

SLAVE CHARGES ARE CHALLENGED

Congressman Jones Condemns
Report of Bad Conditions in the Philippines.

ACCUSED OF PREJUDICE

Island Officials Embittered by Losing Jobs, Says Head of Insular Committee.

Challenging the charges of wholesale slavery in the Philippines made in the report of W. M. Phipps, auditor for the islands, Congressman William A. Jones, chairman of the House Committee on Insular Affairs, issued a statement today.

Mr. Jones, who has visited the Philippines, says no slavery exists except in the uncivilized portions of the islands and he attributes the charges made to the animus of Secretary Dean Worcester, whom Mr. Jones characterizes as an enemy of the Philippines.

Author of Independence Bill.

Congressman Jones is the author of the bill for ultimate independence of the Philippines, in accordance with the declarations of the Baltimore platform. While he does not promise an investigation of the slavery charges, which he holds are groundless, he hints that the House committee of which he is chairman soon may begin an inquiry into the administration of Philippine affairs.

In a distasteful statement to The Times, Mr. Jones said, regarding the Phipps charges, published yesterday: "I have not read this Phipps statement, but I understand it is a reproduction of the slavery and peonage charges contained in the Worcester report which should not be regarded as official, notwithstanding that the cost of its publication was charged to the Philippine people. It was an utterly unauthorized and vulgar statement on the part of a man quite generally regarded as the worst enemy of the Philippines."

More Slavery Here.
"It is believed by those thoroughly familiar with the situation in the Philippines that more cases of slavery and peonage, in proportion to population, can be found in the United States than Phipps and Worcester have been able to discover in the civilized portions of the Philippine islands. Everybody in the Philippines understands the animus of Commissioner Worcester."

THAW TO BE BROKER IF HE GOES FREE

Will Establish Business in Pittsburgh or Philadelphia,
Lawyer Asserts.

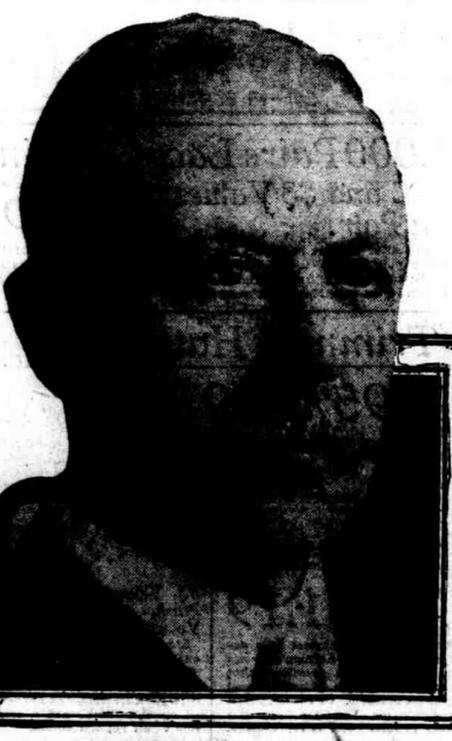

CONCORD, N. H., Sept. 21.—When Harry Thaw returns to Pittsburgh, in case he does, he will take up the brokerage business in either Pittsburgh or Philadelphia after a trip abroad taken with his mother. This assertion was practically verified today by former Gov. William P. Stone, of Pennsylvania, who, while not admitting it flatly, said: "If Harry did take up the business of buying and selling stocks, bonds and other securities, he would make a success of it. He has considerable knowledge of business and financial detail. Thaw is the man who secured a restraining order from the Duquesne county court in 1906 blocking the sale of the Heckel-Coke Ovens by the Thaw estate for $1,000,000, asserting that the price was too low and later securing a better price."

Thaw, according to those who have been watching him the closest, has not smoked a cigarette since his escape from Matteawan, although he has smoked cigars incessantly. The liquor question has apparently not as yet come to an issue. He has had ample opportunity to get all the liquor he desired, but as yet has not mentioned the subject in order to express a disinclination or desire.

Constitutionalists Seize Band of Federal Recruits

PIEDRAS NEGRAS, Mexico, Sept. 21.—Small parties of federalists, composed mostly of men recruited in Texas by Huerta agents, have appeared in this vicinity. Yesterday several of them were surprised and made prisoners by the constitutionalists, who are endeavoring to ascertain the identity of the persons who engaged their services. A federal column, with artillery, is said to be moving in this direction from Monclova, and an action may take place this afternoon or tomorrow morning.

CARRANZATO MOVE UPON MEXICO CITY

Constitutionalist Leader Plans
Union of Forces for Action
Against the Capital.

