

ROOSEVELT SLACKS STRAIN ON VITALITY Cuts List of Visitors and Reduces Campaign Tour by Doctor's Order.

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., June 28.—Beginning tomorrow, Colonel Roosevelt, on the advice of Dr. Alexander Lambert, will see no more visitors at Sagamore Hill except by appointment. Too heavy a strain has been placed upon him, and following his return from Pittsburgh on Wednesday he will take a complete rest for six weeks.

As far as practicable, the colonel will direct the Progressive campaign this fall from Sagamore Hill. He will spend a great deal more time in his home in the four weeks before election than he intended to before Dr. Lambert informed him of his physical condition.

John McGrath, the colonel's secretary, as a result of the change in plans, has engaged a cottage in Oyster Bay, with the expectation of being there most of the time from now until election.

Dr. Lambert, who is the colonel's personal friend as well as physician, found the colonel has an enlarged spleen, and also that he still is afflicted with malarial fever, following his illness in the jungle of Brazil.

Advises Four Months' Rest. He found also that Colonel Roosevelt's throat is not in good condition. Dr. Lambert told the colonel the only way to keep the malarial fever from "getting set on him more or less permanently" was to take an absolute rest for four months. He added that if the colonel would rest for this period the spleen and throat symptoms would subside.

Colonel Roosevelt refused to take Dr. Lambert's diagnosis too seriously in talking to reporters.

Dr. Lambert took what I might call a rather gloomy view of my condition," he said, smiling down on the interviewers from his vine-clad veranda, and laying laughing emphasis on the word "gloomy."

Colonel Roosevelt has malaria," Dr. Lambert said. "He had it in the jungle and has never got over it. He needs a rest."

Dr. Lambert said the enlarged spleen noted in Colonel Roosevelt was completely present in malaria. The physician, for ethical reasons, declined further to discuss Colonel Roosevelt's condition.

At the end of his six weeks' rest, he will return to such political activities as he deems it safe for him to take up. He will speak in different States. But he will not take active charge—so it was understood by those who talked with him yesterday—of the campaign in any State.

I cannot take Dr. Lambert's advice to rest for four months," the colonel said. "I have made a number of engagements to speak in different parts of the country. These engagements, like the one in Pittsburgh next Tuesday, have already been widely advertised, and cannot be broken. But the active work in the various States will have to be done by the State chairmen and other local officers."

Told of Party Strength. In spite of Dr. Lambert's somewhat serious diagnosis, the colonel had extended talks yesterday with Senator Clapp of Minnesota, Frank A. Munsey, and Judge Wanamaker, Progressive leader in Ohio. Senator Clapp told Colonel Roosevelt the Progressives in Minnesota were in strong shape.

"I don't think you know how strong we really are out there," Senator Clapp said. The colonel and the Senator discussed the Wilson Administration, and Clapp expressed the opinion that the policy of the Administration had been distinctly destructive.

CHAMPION OF ALBANIANS

GEORGE FRED WILLIAMS, American Minister to Greece and Roumania.

WILLIAMS IS ASKED TO EXPLAIN WORDS

State Department Wants to Know if Minister at Athens Was Correctly Quoted.

The State Department is awaiting a formal report from George Fred Williams, of Massachusetts, minister to Greece and Montenegro, before commenting on the sensational public statement alleged to have been given out yesterday at Athens in relation to the rebellion of Albania against Prince William of Wied, and in which he is alleged to have declared that he had resigned his position. The resignation has not been received by the State Department.

In his extended statement Minister Williams explains that on June 6 he was authorized by the State Department to investigate and report on alleged atrocities at Epirus and the misunderstandings between the provisional government at Epirus and the international commission of control at Durazzo. When the international commission would not receive him, he said, he made a private investigation in which he "uncovered at Durazzo an epochal scandal of anarchy, incompetence, hypocrisy and murder."

He found no government, he said, except the warships of the six great powers, but five ostensible governments: first, the six great powers, with all the power; second, the commission with control of the civil administration and finance; third, the Holland gendarmerie with control of the military; fourth, the Prince of Wied, without any powers remaining; and fifth, the ministry, with no powers. Each of these governments was fighting the other, he said, and all according to cubia messages from Athens. Minister Williams has taken responsibility for his statement, declaring it to be one which the United States Government cannot and will not ignore.

"I am impelled to this statement by two considerations," Williams said. "The first is that the people of an independent nation are being murdered in cold blood; second, that the so-called government of Albania is merely a state of anarchy. That Mr. Williams intends to remain in Albania and attempt to work out a settlement of its troubles is indicated by his statement that he has 'taken measures which promise to unite the people of Albania under national forms' and that he hopes without any powers remaining to be instrumental in 'saving one whole section of the country from destruction.'"

Paterson, N. J., June 28.—Leaping from the running board of a fast-moving trolley car to the fender, which was the way under his weight, Policeman J. A. Murphy saved the life of three-year-old Molly Freedman.

