Two weeks ago we showed you a photographic reproduction of another lot of "High View" homes only partly under roof, nowhere near completion, and every one ALREADY SOLD.

It sometimes happens in a large home building operation like this one at "High View," that unsold homes are completed before those already sold. Here is just such a condition—the homes we illustrate. They are right in the heart of the built-up part of "High View," at the point of its very highest elevation.

We Know By Experience Right Here at High View That These Homes Will Immediately Find Owners At the Easy Terms On Which They Are Sold

Price, $3,300
Terms: $200 Cash
$26.92 Per Month

Up to the present time "High View" homes have sold faster than they could be built because they represent a home buying opportunity the like of which has never been offered the people of Washington—probably never will be equalled again. There is only one other elevation in Washington equal to "High View" (the site of the U. S. Naval Observatory). There is no other home like these "High View" homes at anywhere near the price, in any section of Washington.

"High View" homes compare favorably with the best at $5,000. This is both from the standpoint of their attractive appearance and their stable construction. YOUR INSPECTION IS ALL THAT IS NECESSARY TO CONCLUSIVELY PROVE THIS STATEMENT.

We know by experience that when a man wants to buy a home he also wants to occupy it immediately in order to reduce the amount of his expense and because he is particularly anxious to feel the freedom that comes to a person when he sits in a home that he knows to be his very own. What is true with the man of the family is true to an even greater extent with the feminine members of the family.

If You Miss Seeing These Homes Tonight or Tomorrow, Sunday, You May Miss the Opportunity to Become the Owner of One

TO INSPECT—Take any G street car marked "Brookland" or "North Capitol and W streets," get off at Rhode Island avenue and walk one square east.

The owners have under course of construction more of these homes. It will be several months before they are completed. If you haven't the necessary $200 first payment to put into one of the homes now ready for immediate occupancy, you can have us reserve one of the next lot for you by arranging to make us small monthly payments. In this way, by the time the homes are ready for occupancy, you will have saved enough to make the first payment. After that all you need pay is $26.92 per month, which applies directly on the home, including all interest.

Everything a Home Should Be.

Do You Realize What This Means

IT REFERS to the architectural beauty of the home, the stability of the construction, the practical planning of the interior, the woodwork, the fixtures, the size of the front lawn, and the depth of the back yard.

It also refers to the location, with regard to nearness to the city's business and shopping center, convenience to a good car line, character of the neighboring homes, etc.

In all respects the Spring Road Properties are "Everything a Home Should Be." We ask that you inspect the operation and bear witness to the truth of this assertion.

Some people are going to get to the Spring Road Properties too late to secure the possession of one for their own. Don't be among this unfortunate number.

These are the last homes for sale in this section of the city around the $5,000 figure. With the sale of the last one goes your final chance of residing in this most desirable residential community, without paying a big advance over the present price of a Spring Road home. All surrounding homes are considerably higher priced—occupied by their owners, and NOT FOR SALE.

Statistics show that the maximum amount of luxury at a minimum cost is obtainable in a six-room home. The Spring Road Properties are six-room homes idealized. They enjoy such additional advantages as a laundry and servants' toilet in the basement, hot-water heat, both gas and electric lights, etc.

Price $5,200
Terms $500 Cash
$38.00 Per Month

(which pays directly on the home, including all interest.)

TO INSPECT—Take any Fourteenth Street car going north. Get off at Fourteenth and Spring Road and you are right at the homes—only a few minutes' ride from center of city.

A SMALLER CASH PAYMENT. —will be accepted from those who do not find it convenient to immediately transfer $500 cash into one of the Spring Road Properties. All that is required in such cases is a small increase of the amount of the monthly payments.
