

FIELD MASS TO BE HELD JUNE 9; TAFT TO ATTEND

Date Changed for Benefit of Knights of Columbus.

CROWD OF 200,000 EXPECTED AT RITES

High Officials of Church and State Will Be Here to Take Part.

A second memorial military field mass is to be held on the White Lot. President Taft, members of his Cabinet, Cardinal Gibbons, Mgr. Bonzano, new papal delegate to the United States; foreign ambassadors and embassy staffs; members of the Supreme Court, both houses of Congress and officials and dignitaries of the United States Government and the church, including several visiting prelates, will attend the services Sunday, June 9, under the auspices of Admiral George Dewey Camp, United Spanish War Veterans.

Arrangements for the mass are nearing completion, and it is believed it will surpass in every way the similar services held on the White Lot last year, when 50,000 persons attended.

Many Visitors.

It is estimated that from one to two hundred thousand people will come to Washington to attend the Columbus memorial exercises, and the date for holding the mass was changed on this account, so that these visitors might attend.

This action was taken on suggestion of those in charge of the Columbus memorial.

Thousands of members of the Knights of Columbus and other organizations coming for the unveiling will remain over Sunday for the mass. All of the 50,000 visiting Knights will attend.

It is possible that Cardinal Gibbons will celebrate the mass, if his health and physical condition will permit. In case he does not the Rev. Eugene D. McDonnell, pastor of St. Aloysius Church, will be celebrant. It is probable that Father Russell, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, will deliver the sermon.

The full Marine Band will head the military escort of Spanish War Veterans, National Guard, Grand Army of the Republic, Knights of Columbus in uniform, and detachments of regulars from Fort Myer, Washington Barracks, the Marine Barracks, and the Washington Navy Yard. In addition, there will be in line 3,000 men of the third Sunday club of St. Aloysius Church, under Father McDonnell, and possibly a detachment of sailors from the Navy Yard.

The mass is primarily a military memorial mass, for comrades lost in war, but it will take greater significance this year as coincident with the Columbus memorial exercises.

The music of the mass will be rendered by the full orchestra of 200 pieces of St. Patrick's Church, and the augmented mixed and sanctuary choirs of St. Patrick's will sing.

President Taft to Attend. President Taft will be a central figure at the service. He gave his formal acceptance of an invitation a few days ago, when a committee consisting of Congressman L. C. Dyer, Capt. J. A. Costello, and Mrs. Ida M. Galloway, representing Admiral George Dewey Camp, United Spanish War Veterans, waited upon him for the purpose.

All arrangements for the mass are in charge of a general field mass committee of Admiral George Dewey Camp, of which Capt. Richard J. Donnelly is chairman.

Spanish War Veterans from every Eastern city have sent notice of their intention to attend in uniform, and a place in line has been saved for them. Three thousand war veterans from New York city will come by special train, which will arrive at the White Lot at 11:30 a. m.

It is probable that the Rev. Father Chidwick, chaplain of the battleship Maine when that vessel was blown up in Havana harbor, will take a prominent part in the service. He has sent (Continued on Second Page.)

DISTRICT BOWS IN REVERENCE OF FILIAL LOVE

Mothers' Day Observed in Many Washington Churches.

WHITE CARNATION GENERALLY WORN

Many Priests and Ministers Preach on Subject of Love of Parent.

Mothers' Day Is Observed By President Taft.

President Taft attended service at All Souls' Church this morning and, in honor of Mothers' Day, wore a white carnation. In his sermon, the Rev. Dr. U. G. B. Pierce, pastor, made reference to the celebration of Mothers' Day.

The most sacred of human sentiments, affection for one's mother, had demonstration in Washington today by the wearing of the white carnation. Formal celebration through special church services took place in many churches, where clergymen, ushers, and members of the congregations, both men and women, wore the emblem of affection.

At several churches the morning service was entirely given over to "Mothers' Day." This was the case at the Temple Baptist and the First Presbyterian among others, the pulpits of which were filled with masses of white carnations. Preaching at the Temple Baptist Church, the pastor, the Rev. J. J. Muir, D. D., took for his text two different portions of St. Luke's gospel, the first telling of the visit of Christ to the temple in Jerusalem, when he sat among the doctors of the law, and of his dying command upon the cross to one of the disciples to care for the Virgin Mary.

Plea From Cross. "It has always been a matter of earnest contemplation with me," said the Rev. Mr. Muir, "that following the death of Joseph, Jesus labored as a carpenter at the bench and by his toil became a help to his widowed mother. There again when he is dying we see him transferring his responsibility to the disciple whom he loved. There on the cross in his supreme agony he teaches us a beautiful lesson of care for dependent motherhood.