HERMOSILLA, Sonora, Mexico, Sept. 21.—Since the arrival here on Friday of Governor Carranza, this place has been the scene of the greatest activity, with Carranza himself as the most active element in it. His private secretary, Captain Breceda, arrived ten days ago from Piedras Negras with a mass of official correspondence which Carranza attacked and disposed of yesterday before seeking rest after his 1,500-mile tour of inspection.

Col. Cardenas Dead; Believed Madero Slayer

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 21.—The newspaper El Pais and other papers publish an account of the death of Lieutenant Colonel Cardenas in an action with Gen. Gertrudis Sanchez's constitutionalist troops in the state of Michoacan. Peculiar interest is taken in the matter because Cardenas, then a captain of rurales, was selected by Huerta and Blanes to command the escort that conveyed President Madero and Vice President Pino Suarez from the national palace to the penitentiary on the night of February 22, when both were murdered.

Wilson to Review Cavalry Commands

The activities of the cavalry commands engaged at Winchester, Va., will be transferred to Washington on October 1, marching here from the Virginia post, to be reviewed by President Wilson and Secretary Garrison.

PIECE WORK PLAN OPPOSED BY GIRLS

Plate Printers' Helpers Will Protest Against Proposal of Director Ralph.

Several hundred girls, all plate printers' helpers at the Bureau of Engraving and Printing, led by Miss Agnes M. O'Donnell, president of the Helpers' Union, will meet at the National Typographical Temple late this afternoon to make a formal protest against the piece work plan submitted to them by Director Ralph, of the bureau, a short time ago.

Reasons Against Change.

In their fight to retain the present form of payment at the bureau, the girls outline several reasons against the change. The first of these is based on the fact that a girl's income is totally dependent upon the industry of the plate printer. She can do no more work than he cares to do. Then, again, Director Ralph has made known no wage scale under the proposed new plan, and it is impossible to draw a comparison between old and new systems, they say.

Says Girls Are Contented.

For a long time prior to July 1, 1913, the girls had drawn a per diem wage of $1.50. Through the efforts of their union, this sum was raised to $1.75 a day, of which amount the Government pays 50 cents a day. A plan is said to be under consideration now whereby pay on the per diem scale will vary according to length of service, the veterans drawing the higher per diem wage.

Carries Shot 24 Years.

SCIO, Ore., Sept. 21.—A. T. Powell recently removed a grain of shot from his hand that he had carried twenty-four years. He was shot by a gopher gun in 1889, and since that time the pellet had remained without causing any trouble.

THOUSANDS VIEW BODY OF GAYNOR

Solemn File Braves Drizzling
Rain to Pay Honor to Dead
Mayor of New York.

IN STATE AT CITY HALL

Remains Seen by Rich and Poor—Flag Drapes Coffin
Amid Wealth of Flowers.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—In spite of the drizzling rain, thousands of New Yorkers passed in solemn file, two abreast, through the City Hall today to look their last on Mayor Gaynor, whose body lay in state under the cupola in the rotunda.

As early as 8 o'clock, when the doors were first opened, the long line started. Men and women, boys and girls, rich and poor, mounted the steps with uncovered heads and entered the flower-banked hall.

Flag Over Coffin.

On the coffin itself was draped the American flag with the official flag of the mayor with the city's arms in blue and thirteen red stars in the field. On this flag lay the only floral offering permitted to rest on the massive bronze casket—two crossed palms and a wreath of purple asters. The palms were sent by Mrs. Gaynor and the asters by Police Lieut. William Kenne, the mayor's bodyguard.

The decoration of the hall, which was superintended by Charles R. Lamb as a labor of love, comprised magnificent offerings from Senators, Mayor, President, the lord mayor of Liverpool, and from notable men throughout the country.

As the line of mourners passed the coffin they saw the head and shoulders of the city's late executive through a glass panel. The panel will be kept open during the services at Trinity Church tomorrow.

Demonstration Remarkable.

No more remarkable demonstration of public tribute has ever been witnessed in the city than that afforded by these lines of admirers of Mr. Gaynor. It is estimated 10,000 will march in the funeral procession from City Hall to Old Trinity at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. During that hour, according to proclamation of Mayor Ellis, all business throughout the greater city will come to a standstill.

Principals in Military Wedding

MISS JOSEPHINE JEFFRIES.

MILITARY WEDDING SET FOR OCTOBER 8

Bridal Couple to See Game Repetition of Contest of Two Years Ago, When They Met.

