

Every Washington High School Has New Coach for Baseball Team This Year

NEW HANDS ARE TO PILOT BALL CLUBS

Central is the Only Possible Exception in Changing Its Baseball Tutor. WHITE TO COACH WESTERN Followers of High School Teams Begin to Discuss Chances of the Five Nines.

By BRYAN MORSE. "What's the dope on the high school championship this year?" "Will Tech come through again?" "Is Central going to have a better team this season?" "Can Business make as good a baseball record as it did several years ago?" "Can Western with Eric Dave as coaching, put it over Tech after coming so close for the last two years?" "Will Coach Hatch, at Eastern, with the Walter Johnson in the box, be able to overcome the strength of the other nines?" "These are a few of the questions that are being discussed by followers of high school nines which are ready to take the field for the first games of the season. Practice already has convinced almost every team follower that his nine is going to be a lot harder to make this year and that it will be much stronger than last season's team.

By a peculiar twist of coaching policy not a single man who has charge of the high school teams this year, with one possible exception, Central, which has made no definite selection, is again at the helm. Western Gets White. Captain "Buck" Howard's association with Georgetown players at Western led him to believe that Dave White, the Blue and Gray baseball and football star, would be the right man for the job, and accordingly the former Eastern star is at the head of the Red and White candidates. White has had a good string of players out on camp days for the past three weeks, and Western has played several short practice games with pick-up teams.

White is at Western, having taken the place vacated by "Curley" Byrd, who last year landed Western well up in front. White is coaching his candidates through a course of sprouts and promises to have a good nine. Among the catches, Duxson and Lehman look to be the goods. Both boys played on the football team, as did Jack Adams, who is strong as a candidate. Besides Adams, "Cuz" Brewer, whose springing ability makes him one of the fastest high school runners, is doing wonderfully well.

"Buck" Howard's brother, "Bron," is slated for the first base job, if he can escape the clutches of the faculty long enough to get his record cleared up. For second, Royer and Bethel are fighting it out. No one seems to be able to take the job away from "Buck" Howard or Stearns at third and short. Capable outfielders are to be picked from a number of candidates.

Business Not Slow. Business, like the others, will have a newcomer at the head of the team, unless a change in policy is to be advocated. It is understood that present arrangements will find Paul White, a member of the faculty, taking charge of the men. Many of the old Business men of last season will report for the team, and while the nine will be handicapped by graduation, it is full expected that the Stenographers will be able to turn out a fast aggregation.

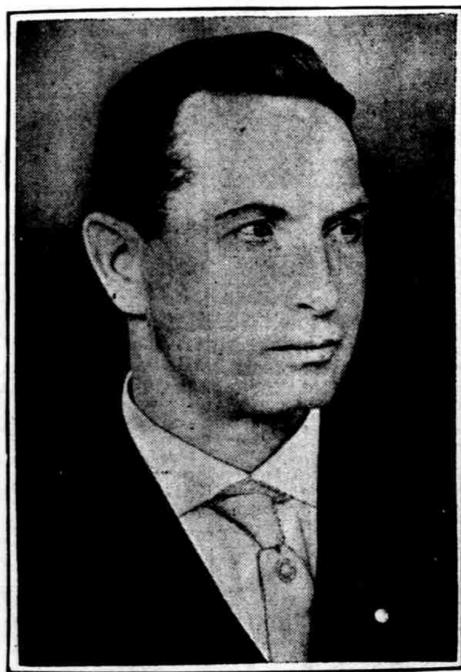

At Eastern they are looking to Coach Hatch to develop a winning team. Eastern looked good at times last year, and with one or two changes would have made the others hustle. In Johnson the Capitol Hill team has a pitcher who is considered as good as any in high school ranks. He was selected as one of the best last year, and should amply prove his worth. It is not unlikely that Tom Fisher, who was elected to the captaincy at Eastern, but who was forced to give way to Dyer on account of leaving school, will again be at Eastern. Fisher has been prepping at the Army and Navy Prep school, but expects to return to the school on the hill after April.

Horn and Danforth, at Eastern are looked upon as being able to take Brockwell's place at first, while Thorne, too, can be counted upon as being able to deliver. At Eastern may be counted upon to turn out a creditable team. Central Looks Likely. Captain McDonough's Central High School squad is not going to be slow by any means. Just what the little Nines is going to do this year remains in doubt. It has been variously reported that Frank Garkan would return to coach Central. Others say that Jim Sprickman who piloted the team to a championship several years ago will take up the reins at the school for another campaign. Announcement is expected at any time.