"We should all of us here and everywhere thank God for the endearment of the family circle, for the presiding genius in the home, the mother with all that the name means of tender sympathy, of constant devotion, of daily sacrifice. We thank God that we live in a Christian land where motherhood is honored. We come this morning to ask that over us men may be extended the very spirit of grace that our hearts are impressed by and our lives made more meaningful by others so that we will think of the boy or girl whose home life is an absent quantity, who are hungry for a touch of that mother's love which he or she has not, and which we, more fortunate, have had in all its beauty and its blessing."

Wants Annual Observance. Clergymen of all denominations joined in celebration of the day. Preaching in Calvary Baptist Church, the Rev. Samuel R. Greene, praised the institution of the day and urged its annual observance. At St. Margaret's Episcopal Church where the pastor, the Rev. Herbert Scott, occupied the pulpit, at the Metropolitan M. E. Church, where the Rev. James S. Montgomery addressed the congregation, and at the Western Presbyterian Church, the Rev. J. Harvey Dunham preaching, Mothers' Day was observed by many attendants who wore the emblem of the day and were impressed by the theme of the clergy's sermons.

Other churches where Mothers' Day was observed specially were the Foundry M. E. St. Thomas Episcopal, St. Mary's Catholic, the Church of the Brethren, the Church of Our Father, the pastor, St. Patrick's, St. Paul's, and the Church of the Ascension. The men of the large congregations at St. Paul's and St. Patrick's had been influenced to wear carnations today because of formal endorsement given by Monsignors Macklin and Russell, the pastors, respectively, of these two parishes.

This afternoon the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. will hold a Mothers' Day service. Mrs. W. A. Wilbur and Congressman Martin A. Morrison will be the principal speakers and vocal and instrumental numbers will be given by Violet Harding and Miss Martha Baldwin, respectively. (Continued on Second Page.)

SOCIALISTS SAY THEY'LL IGNORE POLICE ORDER

Determined to Carry Red Flag in Indianapolis Parade.

BERGER PRESIDES AT CONVENTION OPENING

Mass Meeting Tonight After Procession Will Be the Real Start.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., May 12.—The national socialist convention was called to order at 10 o'clock this morning in Tomlinson Hall, with 300 delegates and a large number of visitors present.

John M. Work, of Chicago, national secretary, opened the first session, and Congressman Berger presided. Following the selection of temporary officers, permanent assistant secretaries were named and the task of examining begun. The credential committee's work was the chief feature of today's meeting.

The building of the party platform and a discussion of vital issues will be intermingled with committee reports until, when Thursday or Friday is reached, the time will be ripe for selecting two men to head the national Socialist ticket. That the convention may adjourn Saturday seems likely if a recommendation of the national executive committee is approved by the convention. The hall, however, has been leased for two weeks.

Not "Cut and Dried."

For those who expect a cut and dried convention there may be a surprise in store, according to delegates and national committee men. Predictions are rife that the convention will be a turbulent one and that the chief issue for action will be hard fought by sets of delegates from different parts of the country.

LORIMER REPORT TO BE READ TOMORROW

Efforts Will Be Made To Fix Day For a Vote—Fight Likely.

The Senate is expected to come to an understanding this week about a vote in the Lorimer case. The majority report of the special committee, which is friendly to Lorimer, was to have been made to the Senate yesterday, but went over until Monday. The minority report, against Lorimer, has its report ready, and will put it in as soon as the majority report is presented.

When the reports are in efforts will be made to fix a day for a vote. If it is found the Senate cannot agree on a time for voting, then prolonged discussion may be looked for. The opponents of Lorimer are determined that a vote shall be had this session.

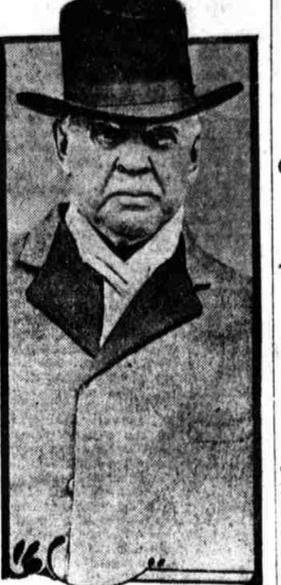

PASTOR HAS RIGHT TO BAR GUM CHEWERS

Court Sustains One Who Put Boy Out of His Church.

QUINCY, Mass., May 12.—Judge Avery in the district court decided that a pastor has a right to maintain order in his own church, even if he is obliged to remove disturbers.