When the Army and Navy teams clash at the Polo Grounds in New York next month, the football game will be witnessed by a bridal couple whose romance began at the annual affair in Philadelphia two years ago.

It was on Franklin Field that Lieut. Alfred A. Cunningham, U. S. M. C., now attached to the navy aviation corps at Annapolis, Md., first met Miss Josephine Jeffries, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Jeffries, of 1800 New Hampshire avenue northwest, this city. Their engagement has just been announced.

They will be married here October 8. The wedding will be one of the fashionable functions of the early social season of the Capital. The ceremony will be performed at 9 o'clock in the Washington Heights Presbyterian Church, on Kalorama road. It will be a brilliant military wedding.

Her—Thought She Was His Wife—Unable to Trace Helen Green.

EVIDENCE SHOWS GERMAN ALSO POSED AS A PROFESSOR OF PHILOSOPHY

Woman Companions of Schmidt Who Are Missing

Anna Aumuller—Part of body found.
Helen Green—Missing for a year.
Unnamed woman—Missing since 1911.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Letters found in the trunk of Hans Schmidt, who murdered and dismembered Anna Aumuller, equipped a counterfeiting plant and planned to murder a large number of his parishioners, show that on his trip to this country he was accompanied by a woman who either believed that she was his wife or expected soon to become his wife.

She, like Helen Green, is now missing. The police are trying to find her, but are inclined to the belief that she was murdered like Anna Aumuller. Helen Green, despite a country-wide search, also cannot be traced, and may have shared the fate of the others. She was in love with Schmidt, and many letters from her were found among his effects.

MISSING WOMAN THOUGHT SCHMIDT A PROFESSOR.

The woman who wrote the letters, it is learned, did not know Schmidt ever posed as a priest, and had been made to believe that he was a professor of philosophy seeking a chair in one of the large American universities. The letters were written in German. One was mailed from Louisville, Ky., the city which Schmidt first visited after his arrival in this country.

ONE DIES, TWO HURT IN JOY RIDE CRASH

Powerful Machine Hits Post of Elevated in Philadelphia.
Pair Cannot Live.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—One man is dead and two others are said to be dying as the result of a "joy ride" on Market street in a powerful automobile, which was borrowed without permission from the garage of the owner, a wealthy resident of the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel, early today. The big machine, racing with terrific speed, hit a steel post of the elevated structure, hurling all three occupants from their seats and completely demolishing the machine.

The machine, which was the property of J. C. Slattery, was taken from the garage by his chauffeur, Joseph Hickey, of 2611 Market street. Hickey, who was driving it when the crash occurred, and a friend, Thomas White, of 24 North Thirty-eighth street, were the two men injured. The man killed was Bertram Price, 417 Chestnut street, whom they had picked up in one of several saloons they visited.

At about 1 o'clock this morning the big car was seen to swerve suddenly into Market street from out of a dark side street near Thirty-second. With the clutch wide open, the powerful car sped up Market street at a rate of speed estimated by witnesses at fifty-five miles an hour. The street was practically clear of all traffic at that hour, and the car raced on, apparently under control.

At Forty-sixth street the big machine, still racing at high speed, struck a rut in a car track, and collided with a steel support of the elevated road. The impact was so terrific that the frame of the car was buckled, Hickey and White were hurled several feet into the air, and the car was pinned under the wreckage. The sound of the collision attracted several persons to the scene, and the men were removed to the Presbyterian Hospital, where Price died shortly after being admitted.

White and Hickey are both suffering with severe fractures, contusions and probable internal injuries. Neither is expected to recover, according to the hospital authorities, though both men have been placed under arrest.

Three Are Drowned When Tug Rams Boat

BRIDGEPORT, Conn., Sept. 21.—Three men in a motor boat were drowned last night when the boat was rammed by a tug a mile off the breaker here. The accident was reported by wireless early today from the torpedo boat destroyer McCall. Of the four men aboard the motor craft when it was sunk in the collision one saved himself by swimming more than a mile to the Bridgeport lighthouse.

Mystery in Shooting; Posses Hunt in Vain

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—It is a mystery to the people of Montgomery county as to how, or why, or precisely when twenty-three-year-old Elizabeth Ketchum was shot in the head. To-day after several citizens have combed the woods all night in search of a stranger; after they have scoured the neighborhood in an effort to gain some clue to the girl's assailant, the mystery is as profound as it was when the shooting became known last night. The girl's unconscious form was found lying on the front porch of the Ketchum home, on River road, in West Manayunk. She has been unconscious ever since and may die without regaining consciousness long enough to clear up the puzzle of how she was shot.