W. D. Edgton, a sophomore at Gallaudet College, has been selected by the faculty and student body of that institution to manage the coming baseball team. Edgton has served as assistant manager, and knows the ropes.

The following men were awarded letters in recognition of their services this winter: Captain Durlin, Batiste, "Class" Baumgardner, Class number 10. Durlin was voted to Linde and Hughes, both members of the senior class. Durlin was put forward, but in spite of his brilliant work, he was declared ineligible, having joined the squad too late in the season to play through the required number of games. He was, however, named, with Fancher and Poltz, as deserving of honorable mention. This year's captain, W. G. Durlin, was re-elected by the team, and the selection ratified by the association. Durlin will be a senior next year, and with the experience gained this season is confidently expected to turn out a winning aggregation.

HOW TO KEEP IN PHYSICAL FETTER

—ARTICLE I—

By C. EDWARD BECKETT.

When a man gets to be forty or forty-five he has to change to a certain extent his manner of living, if he wants to survive to a ripe old age. In general, he must stimulate the organs of elimination to their highest development, while at the same time easing the strain, as much as possible, upon the organs of nutrition. In this way, he gets rid of the poisons that his body is storing up in greater and greater measure, and is also giving less and less opportunity to the body to store up these poisons. Health and activity for the vital organs of the middle third of the body is the secret of old age. In this series of ten articles I am going into the whole subject of physical fitness for middle-aged men and how to obtain it. I shall take up the matter of exercise in two articles, of diet in another two, sleep in two more, and those of recreation, bathing clothing, and mental hygiene in one each. Every article will be concluded with a series of graded exercises the whole forming the course of movements which I have planned for the men of the Washington Home Exercise Club.

Whip To Exercise.

For the average man, possibly the best time to exercise is between 10 and 12 a. m. or 4 and 6 o'clock in the afternoon although upon this point there is a marked divergence of opinion. Speaking generally, I should say that a man ought to exercise at the hour when he can best arrange for it, because in time he will become accustomed to that period, and in this way habit will reinforce practice. Take the following exercise, while undressed, except underwear, while standing near open windows:

ATHLETES OF THIS CITY SHOW CLASS

Georgetown University Track Team Is Point Winner at Richmond College-Blues Meet—Relay Four Is Victor Over Washington and Lee.

Athletes of Washington and vicinity furnished all of the class at the Richmond College-Blues indoor track meet held in the old Dominion capital last night, Georgetown, Washington Athletic Association, and Episcopal High School, of Alexandria, having brought away the majority of honors from the southern games. Georgetown's sturdy little relay four, composed of Johnny Gallagher, Eddie Stebbins, Eddie Horter, and Terwilliger, pocketed the biggest event on the program when they won from Washington and Lee in the mile relay for the southern games. Georgetown's sturdy little relay four, composed of Johnny Gallagher, Eddie Stebbins, Eddie Horter, and Terwilliger, pocketed the biggest event on the program when they won from Washington and Lee in the mile relay for the southern games.

Other than that one distinguished victory which helped the Blue and Gray athletes to become point winners of the meet, the 50-yard open scratch, 50-yard open hurdles, 40-yard open dash, open high jump, 12-pound shot put, and pole vault were taken by representatives of the Hilltop track team. Brewer, coach Mulligan's special protégé in the 50-yard dash, finished by a comfortable margin. Eller, his teammate being second. Brewer also led the field in the 40-yard open. He started from scratch and finished several feet ahead of Brent Young, also of the Hilltop. Bob Eller experienced little difficulty in taking the 50-yard hurdles, having barely nosed out a victory over Tom McDonough, of the Baltimore Cross Country Club.

Again, in the high jump, a Georgetown man succeeded in raising his feet the highest. Marshall Low, formerly of Friends' School, and scholastic title holder in that event, went over the bar at 5 feet 10 inches. Bob Eller sprang into prominence for the third time during the evening when he threw the 12-pound weight 44 feet 7 1/2 inches. Harry Weldman distinguished himself in the pole vault against a field of the best that the South could produce. He won out over a large field by vaulting 11 feet 8 1/2 inches. Robinson, his teammate, was second. Third points helped wonderfully toward winning the meet for Georgetown. The Washington Athletic Association is another Capital athletic organization to finish well in the Richmond games. In its relay against Richmond College the new club's four won in 3 minutes 19 1/2 seconds. Maryland Agricultural College, coached by Burly Byrd, lost in its relay race with Lehigh. The Pennsylvania outclassed the Farmers from the state. Alexandria, Va., has cause to be proud of the athletes whom it sent to Richmond to represent the Episcopal High School. Kinsolving and Speer were stars of this troupe, the former winning in the 50-yard scholastic hurdles and the scholastic high jump. Speer was third in the 20-yard dash and won in the 40-yard scholastic.