Judge Avery discharged the Rev. H. D. Keyes, pastor of the Holbrook Methodist Church, who was summoned to court to answer a charge of assaulting Russell Chapman, a twelve-year-old boy, who was expelled from the church because of smoking gum during services last Sunday night. To Remedy This University of Minnesota Is Going To Buy Cats.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 12.—Six cats are to be purchased by the University of Minnesota and assigned to the library building to wage war on mice that have invaded that structure. The mice have prevented co-eds from studying at night; destroyed books; gnawed the woodwork; disturbed readers by squeaking choruses between the walls.

The co-eds will not admit that they have been frightened, but just the same Librarian J. T. Gerould has promised to buy the cats and set them free in the building.

WANT TO INSTRUCT FOR THE COLONEL

New York Republicans to Ask Their Delegates to Vote for Roosevelt.

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., May 12.—Chautauque county Republicans tomorrow will begin an active campaign to advise the delegates from the Forty-third Congressional district to the Republican national convention to cast their votes for Roosevelt. The delegates now are uninstructed.

This action was decided on last night when Republican leaders met here to learn the sentiment of Republicans throughout the county. Reports, these leaders say, show a strong sentiment in favor of the former President and a most emphatic disapproval of President Taft's Administration. The sentiment, it is said, is "Teddy first; if we can't have him, Hughes."

SHERWOOD PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO GENERAL GORDON

Ohio Congressman Lauds Memory of Confederate Soldier.

TELLS OF BRAVERY IN FIERCE BATTLE

Score of House Members Speak in Eulogy of Noted Fighter.

Nearly half a century after becoming his captor at the battle of Franklin, Tenn., Congressman Isaac R. Sherwood of Ohio arose today on the floor of the House and paid a last tribute to the memory of the late Congressman George W. Gordon of Tennessee. The House met in special session to eulogize General Gordon, and chief interest centered in the tribute of General Sherwood, who fought on the other side in that memorable battle.

Nearly a score other members today eulogized the military and civic achievements of General Gordon.

His Last Battle.

"Franklin was Gen. George W. Gordon's last battle," said General Sherwood. "It was the last of more than thirty battles in which he participated, and in every one of them he was always at the front. As a soldier he was the peer of any officer who wore the gray or whoever drew a sword on the battle line. As a bronzed and grizzled soldier who fought on the other side I esteem it an honor today to be called upon to pay him humble tribute.

"George W. Gordon was a brigadier general at Franklin, and he was abreast of the front line in that wild, desperate charge. He was wounded and captured on the Federal breastworks. In the book of war the place for a brigadier general is in the center or rear of his brigade, but Gordon was a chivalric knight with flaming sword who led the line of bayonets."

Describes Battle. The memorable soldier gave a description of the battle of Franklin, where General Gordon fell into the hands of the man who was to serve in Congress with him more than forty years later. "History," said General Sherwood, "devotes more space to the battle of Nashville, but the battle of Nashville," he declared, "was a dress parade compared with the charge at Franklin.

"SINGLE" CLIFFORD TO LOSE THE NAME

Musical Comedy Star Rumored Engaged to Frances E. Middleton.

THREE BOYS FALL INTO CHILLY LAKE

Minneapolis Lads Are Exhausted When Rescued By Park Employee.

CHICAGO, May 12.—Billy "Single" Clifford, musical comedy artist, soon will drop his middle name, which he adopted after his first matrimonial alliance proved uncongenial.

Frances E. Middleton, divorced wife of George Middleton, theatrical magnate, will become Mrs. Billy (minus "Single") Clifford. Rumors of the engagement of Clifford and Mrs. Middleton have been circulated about Chicago's Rialto for some time. Today Mrs. Middleton refused to deny, although she said no formal engagement existed. But "something may happen," according to Mrs. Middleton. Mr. Clifford is discreetly silent.

Some years ago Mr. Clifford was divorced from Maud Hutch. To celebrate his freedom from matrimonial ties, he added the word "Single" to his name.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., May 12.—Three boys were thrown into the chilly water of Lake Calhoun today when their canoe capsized, and hung on to the edges of the canoe for ten minutes while L. Olson, an employe of the board of park commissioners, hunted for a pair of oars with which to man a boat to save them.

When Olson pulled out to the boys they were nearly exhausted. They were Henry Batist, Stewart Searie, and Arthur Helm.

POLICE SEARCH FOR YOUNG BOY WHO DISAPPEARS

Widowed Mother of Warren Jones Is Prostrated With Grief.

SEEN WITH STRANGE MAN NEAR HOME

Was To Have Taken Trip To Moving Picture Show With Parent.

Description of Child Who Cannot Be Found.

