

MORAL BEAUTIFYING OF CAPITAL NEEDED, DECLARES PASTOR

The Rev. Willey Pleads With His Congregation to Help Clean
Up City.

Declaring that the moral beautifying of Washington was far more important than the physical beautifying which has received so much attention from Congress, the Rev. Earle Willey, pastor of the Vermont Avenue Church, yesterday pleaded with the members of his congregation to work individually for the moral clean-up of this city. Mr. Willey had prepared statistics showing that conditions were such that children on the way to school were forced to pass by saloons and that the red light district flourished within a biscuit throw of police stations.

Dr. Willey stated that the physical beautifying of Washington was most commendable, and Congress was going about the matter of removing eyesores slowly, but in the proper way. At present he declared European cities were far more beautiful, but that Washington was being made more beautiful every year and would finally compare favorably with any of them. The moral beautifying of Washington, however, was lacking.

Sermon On St. Cecilia.
St. Cecilia, as the patron saint of church music, was the subject of an address by the Rev. Wallace Radcliffe yesterday in the New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, who said that because that saint went to her death singing to musical instruments she had been looked up to ever since as the exponent of the ideal religious music. Dr. Radcliffe said music had a strong place in all religions and formed part of every service.

"Really beautiful music affects people just as a sermon does," said Dr. Radcliffe. "In some respects music can be called the interpretation of poetry which brings us closest to God. For a person who has any conception of the beautiful, no effort is required to feel the beauty of good music."

That geologists are coming down to the teachings of the Bible in their deductions was the statement made by Secretary E. W. Brown, of the People's Pulpit Association, of New York, in his lecture before the Washington Temple Congregation yesterday afternoon on "Progressive Creation." The next thousand years, he said, would see the perfection of time among geologists were beginning to believe it.

Nearing the Millennium.
Beginning at a statement of St. Paul that a thousand years was but a day in the sight of the Lord, Mr. Brown showed that the creation of the earth takes 6,000 years. He said the earth was now in its sixth thousand-year cycle, and at the end of the time the millennium would be reached. Former geologists have scoffed at the creation of the earth in six days, and declared that it took millions of years, but they are now content to accept St. Paul's explanation, and agree that 6,000 years is the time meant.

Miss Gertrude Leonard delivered a lecture at the Young Men's Christian Association yesterday afternoon on "Mormonism," showing the beliefs and customs of the sect and pointing out the fallacies of their arguments in defense of their religion. Miss Leonard has spent a great deal of time among the Mormons and spoke most interestingly of their lives.

Sketch of Founder's Life.
In speaking of Mormonism Miss Leonard gave a short sketch of the life of Joseph Smith, the founder of the religion. She asserted that the life of the average Mormon woman is an exceptionally hard one and concluded her lecture with a brief consideration of the political phase of Mormonism. In this regard she stated the balance of power in half a dozen States is held by Mormons.

The mission work done in Labrador in the last seventy-five years was the subject of an address by the Rev. C. Ernest Smith last night in St. Thomas Episcopal Church. He said that the church had for a long time done what could be done for the unenlightened in the far North countries, and the efforts made had been met with signal success.

KNOX'S AID PLANS FOR EUROPEAN TOUR
Assistant Secretary Will Keep
His Home in Washington
During Absence.

Assistant Secretary of State Huntington Wilson and Mrs. Wilson will make an extended tour of Europe, leaving New York March 18. Mr. Wilson expects to leave the State Department as soon after March 4 as is convenient for his successor in office. Although it is probable that much of his time will be spent in travel Mr. Wilson plans to keep his K street home in Washington.

The Assistant Secretary, who has been in the diplomatic service practically sixteen years, will assume the position of acting head of the department, the responsibility for the conduct of diplomatic affairs falling on his shoulders when Secretary Knox was absent on his trips to Japan and South America.

Game Cock Valued at $1,700 Entered in Show

More than 700 entries have been received by the managers of the Capital Poultry and Pigeon Association for its annual show, which will be held in Tahoma Park from January 29 to February 1. One of the feature entries of the show is the game cock entered by Carroll Menefee, of Sperryville, Va., which has taken innumerable prizes and is valued by its owner at $1,700. When the entry lists were closed yesterday R. D. Little and W. A. Klefer, president and secretary of the association, stated that the entry list was the largest ever had by the association, and that it exceeded last year's list by at least 100 entries.

ALEXANDRIA PLANS TO REPAIR STREETS

Extensive Program of Rebuilding and Laying New Surfaces to Be Considered at Meeting of Street Committee of City Council Tonight.

WASHINGTON TIMES BUREAU.

ALEXANDRIA, VA., JAN. 27.

An extensive program of street improvements to be undertaken this year will be discussed at a meeting of the street committee of city council tonight. During the last year more than $60,000 for street work has been appropriated and ten blocks of improved paving have been laid, and it is expected that as soon as weather permits work will be started on an equal amount of new work.

The first street to be started will be Royal street, from Prince to Wilkes, a distance of three blocks. The cost of this improvement will be $12,000, which has already been paid into the city treasury by the Washington-Virginia railway as part payment for the use of the street by their cars. The block from Prince to Duke will in all probability be paved with vitrified brick and the remaining two blocks with tar macadam. The kind of material to be used will be decided by the committee tonight.

Other streets to be discussed tonight are Cameron, from St. Asaph to Royal, Pitt, from King to Queen, St. Asaph, from Queen to King, South Columbia, from King to Prince, and Washington street, south of Duke. The committee may also recommend that several outlying streets be paved with cobblestone.

