

EARLY CASE AWAITS DECISION BY M'ADOO

Status to Remain Unchanged Until Treasury Head Decides on His Deportation.

John R. Early, the leper quarantined at the Lazar house, on the shores of the Eastern branch, bids fair to be a boarder in the District at the expense of the local government for some days to come, at least. Not until Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo gives a decision setting forth definitely whether or not Early can be deported from District to the leper colony at Tacoma, Wash., from which he escaped, May 17, will the status of his case be changed. And even then, should the Secretary decide adversely concerning the leper's deportation, it will be some time before the local authorities will be able to have the man turned over to Federal jurisdiction.

Early is to be sent to several places and have his liberty. In New York, for instance, so far as the municipal government of New York city is concerned, Early is not a leper. In so far as the Pension Bureau of the National Government has adjudged him a victim of leprosy, however, the man is a leper in the eyes of the Federal authorities. Secretary McAdoo is reserving his decision in the case in order that the laws involved can be thoroughly examined. Early himself declares he is determined to stay in the District to push the need of a national leprosy sanitarium before Congress.

IDENTIFY MILITANT INVADERS OF PALACE

Woman Who Entered King's Drawing Room Granddaughter of Former Bishop.

LONDON, June 5.—Misses Mary and Florence Blomfield were the young women who last night made the sensational breakthrough demonstration before King George at the Buckingham Palace court. Their identity was established this afternoon. The youthful advocates of votes for women are the daughters of the late Sir Arthur Blomfield.

The Women's Social and Political League officials disavow all connection with the episode, in which one of the young women penetrated herself at the King's feet, and declared the other Blomfield were not connected with their organization. The Blomfield women are the granddaughters of the late Rt. Rev. Charles James Blomfield, lord bishop of London. Because of the burning and wrecking of churches by riotous mobs, the members of the churches throughout England are being closed to the public, except on Sunday. Misses Mary and Florence Blomfield, which have been show places for tourists, no longer are accessible.

John R. Redmond, Irish nationalist leader, yesterday announced that he would go with the passage of home rule, today refused to receive a deputation of Irish suffragettes. The young women around Redmond on his views concerning granting Irish women the parliamentary franchise. Redmond said such interviews always were unproductive for all concerned, and said Ireland, when free, would have to decide woman suffrage for herself.

NEW BOARD TO FIX THE PLAZA AWARDS

The committee directed the subcommittee headed by Congressman Burnett of Alabama to draft and report a bill on Monday providing for the creation of a new commission to handle the plaza awards. This committee will be immediately to purchase or condemn the property in question, and probably will accept a number of the awards made by the former commission, in which event the money of the small property owners soon will be forthcoming.

The new commission will be authorized to condemn again at price not excessive, the Baltimore and Ohio property or it may leave that property out of the question altogether. Chairman Burnett said yesterday there was no way to settle the legal tangle in the plaza case except to start over again, name the new commission, and make the awards just as quickly as possible.

The Speaker and Vice President probably will be on the new commission.

CHICAGO, June 5.—State Auditor James J. Brady, of Illinois, has been sued for $50,000 breach of promise by Mrs. Mary Quinlan Kubus-Brady. Mrs. Kubus-Brady declares in her bill that, though introduced everywhere as the state auditor's wife, she has never been legally married to him. A secret ceremony on April 23, 1913, two days after she obtained a divorce from Charles G. Kubus, her first husband, validated by the Illinois divorce law, Brady, she alleges, has failed to have a second ceremony performed.

Speaker Clark Is Given Free Field in Missouri

MONTGOMERY, Mo., June 5.—It seems certain today that Speaker Champ Clark is to be re-elected to Congress from this district without opposition in his own party. Claude R. Ball, who has been repeatedly mentioned as the candidate against Speaker Clark, has entered the race for the Legislature. It is admitted that even if he had decided to oppose Clark in the Democratic primary he could not have hoped to win.

ARMED MEN GUARD OIL KING'S FOUNTAIN

Tarrytown Ready to Thwart Any Attempts at Violence by I. W. W. Agitators.

TARRYTOWN, N. Y., June 5.—Armed guards, additional to those who for days have guarded Tarrytown against I. W. W. invasion, today took post on the dock here to prevent any possibility of dynamite destroying a forty-ton stone fountain for John D. Rockefeller which arrived by boat from the coast of Maine. The fountain, which was cut at enormous cost from a solid block of 200 tons to grace the home of the oil king at Pocantico Hills, was reported to be marked for destruction by the free speech advocates, eleven of whom probably will be sentenced here tomorrow by Police Magistrate Moorehouse.

Not for a minute until it is moved by huge traction engines to Rockefeller's home will the fountain be out of sight of the armed men. Quiet prevailed in "Rockefeller town" today and there was not believed to be serious danger of trouble until tomorrow. Then unless they succeed in getting their cases before the grand jury today, the I. W. W. members now in the White Plains jail will be brought here by motor to be taken before Judge Moorehouse.

Written threats that vitriol throwing might mark the police court hearings here, and all prisoners, especially Felcky Edelson, a woman held, will be searched before they are taken into court.

Detectives in New York today reported to the authorities that anarchists from Paterson, Passaic, and Newark, N. J., met in New York last night and that 50 of them pledged themselves to be in Tarrytown when the cases of their fellow protestants came up for settlement.

Other Nations Invited.

The House today approved the Senate resolution authorizing President Wilson to invite all foreign countries to participate in the Star-Spangled Banner centennial at Baltimore next September. The resolution now awaits the President's signature.

BABY CAMP PLANS NEARLY COMPLETED

Workmen Busy Preparing Houses and Grounds at Summer Outing Place.

Summer camps, under the auspices of the Associated Charities and kindred organizations, are among the most important works of this season of the year. The plans are about completed, and within a short time they will all be working to capacity. The first meeting of the summer outings committee of the Associated Charities was held in the Washington Loan and Trust building yesterday. The reports show that the carpenters, painters, and other workmen are preparing the houses and grounds. A large vegetable garden has been established at Camp Good Will. This camp will be in charge of Miss Clara J. Van Trump, who has organized her staff of workers for the season. Scoutmaster Taylor will assist. The Baby Hospital camp will be under the direction of Mrs. Louis A. Simon, who donates her services, and who has done much for this charity. Dr. Louise Taylor Jones, another volunteer, will be resident physician. This camp not only gets sick babies well, but instructs the mothers in the care of children. Camp Pleasant is for colored children and their mothers. It has been laid out on the plan and under the advice of Col. R. D. Simms, and promises to be attractive. Dr. Waring is the superintendent, and under him the preparations for occupancy are rapidly progressing. In addition to the usual equipment he plans to have a baby tent of light beds, with a nurse in charge. It is planned that a thousand mothers and children will have vacations here this summer. This does not include the special outings or the number cared for in day excursions.