Tom Noonan to Lead G. W. U. Basketballers

Tom Noonan, of this year's basketball five, has been selected as captain of the 1913 team at George Washington University and will make plans for next year's five. Noonan has proven himself one of the best of the local basket shooters and comes from Albany, N. Y. It is expected that the Buff and Blue will make preparations for an extensive schedule next year following the venture this season when a five was put on the floor.

FIFTEEN GAMES ON CATHEDRAL CARD

Blue and White Youngsters to Meet Local High Schools in Annual Baseball Games.

Fifteen games, including those with several of the local high schools and two trips out of town, make up an attractive schedule for the baseball team of the National Cathedral School for Boys. Several of the veterans of last year's nine will be on hand. May 3 and 10 the team takes trips, one to Baltimore and the other to Philadelphia. ANDERSON MATCHED WITH JOHN KILONIS

Capital's Middleweight Favorite and the "Dangerous Turk" Clash Wednesday Night.

San Anderson, who acts as wrestling instructor at Harvard for several years, will appear before a Washington audience next Thursday night. Anderson has been matched with John Kilonis at the Lyceum Theater, and followers of the mat consider themselves fortunate to have an opportunity to see a man of Anderson's caliber work here. As Kilonis is not in the best of shape after his bout with John Lohark his followers may see their ideal of the mat game fall at the hands of this cracking good Northern middleweight. These men have met before and in the last meeting they went for two hours and forty minutes to no decision.

Plan Walking Match.

D. Fenton, holder of the four-mile walking championship of England, and W. Cummings, a former amateur of that country, have been matched for $25 a side to compete for the four-mile walking championship of the world on March 22.

One-Minute Climber Interviews

By "SENATOR."

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., March 9.—"I am very glad to be given a chance to play here with the Washington club," says Jacinto Calvo, the young outfielder from the Almendares, of Havana, through his interpreter, Joe Massague, a Cuban baseball writer. "Like all Cubans, I love to play baseball. I never had any one teach me much about it, except Armando Marsana, who plays the outfield for the Cincinnati Reds, but I feel sure that Mr. Griffith will teach me much that I do not know now. "Yes, I like to hit the ball. I prefer to hit against right-handers, being left-handed myself, but I can also hit the southpaws fairly well. I know that I shall learn considerable while here in the training camp and hope to make good. You see, among us Cubans, baseball players are famous heroes and I want to be a hero, too. "I was playing in the amateur leagues in Havana until last October when Marsana signed me for his team. I have been playing professional ball, therefore, only since then. In Havana everybody knows Mr. Griffith and when I was told that he would send me a contract, I could have jumped with joy. And so I am here, trying for a place."

Cross Breaks Record Made in Tiger Tank

PRINCETON, N. J., March 9.—Captain Cross, of Princeton, was the only swimmer able to set a new intercollegiate mark in the individual swimming championships held here and that was the lowering of his own previous record by one-fifth of a second in the 230-yard swim. The other performers were mediocre.

Cullop Is Signed After Long Session

BRISTOL, Tenn., March 9.—After an all-night session with Scout Doyle, Nick Cullop, the Cleveland recruit pitcher who has caused such a sensation as a holdout, came to terms. The salary is not given out, but Cullop is expected to immediately report to the team at Pensacola, Fla.

HASSEN IS AFTER TURNER'S CROWN

Athletes Have Met Before and Went Two Hours and Forty Minutes Without Decision.

Joe Turner, the Washington middleweight wrestler can hardly wait until Wednesday night when he is to meet All Hassen, the "Dangerous Turk," who has been seeking the scalp of the Capital wrestler all season. Hassen's claim that Turner has been side-stepping a bout with him, and now that the two have signed articles, a fast bout is sure to result from their meeting.

Manager Peck, of the Gayety Theater, has agreed to put the match on immediately after the performance of Al Reeve's Beauty Show, next Wednesday night. Hassen comes to this city with a record of having disposed of some of the best middleweights in this vicinity. The report that Turner has been dodging him is false, and this will be brought out at the bout Wednesday. Turner has a great many more challenges than he can possibly handle, and he is taking only those whom he believes are worthy of a chance for his middleweight crown.