Miss Alice M. Graham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Graham, died at her parents' residence, 508 Prince street, this morning. Miss Graham's health began to decline several months ago and her condition recently became critical. She was twenty-three years old, and her death was the result of tuberculosis. She was one of the most popular young women in Alexandria.

WILSON'S CABINET IS AGAIN MADE UP

List of Appointees as Given Is Admittedly Speculative in Origin.

A revival of gossip over the personnel of the Cabinet has occurred. One of the latest stories made up consists of the following:

William J. Bryan, Secretary of State.
Henry A. Morgenthau, of New York, Secretary of War.
Congressman A. S. Burleson, Secretary of Agriculture.
Congressman A. Mitchell Palmer, Attorney General.
Josephus Daniels, Postmaster General.

Senator Obadiah Gardner of Maine, Secretary of the Interior.
Much of this talk, however, is speculative. As matters stand, the balance of general feeling here is that Bryan, Daniels, and Burleson are going into the Cabinet, little is actually known.

SEVENTEEN NAMES ON MORTALITY ROLL

Every Remaining Sunday Will Be Given Over to Eulogies for Departed Members.

The death of Congressman Sylvester C. Smith, at his home in California, adds the seventeenth name to the mortality roll of the Sixty-second Congress. Old-timers about the House do not remember any previous Congress which has been saddened by the death of as many as seventeen members.

So frequent have been the deaths of members, that the House will be compelled to hold memorial services every Sunday between this date and the end of the session. The House eulogized yesterday the life and character of Congressman Maibach of New York. On next Sunday the House will pay tribute to the late Senator Rayner. On February 9, eulogies will be delivered in memory of the late Senator Frye, Congressman Lister and Congressman Hubbard.

The late Senator Nixon and Congressman Wedemeyer, of Michigan, will be the subjects of eulogies on February 10, and on Sunday, February 23, the House will pay tribute to the late Congressman Anderson of Ohio and Wickliffe of Louisiana.

It is probable that the latest victim of death, Congressman Smith, will be eulogized on February 23, at a special session Sunday, March 2, which is only two days before the end of the Congress.

AGED MAN SAVED WHEN PULMOTOR USED FIRST TIME

Doctors Pump Gas From Lungs
After Retired Lumberman Is Near Death.

William Lane, seventy-seven years old, a retired lumberman, of Oakbrook, Wis., today owes his life to the pulmotor. He was found dying yesterday afternoon in a room at 1012 E street northwest from the effects of inhaling illuminating gas, and was saved by the pulmotor. Lane today is well on the road to recovery in the Emergency Hospital.

The pulmotor, which was given to the hospital last week by the Washington Railway and Electric Company, had not been used before. The physicians say that without it they would not have been able to save Lane's life, and that with the first experience they had had with the apparatus it fully demonstrated its practicability.

Lane came to this city recently from Wisconsin, and with his wife, had been staying with his daughter, Miss Susan Lane, a clerk in the Department of Commerce and Labor, living at 127 E street northwest. Sunday afternoon he left the house, and when he failed to return by noon yesterday Miss Lane asked the police to search for her father, as she feared he had gotten lost. It developed that the aged man had become confused while in the business section of the city Saturday night, and had engaged the room in E street. He was not familiar with gas, and it is believed he unintentionally turned it on after extinguishing the light just before he retired.

Dr. Harry S. Lewis, superintendent of Emergency Hospital, and Dr. Arthur Zinkham, a member of the staff, responded to the call for an ambulance. The aged man's pulse was so faint that the physicians could hardly detect it at all. He was placed in the ambulance, and while Dr. Zinkham gave him a hypodermic injection of strychnine to stimulate the heart action, Dr. Lewis adjusted the rubber suction cap to the mouth of the victim. By the time the hospital was reached his pulse was considerably stronger. The apparatus carried the poisoned gases from his lungs, and in less than an hour the doctors announced he was out of danger.

Former Gov. Osborn
Will Be Honor Guest
Former Governor Osborn of Michigan will be guest of honor at a banquet given by the Michigan State Association, at Raucher's tonight at 7 o'clock. Preceding the dinner an informal reception will be held.

Judge Robert M. Montgomery, presiding judge of the court of customs appeals, will be toastmaster. Besides Mr. Osborn, the speakers will include Congressman Joseph G. Cannon, Judge Vries, and Congressman Nye of Minnesota.

Strike at Church.
TRENTON, N. J., Jan. 27.—While eighteen Princeton students sang sweetly in place of a striking choir, half a dozen pickets turned many parishioners away from St. Michael's Episcopal Church.

EXPECT ALL STATES TO SEND ELECTORAL BALLOT BY TONIGHT

Six Returned Their Votes This Morning! Arkansas and Arizona Still Missing.

Indications early this afternoon were that by tonight all the States will have delivered their electoral votes by special messenger to the presiding officer of the Senate.

This morning eight States were still belated. In the forenoon, messengers arrived from California, Mississippi, Minnesota, Washington, North Dakota, and Oregon. Arizona and Arkansas are still to be heard from. It is expected their messengers will be on hand before evening.

The Minnesota messenger, E. E. McCrea, calls from Alexandria, Minn. He had $300 coming to him. He was given a certificate for the amount, and it was paid by the Senate disbursing officer. Unfortunately, the "Min." was dropped out of the address, and when the disbursing officer looked again after he had paid the money he saw nothing but "Alexandria." He hurried to the secretary of the presiding officer of the Senate.

"Say," he said, "how does a man get $300 for making a trip from Alexandria?"
The rest of the address was located and replaced.