The child ran in the path of the car. Motorman Jimmy applied all brakes, but the policeman climbed to the fender. He gave way beneath his weight. He held an upright, and by throwing his body outward, reached the child with his foot. For fifteen feet he shoved the youngster ahead of the wheels.

Washington is to be an uncomfortable summer resort for the fly. The hand of every man, woman, and child is to be raised against him. The disease-breeding, germ-carrying insect has been outlawed; no quarter is to be shown him. He is to be prevented where it is practicable to do so, or if missed by preventive measures, he is to be exterminated by slaughtering.

Health authorities are agreed that the house fly is one of the most dangerous enemies of mankind. The fine fuzz on the feet of the fly gathers deadly germs and he deposits them wherever he alights.

U. S. EYE ON WOMAN INSANE IN ARGENTINE

Statement That She Is Illegally Held Denied by Embassy at Buenos Ayres.

BUENOS AYRES, June 28.—The charges made by the American, Shirey, to which Congressman Sherwood of Ohio has given currency, that the State Department has made no efforts to obtain the release of Miss Alice Wylie, an American, from a Buenos Ayres insane asylum, are groundless.

Miss Wylie was a member of the Pentecostal community, consisting mostly of women, at Gualequichu. She became hopelessly insane, and was regularly committed to the asylum, and not as the result of a plot, as has been alleged. Five members of the community have become insane in the last two years, and the police have been asked to interfere on account of the disorders attending its meetings.

Wales and King's Secretary Fuss

LONDON, June 28.—For some time strained relations have existed between the Prince of Wales and Lord Stamfordham, the King's private secretary, owing to the latter's superior, "motherly" attitude toward the young prince, who says he has had enough of that sort of thing without going outside the immediate members of the family.

The feud came to a head a night or two ago, when the prince returned to Buckingham Palace after dining with Premier Asquith. Arriving at the palace at 11 p. m., the prince told the chauffeur to wait.

A moment later the prince encountered Stamfordham, who said he wanted to go over some correspondence with him on the King's instructions. "Leave it till morning," snapped the prince, hurrying on. A few minutes later the prince reappeared at the entrance, to find the automobile gone. Seeking Stamfordham, the prince told him what he thought of him, and high words ensued. Stamfordham maintained he acted on the King's instructions, but the prince insisted on the automobile being recalled, and went to his club snapping his fingers in the secretary's face.

Dr. Naon Likely to Be Argentine President

NIAGARA Falls, June 28.—Rumors that Minister Naon of Argentina, will be promoted to the Presidency of his country if he can bring about the actual signing of a peace treaty as the result of mediation, are current here. Dr. Naon himself denies any political ambition, yet it is known that he plans to return home soon after he shall have presented his new credentials as ambassador at Washington. As he is only thirty-nine years of age, and has already held most of the offices in his government except the presidency, his admirers pay little attention to his denials.

Fletcher Urban Students Sail July 9 for Europe

Under the leadership of Senator Duncan U. Fletcher, more than 100 American municipal executives and civic leaders, from all sections of the country, will sail July 9 from New York to study urban conditions in ten foreign countries. The party will attend the International Congress on Municipal Problems in London July 20, and the Interurban Exposition in Lyons, France, July 27. The next city to be studied will be Paris, and the party will visit eight other countries.

The State Department has instructed all diplomatic representatives, in the countries to be visited, to extend every possible courtesy and prepare in advance such statistics and information on municipal affairs that can be obtained.

Big Nut Crop. LOS ANGELES, June 28.—Reports from the walnut growing sections of southern California state that the indications are for a record crop this year. In many instances the nuts are full grown, although they will not be harvested until September. It has been necessary in many groves to prop the branches.

Save Your Baby---Kill Every Fly. Washington is to be an uncomfortable summer resort for the fly. The hand of every man, woman, and child is to be raised against him. The disease-breeding, germ-carrying insect has been outlawed; no quarter is to be shown him. He is to be prevented where it is practicable to do so, or if missed by preventive measures, he is to be exterminated by slaughtering. Health authorities are agreed that the house fly is one of the most dangerous enemies of mankind. The fine fuzz on the feet of the fly gathers deadly germs and he deposits them wherever he alights. The sick room should be kept clear of the insect; the infant should be guarded against even the smallest fly, and the kitchen and dining room, where they thrive, should be well screened, or fly poisons or traps set about where they will do the most good. Washingtonians have advanced materially in their crusade against the fly, but greater success must mark the warfare against the pest if this city is to be entirely rid of the insect. To prevent the fly, one must clean up all dirt, refuse, and filth, for flies breed in all of this matter. For extermination, use STYPTICIN, a powerful fly killer, and strive to see them all. Tenderness toward the fly, may mean cruelty to child. KILL THE FLY TODAY.
