

HANDICAP JUMP AT HORSE SHOW OPENS BRILLIANT PROGRAM

Distinguished Throng Sees Animals and Riders Perform.

Today's Program. 7:30—Class 64, Handicap Jump... 8:00—Class 10, Pairs over 15.2... 8:15—Class 11, Horses Suitable for Hunters... 8:30—Class 12, Phaeton Pairs... 8:45—Class 13, Model Harness Horses... 9:00—Class 14, Model Saddle Horses... 9:15—Class 15, Model Hunters... 9:30—Class 16, Ladies' Phaeton Horses... 9:45—Class 17, Road Hacks... 10:00—Class 18, Thoroughbred Hunters... 10:15—Class 19, Novice Hunters... 10:30—Class 20, Brougham Horses...

Jumpers, this time under handicap, again inaugurated the National Capital Horse Show today, the first event starting at 2 p. m. The elimination trial which was scheduled to start at 11:30 this morning, was voted out by the judges because almost no horses are now walking at the hurdles and the time allotted by General Manager F. M. Ware for this event, 70 minutes, was expected to prove sufficient for all competitors.

When the half hundred starters in this first event, class 64, came out of the paddock stalls, another big audience sat expectant with the boxes and grandstand full of diplomats and Cabinet officers, army and navy men, Congressmen and Senators, and other dignitaries and personalities, besides hundreds of persons prominent in Washington society.

Performance only counted in the handicap jumping event, just as in the free for all jump yesterday, but the bars were set at varying heights for horses of different records. Green hunters were required to negotiate a height of four feet. For qualified hunters the bars were six inches higher. Horses which have competed in high jumping contests in the past had to clear five feet, and winners of high jump classes, five feet four inches.

These conditions mean that there is excellent chance of some bad splits today, though all will be well if none results more unhappily than the fall which Victor Mather, of Philadelphia, took late yesterday afternoon. Mr. Mather is feeling spry and vigorous today, although most of the spectators thought he was critically hurt. Mr. Mather was up on Pagan King, in the heavy-welter hunter class, when his horse crashed into the fourth jump. Horse and rider went down together, and then the horse tumbled over on Mr. Mather.

Close Rivalry.

Rivalry between Miss Louisa Long, of Kansas City, and Edward B. McLean, of Washington, whose horses have been matched against each other in close competitions each day, will again take place today, for Miss Long and Mr. McLean are both in the tandem event. Mrs. Clarence W. Watson, wife of the West Virginia Senator, will be another contender, as will H. L. Pierce, of Leominster, Mass. Mrs. Watson won much applause yesterday for her driving of Ringling Bell in class 7, heavy harness horses, 15.2 hands and under. Mr. McLean's Tinsington Belle had to yield the blue ribbon in this event to Mrs. Watson's horse.

Miss Helen Buchanan and Miss Jeanette Allen, who survived the elimination event in the free-for-all jump yesterday, were noteworthy among the women riders. Miss Buchanan finished third in the finals with Katzydd. Miss Allen, who was mounted on Yellowstone Regent, owned by her father, Major Henry T. Allen, chairman of the horse show's executive committee, did not place, although her riding received much praise. Miss Allen and Miss Buchanan are exponents of different styles of feminine riding, the former preferring to ride astride and Miss Buchanan the side saddle.

Biggest Winner.

Although Julian Morris lost the blue ribbon in the free-for-all jump, nevertheless he was the biggest winner of the day. The animal crowd in grandstand and boxes saw Mr. Morris' horses get two blues, two reds, one yellow, and one white ribbon. Senator and Mrs. Watson, whose horses are entered under the name of their country place, Fairmont Farms, took one first, one second and one fourth. This was done by three horses in as many events.

The large assembly at the horse show commented favorably upon the speed with which events are being conducted by General Manager F. M. Ware. From 2 o'clock until nearly 7 yesterday horses were in the show ring every minute. Besides the handicap jump and tandem classes this afternoon, spectators will see gallop saddle horses, road hacks, thoroughbred hunters, novice hunters, brougham horses, phaeton pairs, and harness horses, hunters, in classes for each of these types.

Tomorrow's program is a double one. There are long lists of events for both days, beginning at 10 a. m. and 2 p. m. In the morning a special event is the military team contest. For this event, the Ogilthorpe, and Myer being represented. In the afternoon the hunt team contest occurs, and the high jump.

War Department Sends Rations to Louisiana

At the request of Congressman Broussard of Louisiana, the War Department today ordered the shipment of 10,000 rations to the parishes of Iberia and St. Martin, Louisiana.

He conferred with Gen. Leonard Wood, chief of staff, and told him that conditions are appalling in certain sections of his district, and that more than 1,000,000 acres of fertile land are under water.

The Congressman said he had messages from constituents saying that the people of Louisiana are mystified by the second rise in the waters of the Mississippi, in view of the fact that there appears to be no greater inflow into the river.

Ashley to Sing.

The chancel choir of St. Aloysius Church, under the direction of Glenn Church, will sing the high mass Sunday morning in Dalkerton chapel, Georgetown University, in honor of Bishop Carroll, founder of the university.

In most of the Southern provinces battles are raging between the Federalists and the adherents of Orozco, and there are no mail from the territory around Acapulco except by steamer every tenth day. In Ensenada, quiet continues, and the United States consul at Saltillo reports five cases of typhus fever have occurred.

At Chihuahua, Puebla, a battle has been raging for the last two days between the Zapatistas, numbering about 2,500 and 500 federalists, who are said to have an advantageous position and are withstanding the attack of the rebels.

Americans Held In Danger Zone When Railroad Bridge Is Burned.

MEXICO CITY, May 3.—That he is just beginning to fight in his struggle to put down all organized rebellion in Mexico, was the declaration today of President Madero. Even though the Zapata rebels, who are now threatening the capital, should be successful in taking the city, he declared that he would retire to the hills and maintain the organized government.

The appointment of a committee by the chamber of deputies to endeavor to pacify the rebels is not believed to have been a forward movement by those familiar with the situation. Orozco, it is asserted by those who know him, will positively refuse to have anything to do with the committee.

Zapata, who is now in striking distance of this city, declares that he will not lay down his arms until the government consents to divide all lands with the peons and Indians.

Sues Husband to Obtain Property

Through Attorneys Wilton J. Lambert and R. H. Yeatman, a suit was filed in the District Supreme Court today by Mrs. Grace M. Barnes against her husband, John Barnes, for a receiver and the establishment of a trust on property in southeast Washington worth $5,000, which, she claims, belongs to her although in his name. The couple were married in Pittsburgh on February 24, 1910, and soon afterwards, she avers, she had her husband buy the realty in question, permitting him to take title in his own name to help his credit, he being proprietor of a pool and billiard parlor. A rule returnable next Friday has been issued by Chief Justice Claiborn.

Good Shepherd League To Attend Services

Members of the League of the Good Shepherd will attend St. Patrick's Catholic Church in a body Sunday morning at the 8 o'clock mass and receive Holy Communion. They will meet again Friday night for the recitation of the liturgy, at which time the Right Rev. Monsignor William T. Russell, pastor of St. Patrick's, will preach. The Rev. James A. Smyth will celebrate mass at the church at 11 o'clock Sunday, at which mass Monsignor Russell will also deliver a sermon. May devotions commenced in the church last Wednesday and will continue during the month. The devotions are in the form of a short service which last about half an hour.
