Washington Crew Will Not Come East in 1915

SEATTLE, June 5.—The faculty of the University of Washington, in a special meeting today, gave permission for the Washington eight-oared varsity crew to leave Saturday for the Puget-Kepler regatta to be held June 15. The faculty decided that after this trip no Washington crew will be permitted to go east until 1917, giving as a reason the expense of the trip and the strain on the students, who campaigned among the business men of the city for funds.

MINCE PIE A LITTLE OF EVERYTHING. By "BUGS" BAER.

The American polo team has been picked, and no changes will be made unless some other player inherits more money.

Joe Benz wants to adopt a baby boy with good arms, wherein he differs from Huerita who only wants to adopt some good arms.

Rowing expert says the Yale crew hits the water too soon. Strange thing for a coach to kick about. Model young men.

RABID RUDOLPH SAYS—

"Walter says he is willing to pitch every day, but he forgot to mention in which league."

Feds have offered Johnson a three-year contract, which at the rate they are going will enable Walter to spend the other two years on his farm.

If Walter doesn't want to change the subject, he can spend that $75,000 the feds offered him for a few more prize hotelier bulls.

That $75,000 offered to Johnson by the feds, was probably raised by popular subscription among American League batters.

Williams Is Favorite In First Bet Registered

LOS ANGELES, June 5.—Out at the dusty picnic camp in Vernon Johnnie Coulon has put in the past three days mauling his sparring partners, Jimmy Austin and the Texas Kid, about the ring. And the public has come away saying mar-vo-lous!

At his aristocratic Spring street camp, the gymnasium of the Western Athletic Club located within the shadow of the Alexandria hotel, Johnny Williams has passed the time since last Sunday afternoon drugging his Mexican ringmate, "Bettling" Chico, and the blond, Sammy Morris, about the ropes. And the ring clerks have declared the Baltimore boxer to be the ideal fighting machine in perfect trim. And so the matter stands. The California critics, supposedly the shrewdest sharpshooters in all this broad land, are loath to pick a "favorite" in next Tuesday's twelve-latter for the world's bantamweight championship. The first good-sized wager was registered on Monday afternoon, when a Williams admirer placed $500 on the "Wolf Boy," giving odds of 10 to 3. Williams may or may not remain the favorite at this figure.