The missing child is of medium build and light complexion. He is about four feet tall, and has a sore on his right hand, which would probably be kept bandaged. When last seen he was wearing a khaki suit, black shoes and stockings, black necktie, and a dark cap.

Police and detectives are scouring the city today for some trace of eight-year-old Warren Jones, son of Mrs. Jones, a widow, of 813 G street southwest, who mysteriously disappeared while playing in front of his home yesterday afternoon.

Not the slightest clue of the child's disappearance has been obtained by the authorities, though an incessant investigation has been kept up ever since his mother reported him missing shortly after midnight. Every place where it was thought the child could be has been searched without avail, while nearly every child and adult in the vicinity of the Jones home has been questioned in the hope of obtaining some inkling that might lead to the little boy's whereabouts.

Mother Prostrated.

Mrs. Jones, his widowed mother, is prostrated over the child's disappearance and cannot attribute any cause for the taking away of her boy. "I dressed Warren and told him I'd take him to a moving picture show shortly before 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon," said Mrs. Jones today. "He left the house, and a few minutes later, when I went to look for him, he was gone. I cannot imagine what has happened to the child. I am afraid that something awful will come to him if he is not found soon. He never went away from home before and never even mentioned any word that might lead me to think that he went off with some boys of his own volition.

"Some children in the neighborhood say they saw him talking to a strange man. I am almost afraid to think about my child and this stranger—his disappearance is so unaccountable."

Board of Regents At Pohick Church

A pilgrimage to the old Pohick Church, where the father of his country attended services before and after the Revolution, was made today by the members of the Board of Lady Regents of the Home and Tomo of Washington, who are in annual session at Mt. Vernon.

Although the roads were rendered bad by the rains of last night and this morning many of the women braved the journey. The church is located on Public Creek about seven miles west of Mt. Vernon. During the Revolution it was the only edifice which was destroyed by the British. The remains were left undisturbed until recently when an effort was made to restore the building.

DESTRUCTION IN STORM'S WAKE IN THE WEST

Hurricane Sweeps Sections of Kansas, Missouri, and Oklahoma.

LOSS OF PROPERTY ESPECIALLY HEAVY

Between 200 and 300 Houses Are Demolished by the Wind and Rain.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 12.—During the past forty-eight hours a hurricane of wind, a heavy downpour of rain, and in a number of instances destructive hailstorms have occurred over Kansas, western Missouri, and northern Oklahoma. One person is known to be dead and five others injured, two probably fatally. The loss to property and crops is enormous, and cannot be estimated at this time. Between 200 and 300 houses and barns have been demolished.

Today rain was still falling and streams were reported out of their banks and rising steadily. Telegraph and telephone wires are down in many stricken sections, and it probably will be several days before the full extent of the damage is known.

The heaviest rain since July 7, 1909, fell at Ottawa, Kan. The precipitation there for the past forty-eight hours has been 3.44 inches. Destructive storms of hail and rain fell in Ellsworth county, Kan., doing much damage to fruit and growing crops.

Lineman Killed.

Northwestern Oklahoma was swept by wind, rain, and hail. A number of buildings in the smaller towns were damaged. Charles R. Bannister, a lineman, was electrocuted while repairing a street light in Tulsa during the storm. Vernon county, Mo., experienced heavy losses. In southern Bates county, Mo., the property loss is great. The storm also struck Metz, Vernon county. No communication is cut off and the extent of the damage cannot be learned, but it is believed to be great.

Final reports received here from Parsons, Kan., estimate the damage by the windstorm at $100,000, five persons being injured there, two probably fatally. Street car service was discontinued and several of the large plants had to suspend work. Ten houses were completely demolished and fifty damaged.

Chicago Suffers.

CHICAGO, May 12.—A most severe wind and rain storm struck Chicago today. The steady downpour was driven by a heavy north wind, and was practically impossible to walk the streets. The thermometer fell to 40 degrees above zero.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 12.—Storm, wind, and rain is working great damage in Wisconsin, tearing down telegraph and telephone wires, and driving every body on Great Lakes to shelter. No wrecks reported yet, as all had Weather Bureau warnings.

WESTON, Mass., May 12.—William H. Dietzman of Clinton, thirty-four years old, one of the most popular members of the Boston bar, was killed last night as the result of the bursting of an automobile tire. With three friends Mr. Dietzman was driving from Clinton to Boston and between this place and Wayland. At Deadman's Curve, the car shot from the road toward a field and then capsized. Mr. Dietzman was pinned under the body of the automobile, the others being thrown clear of serious danger.

The injured man was taken to the Waltham Hospital, where he died in two hours.
